Knights of Columbus Council wins award

Our Lady of Lourdes council of the Knights of Columbus earned two state awards for area projects at the annual state awards banquet Saturday, May 18, in St. Cloud. It is believed to be the first time an individual council has earned more than one of the top state awards in a single year.

Plaques were received for the Family Activity division and the Council Activity division—two of the five major areas of competition.

Accepting the awards for the council was Patrick Gaffaney, Thief River Falls, delegate to the state meeting and grand knight for Our Lady of Lourdes Council 4619, located in KC District 14.

Also in attendance were Dan Bruggeman, second delegate from the council; Darryl Tveitbakk of Thief River Falls and John Schafer of Red Lake Falls, members of the state KC board. Wives attending were Elaine Gaffaney, Mary Bruggeman, Debbie Tveitbakk and Mary Schafer.

Minnesota Knights of Columbus has 210 councils located in 54 districts throughout the state. All are eligible to compete in the categories which were won by Our Lady of Lourdes council.

The local council competed for the project awards in the division for councils having membership of 300 or more, Gaffaney said. Our Lady of Lourdes council has 305 members. Largest council in the state, Nazareth of St. Paul, was in the same division and has about 3,600 members.

Family activity which won the award in that division was the family camp-out held at Camp Corbett on Big Elbow Lake east of Waubun on the weekend closest to the Fourth of July last year.

The activity summary noted that an advance group drove to the camp Friday morning to open cabins, check the lodge and notify caretakers. Other families began to arrive about 5 p.m., driving motorhomes or bringing tents. Some stayed in the cabins which were assigned to them.

Older children started a campfire, guitars were brought out for a sing-a-long and snacks were created from roasted marshmallows, graham crackers and chocolate bars. Other camp-out activities for families during the weekend were swimming, boating, fishing, canoe rides, water skiing, volleyball, horseshoes and cookouts.

Father Jim Rellihan from a neighboring mission church at White Earth conducted a mass on the lake shore Saturday evening and the family members at the campout included altar boys, choir members, Eucharistic ministers and ushers. People from neighboring cabins attended the mass in their boats.

"Last year a drake mallard duck came up and stood in the middle of the road about 10 feet from Father Jim during the mass," the entry summary states. "When Father said 'The mass is ended; go in peace,' the mallard got up and flew away."

One of the camp highlights is a barbecue turkey and pork dinner, including potato salad, beans and pot-luck dishes brought by the families. About 10 additional families drove to Camp Corbett to join the weekend campers for this event.

It was at the campout that the idea was presented to host the Knights of Columbus international camporee. It will be held at Red Lake Falls in 1992, beginning July 29 and hosted by Our Lady of Lourdes council.

Council activity which won the state award was the Memorial Day work weekend at Camp Corbett. This followed an earlier inspection of the camp to determine what work needed to be done so that plans could be made.

On the Memorial Day weekend itself the council volunteers removed an old boat house, tool shed and fish cleaning house. They built a 20x24-foot storage/workshop building, a deck on the west cabin, three new picnic tables, a horseshoe pit.

They also put up rain gutters, repaired broken screens and canoe paddles, replaced a bathroom water heater, washed dishes, cabins and the lodge and hauled in 33 yards of gravel for the volleyball court. Even younger children assisted by picking up sticks, cans and paper.

The activities were slowed by rain on Saturday but were accomplished Sunday and Monday with laughter and joking among the participants who shared a feeling of worthwhile activity.

Council members and their families have been involved in the spring camp clean-up and building for the past 16 years.

"We have been involved in these council and family activities for a number of years," Gaffaney said, "but have not made the effort to document them for competition. It is nice to know that our council's efforts rank high among all councils in the state of Minnesota."

Among the students at Northland Community college recently inducted into Phi Theta Kappa, national honor society for two-year colleges, were the students pictured above. To be eligible to join they must have maintained a grade point average of 3.5 or higher for two consecutive quarters while carrying a minimum of 12 credits per quarter. Left to right are (front row), Jennifer Golightly, Marla Lee, Heidi Bennett and Paulette Anderson, all Thief River Falls; (second row), Londa Moen, Newfolden; Paul Loe, Thief River Falls; Gayla Gram, Middle River; Janice Bedker, Lake Bronson; and Liza Hams, Red Lake Falls; (back row) Gretchen Hanson and Gene Lunsetter, Thief River Falls; Frank Grabanski, Orr, ND; Howard Brockhouse, Middle River; and Charles White, Roosevelt.

Communities prepare to observe Memorial Day

Area communities will be observing Memorial Day on Monday. The following is a list of some of the Memorial Day services being planned in the area:

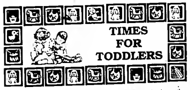
New publication named

The Northern Watch has been selected as the new name of the Friday publication.

As promised, The Times is offering a new publication as of May 24. Earlier this month, The Times invited readers to submit suggestions for a new name, and they did. Over 60 entries were received for the Name the Publication Contest.

Of those suggestions, our top two choices were The Northern Watch, submitted by Sean Myhrer of St. Hilaire and The Week-ender, submitted by Betty Ryan of Thief River Falls.



Many excellent names were suggested. Some at The Times might even argue that another name would have been a better choice. The following is a list of some of those suggestions:

- The Silver Pen Weekly Tribune by Mr. Noel Morten of Viking;
- The Northwest Regional News and Shopper by Lloyd Wagner of Middle River;
- Northern Lights by Leonore Lieberman of Thief River Falls;
- The Daily Star by Mrs. Dixie Morton of Viking;
- The Key Tones by Abner Matala of Oklee;
- The Current Informer or Agassiz Informer by Brenda Tischer of Thief River Falls;
- The Northern Issue by Signe Miller of Thief River Falls;
- Northwest Regional Times and Shopper by Lloyd Wagner of Middle River;
- The Northern Star by Judith B. Wold of Thief River Falls;
- The North High-Lights by Irene S. Lovly of Goodridge;
- The Changing Times by Judy Geatz of Thief River Falls;
- The Area Messenger by Valerie Skallet of Thief River

ACTIVITIES

Sand Box

Summer means outdoor fun and for children that means sand play. The sand area should be large enough to allow children to sit and still have plenty of room to play. Sand areas that are too small are the ones that seem to spill over. The sand areas also should have the capability to be covered to prevent animals from digging and using it as a litter box.

The sand toys children need can be varied, but may include bowls, spoons, funnels, small gardening tools, toy trucks, plastic bottles, etc.

The sand can be played with both wet and dry. Even adults can enjoy sand play, so enjoy spending time with your child in sand play.

SCAVENGER HUNT

For next week's Activities feature, you will need a ball (any size) and a nice sunshiny day.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

The spring-like atmosphere in George Shannon books make them the perfect selection for this time of year. The Thief River Falls public library recommends the following:

Shannon, George. Dance Away. A rabbit saves his friends and himself from the fox with his gift of dance.

Shannon, George. Lizard's Song. Bear just couldn't learn lizard's song. How Bear learned to sing his own song is the gist of this delightful story.

VIDEO VARIETY

Brothers and sisters can sometimes get on each other's nerves. That's the time to check out this video from the Thief River Falls public library:

Ramona: Siblingitis. Ramona worries that the new baby will push her out of her parents' hearts. Enjoy how Ramona learns that just the opposite is true.

PARENTING TIPS

Safety

Did you know that accidents are the leading killer of children? They claim far more children's lives each year than diseases. The major unintentional risk for children is traffic injury: whether a passenger, bicyclist or pedestrian.

Parents are responsible to teach their children about safety. They must then set examples of safe practices. Parents and those who care for children should insist on buckling all children into seat belts and child safety carriers for even the shortest car trip. They should teach children to cross the street safely.

If your child is between the ages of 4 1/2 and kindergarten and you live in the Thief River Falls school district you may consider enrolling in the ECFE Safety Town program which is conducted in June (call 681-8670 for information). If you live outside of the Thief River Falls school district, contact your local ECFE program for information on safety and parenting.

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Talk about and identify streets, crosswalks, curbs, traffic signs and pedestrians. Talk about what red, yellow and green mean on a stop light.

TIMES Around The Region

by Donna Myhrer

Sells is new RLF high school principal

Red Lake Falls — Gail Sells, the one candidate left in the Red Lake Falls school board's search for a high school principal, has agreed to a 42-week, $44,000 one-year contract. Sells currently works for the Park Rapids school district. (Gazette)

1991 is Kennedy's final graduating class

Kennedy — Commencement exercises for the ten seniors in the class of 1991 will be held May 26 at the Kennedy high school auditorium. To commemorate this special occasion, a special addition to the commencement program will be a history of the Kennedy school, given by Mrs. Erlyce Larson, former teacher and school board member. (North Star News)

Construction bids chosen for Baudette school

Baudette — Stampson and Blair will be the general contractors for the new preschool-grade 12 school for Lake of the Woods. Their bid of $1.3 million was accepted last week by the school board as well as a $224,000 bid for erection of steel and a $1.5 million bid for masonry work. (Northern Light)

Ceremony marks first tree planted

Crookston — The small tree planted at an Arbor Day ceremony last week in Carman Park in Crookston symbolizes the plan of the local residents for the five-year program of planting 8,500 new trees, equalling Crookston's population. City Administrator Ray Ecklund says that a tree graph with branches to mark the progress of the planting will be put up in the city hall. (Crookston Daily Times)

Fair baking contest name chosen

Hallock — The "Name the Baking Contest" decision has been made with a winner selected from over 60 different names. The prize of $25 is being split between Rose Cerkowniak of Lancaster and Shirley Rydberg of Hallock, as the two names they submitted sound the same, but are spelled differently. The names are "Bake and Taste" and "Bake-n-Taste." The Kittson County Fair baking contest will now be known as the "Bake-n-Taste." (Kittson County Enterprise)

Groundbreaking held for Dekko Center

Ada — There was a turnout of about 350 people attending the groundbreaking ceremony for the Dekko community center in Ada recently with an afternoon program and buffet supper and dance in the evening. The program for the community center, which will be located just east of the Ada high school, was emceed by Rev. Arlen Hermodson. (Norman County Index)

Mahnomen to hold Arts-In-The-Park

Mahnomen — Arts-in-the-Park at the Mahnomen county fairgrounds will be held June 1 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The event will feature pottery-ceramics, wood crafts, quilts, jewelry, folk art painting, wreaths and various Native American crafts. Approximately 110 booths have been announced. A performance by Plain People, an entertainment troupe from Fargo, will include juggling, singing and jokes. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

Bear captured near Fosston

Fosston — A black bear, weighing over 400 pounds, was captured on the farm of Bill Wilson, eight miles south of Fosston. The bear had killed one of his calves and carried it away. Bill was able to trace the path by the blood on the ground and contacted the DNR. Using honey, molasses and lard as bait, a trap caught the bear in an open field. The bear was released in another location. (Thirteen Towns)

Landfill near Bemidji to be covered

Bemidji — Work to place a permanent clay cover over Kummer's Sanitary Landfill in Northern township, Beltrami county, will begin in three weeks, according to the Minnesota Pollution Control agency. The $2.8 million project is expected to last through the summer. The cover is necessary to prevent surface water from leaching through buried wastes and further contaminating groundwater at the site. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Little Bo Peep/Little Boy Blue contest set

Greenbush — The annual Little Bo Peep/Little Boy Blue Look-Alike contest for children, ages 3-6, will be held June 8 during Sheep Days in Greenbush. The children should be dressed as these nursery rhyme characters. Judging will take place at 11 a.m. The event is sponsored by the Greenbush Women of Today. (Greenbush Tribune)

Hospital board to suspend acute care operations

Greenbush — The board of directors of the Greenbush community hospital has voted to temporarily suspend operations in the acute care hospital, effective June 15. The board is not giving up the hospital bed license until it has had the opportunity to thoroughly investigate all options for having service in the future. The clinic and nursing home will continue business as usual. The hospital is entering into an intensive planning process with the Roseau Hospital district board to determine how services might be consolidated. (Greenbush Tribune)

Highland school to get portable classroom

Crookston — District 593 school board at Crookston has decided to construct a double portable classroom to be linked to the Highland elementary school. Enrollment numbers have increased greatly during the past weeks and the numbers are expected to remain high for next year. The only extra space available for a classroom is the boys or girls locker rooms and using this space would interfere with locker room use. Cost of the additional portable classroom will be about $65,000. (Crookston Daily Times)

Member scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic achievement, community involvement and leadership. Johnsen, who will attend Moorhead State university, was selected from about 2,800 applicants for this national award.

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

Memorial Day is the time for picnics and outdoor barbecues. Here are some recipes you might like to try for the holiday.

Feed a crowd with a few batches of these. You can get them ready ahead of time and store in the fridge until you are ready to grill them:

Barbecued Turkey Wings

4 (2 1/2 pounds) turkey wings
1 teaspoon salt
1 bay leaf
1/4 teaspoon whole peppercorns
1 medium onion, stuck with 2 whole cloves
1 cup barbecue sauce (bottled or your own)

Place turkey wings in Dutch oven and barely cover with water. Add rest of ingredients and heat to boiling. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, for about 45 minutes, until fork-tender.

Drain wings and discard broth (or save for soup).

Dip wings into barbecue sauce to coat completely. Place wings on grill about 4-6 inches from medium hot coals and grill for 10-15 minutes, basting with barbecue sauce, until nicely browned.

If you want to make your own barbecue sauce, here is one of many recipes:

Secret Barbecue Sauce

1/2 cup vegetable oil
1 cup ketchup
2 tablespoons Dijon mustard
Juice of 1/2 lemon
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup honey
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon parsley
1/2 onion, minced
1/2 green pepper, chopped very fine or minced dash of garlic powder or salt

Combine all ingredients in small saucepan and heat to boiling. Reduce heat and simmer about 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Store in fridge until ready to use.

What else with your barbecue but potato salad:

Grandma's Potato Salad

2 cups Miracle Whip
1 cup commercial sour cream
1/2 cup half and half
1/4 cup sweet pickle juice
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped onion
3 tablespoons mustard
3 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar
1/4 cup chopped sweet pickle relish
8-10 pounds cooked, cubed potatoes (cook in salted water)
8-10 cooked, chopped eggs

Mix dressing of Miracle Whip, sour cream, half and half, pickle juice, celery, onion, mustard, sugar, vinegar and sweet relish. Add to warm potatoes. Add eggs and mix gently.

Refrigerate at least 6 hours or overnight before serving.

Get these sweet goodies ready the night before your barbecue:

Ice Cream Caramel Rolls

2 loaves frozen bread dough
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cinnamon
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup white sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup vanilla ice cream

Set frozen dough out for at least one hour. Combine 1 cup sugar and cinnamon in bowl.

After thawed, cut each loaf into 8 pieces. Roll each piece in the sugar/cinnamon mixture and place in buttered 9x13 pan.

Melt butter, sugar and ice cream and mix well. Pour over dough in pan. Cover and refrigerate overnight or several hours.

Bake at 350 degrees for about 25 minutes. Invert pan on aluminum foil immediately after removing from oven to let caramel drip over rolls.

This dessert will feed a bunch, and they will love them:

Cream Cheese Marble Brownies

1 package chocolate cake mix
8 ounces cream cheese, softened
1 egg
1/2 cup sugar
chocolate chips
walnuts

Mix cake mix according to directions on box. Pour into greased and floured jelly roll pan (11x15).

Mix cream cheese, egg and sugar and drop mixture by teaspoonfuls over batter. Cut through with knife to marbleize. Sprinkle with chocolate chips and chopped walnuts.

Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Cool and frost, if desired.

Frosting

6 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
4 tablespoons cocoa
3 cups powdered sugar
4 tablespoons milk
vanilla

Mix cocoa and melted butter until smooth. Add sugar, milk and vanilla and stir smooth. Frost cool bars.

BSU to offer workshop on computers

Bemidji State university will conduct workshops in Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls the week of June 10-13. Workshop topic will be "Computers/Technology and Outcome Based Education: Empowering the Curriculum."

Educators attending the sessions at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls or Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls will have an opportunity to explore the current trends in educational technology relating to computers, multimedia, personal productivity and other trends. A wide array of hardware and software will be available and participants will be instructed on how to tie outcome based education to the most current teaching methods and instructional technology options.

To register for either of the workshops, contact the BSU records department at 755-2020.

In addition to the workshops mentioned above, BSU also provides self-directed opportunities in instructional technology to classroom teachers. For information contact Dr. Kathryn Smith at 755-3744.

As you can see there were certainly a variety of suggestions from readers from throughout the area. Now the ball is in our court. A lot of work lies before us — a new nameplate has to be designed along with all the other insignias that you normally find in a newspaper. In less than two days we have to prepare for a new publication called The Northern Watch. We hope you like it.

NORTHERN WATCH

Opinions

Marvin Lundin
Editor

Editorial opinion published on this page, whether locally written or re-printed from other sources is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Opinions expressed by the editor are his own and not necessarily those of other staff members. Opinions expressed in items from other publications may be contradictory to the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

"Watch"ing Northern Minnesota

Well, here it is, the first issue of the Northern Watch—a combination of the former Monday edition of the Thief River Falls Times and the weekly Northern Minnesota Shopper's Guide. It is somewhat of a bold experiment in publication cross-breeding, and whether it produces a vigorous hybrid or merely a mongrel remains to be seen. The genetics of newspapering are largely unknown.

The change will take a fair amount of getting used to by all concerned—not the least of which are members of the Thief River Falls Times staff. Not only are we faced with adapting to new schedules and deadlines, we are dealing with a product and concept that are not yet familiar to us.

In addition to the birthing pains of a new publication, we are dealing with a change in date for printing of our namesake, the Thief River Falls Times. It will now be published only once a week...on Tuesday...,midway between the prior Monday and Wednesday publication dates. After shepherding Monday and Wednesday issues for lo these many years, it will be quite different to find them in Tuesday and Friday pastures.

We are hoping for the best, of course: That the new Northern Watch will be widely accepted and eagerly awaited each week; that ad readers will flock to Thief River Falls stores, advertisers will reap major benefits and inundate us with orders for more and more advertising space; and that people of the area will find the new edition to be interesting and informative.

Much of the burden for creating the Northern Watch and a new look for The Times which will be unveiled on Tuesday has fallen on Dave Hill, the Times associate editor. It has been his misfortune to be cursed with youth, a commodity which leaves a person extremely vulnerable to change and perhaps even progress, if that latter term can be at all defined. All change is not necessarily progress, as Congress and the Legislature have proved over the years.

Dave has put in a lot of time and effort over the past couple of months to learn more about our computer capabilities and to create design changes which will be meaningful and attractive without being flambeyant. His challenge is to make both the new Northern Watch and the remaining Thief River Falls Times more readable for more people. The task is no easy one but we commend his efforts.

Perhaps the greater task than making changes in the appearance of the publications will be to change old habits and ideas of long time staff members, including this editor. We need to be convinced that new ways are better ways and, if the truth be known, there is a certain smug satisfaction in having innovators discover that at least sometimes the old ways exist because they are the ways that work the best.

We would be less than honest if we said we are excited by the changes. We will do our best to change our old ways and learn new ideas and make the system the best it can be. But familiarity is a comfort zone and change violates that area. Excitement is for the adventurous who revel in experiencing the unknown. Experience dictates to reserve judment until all the evidence is in.

So we rather suspect our readers will have somewhat the same initial reaction to the revised Times and the new Watch as we did. The long term subscribers and counter sales purchasers will wonder why there needed to be a change and adopt a wait and see attitude. Newer readers will adapt more readily to the changes and identify with them. Both will expect that we should know what we are doing, but that may be too optimistic.

Bear with us as we iron out the wrinkles, learn by experience and flounder around a little in untested waters. With your patience and suggestions and a little luck to go along with our sincere efforts to make change for the better, we just may pull off this experiment successfully.

Just "Watch" and see.

Development Through Education

Guest Editorial
by Rep. Wally Sparby

It's no secret that in the 1990s all the experts say America will face stiff international economic competition. In order to meet those challenges and promote the general well-being of our state, we need to do a better job of educating and training our workers.

That is the message state legislators heard recently from the Commission on the Skills of the American Work Force, a national research group consisting of economists, educators and corporate executives. The commission studied American, European and Asian forms of work training and organization and concluded that we need to take action to reinvigorate the American economy.

Here is the good news: The commission also concluded that Minnesota's economic development policies are a model for the nation.

The commission points to some disturbing trends. Since 1969, real average weekly earnings in the United States have declined by more than 12 per cent, worsening disparities between the haves and the have-nots. Increasingly, high wage jobs are moving abroad. The American high school drop-out rate is too high, according to the commission, and this country's school year is too short.

The commission formed some recommendations to improve our international competitiveness. They recommend high educational standards, a comprehensive system of job training and placement and an increased emphasis on vocational education.

All of those recommendations for change, I am glad to report, are the normal way of doing business in Minnesota. Already, we have one of the country's most extensive vocational education systems with our 34 technical colleges. In addition, the House of Representatives has passed an education finance bill which gradually lengthens the school year, provides significant funding for vocational education, and which establishes standards for outcome-based education.

Minnesota was the first state in the nation to allow students to attend any public school in the state, with the goal of increasing competition (and quality) between schools. We also have the nation's highest high school graduation rate, and our standard college entrance exam test scores are consistently higher than average. Numerous surveys and studies indicate that we have a good business climate, due at least in part to our highly skilled work force and the work ethic made famous by Minnesotans.

On a national scope, I'm sure all of us are concerned about our country's place in the world. But it's also reassuring to know that a national commission thinks Minnesota is showing the way to the rest of the country.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters to the editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by the newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

CLEAN WATER

Is Your Water Safe to Drink?

What if your water is not safe?

What if your water is not safe? If you have had your water tested at a certified lab and the results show that the water is unsafe, you have several alternatives for improving your water quality.

Your first action should be to identify and clean up the source of the pollution. If this is not possible you may use an alternative water source, drill a new well or repair an existing one, or you may consider water treatment.

Clean-up the source of the pollution.

Finding a different source of water may include connecting to a municipal water system, carrying water from a safer source, or buying bottled water. Drilling a new well can be expensive, but in the long run it may be the safest and most economical. Repairing an old well casing or shock chlorinating a well to eliminate bacteria may improve your water quality.

Water treatment equipment can be effective in removing health risk contaminants. But before investing in water treatment equipment, make sure it can provide what's needed to improve your water.

For more information on improving water safety or investing in water treatment equipment, contact your County Extension Office.

OUR ADVERTISERS SAVE YOU MONEY!

Dear Readers,
- Most people suddenly called upon to arrange a funeral are not aware of the potential emotions involved and how to cope with them. Their reaction often is, "I hurt. I'm uncomfortable - lets get this over, with as little emotional stirrings as possible so my hurt will go away."
It is not that simple. The funeral service evolved to vent emotions of grief so that mental health may be restored.
Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home

Boys North Sub-Region 8AA track...

Prowlers sending 11 to Region 8AA

Nineteen Thief River Falls boys took part in the 1991 North Sub-Region 8AA high school track meet Thursday, and 11 of them qualified for Region 8AA competition, producing a bit of sunshine for the Prowlers during a rain-plagued outing at Bemidji.

"We're well-satisfied," said Thief River Falls coach Tim Olson. "Everybody got through that we expected, plus a couple of surprises. It's a solid group. It was great."

Moorhead took team honors with 86 points, followed closely by Bemidji with 81, Thief River Falls 70, Detroit Lakes 63 1/2 and Fergus Falls 49 1/2.

"That's one of the tightest subregions we've ever had," pointed out Olson.

Top eight finishers in each of the individual events, plus the top four finishers in each relay race, earned spots in the Region 8AA meet, scheduled to be held Saturday, June 1, at Concordia College in Moorhead.

Thief River Falls had four first place finishes as John Wallberg took the shot put with a toss of 46-9, Joel Davis ran the 800 meters in 2:04.42, Anthony Diaz covered the 1600 meters in 4:37.63 and the 1600 meter medley relay of Casey Johaneson, Thane Espe, Chris Burslie and Davis turned in a school record 3:45.59.

The Prowlers really stood out in the distance events as Diaz, Bryan Cloutier and Darrin Haagenson went 1-2-4 in the 1600 in 4:37.63, 4:37.80 and 4:46.30, respectively, and finished 2-3-4 in the 3200 in 10:12.33, 10:16.91 and 10:19.65.

TRF Region 8AA Qualifiers

Shot put - 1. John Wallberg 46-9
Pole vault - 3. Joel Davis, 10-0

3200 - 2. Anthony Diaz, 10:12.33; 3. Bryan Cloutier, 10:16.91; 4. Darrin Haagenson, 10:19.66
4x400 relay - 3. TRF (Chris Burslie, Casey Johaneson, Thane Espe, Joel Davis), 3:40.31
1000 medley relay - 1. TRF (Casey Johaneson, Thane Espe, Chris Burslie, Joel Davis), 3:45.59
110 high hurdles - 6. Devon Grandbois, 16.03
100 - 5. Kevin Johnson, 12.53
High jump - 7. Devon Grandbois, 5-3
Discus - 3. Shane Skeim, 138-2; 4. John Wallberg 138-0.

Lincoln High School senior Derek Larson, shown with Thief River Falls boys head golf coach Dick Tyler, will be headed to the 1991 Class AA state golf tournament following his first-place tie at the Region 8AA meet in Park Rapids Wednesday.

Boys 8AA tournament...

Larson shares region golf title

Derek Larson of Thief River Falls and Jeff Proctor of St. Cloud Apollo shared championship honors at the 1991 Region 8AA boys high school golf tournament Wednesday in Park Rapids to head a list of state meet qualifiers.

There was no playoff, and the co-champions will receive identical first place medals after turning in 74's for the 18-hole event.

Team-wise, Bemidji won its fifth straight Region 8AA title with a four-man 307, followed by Alexandria at 313, St. Cloud Apollo 322, Fergus Falls 325, Moorhead 330, Detroit Lakes 333, Thief River Falls and St. Cloud Tech 335, Brainerd 342 and Little Falls 345.

The entire Bemidji squad, plus the top five individuals, earned state meet spots.

Joining Larson and Proctor in the top five were Andy Brink and Scott Anderson of Bemidji with 75's and Todd Gease of Alexandria at 76.

Class AA state tournament will be played June 5-6 at Bunker Hills Country Club in Coon Rapids.

It was the first championship finish of the 1991 season for Larson, a senior who is the reigning Thief River Golf Club champion. He turned in identical rounds of 37-37. The four-year letter winner is the first Thief River Falls boy to earn a state golf tournament spot since Bob Geatz accomplished the feat as a junior in 1986.

"Derek played very well," said Thief River Falls coach Dick Tyler. "He was very consistent; very focused on every hole. That's the best he's done all year."

Other Thief River Falls scores included senior Cory DeLap with a 42-44-86, freshman Mark Tangquist 43-44-87, senior Mark Daniels 43-45-88, junior Troy Bertram 46-45-91 and junior Tom Upham 50-46-96.

"A couple of the kids were disappointed they didn't do better," noted Tyler. "They played pretty well, but some of them were really hurt by a couple of bad holes. I was very pleased with Tangquist. He played very steady."

Larson, DeLap and Daniels were the only seniors on the squad. Bertram was hampered by a knee injury, pointed out Tyler.

Region 8AA girls golf...

Alexandria wins title

Alexandria girls lived up to their role as pre-tournament favorites Wednesday by winning Region 8AA high school golf honors at Park Rapids.

The Cardinals won their second straight Region 8AA title with a four-player, 18-hole 351. Little Falls was a distant second with a 374, followed by Bemidji at 377, Brainerd 386, Fergus Falls 387, Moorhead 418, Thief River Falls and Detroit Lakes 428 and St. Cloud Apollo 453.

Championship team, along with the top five individual finishers, earned Class AA state tournament berths. Joy Johnson of Little Falls was meet medalist with an 81. Other state qualifiers were Julie Melby, Alexandria, 83; Tomi Burlingame, Bemidji, 86; Tracy Melby, Alexandria, 87; Annie Gustafson, Brainerd, 87.

For the Prowlers, sophomore Amy Enge shot 51-49-100, senior Aimee Tyler 51-54-105, sophomore Kara LeMoine 57-54-111, junior Deanna Stenseth 60-52-112, junior Gayle Rhineberger 57-56-113 and junior Jolene Gonsorowski 59-59-116.

"The girls played well," reported Thief River Falls coach Charlie Cornell. "It's a tough course. We did the best we could. We just had a couple of bad holes."

8AA softball games are postponed by rain

Rain washed out the 1991 North Sub-Region 8AA high school softball tournament scheduled Thursday at Detroit Lakes.

The four-team event was rescheduled for today (Friday) with No. 1-seeded Detroit Lakes playing No. 4 Thief River Falls and No. 2-seeded Moorhead taking on No. 3 Bemidji in the morning semifinals.

Women's Softball

First set of games were completed, but rain washed out the second half of the Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League doubleheaders Wednesday.

Cheril Olson was 5-for-5, while Rhonda Beiro, Paula Fanfulik and Patti Peterson all had 4-for-5 games as the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners handled Rainbow Nursery 28-0.

Janelle Konickson had a pair of doubles and drove in two runs, while Kelly Storhaug and Jodi Bendickson had triples as Legion/Sather Law defeated Pizza Hut 14-6.

Elsewhere, VFW shut out Handy Farms 4-0, the Swingers out-scored Middle River M&M 23-9 and Best Western Inn got by the Mush-A-Rets 6-4.

North Sub-Region 8AA baseball...

Prowlers host Lakers

Thief River Falls hosts Detroit Lakes Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. in a first round North Sub-Region 8AA high school baseball tournament game on Irv Wilson Field.

The tournament will be completed Wednesday at Bemidji. In the semifinals, the Thief River Falls-Detroit Lakes winner will meet the host Lumberjacks at 11 a.m., while Moorhead and Fergus Falls play at 2. Championship game is scheduled for 5 that same day.

In a coaches' vote, Bemidji was presented with the No. 1 seed and Moorhead was picked No. 2. Fergus Falls and Thief River Falls shared the third spot, but the Otters won the tie-breaking coin flip.

Thief River Falls and Detroit Lakes met back on April 19 when the visiting Prowlers won 6-3. The Lakers finished with a piece of the Mid-State Conference title this spring, tying Wadena and Park Rapids at 4-1 in league play.

The Prowlers, 8-7, were scheduled to close out the 1991 regular season schedule with a 4:30 p.m. game at Roseau today (Friday).

Roseau sweeps TRF 5-4, 8-4 in JV baseball

Roseau swept Thief River Falls in a late-reported junior varsity high school baseball doubleheader played Tuesday at Northland Community College.

A two-run rally in the top of the sixth and final inning gave Roseau a 5-4 first-game win. Rick Ostby took the pitching loss in a route-going performance. Josh Balmer had a pair of Thief River Falls hits.

Roseau scored six times in the third inning to take the second game 8-4. Brett Peterson was the losing pitcher in another complete-game Thief River Falls mound performance. Brad Kragness came up with a pair of hits for the Wayne Rahlf-coached Thief River Falls squad.

North Sub-Region 8AA individual tennis tournament...

TRF players eliminated

All four Thief River Falls entries were eliminated in their first matches during the individual portion of the 1991 North Sub-Region 8AA high school tennis tournament at Detroit Lakes.

Top four finishers in both singles and doubles advance to the state meet-qualifying Region 8AA tournament in Brainerd May 28-29.

Jesse Beckerman of Detroit Lakes won the North Sub-Region 8AA singles crown, with Charlie Baatz and Chau Trinh of Fergus Falls taking the doubles title.

In singles, the Prowlers' John Seaverson received a first round bye, then fell to Pat Trochil of Moorhead 6-1, 6-4 in the quarterfinals, while Brian Gillespie dropped a 6-4, 6-1 first round decision to Matt Frerichs of Fergus Falls.

In doubles, the Prowlers' Ryan Haugen and Jay Lusignan received a first round bye before losing to Chad Smith and Pat Shol of Fergus Falls 6-1, 6-4 in the quarterfinals, while Marc Seaverson and Trevor Haugen lost a 6-2, 1-6, 6-4 first round decision to Dwayne Lunde and Jeremy Dahl of Detroit Lakes.

Marc Seaverson is a freshman and and Trevor Haugen is a sophomore, the other Thief River Falls entries in the individual competition were seniors.

"Marc and Trevor played very well," reported Thief River Falls coach Rick Engelstad, "and John played hard."

Fergus Falls won the North Sub-Region 8AA team title earlier in the week, beating Bemidji 4-3 in the finals.

Team portion of the Region 8AA tournament will be played Tuesday in Brainerd.

14 TRF girls advancing to Region 8AA

Moorhead ran away with the team title in the girls portion of the 1991 North Sub-Region 8AA high school track meet at Bemidji, finishing with a 96-point spread over runner-up Bemidji.

The Spuds collected 155 points, followed by Bemidji with 59, Thief River Falls 54, Detroit Lakes 51 and Fergus Falls 14.

Top eight finishers in each individual event, along with the top four finishers in each relay race, qualified for the Region 8AA meet Saturday, June 1, at Concordia College in Moorhead.

Fourteen Prowlers will advance, headed by two first place finishers – Jodi Kruta with a 13.6 in the 100 and Leah Helgenset with a 12:18 in the 3200.

"We did prerry well," offered Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo. "There were no upsets, and maybe even a couple of surprises in the people we qualified. We didn't have our premiere times of the year, but I think the weather (rain) had something to do with that."

CENEX CLASS 40A 2,4-D can help you stop broadleaf weeds before they steal your crop's moisture. Or Rob it of valuable plant foods. The secret is using the right 2, 4-D formula.
CENEX has five 2,4-D formulas. Your Crop Monitor can recommend the right one to solve your particular weed control problem.
Best of all, CENEX CLASS 40A 2,4-D is economical. That's because you can depend on it to do the job. When applied early, CLASS 40A 2,4-D gets rid of broadleaf weeds in wheat, barley, corn, pastures, grass crops on non-croplands—and saves you money!
This year, aim for more pounds, extra bushels, greater profits. And depend on CLASS 40A 2,4-D to help you reach your goal.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering
Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge prepainted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used, and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew, saving on labor costs. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Sixth grade science instructor Alan Krause at Franklin middle school in Thief River Falls has been selected to attend a five-day workshop entitled "Getting Physical in the Middle of Science" June 23-28 in Rochester. He is one of 28 Minnesota science teachers selected for the program. Krause is pictured with "Lady Di," one of four boa constrictors he has in his science room at Franklin.

County notes Heritage days at Pioneer Village

Plans are underway for a two-day celebration of "Heritage Days" on June 29 and 30 at the Pioneer Village in Thief River Falls.

The event is being sponsored by the Pennington County Committee on Aging with the cooperation of the Historical society.

There will be performances at 1 and 3 p.m. Sunday, June 30 by a Native American dance and drum group and entertainment by local talent on both days. A program will also be held at 3 p.m. Saturday to honor Inga Geving, former president of the Pennington County Historical society.

A wide range of activities is being planned, including a number of demonstrations of pioneer days, such as tatting, making ice cream and lefse, spinning and quilt making.

The Pennington County Homemakers will present a fashion show and the St. Hilaire Dancing Girls will perform. Refreshments will be served by the Pennington County 4-H clubs.

Sheep Days set in Greenbush June 7 thru 8

The 53rd Annual Greenbush Sheep days will be held on June 7 and 8 in Greenbush.

Activities are planned for both days. The first day there will be a sheep shearing school. The school is open to anyone, and anyone may also participate in the shearing contest to be held on Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

Friday evening Dr. Cindy Wolf, Minnesota extension veterinarian, will speak.

Saturday morning the judging contest is open to 4-H, FHA and adult teams and individual starting at 8:30 a.m. Following the judging is the youth sheep show.

Greenbush Sheep Days will end with Dr. Bob Terry, director of the Reflective Leadership Center in the Hubert H. Humphrey Institute of Public Affairs at the University of Minnesota, speaking on "Leading into the Unknown".

Pennington county extension agent, Howard Person, encourages anyone interested in leadership to attend the banquet, held June 8, 7 p.m. at the Greenbush Supper Club.

Green Thumb honors workers

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

In 25 years the Green Thumb program originally created by the Farmers Union has grown into a nonprofit corporation operating in 44 states and Puerto Rico. It is an older worker training and employment program which provides meaningful work with public and non-profit agencies for many people—including 1,067 workers earning $2,890,791 in wages during 1990 in Minnesota alone.

Pennington county had 13 employed and earning $34,686 last year. Other counties in the area, the number of Green Thumb workers and wages paid include: Marshall, 10 workers and $29,847; Red Lake, 10 and $31,870; Roseau, 12 and $27,703; Polk, 19 and $56,278; Kittson, 10 and $30,931; Beltrami, 13 and $36,784; and Clearwater, 15 and 50,262.

Green Thumb is much more than numbers, however, according to the people who work in the program. It is also more than the addition of a few more dollars to spendable income. In many cases it is an extension of community interest and an opportunity for social interaction which would otherwise be unavailable.

"I just love it," states Ruby Ramsey of her job as a Green Thumb worker at the Thief River Falls public library. "The people are nice, the atmosphere is good, and I get to see so many people who I have known before."

Mrs. Ramsey, the former Ruby McEnelly of the Goodridge area, farmed with her husband Selmer southeast of Goodridge before they moved to Thief River Falls about 25 years ago. She worked in the dietary department of the local hospital for 25 years before retiring in 1986.

Selmer died about 13 years ago. After her retirement Ruby did some sewing for others—mostly mending and altering—in her own home. She learned about the Dairy princess contest held here this year

Region 1 dairy princess contest, which alternates between the north and south half of the region every other year, will be conducted in Thief River Falls this year as part of the 42nd annual Northwest Dairy Day celebration.

Coronation of the Northwest Dairy Princess, who will represent Region 1 in the Minnesota Princess Kay of the Milky Way contest at the Minnesota State Fair, will take place Tuesday, June 11, at 12:30 p.m. at Floyd B. Olson park where the dairy cattle show is being held. In case of rain the coronation will be held at the Best Western Inn.

Contestants from the participating 16 counties will arrive at the Best Western Inn Monday, June 10, at 11 a.m. for registration and room assignments. A luncheon will be served at 12 noon with a short program to follow. At 1 p.m. judging will begin and girls not involved in the judging will make promotional appearances at local grocery stores.

Candidates will get to know one another better at a get acquainted party at 6:30 p.m. at the Best Western.

Breakfast for candidates will be at 8 a.m. Tuesday, June 11, followed by presentations by Beth Messenbring of Cologne, Princess Kay of the Milky Way, and Michelle Anderson of Hawley, Region 1 Dairy Princess. Greetings will also be brought by Joe Schmitz, producer services director and Gene Watnaas, regional fieldman for the American Dairy Association of Minnesota.

Discussion groups will be held from 9:45 to 10:45 a.m. and a recognition luncheon held at 11 a.m. At noon the contestants will leave for the coronation ceremonies at the dairy cattle show arena (or prepare for ceremonies indoors if the weather is unfavorable).

Regional Princess Michelle Anderson will crown her successor with assistance from Princess Kay Beth Messenbring. Following a photo session and motel check-out, winners will become involved with the cattle show by handing out awards.

Anyone desiring additional information regarding the regional princess contest may contact Norma Hanson at Route 1, Box 137, Goodridge, MN 56725 or by calling 378-4380.

Tech student honored at graduation on Thursday

Less than one week before he was to graduate from the Thief River Falls Technical College Aviation program, John Carl Gearey was killed in an accident near his home.

According to the Minnesota state patrol in Brainerd, Gearey was killed in a rear-end accident involving three cars. The state patrol received a report of the accident located just east of the Pine River city limits on Cass County Road 2 at 1:40 a.m. on May 25. The three vehicles involved in the accident included a 1980 Oldsmobile driven by Angela Michelle Sager, 17, Pine River, a 1984 Buick driven by Jan Murray Wilcox, 23, St. Paul, and a 1983 Toyota pickup driven by John Carl Gearey, 20, Pine River.

The state patrol didn't have details of how the accident happened when they were called by The Times, but an administrator for the Technical College, said Gearey had stopped to assist a stranded motorist when he was struck and killed by another vehicle.

His selfless act of kindness was honored by speakers at Graduation for over 300 students of the Technical College Thursday in Thief River Falls. A moment of silence paid tribute to a classmate.

Despite the terrible consequences of the accident, Gearey's parents decided to attend the graduation ceremony for Technical College students in Thief River Falls Thursday evening and three friends in the aviation program picked up his diploma for him.

According to a story in the Pine River Journal, the 20-year-old Gearey was a 1989 graduate of Pine River high school where he was captain of the football team, a member of the wrestling team, on the honor roll, athletic club officer

Oscar Nyflot opens car wash with a little help from friends

by Amy Isaacson
Times Reporter

Oscar Nyflot and his wife LaVerne have been driving daily from Lake Bronson to Thief River Falls since 1954.

Not really, but to Oscar it seems like it. He and his wife own the new Nyflot Car Wash on highway 59 in Thief River Falls. For 37 years they have been doing business in town, so he may look familiar.

In 1954 he owned Newlands cream station, where Russell's bar currently is, and in 1958 bought Valley Dairy.

Back to those days Valley Dairy wasn't a convenience store, but a place where he and his wife brought their cream from Lake Bronson. They later changed it into the first store in Thief River Falls to be open from seven a.m. to 11p.m. seven days a week.

In 1975 he bought Valley 24, the first 24- hour operation in town. He owned that up until a few years ago, and the biggest memory he could recall was that there was an armed robbery there within its first year of opening.

In 1971 he purchased the land that is now Amoco 24 from Kenneth Berg. At that time he didn't have any plans on what to do with it.

With the help of friends, family and a lot of work, he made it to the Grand Opening last week.

In the fall of 1989 he purchased the property next to Amoco 24 with plans of building a car wash, but at that time his plans were only a dream. With the help of friends, family and a lot of work, he made it to the Grand Opening last week.

But before the slightest glimpse of a Grand Opening was in sight, many things had to be done. Plans could not be made until Oscar figured out exactly what he wanted. He traveled through six states to gather information on all different types of car washes.

After Oscar knew what he wanted the car wash to look like, he found an artist to sketch his idea. It was exactly what he had planned, and no one in the world had one just like it.

He planned the layout of his office, the gift shop and the car wash itself.

The car wash consists of two types of operations. The touch-less automatic wash is for people who don't want the hassle, and don't want to get out of the car. There are no brushes used, so the wash is also worry-free from scratches. The self-serve is for those who want to wash the car themselves.

"The thing that we're so proud of here is our clean facilities; the walls are always kept white," he said.

Another thing he's proud of is the unique design of the car wash. "The whole thing is made of concrete, so you don't have to worry about getting your car full of gravel when you leave."

Some things are still not finished, "but that will come with time...and money," he said.

Last week the Grand Opening was held, and everything went better than planned. Thanks to the

TIMES FOR TODDLERS

Summer Fun

Summer and baseball seem to go together but sometimes young children have a hard time with the adjustments and young children can enjoy baseball with the family. If the child is having a tough time "connecting" with the ball it is wise to use a tee to place the ball on. Also the "fat" bats may help and larger balls. If a "tee" is not available, let the child hit "grounders." Roll the ball instead of throwing it for the child to hit.

Instead of "three strikes," let the child swing until he hits the ball. If you play teams, all children on the team bat and change instead of counting "outs."

Young children love to play "grown-up games," so enjoy a game of baseball with all ages, so everyone can participate.

SCAVENGER HUNT

For next week's Activities feature, you will need white paper, stapler, scissors, paste, magazines and crayons.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

Summer is here! Some great new books are also available at the Thief River Falls public library including the following:

Lionni, Leo. Matthew's Dream. Beloved children's author Leo Lionni is right on the mark with his newest book about a mouse named Matthew who begins to see his dreary surrounding in a new way.

Nikola-Lisa, W. Night Is Coming. A beautiful bedtime story in lush, velvety hues, this book is set on a farm. The sights, sounds and sensations of dusk are described as seen through the eyes of a little girl.

VIDEO VARIETY

The Thief River Falls public library has a great Dr. Seuss video for check-out: Dr. Seuss's Caldecotts. Contains such classics as McElligot's Pool, If I Ran the Zoo and Bartholomew and the Oobleck, all winners of the prestigious Caldecott award.

PARENTING TIPS

Summer Child Care

For many working parents summer means a change in their child care situation or routine. Maybe you have school age children that now need day care or maybe your regular child care provider doesn't do child care in the summer. Some of you may use a high school student and have them come into your home. Whatever the reason, summer often brings changes in routines for us and our children.

Remember that the same basic guidelines apply when determining what is quality care for your child •Talk to your child and prepare him/her for the new experience or change in routine.

•If there is going to be a totally new provider taking care of your children, give them a chance to meet and get acquainted two or three times before you start the new arrangement.

Talk and act positive about the new experience. Your child will pick up on your feelings. If you are anxious about the new situation, try not to let your child sense it.

•Say goodbye in the same way each day. Don't try to sneak out. There may be tears if your child needs to adjust. Explain in a matter of fact way when you will return and then leave.

•Communicate closely with your provider about your child's day.

(Contributed by the Early Childhood Family Education department of School District 564.)

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Talk about what you do at work. Listen when your child talks about his day.

Water quality workshops slated in area

Three water quality assessment workshops will be held in June as part of a project focusing on pesticides and land use in the Clearwater River Basin. The workshops will advise and inform agricultural producers on the impact of farming practices, including using geographic Information systems (GIS) to show the relationship between land and management practices and water quality.

The International Coalition for Land and Water Stewardship will complete the geographic information system analysis and work with the Northwest Experiment Station and Minnesota Extension Service in implementing the workshops. The dates and locations are as follows: June 17, Clearbrook senior citizens center, 7-9 p.m.; June 18, Hickory township hall, 7-9 p.m.; and June 19, Plummer community center, 7-9p.m.

Please call The International Coalition (218) 233-0292 for further information.

Reay elected

Brett Reay, Thief River Falls, was recently elected an off-campus student senator at North Dakota State University for the 1991-92 school year.

A junior majoring in mass communication and minoring in English, Reay is an officer of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Reay is a 1988 graduate of Lincoln high school.

Davidson earns education degree

Jennifer Davidson, daughter of Janet Davidson of Thief River Falls and Jack Davidson of Thief River Falls, graduated from the College of St. Benedict on Saturday, May 25, in the college's Benedicta Arts center auditorium.

Davidson graduated cum laude with a degree in elementary education. She is a 1986 graduate of Lincoln high school.

DEATHS

Judy Mosloff, 52

Thief River Falls — Judy Mosloff, 52, died May 30 at the University of Minnesota hospital in Minneapolis.

Funeral services will be held June 3 at 2 p.m. at the Evangelical Free church with Rev. Curtis Anderson officiating. Interment will be at Greenwood cemetery. The Green Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Visitation will be held Sunday from 1 to 9 p.m. at the Green Funeral Home.

A complete obituary will be printed in a later edition of the Times.

Erskine water carnival slated for June 7-8-9

Forty-fifth annual Erskine water carnival will be conducted Friday through Sunday, June 7, 8 and 9, with a number of events planned for public entertainment and recreation.

Among events scheduled Saturday are the 10K-2 mile "Big Fish" race, take a kid fishing day, children's tractor pull and a co-ed volleyball tournament on the beach. Music events include an afternoon country music jamboree and an evening free gate dance.

The fishing contest begins at 6 a.m. Sunday on Lake Sarah. Other Sunday events include the antique and specialty vehicle show, sailboat regatta, RC car and truck race, firemen's water fight, grand parade and fireworks over the lake.

A craft show and flea market will be held both days with indoor and outside booth space available.

Seventh-day Adventist elementary school graduated the four students pictured above last Friday. Students to graduate from the school, which is located in Thief River Falls, included Stephenie Bedker, daughter of Stan and Jan Bedker; Shane Henson, son of Dewey and Terry Henson; Holly Nordvick, daughter of Darrold and Darcy Nordvick; and Patrick Simpson, son of Charles and Jolayne Simpson.

SDA school graduates four

by Marilyne Sayler

Graduation exercises for the Seventh-day Adventist elementary school were held Friday, May 24 at 8 p.m. in the Seventh-day Adventist church. Graduating from the eighth grade were: Stephanie Bedker, daughter of Stan and Jan Bedker; Shane Hanson, son of Dewey and Terry Hanson; Holly Nordvick, daughter of Darrold and Darcy Nordvick; and Patrick Simpson, son of Charles and Jolayne Simpson. The graduates chose as their class aim "Heaven is our Goal". Their class motto was, "Forward in His Name." Their class colors were aqua and black.

As Mrs. Ida Nordvall played the processional, graduates were preceded into the church by the seventh-grade class and platform participants. Shane Hanson offered the invocation. The handbell choir then played two selections, after which Patrick Simpson introduced the speaker, Mrs. Lois Bray. Following the graduation address, Holly Nordvick gave a tribute to teachers and Stephanie Bedker gave a tribute to parents. Holly Nordvick then sang "From a Distance" which was followed by reflections of the four graduates by teachers Duane and Marion Madden. On behalf of Maplewood Academy Evelyn Glass presented scholarship awards to each graduate. Jolayne Simpson, chair of the School's operating committee presented awards to Shane and Jesse Hanson for their perfect attendance and on-time record during the last school year. Mrs. Simpson also assisted principal Madden with the presentation of diplomas.

Stephanie Bedker played a violin solo after which Mr. Madden offered the benediction. Following the recessional, graduates greeted well-wishers in the foyer of the church as well as at the reception held afterward in the school auditorium.

CLEAN WATER

Is Your Water Safe to Drink?

Does your water look, smell or taste bad? Very often people consider their water to be poor in quality because of its odor, taste or clarity. These conditions are common problems in our area but are not health risks.

Does your water look, smell or taste bad?

Hard water is caused by calcium and magnesium dissolved in the water. It can cause problems with soap lathering, leave clothes dingy and gray, or leave scale deposits.

Iron can cause stains in laundry or bathroom fixtures. It may cause coffee or ice cubes to taste bad and leave a rusty or slimy film in toilet tanks.

Water with a rotten egg smell is common in our area, it generally results from growth of an iron or sulfur reducing bacteria. Although this bacteria is not a health risk, its odor is highly objectionable. The bacteria may be eliminated or reduced by shock chlorination.

Water with a rotten egg smell is common in our area

Most aesthetic problems can be reduced with water treatment. Before you invest in treatment equipment, test your water to identify contaminants and assess what type of system is needed to improve your water.

For more information about costs and capabilities of water treatment equipment or for information on shock chlorination of your well, contact your County Extension Office.

LETTERS

To The Editor:
May 12th was a sad Mother's Day for this Grandma when my grandson's and granddaughter's fishing rods and reels were stolen. Randy is eight years old and Dawnette is seven. They were fishing at the Eighth Street bridge area.

Dawn had run home to check in with her Mom when Randy caught a small fish—his second of the season. His first was a four and one-half pound northern. In his excitement he left his and Dawn's rods and reels to run two and a half blocks home to tell his Mom. When he and Dawn returned about five to 10 minutes later, both rods and reels had been stolen.

This certainly wasn't very sportsman-like of some other angler fishing from the same spot as the children—perhaps even the person who said he would watch their rods for them. Isn't this an excellent impression to make on a child—it's OK to steal, just don't get caught?

But thanks to another older gentleman (perhaps a Grandpa himself) who heard or read about the theft and was concerned enough to go to the police department and get Randy's name and his mother's address, Randy and Dawn are back among the anglers. Grandpa and Grandma Mostrom also provided new rods.

The gentleman who found Randy's name gave him a rod and reel and a full tackle box, including a number of lures in unopened packages. He is unidentified, but Randy wrote the following letter on his own: "I like the takel box and the ronding rel. Thank you very much. Randy."

As a result of this gift, Randy and Dawn have a better perspective of sportsmanship and respect for others.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Mostrom

To The Editor:
Hats off!

I was walking into the Amoco station on Monday when a boy about six to eight years old rode by me on his bike. Our paths crossed fairly close. As he went by he said, "excuse me."

This isn't a major occurrence, but I would like to congratulate the parents and this young boy.

Two words—"excuse me"—made my day!

Who was that mystery rider? I don't know, but our city is proud of him and all the other bike riders who conduct themselves in a courteous, safe manner.

Sincerely,
Bob Bergan

To The Editor:
Nordic chapter of the American Diabetes association has received donations from the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Eagles lodge and Heritage Community center in Thief River Falls.

The chapter is grateful for these contributions toward our mission to prevent and cure diabetes and to improve the lives of all people affected by diabetes.

Our general fund-raising is to continue programs of patient, professional and public education and to pursue funding of research.

Memorials or donations may be sent to the chapter through Willard Stromberg at 348 Tindolph Avenue North, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Your's Truly,
Willard Stromberg
Vice President, Nordic Chapter

To The Editor:
Congratulations to all the students from Franklin Middle School who recently performed for us at Chaska Middle School. If all the other students in your community are like these, then you must be very proud of the high level of maturity displayed by your young people.

Many of the staff members at Chaska commented on the courtesy shown by the Thief River Falls students. All this, in addition to the excellent musical performances by the jazz band and pops choir. We have hosted these groups from "TRF" for 10 consecutive years and eagerly look forward to number 11.

A tip of the Chaska hats to the parents, the students, and especially to music directors Marcia Knuttila and Mike Lehrer.

Sincerely,
Barry Fox

HATS OFF TO 4-H

Highlanding

The Highlanding 4-H club held its monthly meeting on May 10 at the Goodridge senior citizen center. President Marten Dahlen called the meeting to order. Flag pledges and club pledges were recited. Roll call was taken with the response of "Name a fish starting with the first letter of your name." Ben Hanson read the secretary's report from the March meeting. No meeting was held in April. Val Horachek gave the treasurer's report.

Business discussed: Is the club interested in Adopt-A-Highway? Possible roads were discussed. It was tabled for the next meeting. It's also time to mow Highlanding cemetery. We set the date for Saturday, May 19, at 1:30 p.m. Planting flower beds at the fairgrounds was discussed. The club decided that it was easier for the clubs that are closer to Thief River Falls to plant those flower beds and keep them up.

Dairy day is June 11. We will set up a schedule for club members to take turns passing out samples at the Goodridge Cafe and Hartz stores. Each member was also given changes to the premium list to put with last year's list. Members were urged to get something going on their 4-H fair projects. Club banner ideas were voted on. Dawn Hanson will bring materials for banner to next meeting. Meeting adjourned.

The following demonstrations were given: Carl Dahlen—fishing, Ben Hanson—wooden shelves he had made, and Clifton Hanson—marigolds. A video on hunting was shown by Beattie Mickelson. Lunch was served by Bob and Sheila Dahlen. Our next meeting will be held on June 6 at the Goodridge senior citizen center.

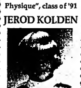
Crop question series continues next Tuesday

The last of three coffee shop meetings on crop insects and disease will be held Tuesday, June 4, at 1:30 p.m. in the courthouse meeting room.

Specialists included in this final meeting are Roger Jones, extension plant pathologist, and Dave Noetzel, extension entomologist. Both have an excellent background in small grains and row crop insects and disease.

Some of the questions to be discussed are: "Is this a good year to use fungicides on my wheat?" and "What's this about a new strain of rust on barley in my area and with the big increase in sunflower acres, what insects should I be watching for?"

Farmers are asked to bring their questions and they will be discussed.



For further information contact Howard Person, Pennington county extension agent for agriculture.

Send The Children To ECFE's Safety Town

Guest Editorial
by Donna Myhrer
Community Editor

Wake up, Parents of Thief River Falls! If you have a preschooler, age 4 1/2 to kindergarten age, you should call the Early Childhood Family Education Program at 681-8670 to sign up for a session at Safety Town.

The Program starts next week and, according to Joyce Froschheiser, director, there are still a few openings. She adds that each year about 30 children are registered and about 170 who are eligible aren't. Apparently there are a lot of parents who don't think this is important.

*But, really, can you think of anything more important? Watching your favorite television show or mowing the lawn, maybe. After all, most of the children who are now four or five years old are not going to die in accidents in the next few years. But some will.

Shouldn't every parent's first concern be to protect a child by every reasonable means? The Safety Town program will be held two evenings a week during June. Is your child's life and health worth a few hours and maybe juggling your schedule a little?

Maybe you think you can teach your child about safety better than a session at Safety Town, but you can't. The program covers pedestrian safety, using Hot Cycles (with seat belts) as "cars," animals, fire safety, poisons, strangers and a ride and practice with buses. A police officer is there at each session, as well as firefighters and other specialists. Let's face it, no one person is well trained in all of these fields.

A parent group meet at the same time as the children's session, so that you will have the opportunity to learn about some of the things that may threaten your child and the things you can do to help protect him.

Some time ago, a letter from a kindergarten was printed in an advice column. The writer explained that after spending a lot of time explaining 911 to the children in the class and having them all memorize the emergency number, one child raised his hand and said, "It would be easier to use 911 if I knew what a '9' looked like." Many parents assume that their children know things, sort of automatically, because the parents know them. But are parents totally prepared for whatever emergency may come up? Probably not. Are you really sure that you have done everything you can to prevent accidents involving your child?

As a parent faces the first day when the child goes to the park alone, crosses the street and becomes interested in matches, savage neighborhood dogs or drinking from "soda" bottles in someone's garage, the fact that only a few take advantage of Safety Town is appalling.

Not everyone will lose a child to an accident. But ask around. I am sure that everyone who has raised a child can tell a horror story about an accident that "could have been serious."

My older son cut his knee when he was four and fell on a piece of metal playing in long grass and had to have stitches. My younger son, just learning to walk, almost drowned when I left him for "just a minute" in the yard at the lake with his four-year-old older brother watching him. We were lucky. Lots of people are lucky. But isn't it smarter to be prepared than just lucky?

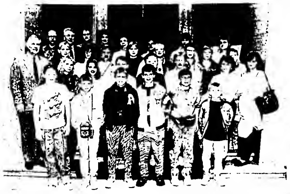
Accidents are the Number One cause of death for children.. Maybe you can teach your children everything they will need to know to protect them. But maybe you will miss something important. Do you really think it is worth the risk?

Northern Watch Policies

Letters to the editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by the newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.



Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Veterans Administration pays $6.2 million to area veterans

Most of the money expended during fiscal year 1990 in Minnesota by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) went directly to veterans, according to Morris Nooner, Jr., director of St. Paul VA regional office and insurance center.

Of more than $526 million distributed in Minnesota last year, more than $6.2 million went to veterans in six northwestern Minnesota counties.

Of more than $237 million that went directly to veterans as compensation and pension for disabling injuries or diseases incurred while in the armed forces, more than $5.4 million went to the six northwestern counties.

VA spent more than $12 million for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation benefits, more than $34 million for insurance and indemnity payments, more than $7 million for facility construction and $234 million for medical services and administrative costs in Minnesota.

Kittson county veterans received $570,526 for compensation and pension, $18,097 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation and $39,442 for insurance and indemnities which totals $628,065.

Marshall county veterans received $688,641, which included $600,359 for compensation and pension, $15,868 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation and $72,414 for insurance and indemnities.

Pennington county veterans received $828,233 for compensation and pension, $73,149 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation and $89,179 for insurance and Indemnities for a total of $990,561.

Veterans in Polk county received $2,440,597 for compensation and pension, $89,156 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation and $216,513 for insurance and indemnities which totals $2,746,266.

Red Lake county received $282,285, which included $244,614 for compensation and pension, $6,125 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation and $31,546 for insurance and indemnities.

Roseau county veterans received $780,308 for compensation and vocational rehabilitation, $4,918 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation and $90,501 for insurance and indemnities for a total of $875,727.

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

Summer seems to be well on its way and that means lighter eating on hot days. These recipes are especially good for summer meals.

A frosty glass of this sensible-eating treat will serve as a snack or a dessert.

Pineapple Berry Fruit Frost

1 medium fresh pineapple
2 cups sliced strawberries
1 cup nonfat milk
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon lime juice
1/4 teaspoon grated lime peel

Twist crown from pineapple. Cut pineapple lengthwise into quarters. Remove fruit from shell. Trim off care; cut fruit into chunks. Place pineapple chunks in plastic bag and freeze overnight.

Break frozen pineapple apart.

Place one-half of the strawberries, milk, sugar, lime juice and lime peel in blender. Add one-half of the pineapple, a few chunks at a time, to the blender mixture, stirring until pureed and frosty.

Spoon into dessert dishes or glasses.

Repeat with other half of fruit. Freeze leftovers for later, and partially thaw to serve.

Recipe serves four with 133 calories, 3.1 g. protein, 1 g. fat, 30.5 g. carbohydrate, 33.5 mg. sodium, and 1.1 mg. cholesterol per serving.

Try these on your grill for a light, quick meal with eye-appeal:

Hat and Sweet Pepper Beef Kabobs

1 1/2 pounds boneless tender beef, 1-inch thick
1 large red bell pepper
1 large green bell pepper
2/3 cup "Teriyaki Baste & Glaze" bottled sauce
1 teaspoon onion powder
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce (tabasco)
10-inch metal skewers

Cut beef into 1-inch cubes and cut each pepper into 16 pieces. Place in large bowl.

Combine teriyaki sauce, onion powder, ginger, chili powder and hat pepper sauce.

Pour 1/3 of the above mixture over beef and pepper pieces and toss to coat.

Thread beef and peppers alternately on skewers, leaving space between pieces.

Place skewers an grill 5 inches from hot coals. Cook about 4 minutes on each side (rare), or to desired doneness, brushing occasionally with teriyaki sauce mixture.

This cool salad would be nice with the teriyaki kabobs:

Tropical Waldorf Salad

2 firm, large bananas, peeled and sliced
2 large, tart apples, cared and sliced
1 cup diced celery
1/2 cup chopped dates
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1/2 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons dairy sour cream
1/8 teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/4 cup flaked coconut (optional)

Combine bananas, apples, celery, dates and walnuts in salad bowl. Blend together mayonnaise, sour cream, lemon juice and ginger. Pour over fruits and toss. Serve on crisp salad greens and sprinkle with coconut, if desired.

Recipe serves six, with 318 calories, 3.4 g. protein, 21.9 g. fat, 29.9 g. carbohydrate, 126.6 mg. sodium, 12.6 mg. cholesterol per serving.

A fresh fruit sherbet would top off a light meal just perfectly:

Fruity Orange Sherbet

2 1/2 cups milk
grated peel of 1 orange
1 1/2 cups freshly squeezed orange juice
1 cup mashed popaya, bananas, kiwis or strawberries
1 cup sugar (add a little mare if kiwis or strawberries are used)

In bowl combine all ingredients, stirring until sugar dissolves. Pour into two shallow refrigerator pans. Freeze until mixture is firm around edges (1 1/2 hours). Spoon into bowl and beat until smooth. Return to freezer to freeze firm.

(You can also use this recipe in your ice cream freezer following the manufacturer's directians to make ice cream.)

Serve in dessert dishes or orange shells. Garnish with fresh fruit or mint.

Ruee Sheehen, Troy Ceble end Boyd Mein picked up the diploma that was to be ewarded to John Carl Gearey of Brainerd who was killed in an euto eccident Mey 25. A moment of silence was held for their clessmate who was to greduete Thursdey night from the aviation program at the Thief River Felle Technical College. Graduation was held et the Sporte Arene.

Third Art in the Park June 8-9 at Rocky Point

Thief River Falls pinch runner Marc Haugen was caught stealing in the bottom of the seventh inning when Detroit Lakes catcher Pat Sims threw a strike to second baseman Cory Vogt during Tuesday's North Sub-Region 8AA high school baseball tournament game at Irv Wilson Field. Umpire Mike Drury watched the play. The Lakers won 3-1 in eight innings.

Gunderson strikes out 17 in Detroit Lakes North Sub-Region 8AA baseball win...

Prowlers lose 3-1 8-inning contest

Hard-throwing Detroit Lakes right-hander Mike Gunderson struck out 17 Thief River Falls batters Tuesday as the Lakers edged the Prowlers 3-1 in an eight-inning first round North Sub-Region 8AA high school baseball tournament game at Irv Wilson Field.

The results moved No. 5-seeded Detroit Lakes into the Wednesday semifinals against No. 1-seeded Bemidji, while ending the 1991 season for No. 4-seeded Thief River Falls at 9-8.

It was an absolute perfect day weather-wise for a baseball game, and a large crowd the circled the Thief River Falls diamond was treated to an outstanding show, particularly by Gunderson, a University of New Mexico-bound senior, who walked just one and gave up only four hits while racking up the strike-outs in the extra-inning affair.

Gunderson was really humming late in the game when he struck out six consecutive batters in the sixth and seventh innings.

But Gunderson wasn't the only mound standout Tuesday. Sharing the spotlight was Thief River Falls' Mitch Bernstein, who also had a double-figure strike-out performance. The junior from Grygla who is playing for the Prowlers in a Minnesota State High School League cooperative program, used a nifty breaking ball and great location as he struck out 11 and did not walk a single batter.

Detroit Lakes did pick up nine base hits off Bernstein, but had only five of those through the regulation seven innings before they bunched four singles together in a game-winning two-run eighth.

"It was a great baseball game," offered Thief River Falls coach Tracey Wensloff after the final out in the 1-hour, 55-minute contest. "With two pitchers throwing like that, it was unfortunate that somebody has to lose."

After giving up an unearned run in the bottom of the first inning, Gunderson threw seven shutout innings. The lone Thief River Falls run came quickly as Bernstein, the Prowlers' lead-off batter, reached base on an error, moved to third on a one-out double to right by Corey Poole and scored when Gunderson bounced a wild pitch off catcher Pat Sims that caromed over the backstop.

Poole wound up at third on the wild pitch, but Gunderson set the tone for the day by striking out the side to end the threat.

A one-out single by Kyle Evenson in the second inning, an error on a throw by Gunderson trying for a force-out at second base and a wild pitch put two more Thief River Falls runners in scoring position. But a strike-out and ground-out kept the Prowlers from adding to their 1-0 edge.

Only other real Thief River Falls scoring opportunity came in the fifth inning when Bernstein produced a one-out single to left and gained second on a wild pitch. But a strike-out and a fly-out kept him there.

"In a close game like that, you've got to be ready to take advantage of every opportunity you get, and you can't afford to make any mistakes," pointed out Wensloff. "But we let a couple of opportunities slip away, and then we made a couple of mistakes that hurt us."

Bernstein showed his competitiveness on the mound in the top of the first inning after Wade Whitworth opened the game with a triple past a diving Tyson Treat in right field. Bernstein answered the challenge with a pair of strike-outs and an inning-ending bouncer back to the mound.

Detroit Lakes tied it 1-1 in the third when Whitworth bounced a one-out double over the third base bag, Sims lined an infield hit off Bernstein's glove and Gunderson

Wiltse to head girls program; Hunt resigns...

Changes continue in basketball staff

Changes continue to be made in the Thief River Falls high school basketball coaching ranks, where the Prowlers will have a new head coach for the boys and girls when the 1991-92 season rolls around.

It was announced earlier this spring that Toro Schafer was resigning as head coach of the girls program he directed for the past 11 years. Wednesday, School District 564 Activities Director Lee Alger reported that Sally Wiltse will be recommended to succeed Schafer. Wiltse has been serving as the Prowlers' girls freshman coach.

Tuesday, Tom Hunt submitted his resignation as the Prowlers' boys head basketball coach, a position he has held since the 1981-82 season.

"I've been at it as a head coach for 10 years," pointed out Hunt, "and I just wanted to free up some time demands on myself and my family. "I've contemplated it (resigning) for a while now, and I have a good feeling about my decision. But it's a tough decision. It wasn't easy. When you put that much time and effort into it for so many years it's tough to just close the door and walk away."

Earlier, Al Buhl, Hunt's top assistant during his entire head coaching stint, had announced his plans to resign from his coaching position.

Hunt has been involved in coaching for the past 17 years, and he will remain active in athletics as a seventh grade football coach. "It's been a very positive experience," is the way Hunt described his head coaching career with the Prowlers. The Prowlers struggled through a 4-15 season the year before Hunt moved up from the assistant ranks to head a program that progressed to the point where Thief River Falls won a North Sub-Region 8AA title in 1987-88 before losing a 57-47 Region 8AA championship decision to eventual unbeaten Class AA state champion Rocori. "We've got to the position where we were competitive year in and year out," he pointed out.

Thief River Falls boys finished 13-11 this year; the girls were 16-8.

Women's Softball

VFW shut out the Swingers 17-0 and edged the Mush-A-Rets 4-3 Wednesday for a Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League doubleheader sweep.

Oorene Larson hit two home runs, Angie Sinn and Julie Stennes both homered once and Michelle Fletcher was 4-for-4 in the VFW five-inning romp over the Swingers. Fletcher added a 3-for-3 game and Sinn tripled in the one-run decision over the Mush-A-Rets.

Legion/Sather Law and Best Western Inn were also doubleheader winners, with Legion/Sather Law beating the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners 6-5 and Middle River M&M 22-2, while Best Western Inn stopped Handy Farms 21-9 and Pizza Hut 8-4.

Nancy Zimple doubled and Diane Anderson tripled in the bottom of the eighth inning as Legion/Sather Law came up with the one-run win over the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners. Anderson drove in Zimple with the game-tying run, then scored the winner herself moments later while Tammy Sparby was being tagged out after over-running second base. Anderson homered and doubled, with Kelly Storhaug and Julie Olson also hitting doubles in the one-sided Legion/Sather Law victory over Middle River M&M.

Rhonda Timm and Linda Olson were both 3-for-4 as Rainbow Nursery defeated the Swingers 12-2.

Middle River M&M got by Pizza Hut 15-9 as Sara Melby went 5-for-5 and drove in three runs.

Babe Ruth baseball coaches are named for the 1991 season

An expanding Thief River Falls youth baseball program will feature six Babe Ruth teams in 1991 – three squads of 13-year-olds and three groups of 14-15-year-olds.

Chris Nelson, Hunter Boldt and Corey Poole will each coach a 13-year-old team, while Myron Peterson, Chris Mills and Steve Henke each coach a 14-15-year-old club.

Practice/try-outs for the 13-year-olds will be held Saturday, June 1, at 1 p.m. and Monday, June 3, at 9 a.m. Practice/try-outs for the 14-15-year-olds will be held Monday, June 3, at 1 p.m.

All practice/try-outs will be held at Irv Wilson Field.

Players must have their registration fees paid before they can join the practice sessions. Late fees must be paid to one of the team representatives – Margo Johnson, 13-year-olds (681-4234); Bill Fogarty, 14-year-olds (681-2293); and Vern Treat, 15-year-olds (681-5440).

Reivers open second baseball season with game at Detroit Lakes

Second season for the Middle River Reivers amateur baseball team is scheduled to start Sunday with a 2 p.m. nine-inning game at Detroit Lakes – a change in the original schedule that had the Reivers hosting Warroad in a doubleheader that afternoon.

Middle River finished 9-7 a year ago. The 20 rostered players are primarily from Middle River and Thief River Falls, according to Reivers player/coach Dan Cwikla.

Warroad, Karlstad and Middle River form the Northwest Border League. Post-season play includes district, region and state competition.

Summer basketball league program will be hosted by Oklee

Oklee will host a Thursday night summer basketball league for ages 15-over beginning June 6 or June 13.

International rules will be used. Registration fee is $80 per team.

Watch For Fishing Violations

Anglers and Minnesota conservation officers are partners in protecting the fisheries resource, according to Department of Natural Resources Enforcement Director Leo Haseman. He said that honest anglers can help preserve the resource by learning the regulations and by turning in poachers who don't obey them.

With the opening of the large-mouth and smallmouth bass season June 1, conservation officers will be looking for better compliance than observed during the walleye opener May 11. Although the majority of anglers know and obey regulations, conservation officers observed the gamut of violations by a minority of anglers during the walleye opener – everything from taking bass out of season to boating while intoxicated.

When the walleye were hitting on Lake Mille Lacs during opening weekend, conservation officers reported 10 arrests for over-limits, and seized 110 walleye, Haseman said.

"I'm concerned about the impact on the fisheries as a result of this 'got to keep them all' mentality," Haseman said. "The honest anglers are cheated by this type of attitude."

Haseman said people should read the fishing regulations (available where licenses are sold) and familiarize themselves with fish transportation regulations. He said anglers should:

• Always transport fish packed so that they may be readily counted and identified.

• Fillet fish with one-inch square patch of skin (with scales) remaining, except for bullheads, sunfish and crappies.

• Use clear freezer bags for fillets, since they provide air-tight containers that also allow conservation officers to count and identify fish without touching the fillets.

• Remember that daily and possession limits are the same in Minnesota, so a licensed angler may no possess more than the daily limit.

Haseman said honest anglers can help curb the activities of those relatively few people who violation fishing regulations by calling the 24-hour Turn In Poachers (TIP) hotline at 1-800-652-9093. Callers may be eligible for rewards and can remain anonymous.

doubled to left field for the run. But with one out and runners at second and third, Bernstein got out of further trouble with two short fly balls to left field.

Bernstein then put together four straight hitless innings before the Lakers reached him for those four eighth inning hits. Whitworth started it with a single up the middle and Sims followed with a base hit to left-center. Detroit Lakes coach Bob Hooper was ready to hold Whitworth at third on the play, but the ball was bobbled in the outfield, allowing the tie-breaking run to cross the plate, and putting Sims at second. Cory Vogt produced an insurance run with an RBI single to center as Sims barely beat a strong throw to the plate by Mike Swanson. Jason Soyring added the fourth single of the inning, but a double play ended the frame.

Pinch-hitting Jamie Harder drew a one-out walk to give Thief River Falls a half a chance to come back in the bottom of the seventh. But pinch-running Marc Haugen was caught stealing and Gunderson ended it with his 17th strike-out.

Whitworth was 3-for-4, while Sims and Soyring were both 2-for-4 as the game's only multiple-hit batters.

Detroit Lakes took a 7-11 record into the North Sub-Region 8AA semifinals in Bemidji. The Lakers lost a 6-3 regular season decision to the Prowlers back on April 18.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO SUFFER WITH ALLERGIES
Many people spend their whole lives suffering from the symptoms of allergies. Do you? Some of the symptoms could be nasal congestion, sneezing, shortness of breath, wheezing, chest tightness, itchy red eyes, skin rashes, hives, stomach cramps, vomiting, diarrhea, fatigue, drowsiness or headache.
Years ago you would have had to go through your whole life with these symptoms. Today you do not. The LeBlanc Clinic provides the safest and most up to date testing and treatment program available.
Including:
–Intradermal skin testing–Rast testing of the blood–Identification and treatment of inhalant. Food and chemical allergies–Sublingual drop therapy (if indicated)
The testing and treatment offered by the LeBlanc Clinic has been approved by the American Academy of Otolaryngic Allergy and the American Medical Association.
The LeBlanc Clinic offers a complete allergy evaluation in order to provide the most beneficial treatment. A limited devaluation based on your personal history and symptoms is also available.
The well trained professional staff at the LeBlanc Clinic know what you are going through, and they know how to make you feel better.
Why suffer when you don't have to? Call the LeBlanc Clinic for further information.

Shopper becomes newspaper

Northern Watch replaces Northern Minnesota Shopper

by David Hill
Times Associate Editor

It has come to our attention that some of our readers outside of the Times area are a little confused about how the Northern Watch came about and what happened to their Northern Minnesota Shopper's Guide. That's understandable because many of our efforts to educate readers have been directed at readers in The Times circulation area, not the Shopper.

The following is a brief summary of what happened to your Northern Minnesota Shopper's Guide.

It came to our attention in early February that mailing costs were going to increase substantially. Normally, we might pass that kind of increase on to readers, advertisers or attempt to swallow the cost. Frankly, a 24 per cent increase was too much to swallow and too much to pass on.

In addition to an increase in mailing costs, The Times was faced with a Monday paper and Shopper that was getting smaller. Upon inspection, it seemed logical to combine the two products, which would eliminate one mailing.

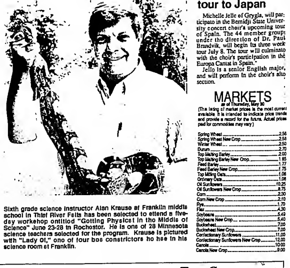
There were many other advantages to combining the products — advantages that affect labor, time and wear and tear on equipment. It also would be easier for advertisers to support two products rather than three. When the advantages and disadvantages were weighed, the decision to go to the two products was made.

If we were to combine the two products we knew we would have to have a new name for the new product. We couldn't call it the Thief River Falls Times because the product would have a much wider circulation area than The Times. We couldn't call it the Northern Minnesota Shopper's Guide, because it would be more than a shopper's guide. It would include news from Pennington county and several other surrounding counties and would have a total market circulation of about 22,500.

A "Name the Publication" contest was held in April. Advertisements were placed in both The Times and Shopper's Guide. As reported in the first edition of the Northern Watch, there were over 70 entries and the name we chose was the "Northern Watch."

Quick Summary:

- ❑ A postal rate increase in February encouraged the management of The Times to combine the Northern Minnesota Shopper's Guide and the Monday edition of The Times.
- ❑ The combination product was named the Northern Watch.
- ❑ You will no longer receive the Northern Minnesota Shopper's Guide. You will receive the Northern Watch instead. It has the same total market circulation of the Shopper (22,500), and has some news content as well.
- ❑ Deadlines for the Northern Watch: 5 p.m. on Thursday for news; 3 p.m. on Wednesday for classifieds; 5 p.m. Wednesday for display ads.
- ❑ Ads can be placed at The Times office at 324 Main Ave. North in Thief River Falls; or by calling 681-4450.



The shopper-newspaper, which we call a newspaper, is not a step into untested waters. Other newspapers and shoppers have gone to a similar product. We studied the alternatives and many different styles. The Northern Watch is a combination of everything we thought would work.

Simply stated, you will no longer receive the Northern Minnesota Shopper's Guide. You will receive the Northern Watch instead. We hope you like the product and will listen to your comments.

Deadlines. First of all, you can place an advertisement in the Northern Watch by contacting The Times office at 324 Main Ave. North in Thief River Falls, or by telephone, 681-4450. The deadline for news is 5 p.m. Thursday. The deadline for classified ads is 3 p.m. on Wednesday. The deadline for display ads is 5 p.m. on Wednesday.

Concordia dean's list has several area students

Area students named to second semester dean's honor list at Concordia College include: Nicole Dimich, daughter of Thomas and Judy Dimich; Paul Spyhalski, son of Richard and Linda Spyhalski; Rebekah Bortnem, daughter of Paul and Rosino Bortnem of Lubbock, TX, formerly of Thief River Falls; and Andrea Kragness daughter of David and Janice Kragness of Worroad, formerly of Newfolden.

Sixth grade science instructor Alan Krause at Franklin middle school in Thief River Falls has been selected to attend a five-day workshop entitled "Getting Physical in the Middle of Science" June 23-28 in Rochester. He is one of 28 Minnesota science teachers selected for the program. Krause is pictured with "Lady Oi," one of four boa constrictors he has in his science room at Franklin.

Jelle in choir tour to Japan

Michelle Jelle of Grygla, will participate in the Bemidji State University concert choir's upcoming tour of Spain. The 44 member group, under the direction of Dr. Paul Brandvik, will begin its three week tour July 8. The tour will culminate with the choir's participation in the Europa Cantat in Spain.

Jelle is a senior English major, and will perform in the choir's alto section.

Green Thumb to honor workers

Green Thumb program through Bruce Hall at the state employment service and worked two months under the program at what was then the Ripley Alliance for Battered Women. Illness caused her to leave that job, but for the past 19 months she has worked 20 hours a week at the library, mending books, arranging the daily newspapers, doing light cleaning and dusting and helping out in other ways.

Don Bentley is a newcomer to the Green Thumb program, having worked as a custodian for two months at the Red Lake Watershed District office at First street and Main avenue—the former Carnegie Public Library building.

Don was raised in the Plummer area and worked with his father on a 440-acre dairy and grain farm. He served in the communications field with the U.S. Air Force from 1947 to 1950 including 18 months in England.

His 20 hours per week at the watershed district office permits him time to also help his wife's brother, K. C. Kuznia of Stephen, with some of his farming operations.

Ruby and Don are only two of the approximately 22 workers in this area under the program. Currently employed Green Thumb employee in this area include the following:

Plummer—Lawrence Carpenter and Hazel Nabben;

Brooks—Walter Katschke;

Oklee—Selmer Christienson, Bonnie Rolsland, Myrtle Woods and Eloise Smsky;

Goodridge—Bonnie Johnsrud;

Grygla—Saave Johnson and Gladyce Thoreson;

Newfolden—Senora Elseth and Alice Lokstad;

Middle River—Lucille Underdahl;

Red Lake Falls—Jerome Ducharme, Pat Ruth and Mee Gjerstad; and Thief River Falls—Donald Bentley, Ruby Ramsey, Gena Fjeld, Rosemary Olson, Myra Nesland and program aide Lorraine Watne.

James Fay is the area supervisor for 11 northwestern Minnesota counties with Melba Moore as program aide at the Job Training office in Moorhead.

Most of the participants in the Green Thumb program are economically disadvantaged and live in rural or suburban areas. The program is sponsored by the National Farmers Union which initiated the program with federal assistance in 1965 when 280 participants in four states were put into service to beautify parks and highways.

Today, Green Thumb's 18,000 participants are increasingly being trained for technical, clerical and para-professional positions at more than 10,0000 local government and non-profit agencies.

Two major goals of the program are (1) to improve the social and economic condition of older Americans by promoting employment and training opportunities that will ultimately lead to their employment off the program, and (2) to place people in community service jobs that are necessary for rural communities but that often go unfilled because of budget or personnel shortages.

The Green Thumb program is a senior community service employment program (SCSEP) funded by a grant from the U.S. Department of Labor. It is authorized under Title V of the Older Americans Act.

Minnesota, along with Oregon, Arkansas and New Jersey, was one of the first four states to start the program by hiring 70 men to work on parks and highways. Early projects consisted of tree planting, roadside beautification and park development.

After its first year, President Lyndon Johnson observed, "Green Thumb contributes to the safety and beautification of state highways, schools, parks and rural towns.... and develops new ways to provide meaningful public service opportunities to the elderly in rural areas."

During its first 25 years in Minnesota, Green Thumb has provided 4,500 older Minnesotans an opportunity to work and be self-sufficient, to contribute to their communities and to increase their dignity and self-esteem.

"My job has given me a new lease on life," ono Green Thumb worker stated. "Since I have been employed by Green Thumb, I have been able to pay my bills and buy pills to keep on going."

With its track record of service in the past quarter century, Green Thumb apparently will also keep on going in its path of assistance to older workers.

Ruby Remsey hes been e worker with the Green Thumb program twice, once for about two months and for the past 10 months at the Thief River Falls public library. One of her duties each day is to place the library's daily newspapers on the racks so they are readily available and the sections won't be separated. She enjoys the work and the contact it gives her with other people.

and a member of DECA.

Thursday night he was to graduate from the Technical College aviation program. Following his graduation, Geary was to fly to Atlanta for an interview with Delta Airlines. At the college, he was on the dean's list and a member of PAMA.

According to the Journal's report of the accident, the car driven by Wilcox was stalled in the east bound lane with the car partially on the roadway. One of the occupants went for help. Gearey had driven his pickup to the scene, parking so that his truck faced the Wilcox car when a car driven by Angele Sager, hit the left rear of the stalled car and struck Gearey who was standing on the driver's side of the Wilcox car talking to Wilcox.

Sager's car tipped on its side, rolled and landed on its top. Wilcox and Sager and a passenger escaped with minor injuries but Gearey was pronounced dead at the scene.

Survivors include his parents, James and Irene Gearey of Pine River; a brother Greg, who is a teacher in Minnespolis; grandparents, Carl and Mabel Britton of Brainerd; Great-grandfather, Victor Gearey of Pine River.

His father was fire chief at Pine River for a number of years. John had worked at Lakeside Lawn and Landscaping while going to school.

Services were held Monday, May 27 at First Lutheran church. The Rev. Rod Broding officiated. Burial was in the Pine Ridge Cemetery, Pine River.

Agency on aging

Northwest Area Agency on Aging advisory committee, a 17-member committee from the seven northwest counties of Minnesota, will not meet on June 12 as regularly scheduled.

The long-range planning subcommittee will meet that day at 1 p.m. to review the 1991-1992 area plan on aging, develop amendments as necessary, consider requests for supplemental funding and review the 1992 grant funding process.

The Area Agency on Aging is a program of the Northwest Regional Development commission and funded by the federal Older Americans act through the Minnesota Board on Aging.

Members of the public are welcome to attend regular meetings which usually are held the second Wednesday of the month at 1 p.m. in the conference room of the NWRDC offices in Thief River Falls.

Public invited to share in 42nd annual NW Dairy Day

Public participation is invited for a number of events in connection with the 42nd annual Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls Tuesday, June 11, according to Howard Person, president of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association, sponsor of this June Dairy Month observance.

The 17 candidates for Region 1 Northwest Dairy Princess will be serving samples of dairy products Monday afternoon, June 10, from 1 to 5:30 p.m. at Northland Foods and Hugo's supermarkets in Thief River Falls. These girls from dairy farms in the 16-county area included in Minnesota American Dairy Association Region 1 will take turns at the stores while other candidates are being interviewed by the contest judges at the Best Western inn.

"We encourage the public to go to the stores Monday afterooon, sample the nutritious dairy products and meet some of these candidates," states Mrs. Norma Hanson, Goodridge, who chairs the Region 1 ADA committee.

"We also invite the public to Floyd B. Olson park where the dairy show is being held for the coronation ceremonies of the new Region 1 princess at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday, June 11."

Coronation has traditionally been the concluding event of Dairy Day but is being moved up this year to permit more people from the business area to attend the coronation and visit the dairy show during their noon dinner break. The park is located on Knight avenue between Second and Third streets in downtown Thief River Falls.

Participating in the coronation activities will be Princess Kay of the Milky Wey, Beth Messenbring of Cologne, and the 1990-91 Region 1 Princess, Michelle Anderson of Hawley.

Candidates for the regional princess title include the following:

Kristen Kivi and Rachel Wenger, Becker county; Rachel Nord, Beltrami county; Janell Leverington, Cass county; Dawn Erie, Clearwater county; Brenda Bettels, Terri Lynn Sommerfeld and Julie Crendall, Mahnomen county; Collette Tjon and Lois Dahl, Norman county; Alison Lundeen and Amy Haugen, Pennington county; Janna Kiecker, Melanie Rue and Jennifer Olson, Polk county; Kristi Wichterman, Red Lake county; and Margaret Foster, Roseau county.

Candidates will attend workshops on self-improvement and public presentation at the Best Western Inn and participate in a get-together at which the judges will be present at the Pizza Hut Monday evening.

Winner of the Region 1 contest in Thief River Falls advances to the Minnesota Princess Kay of the Milky Way competition at the Minnesota State Fair this fall. She also serves as good will representative for the dairy industry in the region for the coming year.

Regional Dairy Show

Additional entries have been received in the dairy show to bring the total entries to approximately 125 in all six major dairy breeds—Holstein, Guernsey, Jersey, Brown Swiss, Ayrshire and Milking Shorthorn, according to Person.

The show is being planned for the Floyd B. Olson park location in downtown Thief River Falls. In the event of rain early in the day the show will be moved to the curling club building at the Pennington county fairgrounds. Cattle will begin arriving by 7 a.m. for wash-up in the area west of the old arena on Knight avenue.

Officially opening the show will be a showmanship demonstration by Nancy Oeske of Thief River Falls. She is filling in for last year's senior showmanship champion, Cory Billberg of Roseau, and reserve champion, Tracy Vesledahl of Winger, both of whom have completed their age eligibility and are not entered in the show this year.

Immediately following the showmanship demonstration, judging will begin in the junior and senior showmanship classes. Judges this year will be Linda Hanson of Goodridge and Conrad Kvamme of Little Falls. Judging of the dairy show will begin about 10:30 a.m.

Free helium-filled balloons for the youngsters will be provided by Minnesota ADA (balloons) and Hordee's (helium) and free ice cream cones will be served courtesy of Norwest Bank. The ADA milk stand will also serve all the milk you can drink for 25 cents.

Joe Forberg and his wife Eleanor are the first husband and wife team as American Legion Commander and Auxiliary President for Post 117 and auxiliary in Thief River Falls since Bob and JoAnn Reeve in 1067. They started their term recently during the installation of new officers at the American Legion club rooms in Thief River Falls.

Princess Kay of the Milky Way, Beth Messenbring of Cologne, will be a special guest in Thief River Falls during Northwest Dairy Day Tuesday, June 11. She will visit the dairy show, assist in coronation of the new Northwest Dairy Princess at 12:15 p.m. at Floyd B. Olson park and speak at a morning program for princess candidates Tuesday at the Best Western Inn. Beth is a graduate of St. Cloud State University at Marshall with a degree in speech communications and is attending graduate school there. She was president of the speech club and concert choir, a TV reporter and anchor, radio disc jockey and member of the national speech team. She enjoys reading, sports and race car driving and her family has a Holstein dairy herd in Carver county.

City council accepts construction bids

Thief River Falls city council accepted a bid on $5,120,000 in general obligation bonds. The bonds are for improvements to the water treatment plant.

Last Tuesday night, the city council accepted bids and quotes on several projects including the water treatment plant bonds, the 1991 street and utility project, and quotes for the removal of contaminated soil from the airport.

The city council has accepted a bid on general obligation bonds from a combination of financial organizations. The bid for $5.12 million in bonds was $5,079,040 at an annual interest rate of 5.4 per cent. The net interest rate would be 5.666 per cent. Bid on the bonds came from FBS Investment Services, Inc., FBS Capital Markets Group, American National Bank, Dain Bosworth Inc., Norwest Investment Services, Piper Jaffray and Hopwood Inc., and Moore Juran and Co. Inc.

While the city has received confirmation that it will be the recipient of nearly $5.2 million in a low interest loan from FmHA, the pro-

Hwy 32 project in RLF begins

Work on Highway 32 through Red Lake Falls began last Monday. Motorists are asked to be alert for detours and construction workers if they plan to drive through the area.

Work began on a two-mile major reconstruction project on Highway 32 in the city of Red Lake Falls, according to Richard Bergland, project engineer for the Minnesota department of transportation in Thief River Falls.

Bergland said that the contractor began by replacing the storm sewer, sanitary sewers and watermains then will move on to the curb and gutter, grading and resurfacing. The project should be completed by the end of this construction season.

At all times there will be numerous short detours on surfaced streets for car traffic through the city. Truck traffic will be detoured on County roads 1 and 12 and Highway 92 for no more than 20 days.

County State Aid Highway 33 will be rebuilt on this project to serve as a detour for the south end of the project rather than constructing a temporary bypass. The state entered into a cooperative agreement with the county and shared in the cost of constructing this road.

Christiansen Independent Developers Inc. from Bemidji is the primo contractor on the $3,315,467 project. John Besserud from Thief River Falls is the Minnesota department of transportation inspector for this project.

State dismisses discrimination case

Following an investigation into allegations of sex discrimination at Arctco by a former employee, the Commissioner of the Minnesota Department of Human Rights has dismissed the charge.

Monday, the Minnesota department of Human Rights dismissed charges of discrimination filed by Cheryl Boroos of Badger. Boroos, who was an employee at Arctco from April 20, 1989 to July 19, 1990, as a welder charged that she was subject to discriminatory treatment. Her claim, which was filed on December 19, 1990, includes the following but is not limited to: the foreman made frequent derogatory comments; she was placed on less desirable welding jobs while less senior male employees were assigned to welding jobs with more responsibility; less senior male employees were retained in welding positions while she was forced to take another position on the line with a cut in pay; she made several complaints about her treatment but harassment continued; her employment was terminated because of constant harassment, that her sex was a factor in Arctco's actions as she was the only female welder, and that she was denied money that she was to have received through the pension plan.

Boroos also filed discrimination charges against Polaris Industries in Roseau, and Marvin Windows in Warroad.

Arctco officially denied each allegation of discrimination by Boroos. In addition, Arctco claimed that Boroos expressed hostility toward her leadpersons, and claimed there were a number of problems with her performance and behavior while she was employed at Arctco including the following: she complained continuously, requested easy jobs like spot welding, was not a good welder, refused to follow company policies, used foul language and obusive behavior toward co-workers, demanded and expected preferential treatment. Arctco further alleged that it spent time with her trying to find out what her problems were, that she quit voluntarily, and that she never made a complaint of derogatory comments about females to anyone at Arctco.

According to the findings issued by the Minnesota department of Human Rights, the investigation results show that Arctco did in fact

Norman County — Final preparations for the 96th annual Norman county fair at the end of June. With this event, the fair board is beginning the countdown to the fair's 100th year by offering limited edition collector belt buckles, which will be available for the next five years. A total of 250 buckles are being made. Cost is $20. (Norman County Index)

Grafton pays law firm's erroneous $4,500 phone bill

Grafton, ND — A Grafton law firm will receive reimbursement for a $4,500 city phone bill it encountered due to an accounting error by a national telephone company. The Dahl, Greenagel, Currie and Petersen law firm submitted a bill for $4,566.44 to the Ways and Means committee requesting reimbursement for six of the 10 tens it was inadvertently billed by AT&T for the city's leased phone equipment at the Walsh county law enforcement center in Grafton. The state's six-year statute of limitations prohibits the law firm from collecting for the entire period they were billed in error. (Record)

Red Lake Falls to fight mosquitoes

Red Lake Falls — With the recent rains, the city of Red Lake Falls knows it will be just a matter of time before the mosquito invades Red Lake Falls and the city will be ready. There are presently plans to using aerial spraying and citizens are asked to stay informed about spraying times by listening to the radio and watching Channel 3. (Gazette)

Wild Rice festival seeks parade entries

Kelliher — It is time once again to begin making plans for the Kelliher/Waskish Wild Rice festival which will be held July 12-14. Entries for the parade on the 14th are presently being sought in commercial, non-commercial, humorous and queen categories. For more information or to register for the parade, contact Wes and Janice Prenzel at 647-8474. (American)

Oklee JETS team wins national recognition

Oklee — The Oklee Junior Engineering Technical society (JETS) team has placed eighth in Division I school in the nation. The team placed first in the state of Minnesota for schools graduating 0 to 40 students. There were 21 schools competing in the division. (Oklee Herald)

Thousands of lottery tickets stolen at Halstad

Halstad — A break-in at the Power House lounge in Halstad last week resulted in the theft of thousands of lottery tickets. Norman county Sheriff Larry Miller reported that items taken in the crime included approximately 2,700 Minnesota lottery tickets and five or six cartons of cigarettes. The burglary was committed with entry made by prying open a door. Miller noted that some of the winning tickets have been redeemed and the case is under investigation. (Norman County Index)

VFW Post welcomes first female member

Crookston — Denise Desplenter is the first woman to join Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1902 in Crookston. She and her brother, Michael, both veterans of the Gulf War, last week became lifetime members of the post. She received her membership card from Post Commander Bob Young and was welcomed by Richie Simmons, senior vice commander and membership chairman for Ninth District VFW. Desplenter said she and her brother joined the Crookston post at the urging of their father, who is a Vietnam veteran. (Crookston Daily Times)

Future bowling alley plans on hold

Warroad — Plans for a new bowling alley hit a snag recently when Warroad city council deadlocked over whether to send a rezoning matter back to the planning commission for their recommendation. The proposed bowling alley, which will be located behind Super America and Super 8, will be owned by Dennis Dorbolt. (Warroad Pioneer)

Solheim retires as NCC counselor after 22 years here

Sverre Solheim

Retiring as counselor after 22 years of service at Northland Community college in Thief River Falls, Sverre Solheim received a standing ovation as he attended his last graduation ceremony as a faculty member Thursday, May 30.

Solheim first came to Northland in 1969 and was employed as a half-time music instructor and half-time counselor. He became NCC's first full-time counselor in 1971 when full-time enrollment was 343 students. This year full-time enrollment is only a handful of students short of 600.

Prior to coming to Thief River Falls, Solheim taught music in high schools at Bode, IA, for four years, Wabasso for four years and Danube for eight years. He holds a Bachelor of Music Education degree from Drake University and a master's degree in counseling from Mankato State University.

About his experiences at Northland Solheim said, "I wouldn't have changed a thing. Working at NCC has been a most positive and enriching learning experience for me. The friendships my wife and I have made over the years will be carried with us forever. I would like to thank everyone for the kindnesses I have received through the years and especially for the past few months."

Solheim was selected to receive the NCC Faculty Member of the Year award for the 1990-91 school year.

In addition to his work at the college, Solheim has been active in volunteer work in the church and community. He was president of the local Lions club and District Governor of that organization, a member of the Thief River Falls Concert association board and charter member of the board of the Thief River Falls Community Arts council.

Sverre served on the board of what is now the Little Brother/Little Sister program, was president of the Eagles Aerie and chairman of the Eagles board of trustees. He was president of his church council, choir director at Trinity and later Redeemer Lutheran church for 20 years and directed the city band for three years.

Sverre's wife Beverly has worked as a personal banker at Northern State bank for the past 22 years. They plan to move to Red Wing in the near future.

"Northland faculty, staff and students, along with the community of Thief River Falls, wish Sverre and Beverly a happy retirement," stated Katy Henke, director of college relations. "They will be missed."

NOTICE

"If the home you now own and live in was not being used by you - or by the previous owner - as a home on January 2, 1991, you can reduce the amount of property tax you will pay on your home in 1992 by applying to have the property classified as a homestead.

However, you must have moved into the home you now own and live in before June 1, 1991, to apply to have the property classified as a homestead.

As a result of having the home you own and live in classified as a homestead, your property's taxable value will be calculated at a lower percentage of its estimated market value than if it is not classified as a homestead.

To find out how to apply to have the home you own and live in classified as a homestead, contact your county assessor in Warren at (218) 745-5331 or your county assessor in Thief River Falls at (218) 681-3843.

YOU MUST APPLY BEFORE JUNE 15, 1991

Estimated tax payments due

The Internal Revenue Service reminds people who make estimated tax payments that the second installment for 1991 is due Monday, June 17.

The payment should be sent to the IRS along with the second quarter payment voucher from Form 1040ES, estimated tax for individuals. To be sure that the payment is properly credited to your account, the IRS asks that you write your social security number and the words, "1991 Form 1040ES" on the check.

If you're not sure whether you should be making these quarterly payments, the IRS suggests first checking your 1990 return. If the return shows a balance due of at least $500, and if you expect your financial situation to stay pretty much the same during 1991, then you probably should be making these payments. Moonlighters and two-wage-earner households should also consider making estimates. The same goes for people who receive significant income on which no tax is withheld, such as business profits, rental income, alimony, interest, dividends, capital gains, and unemployment benefits.

Form 1040ES has a worksheet which can help you figure out whether or not you need to make estimated tax payments and, if so, how much. To get this form, call toll-free 1-800-TAX-FORM (829-3676).

Make Dad Glad.

Opinions

Marvin Lundin
Editor

Editorial opinion published on this page, whether locally written or re-printed from other sources is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Opinions expressed by the editor are his own and not necessarily those of other staff members. Opinions expressed in items from other publications may be contradictory to the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

Quality Comes To The Fore

Those who gathered 42 years ago to organize and conduct the first Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls would notice amazing changes in the cattle which are being shown at the event more than 10 decades later. And they would be extremely pleased in one aspect of the show while being disappointed in another.

The disappointment would be in the number of young dairy farm people who are taking part in the annual northwestern Minnesota dairy show. There are fewer dairy herds each year and they are being operated by dairymen who are growing older and no longer have children of 4-H club age.

Organizers of Northwest Dairy Day envisioned a growing dairy industry in these counties of the state and expected the local creameries which served the farmers to benefit from the dairying emphasis. And who knows, that emphasis may have helped and could have slowed the tide which resulted in local cooperative creameries merging or dissolving.

Dairying is still alive and well in northwestern Minnesota, but on a smaller number scale than in the past. Only farmers with a genuine interest in cattle and developing their production have stayed in the business or followed their parents in dairying, making the personal sacrifices that are necessary to devote so much time and labor to caring for the herd.

What has been lost in quantity, however, has been made up for in quality, as those Dairy Day originators would see if they were to visit the 42nd annual event in Thief River Falls Tuesday, June 11. The evidence is in the Dairy Herd Improvement association (DHIA) reports which are provided to us each month and the overall appearance of the cows and calves which are brought to the Dairy Day show ring each June.

Dairymen are culling their herds better, using better sires to improve both type and production, improving their feeding practices and playing closer attention to herd health and reproduction.

We have noted before that the Top of the Nation dairy sale which was held in Thief River Falls for a few years had minimum production qualifications of 450 pounds of butterfat for grade animals and 500 pounds for registered cows. Today 650-pound-plus herd averages are not uncommon and 1,000-pound individual producers have shown up in a number of herds.

Like cream on whole milk, quality comes to the top in the dairy business. A lot of that quality will be on display Tuesday at Northwest Dairy Day. Come on down to Floyd B. Olson park and see what dairy farmers have been doing the last 42 years.

Mistakes Still Happen

As we try to work our way through the transition from two issues of the Times and one of the Shopper's Guide to one issue of the Times and one of the new Northern Watch per week, we are also attempting changes internally which involve switching from manual tasks to greater reliance on computer make-up.

Because that switching involves a number of people who have different tasks, we haven't perfected the system to avoid a few glitches. That is why our edition last Friday had the same photo run twice while the story that was to accompany it didn't run at all; and why the first part of a feature article on themes about grandparents in the Tuesday issue apparently went to computer heaven.

We apologize for the errors and especially to the people involved in the photos and stories mentioned. For sixth grader Katie Kraemer, whose first place essay on her grandparents disappeared during front page make-up Tuesday, we would like to make amends by publishing her quality work as follows:

Grandpa and Grandma Kraemer
by Katie Kraemer

My grandma, Anne Kraemer, was born and grew up on a farm in Excel township, five miles north of Thief River Falls in Marshall county.

She attended school in Loftness for eight years. She also graduated from Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls.

This gangly, long-legged towhead liked to sing, speak in public and be in plays. Now this skinny, long-legged, gray-haired person likes to make quilts, work on her flowers and yard work, and yell at grandpa.

When my grandma was 21 all she had to do to get her driver's license in 1944 was to go to the court house and pay 25 cents knowing absolutely nothing about driving.

My grandpa, Robert Kraemer was born on August 22, 1922. He was born on the Barzen farm in Thief River Falls. The Barzen farm used to be where Digi-Key and Arctco are now located. He was a farmer and lived on a farm, now known as the Mike Kraemer farm. He walked to school two miles through snow because roads were not plowed. My grandpa remembers when snow removal was done in Thief River Falls by three man shoveling the snow off and on a sleigh on racks pulled by a team of horses.

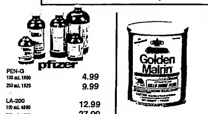
Back then, they didn't have much refrigeration, so they used ice boxes. You could buy a big chunk of ice for 50 cents from O'Hara Fuel. The ice would last a couple of days or so before the truck would come back again. The ice was stored up in the winter time in big sheds under sawdust or whatever insulation they had to preserve it. The next winter they would fill the sheds again.

My grandpa likes to fish, farm, plant gardens and buy from auction sales. With all his purchases he will soon have an auction sale of his own!

Both my grandpa and grandma enjoy traveling. They have been to Hawaii, Alaska, Mexico, the New England states and Southwestern states. They both enjoy their 15 grandchildren and their six children of their own coming to visit them.

This is why my grandparents are so very special to me. They are the most interesting, unique people in the world because they have so much wisdom and great personalities. I love them dearly. I will always have a special place for them in my heart.

Northern Watch Policies



Letters to the editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by the newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

CLEAN WATER
Is Your Water Safe to Drink?

Are you buying bottled water? Why? Have you tested your water supply and found it unsafe? Has your water tested safe, but you don't care for its taste? Or do you simply believe the water to be better because they are selling it?

Are you buying bottled water?

Bottled water marketed across state lines has to meet the EPA drinking water standards. Water bottled and sold locally is less regulated and there may be uncertainties about its quality. The bottled water industry itself is formulating laws regarding the quality, treatment and distribution of bottled water.

Grocery store dispensed water is a new concept, it has grown rapidly and is mostly unregulated. Although dispensers are inspected, there are still many health concerns related to sanitation at the dispenser. Dispensed water may come directly from the local municipal supply, it may be filtered or distilled in the store, or it may be trucked in. Ask the store manager the source of the water, its treatment and how often its tested.

There are still many health concerns related to sanitation

When carrying water or refilling containers at the store, be sure that the containers are well washed with hot, sudsy water and are disinfected with a weak chlorine solution.

For more information on drinking water standards, on buying bottled water, or disinfecting containers contact your County Extension Office.

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

With the kids home all day it's a good idea to have some sensible snack foods around. A frosty cold, nourishing drink with that snack makes a special treat.

This snack utilizes wheat germ, as well as other good things, and the kids will love it:

Popcorn and Fruit Nibbler

1 1/2 quarts air-popped popcorn
1 cup wheat germ
1/4 cup sesame seeds
1/4 cup light corn syrup
1/4 cup honey
3 tablespoons vegetable oil
6 ounce package diced dried mixed fruit (1 1/3 cups)

Heat oven to 300 degrees. Line 10x15 inch pan with foil.

Combine all ingredients except fruit, mixing lightly, until popcorn is evenly coated. Spread evenly in prepared pan.

Bake 35-40 minutes, stirring every 10 minutes, until dark golden brown. Stir in fruit and cool completely on wire rack.

Break into pieces when cool and store in tightly covered dish in refrigerator.

Each 3/4 cup serving contains 260 calories, 41 g carbohydrate, 6 g protein, 9 g fat, 15 mg sodium, 0 mg cholesterol, 3 g dietary fiber and 31% of calories from fat.

I see peaches are in the stores now. Here's one "peachy" drink you can make with them:

Peach Sunrisers

2 cups orange juice
2 fresh peaches, sliced
1 cup plain, low-fat yogurt
6 ice cubes
2-3 tablespoons cranberry juice concentrate

Combine orange juice, peaches, yogurt and ice cubes in blender. Whirl until thick and smooth. Pour over ice cubes in a tall glass and pour cranberry juice concentrate in for a layered effect. (Recipe serves 6 (1 cup each).

This is a sweet treat for snacking, chock full of everything that kids (and adults) love to eat. Try other cereals for variety:

Super Snack Mix

1/4 cup margarine or butter
1/3 cup creamy peanut butter
2 tablespoons firmly packed brown sugar
3 cup crispy wheat cereal squares
2 cups crispy wheat or corn cereal squares
2 cups thin pretzels, broken in half
2 cup color-coated chocolate candies (M&Ms or other)

Melt margarine, peanut butter and brown sugar together over medium heat (or in microwave).

Combine cereals and add to peanut butter mixture, coating thoroughly.

Spread in 10x15 inch pan and bake at 300 degrees for about 45 minutes, stirring every 15 minutes. Cool completely and then add pretzels and candy, mixing well. (Makes 8 cups.)

Use raspberries or strawberries to make another creamy drink, this one is made with frozen yogurt for a zesty taste:

Berry Good Milk Shake

1 cup raspberries or strawberries
1 cup vanilla frozen yogurt
1 cup milk
6 ice cubes
1 teaspoon vanilla or 1/4 teaspoon almond extract

Combine ingredients and puree in blender until ice cubes are completely crushed. (Serves 3.)

One more "berry" drink idea for those hot summer days; this one is so quick and easy you'll wonder why you didn't think of it before:

New England Blush Tea

1 tablespoon instant tea powder
1 cup raspberry cranberry drink (from bottle or made from frozen concentrate)
1/2 cup ginger ale or other fizzy soda pop ice

Combine tea and raspberry cranberry drink in tall, 12-ounce or larger glass and stir until dissolved. Gently stir in ginger ale and then add ice.

Use any type of cereal for these flavor-filled snacks, the tangy spices make them a hit with everyone. They are especially good when served with the frosty beverages above.

Nibbles

5 cups dry cereal (circles, squares, puffed, flake or what have you - use a mixture)
2 cups pretzel sticks, broken in half
1 cup peanuts or other nuts
1/3 cup margarine
4 teaspoons worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon celery flakes
1 teaspoon onion powder
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder

Combine cereals with pretzels and peanuts.

Melt margarine and add worcestershire and seasonings. Toss with cereal mixture.

Bake in shallow pan at 275 degrees for about 1 hour, stirring every 10 minutes. (Makes 8 cups.)

Each cup contains 296 calories, 7.9 g protein, 17.5 g total fat, 2.8 g saturated fat, 5.1 g polyunsaturated fat, 7.6 g monounsaturated fat; 0 mg cholesterol, 27 g carbohydrates, 33.8 mg. calcium, 173 mg potassium, 591 mg sodium.

LHS marching band begins its summer marching schedule

Ninety-nine members of the Lincoln high school marching band have begun their summer schedule of rehearsals with performances planned at seven parades and the Thief River Falls Elks Flag Day ceremonies.

Practice sessions have been held indoors during the past week, according to Bruce Felt, director. The band will take to the streets starting Tuesday, June 11, from 8 to 10 a.m.

Felt said that street practice sessions will be conducted Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 11, 12 and 13, and thereafter each Tuesday and Thursday morning. A number of areas of town will be used for the rehearsals, but the band will headquarter at Washington elementary school and much of the activity will be in that general area.

Felt asked the cooperation of the public during the rehearsals, including people driving in the area where the band is marching. "The only way to get experience marching is to march," the director said, "and we are concerned for the safety of the students when they are on the streets. Extra caution by drivers will be greatly appreciated."

First public appearance for the band will be Friday, June 14, when the Elks Lodge conducts its annual Flag Day program at 5 p.m. at Elks Park near the Third Street bridge.

Other appearances will include parades in Long Prairie, June 19; Fergus Falls, June 22; St. Hilaire, June 23; Grand Rapids, June 29; Detroit Lakes, July 21; Glenwood, July 28; and Thief River Falls, August 3.

"We will be in competition at all of the parades except Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire," Felt said. "There will be 14 bands competing at Long Prairie and 17 at Grand Rapids. At Thief River Falls there is no competition because most of the high school bands do not meet after late July."

Smith Family to present program at Grygla June 8

Craig Smith and the Smith family, Chippewa/Navajo Indians from the Leech Lake Indian reservation, will be ministering in music and preaching at the Grygla city park on Saturday, June 8, at 7:30 p.m. In the case of rain, the concert will be held at the Grygla school gymnasium.

Rev. Craig Smith is a national evangelist for the Christian and Missionary Alliance. The Smith family bring to the service a wide range of ministry experience, including ten years in music and evangelism, and church planting and pastoring for an additional six years. Craig Smith also spent four years as national director for Indian ministries for C&MA prior to his appointment as an evangelist.

Grygla blood drive scheduled June 24

The Grygla-Gatzke-Skime area blood drive will be held Monday, June 24, at the Grygla community center from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Please make a note to contact one of your local volunteers by June 20 to schedule your donation.

Our seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used, and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew, saving on labor costs. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

TIMES FOR TODDLERS

ACTIVITIES

Father's Day

Father's Day is a great time for children to honor Dad. Many children need help to prepare for this time. To do this we need to help the child focus on Dad, his likes, what he does. To do this, it is fun to make a "Dad Book." Simply get blank sheets of paper and staple them together to form a book. Then let the child draw a picture of Dad or find one to cut and paste from a catalog or magazine. The next page can have pictures of things Dad likes and next, things he dislikes. The last page can be a picture of what Dad does. For a child this may be different from what an adult sees. For example, this page could be Dad mowing the lawn or fishing instead of his professional job. This little book may also be a wonderful gift from child to father.

SCAVENGER HUNT

For next week's Activities feature, you will need paper and crayons.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

Father's Day will soon be here and the Thief River Falls public library recommends the following books:

Greenfield, Eloise. Grandpa's Face. Tamika's grandfather is an actor and Tamika learns the difference between reality and fantasy when she deals with the differences in her grandfather on-stage and off.

Yolen, Jane. Owl Moon. On a winter's night under a full moon, a father and daughter trek into the woods to see the great horned owl.

PARENTING TIPS

Fathers and Children

Regardless of their personal style or upbringing, most fathers are genuinely interested in having a good relationship with their children. However, a father may not know how to go about developing a good relationship because his father may not have been a good role model or he may think that good relationships just automatically happen because you are a father (and that is not true).

In past generations men were not expected to be involved with their children or to be affectionate. So fathers today may not know how to go about developing this relationship. Yet with commitment and deliberate effort, it can be done. The first step is to be involved. Involvement starts with watching and listening. See what you can learn from your child on a daily basis. What interests him/her, what can he/she do, what can't he/she do. Learn all you can about your child.

Even fathers who do not live with their children can do this. Of course daily interaction is best. But if this is not possible then call or write as often as you can. Many short interactions are better than one long one for a young child. When you are together use the above guidelines.

(Contributed by the Early Childhood Family Education department of School District 564.)

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

First watch to see what your child is doing. Then talk about and ask questions about his/her activity. When asking your child a question during play, ask a question that you do not know the answer to. This should stimulate more conversation.

(Contributed by the Early Childhood Family Education department of School District 564.)

Blaine Parish, Chris Ellison and Troy Coltom shared a moment during the first reunion of the Lincoln high school class of 1991. The after-graduation party was held at the Elks Lodge in Thief River Falls to promote a safe as well as entertaining evening for the graduates. Free non-alcoholic drinks were provided, along with many prizes that were given out all evening long.

Contestants for Miss TRF will meet this week

Contestants for the 1991 Miss Thief River Falls pageant will meet for their first official rehearsal session Wednesday, June 12, in the basement of Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

Pageant officials note that girls interested in participating in the pageant may still enter and will be welcomed to the competition. They may receive further information by contacting Gail Holland or Carol Stumpf or by calling the Thief River Falls chamber of commerce office.

The pageant will be held Saturday, August 3, in the Lincoln high school auditorium.

ELCA Women To Meet June 21-22 For Fourth Annual Convention

The Synodical Women's Organization convention will be held June 21-22 at Bemidji state university. The convention theme is "Empowered by the Holy Spirit." All women of the synod are invited to attend.

Registration will be held from 8 to 10 a.m. with the opening session beginning at 10 a.m. There are 296 congregations in the Northwestern Minnesota synod and each member congregation will be allowed one delegate plus visitors.

A communion service with Bishop Lohr presiding will be held at 10 a.m. Presiding over the convention will be Rebecca Olson of Moorhead with Judy Siegle of Fargo speaking at the Friday evening banquet.

History group at Warren has May meeting

Discussion of the county fair and other items affecting public participation took place when the Marshall County Historical society met recently at Settlers Square in Warren.

The society is looking for volunteers to work during the fair in the saloon and store and with popcorn and ice cream sales. It is also seeking people to give craft demonstrations during the fair. Participants may keep all proceeds from sales and may call 745-4803 to reserve space for their demonstrations.

Discussion was held on possible future display of inventions by Marshall county inventors. The society is interested in obtaining the inventor's name, invention and drawing or photo of the invention in order to compile information on the subject.

Donations of items from the H&H store, including a large glass display case, was acknowledged along with donations from other residents of a wedding dress, hand-crank potato grader, crocheted American flag and baptismal dresses. Warren Lions club made a financial donation and memorials were acknowledged for a number of people.

The museum at Settlers Square on the fairgrounds in Warren is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. It will also be open Sunday afternoons during July.

Middle River/Marshall County Central wins Region 8A baseball title

Rebels headed to state

Long-time rivals Middle River and Marshall County Central took a big step toward cementing their sometime-rocky sports cooperative programs Tuesday when the Rebels knocked off Roseau 3-1 in the Region 8A high school baseball tournament championship game at Warroad.

The victory sends Middle River/Marshall County Central to the Class A state meet for the first time Tuesday when the Rebels meet Region 2A champion Madelia/Truman in the 11 a.m. tournament opener at Dick Putz Field in St. Cloud.

Rest of the opening round state tournament quarterfinals match champions from Region 3A vs. 7A at 1:30 p.m., Region 4A vs. Region 6A at 5 and Region 1A vs. Region 5A at 7:30.

Semifinals and finals will not be played until Friday, June 14. Semifinals will be played at 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. that day, followed by the third place game at 5 p.m. and championship game at 7:30. There is no consolation round.

"We hope we can go down there and be competitive," said third-year Middle River/Marshall County Central head coach Alan Hanson. "Last year Red Lake won Region 8A and was ten-runned at the state tournament. We don't think we'll be ten-runned, not with Mike on the mound."

Mike is Mike Rokke, a hard-throwing senior righthander who struck out 15 Rams in the Region 8A finals. He gave up just four hits and did not walk a batter. Only run he gave up with a fifth inning Jason Hooser home run.

Rokke, who plays for Thief River Falls during the summer Legion baseball season, is 7-2 for the year with a 1.08 earned-run average, striking out 110 batters in 53 innings.

However, senior Wade Walton might make his way into the line-up by Tuesday after missing the final five regular season games and all five post-season contests because of an ankle injury. If he plays, Hanson will put Walton at shortstop and move Underdahl to left field for Wappula.

Underdahl, who is at the state track meet this week as the Region 8A high jump champion, is the Rebels' No. 2 pitcher, sporting a 4-0 record and a 2.1 ERA. Blazek and Tallum also pitch.

A young Middle River/Marshall County Central team started the year 3-3, but the Rebels finished with a 15-3 run to head into state tournament play at 18-6.

"We're playing our best baseball of the year right now," pointed out Hanson. "Our pitchers are throwing well, and we've really come on strong defensively the last dozen or so games. Offensively, we like to put the ball in play. We've got some kids who aren't great hitters, but they get their bat on the ball and make things happen."

In fact, against Roseau, Middle River/Marshall County Central loaded the bases with walks in the second inning and scored on a suicide squeeze bunt by Jarrett Walton and a wild pitch. Sixth inning singles by Tallum and Myhrer, plus a throwing error, added an insurance run in the sixth.

Rokke leads the team in hitting, carrying a .520 batting average into the Region 8A tournament. Blazek owned a .472 figure.

Middle River/Marshall County Central began post-season play with North Sub-Region 8A wins over Tri-County and Fertile-Beltrami before losing to Roseau 9-1 in the finals. But with the top two teams advancing and joining the two qualifiers from South Sub-Region 8A in the Region 8A semifinals, the Rebels' season was still alive. They took advantage of the opportunity with a 6-2 win over South Sub-Region 8A winner Bagley on a three-hitter by Underdahl, then gained revenge on Roseau in the finals after the Rams had dispatched defending champion Red Lake 2-1.

"That 9-1 loss to Roseau in sub-region was kind of deceiving," pointed out Hanson. "They (Rams) only got three hits that day, but they scored five times in the first inning and got us down."

The region title has really picked up the spirit in both Middle River and Newfolden, mentioned Hanson. "It's been great," he said. "Both communities have had parades and are really excited. Not everything has been real smooth in the cooperative thing, but hopefully this will bring both communities together."

Madelia/Truman beat defending champion Luverne 4-2 in the region 2A finals this week.

Ohman, Spaeth listed on MCCC baseball teams

Shawn Ohman, a Northland Community College freshman pitcher from Detroit Lakes, has been named to the 1991 Minnesota Community College Conference all-state baseball team, it was announced recently by Pioneers coach Terry Wiseth.

Two Northland players – Ohman and Tim Spaeth, a freshman outfielder from Waubun – were named to the MCCC All-North Division squad.

Ohman was 3-3 with a 1.55 earned run average this spring, striking out 42 and walking just 10 in 40.2 innings.

Spaeth hit .494 to lead the Northland regulars this year, driving in 20 runs in 23 games.

Area athletes compete in '91state track meets

Three Thief River Falls student-athletes are finishing off a busy 1990-91 school year participating in the Minnesota state high school Class A and Class AA boys and girls track meet, which got underway today (Friday) at the National Sports Center in Blaine.

Senior Anthony Diaz, junior Joel Davis and freshman Toni Chiodo qualified for state at the 1991 Region 8AA meet last week in Moorhead, where Davis won the boys 800-meter title with a 1:59.29, Diaz was second in the boys 1600 meters with a 4:32.02 and Chiodo was second in the girls 800 with a 2:22.06.

Top two finishers in each individual event, plus the first place relay teams, earned state meet berths.

It's the second state meet appearance of the 1990-91 school year for Davis and Diaz, who both ran in the state cross country meet last fall. Davis also just missed a state wrestling tournament trip.

Chiodo is putting the final touches to an outstanding freshman year in which she was a starter in volleyball and basketball before stepping on to the track.

St. Cloud Tech won the Region 8AA boys title with 118 points, followed by Alexandria with 107, Moorhead 89, St. Cloud Apollo 52, Detroit Lakes 34, Fergus Falls 31 1/2, Bemidji 28, Brainerd 26 1/2, Thief River Falls 23 and Little Falls 18.

Moorhead girls won Region 8AA honors with 104 points, followed by St. Cloud Tech with 95, Little Falls 85, Brainerd 73, Alexandria 53, Thief River Falls 31, Bemidji 26, Detroit Lakes 12, St. Cloud Apollo 11 and Fergus Falls 6.

A group of six area athletes from Marshall County Central/Middle River and Red Lake County Central cooperative programs are also in Blaine to compete in the Class A portion of the state meet.

Larson competes in state meet

Thief River Falls senior Derek Larson wound up with a tie for 57th place while competing against a field of 75 in the boys portion of the 1991 Class AA state high school golf tournament played Wednesday and Thursdays at Bunker Hills Golf Club in Coon Rapids.

Larson, the Region 8AA co-medalist, went 89-89 for a 36-hole 178. State champion was Pat Bauer of Wayzata with a 148 on rounds of 72-76 over the par-72 lay-out.

Tony Vincelli of Burnsville was runner-up with a 151 and Jeff Proctor of St. Cloud Apollo, who shared the Region 8AA title with Larson, was third at 154.

Team-wise, the Bemidji boys won a Minnesota State High School League-record fourth straight state title with a 631, followed by Elk River at 643, Wayzata 650, Burnsville 663, Hastings 667, Duluth East 671, Worthington 690 and Minneapolis southwest 709.

And the Region 8AA champion Lumberjacks may be in position to extend its title reign next spring since the 1991 Bemidji state tournament team featured just one senior – Scott Anderson. The rest were juniors, including Andy Brink, who was fifth in the individual standings with a 156. Jared Abbott, Matt Motzko, Jeff Noreo and Tany Burlingame are also in Brink's Class of '92.

Richfield won the girls portion of the tournament that was played at the same site at the same time with a 703, followed by Region 8AA champion Alexandria with a 706, Owatonna 727, Hibbing 770, Willmar 794, Osseo 796, Elk River 811 and Henry Sibley 821.

Alissa Herron gave Woyzata two individual state champions when she won the girls Class AA medal with a 162 to join Bauer in the winners circle for the Trojans. Tracy Melby of Alexandria and Angie Ause of Red Wing shared second place at 164.

TRF baseball program growing

by Mike Lundgren, Sports Editor

Summer baseball is alive and well in Thief River Falls.

Together, the Park and Recreation Department youth program for 7-12-year-olds, Babe Ruth 13-15-year-olds, VFW 16-year-olds and Legion program for 17-18-year-olds, Thief River Falls will have some 422 players playing baseball on 34 teams during the 1991 season.

Jeff Mumm directs the youth baseball program, which includes three age groups – 7-8-year-olds (92 players/ eight teams), 9-10-year-olds (111 players/nine teams) and 11-12-year-olds (102 players/nine teams).

Myron Peterson is the director of the baseball operations for the Babe Ruth program, which features 36 players on three Prep teams for 13-year-olds and 40 players on three 14-15-year-old teams.

It'll be a cooperative effort among five service organizations that will help field the 1991 Tier I Thief River Falls Legion and the Tier II Legion/VFW Bombers teams, where Howard Dalager and Wayne Rahlf are working with 41 players.

American Legion Post 117 is the primary sponsor for the summer baseball program for the high school age players, but the VFW, Eagles, St. Hilaire Lions and Sons of the American Legion will all help pick up some of the costs involved in a program that is looking at a $21,000 budget this year.

Thief River Falls' Tier I Legion squad, designed primarily for high school juniors and seniors, will play approximately 46 games this summer. They will join East Grand Forks, Crookston, Roseau and Karlstad in the Ninth District North Division, while Moorhead, Fergus Falls, Detroit Lakes and Perham form the Ninth District South Division. A single qualifying game in the North will produce an eight-team state tournament-qualifying Ninth District tournament field at Thief River Falls' Irv Wilson Field August 1-4.

The Bombers will be mostly high school sophomores, who will play a schedule featuring 16 VFW games against East Grand Forks, Bemidji, Fergus Falls and Moorhead, along with a 38-game Legion schedule against northwestern Minnesota Tier II teams. They will compete in both the VFW and Legion Tier II post-season tournaments.

The summer baseball programs also include cooperative efforts from City of Thief River Falls, which maintains the facilities; the Pennington County Fair Board, which owns the land where the diamonds are located; and Northland Community College, where a portion of the Babe Ruth schedule is played.

"It's a real challenge to maintain the type of program we have," mentioned Dalager, who is also looking for ways to make the program better, especially in the way of improvements at Irv Wilson Field as Thief River Falls prepares to host its first Ninth District tournament since 1982.

Fan accommodation is a primary concern as Dalager anticipates a large turnout for the Ninth District tournament. Thief River Falls had a big following last year while coming up with a Ninth District runner-up finish at Detroit Lakes, and he figures Post 117, whose roster is complemented by players from Middle River, Newfolden and Grygla, will be a title challenger again in 1991. "If we're not there at the end, I'd be real surprised," he said.

Thief River Falls opens its Legion schedule tonight (Friday) with a 6 p.m. doubleheader against East Grand Forks at Irv wilson Field. Post 117 will be at West Fargo Monday for a 5:30 p.m. twinbill and will visit Crookston Wednesday for a single 6:30 p.m. game before hosting its first Thief River Falls Invitational Friday and Saturday, June 14-15.

The round-robin Thief River Falls Invitational will actually crown two champions as Thief River Falls, Bemidji, Roseau and Park River, ND compete for the Class A trophy, while the Bombers, Red Lake Falls, Grand Forks Air Force Base and International Falls play for the Class B title.

Women's Softball

A set of make-up games Tuesday – dating from May 22 rain forced postponements – preceded the regular Wednesday night schedule in the Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League.

Janelle Konickson had a grand slam home run and a double, and teammate Jody Pahlen also doubled as Legion/Sather Law beat VFW 5-1 in one of those Tuesday make-up games, while Becky Beito, Andi Nelson and Mickey Erickson all had three hits as the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners defeated Pizza Hut 17-6.

Elsewhere Tuesday, the Mush-A-Rets handled Rainbow Nursery 22-2, newly-sponsored St. Hilaire Elevator/Lynn's Refrigerating rolled past the Swingers 19-1 and Best Western Inn got by Middle River M&M 14-9.

VFW, Legion/Sather Law, Pizza Hut and Best Western Inn Ridgerunners were all doubleheader winners in Wednesday's regularly-scheduled action.

Best Western Inn Ridgerunners edged St. Hilaire Elevator/Lynn's Refrigerating 13-10 on a ninth inning Diane Klementson home run. Patti Peterson, Cheryl Olson and Vicki Hoverson all went 3-for-4 in the win, with Peterson picking up a home run and a double in the process.

Marilyn Helgeland had a 4-for-4 game, Peterson went 3-for-3 and Andi Nelson was 3-for-4 as the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners completed their twinbill sweep with a 20-9 victory over the Swingers.

VFW racked up a pair of 10-run rule five-inning wins over Middle River M&M 22-10 and Rainbow Nursery 24-5. Sanoy Johason homered, Cheryl Hinschberger and Linda Rux were both 4-for-4 in the VFW win over Middle River M&M. Angie Sinn, Irene Larson and Julie Stennes all homered, while Deb Johnson, Hinschberger and Rux all went 4-for-4 as VFW beat Rainbow Nursery 10-9.

Kelly Storhaug homered and drove in two runs and Diane Anderson doubled as Legion/Sather Law turned back the Mush-A-Rets 21-3. DeAnn Thompson and Wendy Camere were both 2-for-3 for the Mush-A-Rets, with Thompson picking up a triple. Legion/Sather Law completed the doubleheader sweep with a 6-0 second-game win over Best Western Inn.

Kelly Cornell was 4-for-5, Ruth Brown had a triple and three RBI and Brenda Russell also tripled as Pizza Hut, after a 3-0 first-game win over the Swingers, added a 17-3 Game 2 victory over St. Hilaire Elevator/Lynn's Refrigerating.

Pam Schenkey homered, Julie Halvorson drove in two runs and Gino Peterson was 2-for-2 as the Mush-A-Rets edged Middle River M&M.

Middle River beaten by Detroit Lakes in 1991 season opener

Middle River Reivers opened their 1991 amateur baseball season Sunday with a high-scoring 15-14 loss at Detroit Lakes.

The visitors scored four times in the top of the ninth inning to gain a 14-14 tie, but promptly surrendered a game-winning RBI single to Tater McLeod in the bottom of the inning. It was a scheduled nine-inning affair.

Jason Kempert, Dean DuChamp, Sean Huset and Shawn Wagner all had two hits in the Reivers' 11-hit offense. But Detroit Lakes used 13 hits, seven Middle River errors and eight walks to score the 15 runs.

DuChamp started on the mound for the Raivers, working the first three innings. Hunter Boldt, Dan Cwikla, Huset and Chris Nelson pitched in relief, with Nelson getting the loss.

Middle River is scheduled to visit Warroad Sunday for a 1 p.m. doubleheader.

TRF Bombers sweep twinbill

Thief River Falls Legion/VFW Bombers baseball team swept Winger 18-0 and 18-2 Thursday in season-opening baseball action.

A schedule mix-up had Thief River Falls traveling to Winger and Winger arriving in Thief River Falls before things were straightened out and the teams got together at Irv Wilson Field.

Jeremy Olson threw a five-inning two-hit shutout in the opener, striking out 10 and walking three. Carter Rogalla hit a three-run first inning home run, while Rick Ostby, Marc Haugen and Olson all had two hits in the 14-hit Bombers attack.

A scheduled five-inning second game was reduced to three innings by another 10-run rule spread. Rogalla picked up the pitching decision, striking out nine and walking two while giving up one run. Jason Svir had two of the nine Thief River Falls while Tony Greene and Jeff Stengrim both had RBI triples during a first inning assault that sent 19 Bombers to the plate.

Outdoor News

Safe Boating

National Safe Boating Week observed June 2-8 is the annual event that launches the recreational boating season in the United States. It not only starts the traditional boating season, but introduces a year-long campaign to provide boaters with more information about their sport.

Tim Smalley, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) boating safety specialist, says that in Minnesota the emphasis is on getting boaters to wear personal flotation devices (PFDs of life jackets).

"Almost everyone has life jackets on board their boats, but we still don't see enough people wearing them," Smalley said. "Perhaps that's why over 900 people still die in boating accidents every year in the United States."

According to Smalley, Minnesota is doing better than much of the country, with fewer than three deaths each year per 100,000 registered boats. The national average is about six deaths per 100,000. "However, with a total of 17 boating deaths in Minnesota last year, we still have a ways to go," Smalley added.

U.S. Coast Guard statistics show that at least 85 percent of the people who died in boating accidents would have survived if they had worn a life jacket. In Minnesota, the percentage may be even higher.

"I have a file of letters from people telling how their lives were saved because they were wearing a life jacket," Smalley noted.

Most boating deaths involve people capsizing or falling out of their boats. Falling overboard is a frightening experience, and many people will panic and drown unless they are wearing a PFD, Smalley said.

DNR recommends staying with a capsized boat. "Unless the boat is on fire or in imminent danger of sinking, we tell people to stay with a capsized boat rather than try to swim for shore," Smalley said.

Since the early 1970s, outboard boats 19 feet long or less have been required by the U.S. Coast Guard to be able to float in a full upright and level position when full of water and it's rated capacity of passengers, motor and cargo.

State Parks

Lake Bronson

Lake Bronson State Park has a number of special events planned for June. The programs are all free of charge to the public, although a vehicle permit is required to enter the park.

■ A Centennial Troubador Concert, featuring Charlie Maguire, will be presented Friday, June 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the picnic shelter building. Maguire has been traveling throughout the state doing concerts and residencies for years. His efforts gathering stories and doing research have led to the composition of over 300 songs celebrating Minnesota's history.

■ Rachael Kroog will be presenting a special program entitled Songs From The Heart For Lovers Of The Earth Saturday, June 22, at 8 p.m. in the picnic shelter building.

■ An auto show will be presented Saturday, June 29. Vehicle registration will take place from 11 a.m. to 12-noon, followed by the show from 12-noon to 6 p.m. Persons attending the show will vote on their favorite vehicle in each of three categories – antique (1935-older), classic (1936-65) and street rod (any age). Trophies will be awarded at the end of the show.

■ Boat parade is planned Sunday, June 30, at 4 p.m. Register at the west boat dock in the park between 3 and 4 p.m. that afternoon. There is no registration fee. Persons riding in the watercraft may be dressed in costumes if they desire to do so. To enter, send your name and address to the Boat Show, Box 9, Lake Bronson, MN 56734.

State high school track entries listed

Middle River girls earning state meet berths included Kinzle Anderson, the Region 8A high jump champion with a jump of 5-0, and Sara Lokstad, the Region 8A shot put runner-up with a toss of 36-1 1/2.

The Rebels swept Region 8A high jump honors when Jeremy Underdahl joined Anderson in the winner's circle with an eye-opening 6-8 jump – the best performance among all Class A state meet boys and just one inch behind Class AA pace-setter Nate Jensen of Albert Lea.

Three Red Lake County Central boys advancing to the state meet included Region 8A second place finishers Eron Mattison with a 20-3 1/4 long jump, Jeff Bachand with a 42-10 1/2 triple jump and Jason Nelson with a 2:04.90 in the 800 meters.

It'll be a double-state meet spring for Underdahl, who is also a member of the state tournament-bound Region 8A Middle River/Marshall County Central baseball team. The Rebels will make their state baseball tournament debut Tuesday at St. Cloud.

Marshall County South won the boys Region 8A crown with 91 points, followed by Stephen with 87, Mahnomen 61, Clearbrook/Gonvick 35; Roseau 31, Marshall County Central/Middle River 28, Red Lake County Central and Park Rapids 26, Hallock/Kennedy and Win-E-Mac 20, Norman County East 19, Waubun 15, Norman County West 14, Crookston 13, East Grand Forks 12, Tri-County and Walker-Hackensack/Akeley 10, East Grand Forks Sacred Heart and Warroad 3, Fosston 2, Red Lake Falls 1.

East Grand Forks girls claimed a Region 8A title with 48 points, followed by Marshall County South with 37, Stephen 34, Marshall County Central/Middle River 32, Roseau, Park Rapids and Tri-County with 30 each, Tri-County 26, Climax and Ada/Borup 24, East Grand Forks Sacred Heart and Cass Lake 22, Waubun 21, Bagley 18, Northome/Kelliher 17, Red Lake Falls 16, Clearbrook/Gonvick and Walker-Hackensack/Akeley 14, Warroad 12, Fisher, Red Lake County Central and Crookston all with 3, Blackduck 2 and Mahnomen 1.

State meet preliminaries, along with a few field event finals, were held today, with finals for both classes scheduled to be held Saturday.

Public invited to Dairy Day

Awards presentation is scheduled for 2 p.m. with Delores Andol of the Roseau county extension office and Region I Princess Michelle Anderson presiding. Chad Schlauderaff, 13, of Detroit Lakes, will receive a purebred Holstein dairy calf from the Sheldon Erickson and Son herd at Badger as showman of the grand champion grade animal at the 1990 Northwest Dairy Day.

Other awards will be presented for junior and senior showmanship, best uddered cow, grand champion grade, grand champion purebred, grand champion of the show, Gerald Hamre memorial award for best individual dairy herd (three animals shown by one exhibitor), county herd (five animals from one county), junior champion, Stuart McLeod award and awards for 10 and 11 years of participation.

Every exhibitor at the Dairy Day cattle show receives a participation award which is different for each year of participation. In order of first through 11th year of competition the awards include wash halter, show halter, grooming kit, show blanket, travel alarm clock, cow halter, calculator, transistor radio, cow clipper and engraved trophy.

All exhibitors also receive ribbons for their placing in the respective classes.

Funding for Dairy Day is provided by business and professional people in Thief River Falls and a number of area communities and by creameries and banks throughout Region I.

Officers of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association in addition to Person as president are Amos Thompson, Grygla, vice president; Jim Matson, Thief River Falls, treasurer; and Denise Aune, Thief River Falls, secretary.

Other directors are Harvey Baker, Lake Bronson; Rodney Twistol, Klem Digstad, Lyle Swanson and Dale Rupprecht, Thief River Falls; Robert Eaton, Roseau; John Lunde and Ron Peterson, Bemidji; Sheldon Erickson, Badger; Milt Peterson, Plummer; George Keeh, Puposky; and Dale Springer, Fosston.

Ex-officio directors are Kenneth Stalboerger, Land D'Lakes cooperative; Gene Watnaas, fieldman for the American Dairy Association of Minnesota; and Mylo Carlson, representing the Red River Valley Dairymen's association.

attempt to resolve all of Boroos' complaints about the conditions in the welding shop area by holding several meetings with Boroos and supervisors. Documentation and witness interviews verify Boroos' contention that extra efforts were made in an attempt to ensure Boroos' success on the job, including assigning her to the easier welding jobs and allowing her extra breaks for medical reasons. Witnesses generally stated that she was given preferential treatment by Arctco and that her foul language was often more offensive than that of her male co-workers. There is insufficient evidence to substantiate her allegations that she was subjected to sexist remarks from any of the lead persons or co-workers. Furthermore, Boroos acknowledged that she could not weld as well as some of the others, and that she did fail the heliarc welding test.

"Documentation also established that although she was eligible to sign up for the pension plan, which she did on May 24, 1990, having had her one year anniversary on April 20, 1989, she was not eligible for the $500 employer contribution which had eligibility dates of April 1, 1988 to March 31, 1989."

The investigation also revealed that Boroos stated to the Unemployment office that the reasons she terminated her employment at Arctco was "personality conflict."

The findings statement issued by the department of human rights states that evidence was insufficient to show that Boroos was constructively discharged in violation of the Minnesota Human Rights act, in that the evidence was insufficient to establish that her working conditions were intolerable due to illegal discrimination on the part of Arctco. While Boroos may have had reason to find conditions intolerable, absent a finding by the department that Boroos' sex was a discriminatory factor in these conditions, the department lacks jurisdiction, under the Minnesota Human Rights Act, to hold Arctco liable for Boroos' decision to quit this employment.

According to the statement of findings, the department will take no further action on this matter. Pursuant to Minn. Stat. 363.14, Subd. 1 (b) (1), the charging party may bring a civil action against Arctco in district court within 45 days of the dismissal of this case.

Based on the findings, the commissioner of the Minnesota department of Human Rights, or his duly authorized delegate, dismissed the charge.

ject has to be built before the loan received. The bonds issued for the project, therefore, are short term bonds.

The city council has accepted the low bid on the 1991 Street and Utility project. Three bids were received on street work alone. The low bid on street work came from Northern Paving of Crookston at $383,984.34. There were five bids on the sidewalk portion of the project. The low bid was received from Knish Construction of Montgomery in the amount of $179,163.85.

A pre-construction meeting is expected to be held next week and the project to begin short after.

The city council has accepted quotes for removal of contaminated soil at the airport. Contamination soil was discovered during pre-construction soil borings which were conducted for the Technical College Hangar project. During the soil borings petroleum was found in the soil and the city was instructed to remove the soil from the sites. Thygeson Construction gave a quote of $13,942.50.

The city council adjourned its meeting to Monday, June 10. The meeting was adjourned to June 10 because the extension granted by the low bidder on the water treatment plant expansion project will expire on June 10. It is anticipated that the contract will be awarded June 10 to John T. Jones Construction Co. of Fargo, ND.

Logan Wallace, 12, had an impressive Northwest Dairy Day performance Tuesday in Thief River Falls. His four-year-old registered Jersey cow was the Jersey breed champion, purebred champion animal of the show, overall show champion and was named best uddered cow. Logan is the son of Elela Wallace of Middle River.

New Region One Dairy Princess is Janna Kiecker, 19, daughter of Bud and Clellie Kiecker of McIntosh, who was crowned Tuesday at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls. First runner-up was Rachel Nord (right), 18, daughter of Murl and Sue Nord of Blackduck and second runner-up was Melanie Rue, 20, daughter of Marlly and Cheryl Rue of Fosston. Janne will represent Region One and the Princess Kay contest this fall.

Local governments to decide on state sales tax issue

Thief River Falls city council adopted a resolution formerly urging the Pennington county board of commissioners to enact a sales tax. Under new state law, the city and county could lose state aid funding if it doesn't enact the local option sales tax by July 1.

"The county really doesn't have much of a choice," said County Auditor Ken Olson. It can either adopt the legislation or lose state aid.

Under the state's new law, all cities and townships would lose their state-aid funding in counties that do not pass the one half-cent local option sales tax. The county also would lose state funding.

Association of Minnesota Counties estimates that if the county does not adopt the legislation the county could lose $784,035 in 1992, and the city could lose $1,639,767. The tax itself will raise only $449,000 in Pennington county.

Money raised by the one-half cent sales tax will go into the state's local government trust fund. Aid cuts, which cities and counties have been experiencing in the past two years, will be built into the numbers.

The city expects cuts in state aid in addition to the new threat. Last year, the city was forced to cut over $91,000 from the city budget after it had complied with state budget reporting procedures and after it had approved its budget. Next year, the city expects to have to cut about $50,000 from its budget because of state aid cuts.

A similar story is told at the county government level. Olson said the county made cuts due to cuts in state aid last year. Total state aid to the county will be less than expected for next year as well.

Essay contest winners named by Co. SWCD

Winners of the annual conservation essay contest conducted by the Pennington Soil and Water Conservation district were selected recently, according to information received from the district office.

Theme for the contest was "Soil — Our Future Depends On It." The top two winners in the junior and senior divisions advance to Area I competition this month.

First place in the senior division went to Jared Goldesberry, second to Beth Natvik and third to Christine Nelson, all students at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls. Jared's essay is published as a guest editorial in today's issue of the Northern Watch.

Winner in the junior division was Eldon Quam with Gena Kotrba second and Kristy Johnson third. All are students at the Goodridge public schools.

Sponsors for the essay contest were St. Hilaire Co-Operative Elevator association, Farmers Co-op Grain and Seed and International Multifoods.

Wallace, Kiecker win big at 42nd Dairy Day

Twelve-year-old Logan Wallace of Middle River and 19-year-old Janna Kiecker of McIntosh were big winners Tuesday when the 42nd annual Northwest Dairy Day was held under sunny skies in Thief River Falls.

Wallace showed his registered Jersey four-year-old to the overall show championship after winning the Jersey breed championship, show purebred championship and best uddered cow trophy.

Kiecker was selected from a group of 17 candidates to succeed Michelle Anderson of Hawley as the Region One Dairy Princess and will represent this region at the Princess Kay of the Milky Way contest this fall at the Minnesota state fair. She is the daughter of Bud and Clellie Kiecker.

First runner-up in the princess contest was Rachel Nord, 18, daughter of Murl and Sue Nord of Blackduck. Second runner-up was Melanie Rue, 20, daughter of Marlly and Cheryl Rue of Fosston.

As winner of the purebred championship, Wallace will receive a $300 cash prize. If he elects to attend the World Dairy Expo in Madison, WI, another $200 will be added to the prize money.

Showman of the grand champion grade was Nancy Geske of Thief River Falls with an eight-year-old Brown Swiss. She will receive a purebred dairy calf at next year's Dairy Day.

Nancy was also named winner of the Stuart McLeod award and presented the showmanship demonstration to open the show this year. She was also named reserve champion senior showman, finishing behind Lenny Billberg of Roseau.

Reserve champion purebred of the show was entered by Karla Wallace of Middle River with a Jersey and reserve champion grade was entered by Kelly Schlauderaff of Detroit Lakes with a Holstein. Kelly was also the junior showmanship champion with his brother Casey as reserve champion.

Exhibitor of the junior champion female of the show was Craig Bentley of Mahnomen with a Milking Shorthorn calf. Individual herd (three animals) award was won by Karla Wallace and the county herd (five animals) award was won by Roseau county.

Breed champions and reserve champions included the following:

Holstein—Casey Schlauderaff, Detroit Lakes, champion; Kelly Schlauderaff, Detroit Lakes, reserve champion;

Jersey—Logan Wallace, Middle River, champion and Karla Wallace, Middle River, reserve champion;

Brown Swiss—Nancy Geske, Thief River Falls, champion and Jacob Efta, Argyle, reserve champion;

Ayrshire—Adam Gast, Argyle, champion and Penny Beth

Pioneer Village gets help from scout project

Boy Scouts and parents from Troop 199, sponsored by St. John Lutheran church, provided about 35 hours of volunteer time recently in cleaning up old iron, clay tile, wood, tin, brush and other debris at the museum site of the Pennington county historical society's Pioneer Village.

The 29 scouts and parents filled a large construction dumpster with metal scraps and nearly filled another with broken tile, rock and other debris. Use of the two dumpsters, hauling and dumping fees were donated by Steve Nordhagen of Les's Sanitation. Following the clean-up effort the scouts were given a tour of the village.

Donna Myhrer, who directs operations at the Pioneer Village, expressed her appreciation.

Storm damages home and tower

The storm that raged through Thief River Falls last night caused a large tree to fall on top of a local resident's home.

The home belongs to Garfield Syverson of Thief River Falls. He and two other people were inside the house when the incident occurred in the early evening and they thought that a tornado had hit.

The wind also toppled over the public radio tower located at Digi-Key.

Photos will be published in next Tuesday's edition of the Times.

Getting the message about massage

Kathleen Navarre stresses therapy value and health benefits

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

For Kathleen Navarre the hard part about massage hasn't been the physical conditioning to do six hours of rigorous physical work a day. The hard part has been convincing people in a staid rural community that massage is neither self-indulgent nor immoral but rather a healthy, natural body stimulant that can have a positive impact on health.

"Massage parlors as fronts for prostitution have created a stigma for massage that is hard to deal with," says Kathleen, who has operated Kathleen's Massage in Thief River Falls for the past two years.

"There are also individual's concerns about personal modesty or the belief that massage is only for the 'upper crust' that prevent many people who could benefit from full body massage from experiencing it. I really don't know how to deal with people's deep-rooted impressions or expectations except to encourage them to talk to others who have experienced massage therapy."

One of those is Don Joppru who has had long-standing back problems and works every day with lifting on the job at Joppru's Meat Service. Two years ago he was considering surgery but was—and is—reluctant to submit to that.

He started doing stretching exercises every night for a few minutes at bedtime and has been having weekly one-hour massage sessions for the past two years. He says he feels the best he has for many years although he hasn't altered his heavy work pattern, and he commented on the invigorated feeling he gets from a massage session.

Shawn Newland, who operates Northwest Beverage, has diabetes and is troubled with poor blood circulation. Her medical doctor suggested that massage could help with circulation and she has been having weekly sessions since February.

"My mother got me started by giving me a gift certificate," Shawn said. "My doctor said to go ahead if it seems to help, and I think it has made me feel more comfortable, especially in my legs. Kathleen impresses me as someone who knows her job."

Kathleen points out that the history of massage dates back to ancient times when it was a primary form of health care. Medical science has more recently developed drugs to aid digestion, stop indigestion, constipation or insomnia, relieve muscle pain, control high blood pressure, stimulate circulation, etc.

"In no way am I saying that these drugs are not valuable and I never attempt to diagnose problems or claim I can cure them," Kathleen said. "I always recommend that people see their medical doctors,

Kathleen Navarre earned the nickname "Velvet Mittens" while attending classes at the Minneapolis School of Massage. She is shown giving a massage to her son Ryan Koldan, 14. Kathleen has her business at the Creative Clippers salon on Second street.

TIMES FOR TODDLERS

ACTIVITIES

Safety for Summer

Children are outside more in the summer and this is a great opportunity to observe traffic signs and lights and a great way to learn to observe good safety practices. When driving it is important to point to signs such as stop, yield, etc. The children will soon learn that the signs are there to warn us and protect us. Some children like to make their own signs on paper and play on their tricycles and wagons. Children learn by adults and then playing those roles during their play times.

SCAVENGER HUNT

For next week's Activities feature, you will need old hats, aprons, dresses, jackets and shoes.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

Summer is fun, but remember to be safe. Some recommended books from the Thief River Falls public library collection:

Baker, Eugene. Safety First: Bicycles.

Baker, Eugene. Safety First: Water.

Baker, Eugene. Safety First: Outdoor.

Chlad, Dorothy. Matches, Lighters and Firecrackers Are Not Toys.

Leaf, Munro. Safety Can Be Fun.

PARENTING TIPS

Hats Off To Summer!

Summer is a great time for parents to interact with their children. The season of warm weather seems to change our mood as well as allow for activities not possible during other seasons. We need to take advantage of this time. Take your child for a walk, go for a bike ride, check out the park, have a picnic, watch a parade, splash in some water, play in the sand, the list is endless.

If you need some more ideas of things to do with your child, check out some of the things going on in your local community. In Thief River Falls, you have several opportunities starting on June 20. The Thief River Falls ECFE program is having sessions Thursday mornings for parents and preschool age children. Call 681-8670 for mor information. Also starting June 20 at 1 p.m., there will be a library storytime at the Northwest Regional library for preschoolers and at 2 p.m. a program for elementary age children. Call 681-4325 for information. All of these library programs will focus on the theme of Hats. You'll be surprised at all the possible activities with hats.

(Contributed by the Early Childhood Family Education department of School District 564.)

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Look for and observe hats, on people in pictures or on television. Talk about types, sizes, colors and shapes. Talk about what occupations they may represent and why people wear them.

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

Since it is Father's Day this Sunday, it might be a good idea to plan a cook-out menu to make things easy for that special day. With everything ready and waiting, maybe Dad will even take over the cooking, just for the fun of it. Anyway, whether the cook is Dad, Mom or the kids, here are some ideas for your Father's Day meal.

Dads like to eat steak. Get these steaks ready Saturday and marinate them until you are ready to cook on Sunday:

Grilled Steak

3 pounds (2-inch thick) round steak (or another tender type)
Meat tenderizer
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup packed brown sugar
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1/4 teaspoon hot sauce

Sprinkle steak generously with meat tenderizer.

Combine remaining ingredients in shallow bowl; mix well. Add steak and marinate in refrigerator overnight.

When ready to grill, drain, reserving marinade.

Place steak on grill rack about 6 inches from hot coals. Grill for about 15 minutes, basting occasionally with marinade. Turn and grill for 15 minutes more, basting. (Grill 10 minutes on each side for rare steak, or 25 minutes each side for well-done.)

Dads also like pork chops. Here is a recipe for some tasty ones, and these chops are also marinated overnight to make Sunday fun:

Marinated Pork Chops

1 (6 ounce) can frozen lemonade concentrate, thawed
2/3 cup soy sauce
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1/4 teaspoon celery salt
1/4 teaspoon onion salt
4 medium pork chops

Combine lemonade concentrate, soy sauce and the three salts in bowl and mix well. Pour over pork chops in shallow dish, cover and marinate in refrigerator overnight.

When ready to cook, drain chops (reserving marinade) and place on grill over hot coals. Cook for 10 to 15 minutes on each side, or until done, basting with marinade if desired.

Dads like chicken, too. This recipe will give you some tasty barbecued chicken that is definitely "finger-lickin' good. (If you like, use this barbecue sauce on pork chops or ribs, too:

Make-Ahead Chicken

1 1/2 cups water
1 cup ketchup
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup vinegar
1/4 cup margarine
1 1/2 teaspoons Tabasco sauce
2 tablespoons mustard
2 tablespoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 chicken, cut into pieces

Combine all ingredients except chicken in large saucepan, mixing well. Bring to a boil and then add chicken and reduce heat.

Cook, uncovered, over low heat, for 45 minutes.

Chill chicken in sauce until ready to grill. Grill over hot cools for 5 minutes on each side or until brown.

Have this "Corny" side dish mixed and ready to bake the last minute for a hearty accompaniment to your grilled meats:

Corn Bread Casserole

1 egg, beaten
1 cup commercial sour cream
1/2 cup melted butter
1 (8 ounce) can cream-style corn
1 (8 ounce) can whole kernel corn
1 (8 ounce) package corn muffin mix

Combine egg, sour cream, butter and both corns. Stir in muffin mix.

Pour into greased 9x9 baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes or until golden. (Serves 6.)

Potatoes—most dads want potatoes. Here is a recipe that you can cook on your grill that should make Dad happy:

Creamy Potato Bake

5 medium potatoes
1 medium onion, sliced
6 tablespoons butter
1/3 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons butter
1/3 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
salt and pepper to taste
1/3 cup chicken broth

Peel and slice potatoes. Place potatoes and onion on 18x22-inch piece of heavy duty foil. Dot with but..., then sprinkle with cheese, parsley, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper.

Fold edges up around pototocs and add broth. Seal tightly.

Grill over medium hot coals in covered grill until potatoes are tender, about 35 minutes. (Serves 6.)

Here's one more thing that most dads seem to like—home baked beans. These beans are a little easier than home baked, but don't tell Dad will never know you didn't slsve over them for hours:

Holiday Baked Beans

1 cup (or less) chopped onion
1 (32 ounce) can pork and beans
1 cup packed dark brown sugar
1 pound bacon, crisp fried and crumbled
1/2 cup mustard
1/2 cup ketchup
1/4 cup Worcestershire sauce

Cook bacon crisp and drain, leaving bacon fat in pan. Saute onion in bacon fat and drippings until tender; drain. Combine all ingredients in a large bean pot and then bake at 325-350 degrees for 1 1/2 to 2 hours, stirring once in a while. Add water if necessary.

How about this dessert to show Dad what a "peachy" guy he is? Serve with whipped cream or ice cream and watch him smile:

Clara's Peach Cobbler

5-6 peaches, peeled and sliced
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 stick margarine, sliced
1/2 cup water
4 1/2 heaping teaspoons shortening
1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

Mix peaches gently with sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg. Place in 9x13 baking pan and slice margarine over peach mixture.

Mix flour and salt in bowl and cut shortening into mixture until it is crumbly. Roll on lightly floured surface and cut into strips.

Arrange strips (lattice-fashico is nice) over fruit in pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until golden. (Serves 8.)

Now, have a Happy Father's Day, Dads!

(These recipes are all from "The Great American Outdoors Cookbook" that the Lincoln students sold this year. Did you get one?)

Lindemoen to perform violin at convention

Kari Lindemoen

Kari Lindemoen of Newfolden will be the guest musician at the national convention of the Association of Seventh-day Adventist Nurses (ASDAN) to be held June 15 and 15 on the campus of Northwestern College, St. Paul. Lindemoen who earned a B.S. in music eduction from St. Cloud State University, will be performing three pieces on violin: "Amazing Grace" arranged by Harold DeCou; "Meditation from Thais" by Massenet; and "Adoration" by Boronowski.

Held annually at various locations in the United States, this year's ASDAN convention is unique for several reasons. It is the first time Minnesota will host the convention. In addition, the ASDAN spiritual retreat, with its theme "The Christian Nurses' Hope Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow — Forever" precedes and directly dovetails with the first North American Conference for Nurses (also being held on the campus of Northwestern College) June 16-19. Sponsored by the Network of Christian Nurses, this historic North American conference is a culmination of a dream "to draw Christian Nurses from all over North America, from many different denominational, educational, and nursing backgrounds, together to be reminded of and learn about Jesus Christ: the Hope of Nursing."

Finally, the 1991 ASDAN convention marks the 125th anniversary of the Seventh-day Adventist Church's healthcare work. From its early beginnings as a humble sanitarium in Battle Creek, MI, in 1866, the health care services of the Seventh-day Adventist Church are now carried out by more than 305 clinics, 159 hospitals, 220 nursing and rest homes and dozens of home health agencies in over 88 countries throughout the world.

ASDAN president Marlene Ringer of Hayesville, NC, acknowledges the significance of this year's conventions by verbalizing high hopes for their success. "Our purpose as Seventh-day Adventist nurses has always been to cooperate with God in the restoration of man to His image, spiritually, mentally, physically, and socially and to promote excellence in the practice of nursing. We believe that these two conventions will help us refocus and recommit ourselves to this purpose and to our one hope, Jesus Christ."

Sister of TRF resident returns from Desert Storm

Mollie Calvert, sister of Ronald R. Calvert of Thief River Falls, recently returned from deployment to the Middle East in support of Operation Desert Storm while serving at Fleet Hospital Five, based at Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, VA.

A 1972 graduate of Bicom-Carroll high school, Carroll, Ohio, and a 1976 graduate of Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, with a bachelor of science degree, she joined the Navy in October 1976.

Foundation gives NWRDC $48,000 grant

Northwest Regional Development commission in Thief River Falls has been provided a $48,000 grant for its regional arts programs from the McKnight Foundation in Minneapolis.

The grant of $16,000 per year over a three-year grant period is an increase of $10,000 per year over the previous grant received by the NWRDC from the McKnight foundation, according to Linda Nelson, arts program director for the regional commission.

Funds received through the grant are available to be used for re-granting to individual artists and arts organizations and are part of a total of $2.8 million in multi-year grants awarded by the foundation.

Novak receives Women of Today special awards

Arlene Novak of the Thief River Falls Women of Today chapter recently received state Key Woman and Programming Award of Excellence awards at the convention of the Minnesota Women of Today in St. Cloud.

Arlene Novak of the Thief River Falls Women of Today chapter received the state organization's Key Woman award and the state Programming Award of Excellence at the annual convention of the Minnesota Women of Today recently in St. Cloud.

The programming award was in recognition of her work as the state organization's public relations program manager. She worked with district program managers to relay information and distributed a newsletter to keep them better informed. Arlene also promoted Minnesota Volunteer Week, provided ideas for use by local chapters for publicity and set up radio and television spots for local chapters to use.

Arlene is an accountant for the Red Lake Watershed District office in Thief River Falls. She and her husband Gary have two children, 10-year-old Garret and seven-year-old Jennifer, and live near St. Hilaire.

The introduction for her state Key Woman award stated the following:

"(Arlene) joined her chapter in 1985. Attending her first chapter meeting she volunteered to co-chair a project. This project was a huge success and has since become an annual project.

"When she was faced with the chapter's decision to drop one of the chapter's major projects, she presented the project to the chamber of commerce in hopes of keeping the worthwhile project in the community. Again she was successful.

"As District Director she took great care of her chapters. She has the leadership skills to effectively train and supervise her chapters. She worked on membership and programming. She gave 100% plus to an extension effort. For her efforts as District Director she was awarded a presidential medallion and silver key at year's end.

"Each position she takes on she is serious about and gives it her all. She continuously works on new ideas and ways to improve and promote public relations for the Minnesota Women of Today."

In the local chapter Arlene has been secretary in 1986-87, president in 1987-88, chairman of the board in 1988-89, state delegate and acting co-president in 1990-91.

On a district level she has served as awards district program manager in 1988-89, district director in 1989-90, ARC and public relations district program manager, chairman of the board and district parliamentarian, all in 1990-91.

Dedication to state programs and the state organization are indicated by her travel six hours each way to take part in a two-minute radio interview during Women of Today Week.

In a letter supporting Arlene's nomination for the Key Woman award, Pat Mannie of Sauk Rapids and a former Thief River Falls chapter member wrote: "Unlike a lot of members who served on the state executive council, Arlene never stopped or even slowed down her local involvement. She continues to be the backbone of the chapter. She does an excellent job as state delegate, stepped in to be acting co-president and continues to chair projects. She does it all!

OPEN THURSDAY NIGHTS 'TIL 9 P.M.

Dancers in Warren and Bronson

Dala Folk Dancers from Moro will perform Saturday, June 29, at 8:15 p.m. at the Kittson county historical museum in Lake Bronson and Sunday, June 30, at 2 p.m. at Settlers Square on the Marshall county fairgrounds in Warren.

A free-will offering will be received at each performance and refreshments will be served. Those attending should bring their own lawn chairs.

The group of 24 members will travel to Sweden in June of 1992 to perform in a music festival and in their sister city of Mora, Sweden, during its midsummer celebration.

TRF Women of Today to hold crafts festival

The Thief River Falls Women of Today chapter has scheduled its annual Creative Crafts festival for Saturday, June 22 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. It will be held across the street from Hardee's at the Floyd B. Olson park. In the event of rain, it will be held at the city auditorium, corner of Second and Main avenue.

This year promises to be an exciting one with a large variety of artwork to be displayed. The craftsmen and artists scheduled to display and sell their works include Donna Koehmstedt, Rene' Lutovsky, Duaine Olson, Northern Prairie Artists association, Lynette Haugen, Jody Kirkeide, Karen Jenson, Vickie Kolden, Janeen Kalsness and Dawn Berard, all of Thief River Falls; Nanette Gresbowak, Fergus Falls; Diane Pawlowki and Delores Ouillemette, Argyle; Wendt and Kathy Senger, Gully; Sharon and Gary Dohlen (River Oaks), Barrett; Mae McCormack, Grygla; John Prothero (Fox Creek Fascinations), Angle Inlet; Carolyn and Arnold Person, Oklee; Ada Nokelberg and Donna Ehlers, Leonard; Lois Helgen, Bemidji; Liz Lusberg and Diane Erickson, Fertile; Bob Everson, Frazee; Virgil Hams, Karlstad; Emily Johnson, Middle River; Pearl Engen and Beverly Erickson, Newfolden; Stella and Donna Omdahl, Warren; Ramona Habedank, Two Valley; Greg and July Sturma, Cavalier, ND, and Don Erickson, Grand Forks, ND.

These artists and craftsmen have spent many hours creating their works. This is always evident in the beauty of the finished products. This year the works in the park will include handmade dolls, folk art, wooden toys, counted cross stitch, bardanger, bunnies, sewn calico items, wood furniture, silk and dried flower wall hangings, shelves, lawn ornaments, hand woven baskets, rosemaling, country arts and crafts, crocket and knitted items, bears, jewelry, doilies, fine art, deodorizer doll covers, Victorian crafts, painted tee shirts, mop dolls, garden signs, antique-look screens, roasted soy beans in ten flavors, ceramics, decaled china, drawings, paintings, handmade paper and a variety of others.

Live entertainment will be provided throughout the day with area people performing. Some concessions will be available.

Bring the whole family for a day of relaxation and fun.

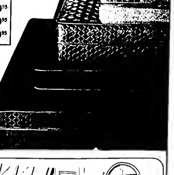
National Guard reports about unit activities

Company B of the National Guard in Thief River Falls reports a number of activities involving local guardsmen during the past month.

Promotions were given for Alan Melvie of Viking and Allan Young of St. Hilaire from Spec. 4 to Sergeant E-5 and Kim Fondrick of Nevis from 2nd Lt. to 1st Lt.

Completing a four-day combat lifesaver course in Moorhead were PFC Mitchell Zak, Strathcona; SPC Brian Stark and Sgt. Timothy Altepeter, Thief River Falls; Sgt. Allen Casavan, Blackduck; and Sgt. Edward Gulden, Warren.

Presently taking basic training at Ft. Benning, GA, are Chad Kuck and Jeremy Gagner, Thief River Falls and John Wagner, Greenbush.



Leaving June 20 for advanced individual training will be Robert McGraw of Thief River Falls and Jeff Kazmierczak of Strandquist.

Guardsman Brent Mills, who volunteered for duty in Operation Desert Storm in the Persian Gulf, has now returned from active duty. Next meeting of the national guard support group has been scheduled for June 23 at 2:30 p.m.

Annual training at Camp Ripley near Little Falls will be conducted July 13-August 3. Open house and picnic for the local unit in August will include display of various equipment items and vehicles.

"Soil—Our Future Depends On It!"

Each year the Pennington Soil and Water Conservation district conducts an essay contest for junior and senior high school students on a topic of conservation interest. This year the topic was "Soil—Our Future Depends On It!"

Winner of the senior division was Jared Goldesberry, a junior at Lincoln high school. It is our pleasure to publish his theme in our editorial column as follows:

Soil—Our Future Depends On It!

Man must depend on soil for his food and fiber. The idea of "saving" soil recognizes the necessity of getting production from the soil now.

Conservation is a word that means saving things that come from nature—air, soil, water, animals and plants. It is better described as the protection and wise management of the environment. Without conservation, all the resources necessary for life would be damaged, wasted or destroyed.

Soil depletion and erosion began to take their toll early in the history of the American colonies. Most of the early colonists came from areas where rains fall gently and were not prepared to handle soil in the North American climate. They cut down forests along the eastern coast, and built their homes in the cleared fields.

More and more land was plowed to produce food for the increasing population. Then a few farmers in the older sections noticed a change in the soil. At first it was dark, almost black, and then it became lighter in color. If heavy rain came, the loose soil mixed with the water and made a muddy mixture which flowed down the hills. The topsoil was carried away.

Some of the leading men in our history—George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Patrick Henry—were deeply concerned. Conservation sentiment was built up slowly. Early in the 20th century President Roosevelt called the first conference of governors to consider conservation of natural resources. Hence soil conservation experiment stations were established which measured the rates of soil and water loss, determined the extent and location of damage by erosion and develop methods for controlling erosion. Later soil conservation districts were established and farmers developed long-term plans for their land.

Appropriate use of the land depends upon land contour, type of soil and climate. Land may be level, slightly or steeply sloping or even mountainous. Soil may be sandy or clay, fertile or almost barren.

But even as the dust clouds were disappearing, the seeds of another crisis were being sown. The surge in agricultural output in response to soaring world food demand, which marked the fifties and sixties, came not from expanding the cropland area but from the adoption of new agricultural technologies—including hybrid seeds, irrigation and advanced chemical fertilizer—that dramatically raised land productivity.

As the farmers turned to ever larger farm equipment, the two-plow tractor gave way to the 10-plow tractor. Huge grain combines, which could cut and thresh 100 acres of crop a day, required larger fields to be used for efficiency. A new generation of farmers, too young to remember the lessons of the thirties, began the start of shelter belts—those long strips of trees planted to break the wind's force. This began a whole new dimension in farming.

Then in 1977 the Department of Agriculture reported that the United States was losing topsoil at the annual rate of some three billion tons, losses that may have matched those lost in the Dust Bowl's peak. Five years later a report came out that farmers were losing 3.1 billion tons of topsoil per year, exceeding the rate of new formation by two billion tons. One could think of it as every ton of grain produced meant six tons of soil lost. For every inch of topsoil lost, there would be a six per cent decline in yield.

During the early eighties a coalition of environmental groups and soil conservation professionals set out for a new approach to the problem of soil erosion. The approach involved the federal and state governments asking for their aid and support. This legislation was called the Conservation Reserve Program. This program had the following goals:

(1) It aimed to convert 40 million acres of highly erodible cropland to grass or trees by 1990. Farmers who agreed to cropland or grass or trees for 10 years received annual government payments in exchange. More than 90 per cent was planted in grass and the remainder in trees.

(2) It required farmers with highly erodible land to enter into a soil management program by 1995 or lose all farm program benefits, government aid, low interest loans and crop insurance.

(3) It instituted "sodbuster"—a policy whereby any farmer plowing highly erodible new land without an approved soil management program stood to lose everything.

The farmers at first were very cautious about this Conservation Reserve Program and the three provisions that went with it. By 1987-1988 enthusiasm for the program greatly increased to a new level and at the present time is going strong.

Many other existing laws and programs in the federal government were inspired by the Conservation Reserve Program. Come of these were the United States Department of Agriculture, the Food Security Act, Conservation Foundation, American Farmland Trust and the Soil Conservation Society of America.

Many problems still needed to be solved even though public concern was greatly increased. Public education, such as biology and science classes and political organizations have begun the fight against soil erosion. Many of the answers to the questions of soil depletion began back with preserving tropical rain forests, raising energy efficiency in order to reduce global warming and even "putting the brakes" on population growth.

With food production capacity that exceeds domestic needs, the United States has found no trouble to convert highly erodible farmland into grassland or trees. Third World countries filled with hungry people will find it hard to rescue highly erodible land and change it into less useful uses, such as growing firewood.

Mobilizing support for adequately funded soil conservation program demands great public education on the dimensions and consequences of the problem. This task will be hard because farming is done in the rural areas of life.

Farmers are not going to worry about the long-term future when their immediate survival is the question. The public cannot be informed overnight—it takes practice and time. Ways farmers can cut down soil loss are as follows: Terracing, strip cropping, contour farming, cover cropping, rotating crops and fallowing and planting shelter belts.

There is no set formula that all countries—industrial and developing—can use to curtail soil erosion losses. Each situation is different with different cropping patterns, soil types, climate, temperature, social structure and farming conditions. The question that is left is will the public get involved because if so this problem can be solved.

Everyone must remember immediate effects of soil erosion are economic and the ultimate effects are social. When soil is poorly nourished, so are the people. Failure to answer the questions of soil erosion will not only lead to degradation of the land but to the degradation of life itself.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters to the editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by the newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Premium lists for Pennington fair available

Premium lists for the 90th annual Pennington county fair are being distributed and are now available in a number of locations throughout Pennington and neighboring counties.

Copies of the premium list are available at all grocery stores, Seven-Eleven, Holiday, Amoco 24, Norwest and Northern banks, First Federal Savings and Loan, the Pennington county extension office and other places in Thief River Falls. They are also available at Kruse In of St. Hilaire and grocery stores in a number of area communities. If unable to secure a copy at any of these locations, call the county extension office at 681-2116 to receive a copy by mail.

The Pennington county fair will be held Wednesday through Sunday, July 10-14, at the fairgrounds and sports arena in Thief River Falls.

Entry of articles and animals in open class competition is limited to residents of northwest Minnesota. Entry day will be Thursday, July 11, with entries accepted from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Judging will begin at 9 a.m. Friday, July 12.

The premium list contains rules and regulations applicable to entries and a listing of divisions, classes and lots in which items may be entered, as well as the amount of prize money for each place.

A separate division on woodworking has been added to the premium list this year with a wide variety of classes for woodworkers, including a separate class for young woodworkers and classes for kits, refinishing, painted craftwork and woodburning in addition to more traditional woodworking areas.

Additional lots have been placed in the cross-stitch classes and in the sewing area.

Also published in the premium list is a schedule of free entertainment at the bandshell Thursday through Sunday, information on concerts by Patty Loveless and Travis Tritt and on ride tickets for the Murphy Bros. carnival, schedule of all county fair activities and other items of interest.

Our seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre painted aluminum; the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used, and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew...saving on labor costs. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

"IN SEARCH OF THE GOOD LIFE"

Hi! I found a secret I would like to share with you about the "Good Life". When people think of the "Good Life", they think of time off from work so they can spend time at their favorite hide-a-way. This might be at a lake cabin or camping somewhere. Others may find the "Good Life" at a wild party. They are searching for fulfillment. The secret I found is that you will find love, joy, and peace in Jesus Christ. NOW THAT REALLY IS THE GOOD LIFE! I tried the other ways to find fulfillment and found them lacking. Jesus says in John 10:10—"I am come that they might have Life and that they might have it more abundantly." If you will try Jesus, you will find the "Good Life".

Twelve model 1300's from Hydra-Mac left for Saudi Arabia today. The skid-steer loaders will be put in two 40-foot containers and sent to the east coast before being loaded onto a ship and headed for Kuwait for construction purposes. Abahsain company is the distributor in Saudi Arabia that purchases the loaders, and in the past six months their orders have sharply stepped-up. In two weeks another shipment of crawler loaders will be sent overseas.

Families needed for exchange program hosts

Families are urgently needed to host students from Spain, Mexico and Colombia for the 1991-92 school year.

The students are between 15 and 17 years of age. They come from middle class families, are well educated and speak English. They have medical/accidental insurance and their own spending money. Host families only need to provide room and board, and plenty of love.

This is a fun and easy way to get to know another culture. For further details, contact Spanish Heritage: RR 1, Box 32, Karlstad MN, or telephone (218) 436-2436 or 1-800-669-0589.

Pesticide recovery project begins in northern region

Minnesota department of agriculture conducted a pilot program for recycling and collection of pesticide containers in Thief River Falls Monday. By mid-afternoon over 15 individuals or companies had taken advantage of the project, which was staged at the Cenex Soil Service Center located south of Simplot Soil Builders on Highway 59.

The recycling project held in Thief River Falls Monday is the same project being taken to many other communities in Northwestern Minnesota.

"It's getting difficult to dispose of pesticide containers," said Rick Hanson for the Minnesota Department of Agriculture. Hanson was in Thief River Falls Monday to conduct the recycling program. Hanson said that last year when the program began, he had one farmer bring in containers that were seven years old. The containers were in good condition but he couldn't get rid of them because no one would take them.

In 1989, the legislature enacted the 1989 Minnesota Groundwater Protection act, which calls for the study of ways to collect and recycle pesticide containers. The method being used and studied in Thief River Falls Monday was a shredder.

Triple rinsed containers are sorted by color and fed into a chipper, which shreds the containers into small chips. The caps and labels — mostly plastic — are disposed of in different ways. Shredding the containers makes it possible to store a large number of containers in a small area.

The companies who produce the chemicals pay for the chips to be returned to them. They also pay for the plastic. The plastic is then shipped to a processor for pelletizing. The pellets are then shipped to the companies for use in making new pesticide containers.

Metal containers are also recycled. Smaller cans are crushed and used for scrap metal. Barrels are reconditioned.

Finding ways of recycling the pesticide containers is one method of handling the problem. The market is also finding ways of handling the problem. Smaller containers with more concentrated mixes are being distributed already. Other solutions include reusable tanks.

The chipper used in Thief River Falls was used in Crookston last year. This year it has been mounted onto a trailer and will be taken to a number of different sites in the area. The following is a list of sites where pesticide containers can be disposed: from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. June 12 at the Red Lake County Co-op in Red Lake Falls; 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. June 14 at the Oklee elevator in Oklee; 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. June 24 through June 28 and June 25 and 27 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Kittson county fairgrounds in Hallock; 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. June 17 at the Farmers Union Oil in Grygla; 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. June 19 at the Marshall County Garage in Argyle.

Individuals with questions about the program should contact their county extension agent.

Getting the message

heed their advice and follow their instructions.

"But as someone who has an adverse reaction to almost any medication I swallow, I know that drug use is not practical or even possible for everyone and that massage can be a helpful option in some cases."

She points out that massage increases the blood and fluid flow to the entire body, which increases the function of vital organs, promotes better circulation and elimination of body wastes and toxins, relaxes the muscles and, through the sense of touch, provides a sense of well being.

Kathleen became interested in massage after having her first partial massage during a conference in Minneapolis in the fall of 1988.

"A therapist had set up a booth and was offering a 10-minute foot massage for $10," Kathleen said. "The first thing that caught my attention was being able to earn $10 in 10 minutes. I signed up for a foot massage during the lunch hour, and because the therapist was not busy she also massaged my legs, arms, shoulders and back—and answered a lot of my questions.

"I felt so good and so relaxed afterward I was better able to talk to people and I felt a surge of energy and confidence. My exact thoughts were that I had 'a sense of well being.'"

Kathleen began researching massage, talking to people in the business and doing a lot of reading. She checked out several schools offering instruction, decided on one in Anoka and arrived to stay with relatives in St. Cloud when she learned the class had been canceled. She made several phone calls and was able to start classes at the Minneapolis School of Massage.

"I couldn't have been more pleased with the school and the techniques I learned there," she said. "The Esalen style of massage they teach combines meditative and therapeutic qualities that best match my skills and personality."

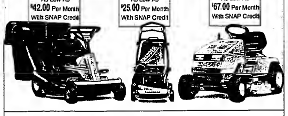
Kathleen—who has returned to use of her maiden name of Navarre—believes she has a special ability to make people feel at ease and provide the trust that contributes to more successful massage. Other students in her class at the massage school gave her the nickname "Velvet Mittens."

A resident of Thief River Falls for 21 years, she is reluctant to move to a larger city where massage may be accepted by more people. Although she has provided massage services to more than 500 clients and some have become regular visitors to her location at Creative Clippers beauty salon, establishing the business has not been easy financially.

She charges $25 for a one-hour full body massage, $20 for a half-hour partial massage and restricts herself to six clients a day, although she has worked with as many as eight. She averages 15 to 20 clients a week. Discounts of 10% are given to senior citizens and 20% to students. Any client scheduling four appointments can have the fifth one free.

Appointments are made for Tuesday and Thursday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m., Wednesday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. She also makes calls to homes and hospital or nursing homes when clients have difficulty coming to her. Her salon is closed Sunday and Monday.

So how about the person who would secretly like to try a massage but is ticklish, afraid it might be painful, isn't comfortable with being touched or has a thing about nudity?



"It's true that massage works best when the client is nude," Kathleen said, "but I use large towels for coverage and am careful to avoid exposure. If a man prefers to wear shorts that is up to him.

"Massage isn't painful. If a person is particularly sensitive or has pressure points that are problems they should feel free to tell me so I can work accordingly. It is important for the client to trust me to get the most benefit from massage."

Although the strenuous activity of massage several hours each day provides Kathleen with upper body conditioning, she still does aerobic exercises and a lot of walking. She uses her palms, knuckles, inside of the wrist and forearms in addition to her fingers in massage and positions herself to take advantage of body weight and balance in reducing her own exertion.

"I am finding massage to be a rewarding job and it's my hope that massage will be looked upon as a legitimate complement to the medical and chiropractic professions in our community," she said, "offering an option to people with health and fitness concerns."

Recycling center established in Fertile

Fertile — The Polk county solid waste office has established a recycling center east of Hal's Sales and Service in Fertile. Hal's is donating the space for the recycling bins. Items to be collected include glass bottles and jars, aluminum cans and tin cans. (Fertile Journal)

Archaeologists locate ancient site near Ada

Ada — A possible ancient American heritage site has been located in Green Meadow by state archaeologists and there are plans to do further research on the site. The Norman county engineer has received a letter from the state, telling him that a native American heritage site was identified in the project area as stone flake of probable human manufacture were recovered from a cultivated field in the township. (Norman County Index)

Albino robin sighted

Stephen — Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Anderson of Stephen are enjoying the company of a young albino robin that is living in their back yard. The bird, along with other members of its family, has been seen many times and is a true albino in the robin family. The odds of this are quite astronomical so it is a special treat for those who have the opportunity to view this young fellow. (Messenger)

Win-E-Mac school has new superintendent

East Polk County — Dr. Ken Roetzel has been hired as superintendent of schools of the new Win-E-Mac school district. Roetzel is from Burnsville and is married with two children. His first day on the job will be June 17. (Thirteen Towns)

American Crystal may build new plant in EGF

East Grand Forks — The American Crystal Sugar company met with Red River Valley growers recently to hear views on a plan to build a $34.2 million new plant in the valley, possibly in East Grand Forks. The Crystal Sugar board will approve or reject the plans at its June 26 meeting. The facility would remove sugar from a molasses by-product. (Exponent)

Entries needed in Greenbush parade

Greenbush — The Greenbush Town and Country club invites entries in the Fourth of July parade, to be held at 11 a.m. on Main street, Greenbush. The theme for the event is patriotic red, white and blue to honor the returning Desert Storm troops. Anyone interested in taking part may call Don Wicklund at 782-2110. (Greenbush Tribune)

Two homes struck by lightning Sunday

Fosston — Two homes in the Fosston area were struck by lightning early Sunday morning, according to Fosston Fire Chief Dave Larson. At 2 a.m. the fire fighters were called to a trailer house on the Tom Grandbois farm which is owned by Mike Welland. Lightning had apparently hit the house causing an electrical fire in the rear bedroom. At 2:50 a.m. a call was received from the Bob Roysland home, where lightning had caused electrical and interior damage. No injuries were reported in either case. (Thirteen Towns)

Audition dates set for "Annie Get Your Gun"

Fosston — Auditions for Fosston's summer theatre presentation, "Annie Get Your Gun," will be June 30 and July 1 at 7 p.m. at the library and art center theatre. The play will be under the direction of Mike Frickstad, Fosston junior-senior teacher and speech advisor with Bob Santer, instrumental director, as director of music. The play has parts for over 30 people, with production dates scheduled for August 15-18. (Thirteen Towns)

Grace Lutheran church to have centennial

Erskine — The Grace Lutheran church will celebrate its centennial June 23 with a special program, to include music, speeches and fellowship. A dinner will also be given on Sunday. (Erskine Echo)

Wildflower Route Awareness Week set

Greenbush — Roseau county area garden clubs are organizing activities for Wildflower Route Awareness Week, June 18-23. Each town participating will have its own activities, with plans for an art exhibit, handouts showing sites of particular wildflowers and slide presentations. Businesses in the area are being asked to display products relating to wildflowers in their windows. Celeste LaValla of the Williams Garden club is the chairperson of the event. (Greenbush Tribune)

Landfill plans put on hold

Kittson County — The Mar-Kit landfill board has delayed plans to begin construction of a new cell on the Anderson Sanitation landfill land. Originally the plan was to begin a new cell now, before Mar-Kit actually owned the land, but plans have been changed because of some of the rules of the Minnesota Pollution Control agency which require more space than had been set aside for the project. (Kittson County Enterprise)

Wild Rice Days will be at Mahnomen July 13

Mahnomen — July 13 is the date of Wild Rice Days, sponsored by the Mahnomen Boosters club. Various events to be featured include a tractor pull and street dance. There will also be prizes and a sales promotion. Anyone interested in sponsoring a special event is asked to contact Dennis Vagle at 935-2281. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

Volunteers reshingle house for Crookston family

Crookston — When Betty Moscatelli told a friend that her roof leaked and asked for advice on getting it fixed, a group of Crookston men got right on top of the problem and reshingled the house for the Mrs. Moscatelli, whose husband, Sam, died unexpectedly April 14. About 20 of his co-workers and friends spent a full day on the roof and completed the job in one day. Mrs. Moscatelli has four children still at home and is presently on a leave of absence from her job as a nurses aide at Villa St. Vincent Nursing Home. (Crookston Daily Times)

New ambulance will be purchased with RLF rodeo earnings

Red Lake Falls — The Buffington professional rodeo, to be held June 29-30 in Red Lake Falls, will go to the Red Lake Falls Volunteer ambulance service. The money will be used to buy a new ambulance. The current ambulance is a van and only has room for a patient and one attendant. The new one will hold two attendants in addition to the patient and will cost $60,000-$80,000. Some of the money has already been raised from other sources. (Gazette)

Senior Citizens get quilt from children

Bemidji — The Bi-County community action program and the Beltrami county council on aging are two sponsoring agencies for an inter-generational program called Volunteer Intergenerational Program. The program provides people age 55 or older a chance to volunteer with area Head Start children ages 3 and 4. Recently some of the children, with the help of Adult Day Services participants, designed and colored quilt squares to make a display quilt. The quilt was made as a group project. (Bemidji Pioneer)

"Cheaper By The Dozen" to open this week in Karlstad

Karlstad — The Karlstad community theatre will present "Cheaper By The Dozen" by Christopher Sergel this week with performances scheduled for June 13-15 at the Tri County high school. Curtain time is 8 p.m. The play is about a family with 12 children, whose father is a pioneer in industrial efficiency and applies his management methods to the family and household. The play is under the direction of Robert D. Gust. (North Star News)

What a relief! Brian Huerd of Warroad enjoys a cool refresher during the Voyager Trails Cub Scout day camp at the Thief River Falls Arena. Even in the 85 degree sun on Tuesday, the boys from Thief River Falls, Red Lake Falls, Warren, Warroad, McIntosh, Fertile-Beltrami, Crookston and Climax had a great day learning magic tricks, pantomime, flag folding, archery and much more.

Women's Softball

Judy Charlebois homered and Kelly Storhaug tripled as Legion/Sather Law handled St. Hilaire Elevator/Lynn's Refrigerating 14-1 in Wednesday Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League play.

Legion/Sather Law completed a doubleheader sweep by beating the Swingers 17-2 in Game 2 as Janelle Konickson and Diane Anderson both tripled.

Becky Betto came through with the game-winning hit in the eighth inning as the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners edged VFW 8-7. Patti Peterson was 3-for-3, while Shannon Olson and Betto were both 2-for-3 for the winners.

The Ridgerunners also beat Middle River M&M 19-0 in five innings as Marilyn Helgeland went 3-for-3, Peterson 3-for-4 and Paula Fanfulik was 2-for-2.

Kristi Huseth was 2-for-2 with a triple and four RBI to lead the Mush-A-Rets past Pizza Hut 12-7.

The Mush-A-Rets added a 16-3 second-game win over St. Hilaire Elevator/Lynn's Refrigerating as Leslie Ronsey hit three home runs in four at-bats, Huseth was 2-for-3 with a triple and three RBI and Coleen Rook also drove in three runs.

Deb Jacobson pitched the shutout as Pizza Hut blanked Rainbow Nursery 10-0. Kelly Cornell and Brenda Russell had triples for the winners.

Middle River/MCC at state baseball tournament...

Rebels lose 2-1 decision

Madelia/Truman edged Middle River/Marshall County Central 2-1 Tuesday in the opening round quarterfinals of the 1991 Minnesota Class A state high school baseball tournament at Dick Putz Field in St. Cloud when Jayhawks pitcher Colby Vogt came up with a dramatic two-out, home run on a 1-2 pitch in the bottom of the seventh inning.

The game-winning blow just cleared the 323-foot marker on the left field fence, abruptly ending a top-notch pitching duel between Vogt and the Rebels' Mike Rokke. Both had five-hit performances. Rokke struck out 10 and did not walk a batter. Vogt struck out nine and walked one.

It was the first-ever state tournament appearance for the Middle River/Marshall County Central cooperative. The Region 8A champions ended the year at 19-7. Madelia/Truman took a 20-1 record into the Friday semifinals, with 14 of those wins belonging to the unbeaten Vogt.

Middle River/Marshall County Central scored first when Rokke came up with a fourth inning single, stole second and scored on a base hit by Jeremy Tallum.

But Madelia/Truman quickly tied it in the bottom of the fourth on a Corry Petersen single, a hit-batsman and a base hit by Mike Schwanke.

TRF Invitational starts tonight

A revised Thief River Falls invitational American Legion baseball tournament is scheduled to start tonight (Friday) at Irv Wilson Field.

An eight-team event, the first Thief River Falls Invitational will feature round-robin play in two divisions and will crown champions in both Class A and Class B.

Competing in Class A are Thief River Falls, Crookston, Roseau and Park River, ND. The Class B entries include the Thief River Falls Bombers, Red Lake Falls, International Falls and the Grand Forks Air Force Base.

A state high school baseball tournament participant this week, Bemidji was replaced in the Thief River Falls Invitational field by Crookston. And because of a scheduling conflict, a Red Lake Falls vs. Thief River Falls Bombers match-up that was to kick off the tournament at 5 p.m. today was moved to Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

TRF Invitational Schedule

Friday, June 14 - 7 p.m. Crookston vs.

Crookston trips TRF Legion 5-4

Crookston scored four times in the first inning Wednesday and held on for a 5-4 American Legion baseball win over visiting Thief River Falls.

The winners collected just three hits off Thief River Falls pitcher Mike Swanson, but it was enough to hand Post 117 its fourth loss in five starts.

Thief River Falls didn't mount much offense, either, collecting but four hits off three Crookston pitchers – Chris Cymbaluk, Jeremy Peterson and Doug Johnson.

All three Crookston hits came in the bottom of the first inning and were preceded by an error and a walk to produce four unearned runs after two were out.

After the first inning, Swanson retired 14 of the next 15 Crookston batters, and got that 15th out on a double play.

Only other Crookston run came in the sixth on an error, stolen base and two infield ground-outs.

Swanson struck out four and walked two. "Mike settled down after the first inning and really pitched well," said Thief River Falls coach Howard Dalager.

Thief River Falls scored first when an error, walk and an RBI single by Swanson gave Post 117 a quick 1-0 lead in the top of the first inning.

Two third inning runs scored on wild pitches as Thief River Falls pulled within 4-3. A sacrifice fly by Swanson tied it in the top of the sixth, but Crookston picked up the game-winner in the bottom of the inning.

Cymbaluk worked the first four innings before giving way to Peterson, who picked up the win with a final-out save coming from Johnson when Thief River Falls had runners on first and second in the top of the seventh. Together, the three Crookston pitchers struck out three and walked four.

Bombers beat Fertile

Eight of the nine players in the starting line-up scored Thursday as the Thief River Falls Bombers beat Fertile 8-4 in a rain-shortened 4 1/2-inning Ninth District American Legion Tier II baseball win at Irv Wilson Field.

Thief River Falls, 6-1 for the year, won an 8-5 match-up at Fertile a week earlier.

Marc Haugen, Jason Svir and Carter Rogalla were all 2-for-3 in the Bombers' 10-hit attack.

Jeremy Olson was the winning pitcher, striking out five and walking four.

The Bombers, who will take part in the Class B Thief River Falls invitational this weekend, will host Halstad Monday in a 6 p.m. doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field.

Twins baseball clinic will be presented in TRF Friday, June 21

Thief River Falls will be host to one of the Minnesota Twins youth baseball clinics Friday, June 21, starting at 3 p.m. on the Little League diamond at the fairgrounds.

In case of inclement weather, the clinic will be held inside the Sports Arena.

The three-hour clinics are free and open to boys and girls ages 6-18. The clinics are divided into two 90-minute sessions, one for kids 6-8 years old and one for kids 9-18, with each session focusing on defense, hitting, pitching and base running.

This year's clinic staff includes Dennis Amundson, St. Paul Harding High School coach; Bob Johnson, a member of the 1966 World Champion Baltimore Orioles; and Ken Staples, Wayzata High School coach. The staff will work with kids to provide "hands on" instruction, encouraging individual improvement and familiarity with the game of baseball.

TRF Gophers split contests against Gold

Beaten 15-2 in Game 1, the Thief River Falls 14-15-year-old Gophers bounced back to out-score Crookston Gold 13-12 in Game 2 Tuesday for a Babe Ruth baseball doubleheader split at Irv Wilson Field.

Crookston Gold....................15
TRF Gophers.........................2

Crookston jumped out to a five-run lead in the top of the first inning and had an 8-1 cushion after two innings en route to the 15-2 five-inning 10-run rule first-game win.

Preston Treat was the losing pitcher.

Scoring/Innings

	Innings		r	h	e
Crookston Gold	532 23	–	15	12	4
TRF Gophers	101 00	–	2	4	4

TRF Gophers........................13
Crookston Gold.....................12

David Johnson came up with a game-winning RBI double in the bottom of the seventh inning as the Gophers outlasted Gold 13-12 in the second half of the twinbill.

Winning pitcher Tim Barry gave up just two hits. Brett Peterson and Preston Treat were both 2-for-3 for the Gophers, with Peterson driving in a pair of runs.

Scoring/Innings

Judges for the dairy show were Linda Hanson of Goodridge and Conrad Kvamme of Little Falls.

The new regional dairy princess is deeply involved in dairying. Not only does her family have an active dairy herd, she is employed by a neighbor to milk a 70-cow herd in an eight unit milking parlor twice a day.

"I get up at 4 a.m. every day and start milking at 4:30," Janna said. "It takes about four hours each morning and evening to get the equipment ready, do the milking and clean-up."

Stretching to reach five feet, five inches in height, she has brown hair and brown eyes. At Win-E-Mac high school she qualified for regional competition for three years in the discus and shot put and was a member of the state champion girls volleyball team as a junior.

She received state rating in vocal solo competition and was selected to district honor band twice as a French horn player. At the 1990 Region One Dairy Princess contest she was selected as Miss Congeniality. She attended the University of Minnesota—Crookston in 1990-91 and will attend Moorhead State University this fall.

First runner-up Rachel Nord, 18, is a 1991 graduate of Blackduck high school and will attend Bemidji State university in the fall, seeking a degree in elementary education.

The Nords milk 125 Holsteins and have a total herd of about 300. Rachel, a five-foot, three-inch blonde with blue eyes, works with the cattle and also does much of the field work on the farm.

Second runner-up Melanie Rue is a graduate of Fosston high school and will be a junior at Concordia college in Moorhead this fall. She is a cousin of Kimberly Rue who was regional princess in 1987-88.

Melanie has one older and two younger brothers. Her father milks a herd of 100 Holsteins in partnership with his brother Rolland.

Sales tax issue

reports, two thirds of the growth in the fund do not go to state aid for county human services. The new bill provides that 67 per cent of the increase in the LGTF revenues will go to several specified purposes. The portion going to human services will be about 24 per cent. Most of the rest of the 67 per cent goes to HACA growth. The other 33 per cent amounts to $85.5 million and is available for growth in existing aid formulas or new formulas.

Actual numbers may vary considerably, especially since HACA growth due to payment for property class rate reductions is currently being recalculated by the Department of Revenue.

According to the League of Minnesota Cities, these estimates indicate that trust fund revenues will grow in proportion to sales tax growth, perhaps about six or seven per cent per year in normal economic years. The League is hopeful that the new trust fund approach will provide greater stability and growth for city aids than has been the case in recent years.

In addition to state funding raised from the sale tax, another two cents from the existing state sales tax apparently will go into a general fund that will be distributed only among the counties that have enacted the sales tax.

Most consumers will not notice much of an impact. The sales tax is insignificant in its effect on small purchases — five cents on a $10 sale.

The city council formally approved a resolution encouraging the county board to enact the new state legislation.

The law contains a July 1 deadline, so the county board will need to act soon. County Auditor Ken Olson, however, expects the county to adopt the requirements of the legislation.

The city does have the option of enacting the law if the county fails to do so under special provisions of the law.

Catherine Spengler received the Harry Denman Evangelism Award during the Minnesota United Methodist Annual Conference last week. She was the only one in the state to receive the lay person award. She is pictured received the award and congratulations of Rev. Tom Wilson, pastor United Methodist Church in Thief River Falls.

Cathy Spengler receives United Methodist award

Catherine Spengler of United Methodist church in Thief River Falls received the Harry Denman Evangelism Award at the Minnesota United Methodist Annual Conference.

Individuals who receive the award are being recognized for their exemplary effort in evangelism, for dedication in lifestyle, witness and discipleship through specific actions and tasks that serve as inspiration to the local church and greater community, said Mary Edlund, communications associate for United Methodist Communications in Minneapolis. Only one such award is made to a lay person each year in Minnesota, Edlund said.

"I was given the award but didn't earn it," said Cathy Spengler. "But I told the church I would accept it on their behalf."

Spengler was nominated by the local administration council. She was then chosen to receive the state award from a field of candidates.

"It seems unbelievable because I haven't done that much," Spengler said.

Spengler's short list of activities, however, includes a small sample of the following: she serves on the administrative council; and is co-chairwoman of the United Methodist Women, she helped update the membership file; participated in "Getting Better to Know You Day;" participated in helping the elderly attend weekday communion services; helped write a devotional booklet for the church; encouraged the sharing of one-minute of personal faith program during services; participated in the Caring Ministry by visiting newcomers, the home-bound and inactive; participated in the Christian Women's Club; became a speaker for that group; was one of the four original members of the Grief Support group, which was organized in 1978; served as prayer chairman for the John Wesley White Crusade held in Thief River Falls last fall; and has continued work as a lay volunteer who visits individuals with cancer and provides support.

Spengler said she became actively involved in many church related functions after her 16-year-old son died of cancer in 1976. She said she began asking a lot of questions and she found those answers in 2 Corinthians 1:4. She bases all her work on that verse: "He comforts us in all our afflictions and thus enables us to comfort those who are in trouble, with the same consolation we have received from him.

Rev. Tom Wilson of the United Methodist church in Thief River Falls said the church looks to her for leadership in evangelism. They appreciate the fact that they can rely on her and can turn to her. Wilson said he feels privileged and grateful that she is with us.

The award presented to Spengler came during the 137th Minnesota Annual Conference at the University of Mankato last week. Almost 1,000 Minnesota United Methodists spent four days in session determining policy, passing legislation on social issues, and celebrating their diversity and unity as a Christian denomination.

Thief River Falls Alumni foundation off to good start

With its annual meeting to be conducted in July, the Thief River Falls Alumni Foundation is completing a successful first year of operation and looking forward to a future of educational service, according to Roger Tunberg, president.

The first year has resulted in the enrollment of 95 members, receipt of approximately $27,000 and the donation of about $4,500 to the Junior Great Books program for the elementary schools in Thief River Falls.

The donation to the school district for the Junior Great Books program was made this week and the program itself will be implemented for all third graders in the school district during the 1991-1992 school year. In general the Great Books program, including discussion led by volunteers, will be conducted during a 12-week period following the Christmas break of the next school year.

"Funding will provide training for a two-day workshop for the dozen volunteers recruited from the school volunteer program, teachers of third grade classes and appropriate administrators, and pay for books for students and materials for leaders," Tunberg said.

"The course consists of four two-and-one-half-hour sessions scheduled on two consecutive days and is required for all the volunteers who will work with the program.

"Purpose of the program is to encourage reading which is the basis for all learning, including mathematics and the sciences," he added. "This fits in well with the foundation's goals and objectives of assisting with the educational opportunities available in Thief River Falls schools."

Each third grade student will receive one of the books which includes a dozen stories, according to Carol Ihle, volunteer coordinator for the school district. The students will read the stories before the volunteers come into the classrooms in teams of four to discuss the stories with the students.

The Junior Great Books reading series is a collection of children's classics, folktales, poetry and modern short stories from cultures around the world. They are chosen for their ability to sustain extended interpretive discussion and to engage the imaginations of children who will be reading them.

Stories in the Junior Great Book to be purchased for third graders in the Thief River Falls program include "The Master Cat (or Puss-

Thief River Falls Alumni Foundation is completing its first year as a formal organization with goals and objectives aimed toward providing assistance to the educational programs of School District 564. The foundation recently provided $4,500 for use by the district's elementary schools in conducting a Junior Great Books program during the 1991-92 school year. Pictured (left to right) are Dr. Robert Duncan, superintendent of schools; Edith Etter, who chairs the school district's reading committee; Carol Ihle, volunteer coordinator for the school district; and Roger Tunberg, president of the alumni foundation. Ceremony held for streambank project

Project completion ceremony for the Thief River Falls streambank project conducted by the Red Lake Watershed district was held Thursday morning, June 13, at the power-plant dam in Thief River Falls.

According to Brent Johnson of the watershed district staff, the project involved bank stabilization and erosion control along a 1,200-foot reach on the west bank of the Red Lake river immediately downstream from the power plant dam.

Approximately 4,000 cubic yards of excavation was done to reshape the riverbank and remove large concrete slabs which had been dumped there in a much earlier attempt at bank stabilization. That concrete was broken into much smaller pieces to provide riprap and 2,000 cubic yards of this material was placed along the bank for erosion control.

In addition, School District 564 removed a chain link fence from its property along the riverbank and will be improving the appearance of its buildings in that area this summer through sandblasting of a block building and siding improvements on its metal building.

Total cost of the project was $80,500 with five sponsoring agencies and local governments cooperating in the effort. Board of Water and Soil Resources through the Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation district provided $32,500. Minnesota Department of Natural Resources through the Pennington county board of commissioners added $19,000.

The City of Thief River Falls and the Red Lake Watershed district each contributed $13,500 and School District 564 chipped in with $2,500.

Lowell C. Enerson, administrator of the Red Lake Watershed district, presided at the morning project completion ceremony. He extended a welcome to those in attendance and gave a brief history of how the project was originated, organized and completed.

Sen. LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls complimented those involved with putting together a cooperative effort toward accomplishment of the project. He said a unified effort makes it easier to sell the project's value to others who may not have a direct interest in it.

Sen. Stumpf also said that the river is one of the main areas the community has to work with in recreational development.

Rep. Wally Sparby of Thief River Falls gave his congratulations to the school district for its clean-up effort and said he would like to see the other side of the river handled similarly in the future. He also said he would like to see a plaque in the Old Mill celebrates anniversary

This year marks the 100th anniversary of Minnesota state parks. To celebrate this occasion, Old Mill state park held "A Window into the Past" reliving the creameries picnics Saturday and Sunday, June 15 and 16.

A beautiful weekend made the festivities more enjoyable for the estimated 4,500 people who attended.

On Sunday Bridgeman's provided free ice cream for the ice cream social, and entertainment was provided by local community members, including Senator LeRoy Stumpf and Representative Wally Sparby. The afternoon brought several presentations to various Marshall county historical society members for their hard work and dedication, and an old hats style show was given by Oslo senior citizens.

For those who chose to roam around the park, free hayrides and horse and buggy rides were given along with cow milking and butter churning demonstrations.

If you have never been to the park, or plan to go someday but just haven't quite made it, Old Mill is a fun filled park with lots of things to do. If you choose to camp at the park for a day or even a week, you're sure to have a great time.

Free hayrides and horse and buggy rides were given during the celebration of 100 years of Minnesota state parks at the Old Mill state park on Saturday and Sunday. In keeping with the tradition of the creameries picnics at the park in days gone by, hundreds of people gathered for a program of entertainment and reflection.

Need talent entries for fair at Warren

Entries are now being accepted for the annual amateur talent contest to be conducted Sunday, July 21, at the Marshall county fair in Warren, according to Joan Peterson and Diane Abrahamson, co-chairmen for the sponsoring Warren Community Hospital and Home auxiliary.

Persons with professional experience or those who have won first place in any county fair amateur talent contest will not be permitted to compete. All others are eligible from Marshall, Pennington, Polk, Roseau, Kittson, Norman and Red Lake counties.

Mailed entries should include names, addresses and telephone numbers of contestants, title of number to be presented, accompanist if any, and whether the entry is vocal, instrumental, dance, etc. Closing date for entries will be July 12.

Send entries to Joan Peterson, 661 North Central, or Diane Abrahamson, Route 2, both at Warren, MN 56762. Call Joan at 745-5460 or Diane at 745-4042.

Girl bitten by dog starts rabies shots

Six-year-old Mali Newton, daughter of Mrs. Ina Newton of Thief River Falls, began treatment for possible rabies today (Friday) after being bitten by a dog.

Mali was bitten in the face by a large black dog Monday at about 4:45 p.m. while playing in the 200 block of Kneale Avenue South. The bite required stitches to repair the injury.

Because the dog hasn't been located to determine that it is not rabid, the painful antirabies vaccinations are being given as a precautionary measure.

ACTIVITIES

Hats

This year the library's summer program is all about HATS! Children love to wear hats. Develop a play box of props that they can use when playing. This box could contain an old dress, apron, jacket, shoes and HATS. The hats could be anything an adult would wear. Some examples may be cowboy hats, baseball hats, fur caps, ladies' dress hats, scarfs, military hats or helmets. As soon as the children realize what the person does, whenever he wears a particular hat: the child's fun begins. You may want to help with other props during play or let them create their own.

SCAVENGER HUNT

For next week's Activities feature, you will need paper, markers, popsicle sticks and glue.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

"Hats Off to Libraries" is the summer library theme and the Thief River Falls public library has several books on the theme of hats, including the following:

Asch, Frank. Yellow, Yellow. A boy proudly wears and finds many uses for the yellow construction hat he found, but eventually its owner appears.

Lexau, Joan M. Who Took the Farmer's Hat. The wind blows away the farmer's hat and he finally finds it being used in a rather surprising way.

Slobodkina, Esphyr. Caps For Sale. A band of mischievous monkeys steals every one of a peddler's caps while he takes a nap under a tree.

PARENTING TIPS

Rainy Day Activities

During the summer when children can play outside they seem to just "entertain themselves." There is so much to do that interests them and stimulates them. But what about those days when the weather turns cold or rainy, or even when it's too hot to be outside? After being able to play outside the inside activities no longer seem to be interesting. Therefore you may have to be creative and come up with some ideas to get them started. Following are some ideas you might try. For some of these you will have to plan ahead and gather materials before you need them.

■ Craft box: Fill a box with any leftover items your child could use to glue or make something with. Such as yarn, fabric scraps, buttons, pipe cleaners, Christmas and birthday cards, egg cartons, etc.

■ Play "dress up" with clothes, hats and shoes gathered for this purpose.

■ Let your kids wash and dry all their water-proof toys.

■ Make a kitchen "sand box" with corn meal, oatmeal or macaroni.

■ Cook or bake something.

■ Have kids help make a new batch of play dough. Get out the utensils, cookie cutters, etc.

■ Make a tent or playhouse with a blanket or tablecloth over card table.

■ After a rain if you can stand the mess, and the weather's warm, walk outside in the mud barefoot.

(Contributed by the Early Childhood Family Education department of School District 564.)

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Talk to your child about the rain, the mud, the puddles, look for rainbows, etc. Look for birds and talk about taking a bath in the puddles after the rain.

for kids and adults to enjoy, and life guards are on duty every day.

History is also found at the park. The old mill site is just north of the campgrounds and swimming area after a walk down a winding road through Scotch pines. Next to the mill is a pioneer cabin is where flour and bran are sold during grinding days.

Other things to see at the park include a suspension bridge and water tower.

So if you need a weekend away, drive up to the Old Mill state park and enjoy yourself, get away from it all and see some of the history of Minnesota.

Old Mill state park had several hundreds of people gathered to celebrate 100 years of Minnesota state parks Sunday afternoon. During the afternoon comments were given by Senator LeRoy Stumpf and Representative Wally Sparby. The theme for the day was "A window into the past" reliving the creameries picnic.

Mayor Bob Carlson

Ceremonies held for streambank project area which provided some history of that site.

Mayor Bob Carlson, who was born in Thief River Falls, reminisced about swimming where the dam is presently located and having a woods located in the present site of the school district service center.

He mentioned that a cabin was located in the area of the present dam and that Tom Welch, the cabin's owner, had a daughter Mary who later married author Ernest Hemmingway.

The mayor also looked toward a cooperative effort in the future to accomplish a dredging of the river reservoir above the dam.

Gretchen Belto, a member of the Zehlians club and one of the prime movers in establishing a river walk program for Thief River Falls, said that Thief River Falls has never turned its back on its rivers. She said that the many people who walk or jog near the river inspired the Zehlians to suggest that a walking path be created along the river. Much of that work has now been done.

Further emphasis on the project's development came from young mothers wanting a safe place from which their children could view "the falls" and from learning that the concrete slabs put down for stabilization had become a haven for rats.

One of the hoped for projects in the future will be a sculpture and perhaps a fountain on the concrete abutment from an earlier dam which juts several feet above the water near the intake upstream from the power plant.

Gary Lane, representing the Pennington Soil and Water Conservation district, briefly reviewed the involvement of the SWCD in the project.

Maryel Anderson, who chairs the School District 564 board of education, commented on the school's role and emphasized the sense of community involved in the project. "In Thief River Falls we don't go through organizations and agencies," she said, "we go to people who we know personally and who we know share our interests and concerns."

Jerry Prickett, supervisor of buildings and grounds for the school district, reviewed plans of the district to further improve the area.

Kenneth Murphy, member of the Pennington county board of commissioners, also responded with his thoughts on the cooperative effort and what such cooperation can accomplish.

Move Over—The Kids Are Coming Home

Guest Editorial
by Jean Steiner for the Minnesota Women's Consortium

Call it the swinging door syndrome, or the return of the already launched. Whatever tag we put on it, there's a movement out there. Across the country our kids, who've been on their own, are coming home again—in numbers.

According to statistics the Minnesota Women's Consortium has gathered, 10 million single adults, ages 18 to 34, now live with their parents. That figure's increased one-third over the past 15 years and quite a few of those adults are returnees to the nest.

Although it was tough to see our 18 or 19-year-olds as mature as they saw themselves, we parents got used to the idea. And whether Johnny or Jane married, went off to college or to a job, we cut the apron strings. Many of us spread out into the kids' rooms with hobbies and televisions and discovered there's more to life than parenting. But don't you know at least one family that's swung the door open from both sides—out and in—more than once—as the fractured dreams and empty bank books came home?

Generations ago, marriage was the only reason that kids went off into their own households. It's still a reason today, but marriage is no guarantee that you can set up your paints and ceramics in Janie's room. In recent times, 50 per cent of marriages have ended in divorce and six per cent in separation. Chances are Janie's the one who'll be back, because a marriage breakup usually leaves the woman needing financial help.

And lack of money puts more feet on the return path home than any other factor. Statistics show the present generation of young adults as the first in U.S. history not to be financially better off than their parents. Paychecks for 25 to 35-year-olds haven't kept up with high-priced living. Rents have gone up 28 per cent since 1982. So, even if John or Jane decide they'll split expenses with a roommate or two, the likelihood that they'll be willing to give up the good things in life for very long—just to cover the cost of a roof over their heads—is not a winning bet.

Experts also say longer life spans extend adolescence into the 20s. If that's true, parents will have to be parental longer. What that will mean in our society of multiple marriages and merged yours-mine-and-ours families we can only guess.

But if statistics we have not are reliable, we can be pretty sure that home sweet home is looking sweeter to our 18 and 19-year-olds. They'll hang in there, 'cause they can't afford not to. Those of us who have teenagers today can expect to deal with post-teen adolescents.

And for about 50 per cent of us who have launched offspring, and have an extra bedroom or two, the message of the 90s is clear. Don't hurry to move in the den furniture.

Don't even change the sheets.

Don't Forget The Tax

One-time business sales—including the equipment involved in the sale of a business—will be subject to the 6.5 per cent sales tax after July 1, under a rather obscure provision of Minnesota's new tax law.

Sales tax will also apply to sale of farm equipment between farmers, but the rate is 2.5 per cent. Legislative tax experts estimate that the new provision should raise $14.2 million during the next biennium.

A person selling a business would be required to collect the sales tax on all of the equipment, machinery, computer hardware and software, furniture and fixtures. Not subject to the sales tax would be land, buildings, accounts receivable and inventory to be resold.

Two exemptions that remain intact are garage sales and the person who sells something through the newspaper. The new law tightens up the isolated or occasional sales provision under which the garage and other occasional sale is permitted without sales tax.

Keith Carlson, a fiscal analyst for the Minnesota Senate tax committee, said that the basic reason for the provision is to have uniform and consistent taxation, no matter what method the sale was made. He said the person whose full-time business is selling used equipment is put at a competitive disadvantage to the person who sells equipment on a one-time basis.

Carlson said the legislation was added to the senate's omnibus tax bill in response to a court case that allowed a broker of heavy construction equipment to escape paying sales taxes because he never took title to the equipment.

The provision is expected to have a big impact on contractors and construction companies which frequently buy and sell used construction equipment. To a lesser degree, because of the smaller percentage of sales tax applicable, it will also impact on farmers.

"In the sale of business assets," stated Joanne Sellner, Senate counsel for the tax committee, "the seller is functioning as a retailer."

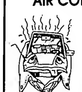
How the seller of equipment—who may never have collected and remitted sales tax money before—is to go about that procedure will be a problem for the revenue department to face. So will the determination by the state of how such a sale takes place, unless it intends to check every business tax return for equipment purchases or sales.

It will be something new for accountants to keep an eye on for their clients, according to Richard Anderson of Anderson, Poissant, Kays & Co. of Thief River Falls. They would like their clients to be aware of the law change and to collect and pay tax on any such sales in order to be in compliance.

"It's something that a number of business people, especially contractors and farmers, haven't had to contend with before," Anderson said, "but it will be law as of July 1 and very little has been said about it. We think people should be made more aware of what they are expected to do."

Northern Watch Policies

Letters to the editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.



Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by the newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

"REJOICE & BE GLAD"
GREETINGS IN THE WONDERFUL NAME OF JESUS. Psalm 118:24 says, "This is the day that the Lord has made, we WILL be glad and rejoice in it."
Did you notice the "we will" part? That is giving us a choice to be a part of God's Word, and put us in a position to be glad instead of sad.
There are so many people who get up in the morning and decide to be a crab all day long. They crab about the weather, they crab about their jobs, friends, family, their aches and pains, and at the end of the day they end it as they started, crabby.
Now let's look at how God tells us to start the day. This is the day which the Lord has made. Now if you consider that in itself, it should get you excited! The Lord has made it, so He is in control of it. It takes it out of your hands and puts it in His.
Now, if you have decided to rejoice and be glad in it, you will affect people around and about you. They will see that your power came from another source and will be ready to try the ways of God instead of being a crab. Let's be a good example and read and do the Work of God – this will make you glad!

Police investigating tire slashing

Crookston — Crookston police chief Bob Janorschke says that the department is presently investigating a series of tire slashing incidents. He states that the incidents appear to be random, but residents can take precautions by putting their vehicles in their garages or parking them on well-lit streets at night. (Crookston Daily Times)

Marvin's plans new Fargo facility

Warroad — Mayor Jon Lindgren of Fargo announced that Marvin Windows is planning to construct a new facility in Fargo. Several sites in both Wisconsin and North Dakota were considered prior to settling on the Fargo site. The company's new venture there will be a high tech window component facility to be called Tecton Products, Inc., will cover 40,000 square feet and employ about 45 people. (Warroad Pioneer)

Nursing services move downtown

Bemidji — The Beltrami county board has authorized the purchase of the Chriswell building in downtown Bemidji as the relocation site for the county public health nursing service. The service has been looking for larger quarters to replace the present ones in a building which had originally been a private house. Problems noted included insufficient office space, inadequate electric power for computers and lack of privacy for clients. Purchase price of the building is $245,000. (Bemidji Pioneer)

"Stephen Sizzler" to be held July 13

Stephen — The 12th annual "Stephen Sizzler" five-mile and 1.3-mile fun run will take place July 13 at Stephen. The race events are sponsored by Stephen's Civic and Commerce association and are held in conjunction with the annual Appreciation Day celebration. There will be five age divisions for men in the races and one for women. Pre-registration will end July 10. (Messenger)

Former Fertile resident in soap opera

Fertile — Nancy Love, formerly of Fertile, has a leading role in "Secrets," the newest soap opera to hit the air waves of Los Angeles. She is the former Nancy Gullickson and has previously produced her own television show, "Sew It Your Way." In "Secrets" she plays Nancy Reefe, a wealthy woman in the make-believe community of St. Michaels. It is expected that the show will be available to Minnesota markets soon. (Fertile Journal)

First annual pet show at Argyle

Argyle — As a part of Argyle's Meet Your Neighbor Day, June 29, the first annual Favorite Pet Show will be held. The show, under the direction of Alice Deschene and Julie Bremseth, will begin with registration between the post office and Hartz store and will start at 1 p.m. All pets must be on a leash, in a cage or otherwise contained. (Messenger)

Mahnomen plans information booth

Mahnomen — The Mahnomen county chamber of commerce is considering setting up a tourist information booth to stand at the corner of highways 200 and 59. An eight by 12 foot building would be built and volunteers recruited to sit in the booth. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

Centennial wagon train arrives at Itasca

Itasca — The Itasca state park centennial wagon train will provide spectators with a grand finale of its trip on June 23 as the wagons roll into Itasca state park for a parade. The trip began June 8 in St. Paul and moved northward at about three miles per hour. A program at the Lake Itasca Pioneer Farmers site will follow the arrival of the wagons. (Farmers Independent)

Korean flour millers visit Hallock

Hallock — Four Korean flour millers inspected the condition of the spring wheat crop at the Charles Swanson farm, rural Hallock, recently. The millers are spending about two weeks in the United States and visiting several states. The group is hosted by the Minnesota Wheat Research and Promotion council. (Kittson County Enterprise)

Auction will sell Borup school history

Borup — The Borup school board are holding an auction June 22 to sell items from the Borup high school and other equipment no longer used. Items will include band instruments, desks, office equipment and textbooks. The auction will take place in the school gymnasium which is packed with the things to be sold. (Norman County Index)

10-month-old volunteers at developmental center

Grafton, ND — Jade Vaudrin, daughter of Tina Vaudrin, is, at ten months old, the youngest registered volunteer at the Grafton Developmental center. She spends between 10 and 12 hours a months with mentally handicapped women at the center where her mother is employed. The idea came from a resident's reaction to watching babies on television and has been working well for about four months. Jade sits on residents' laps or crawls around their wheelchairs and seems to enjoy the attention she receives. (Grafton Record)

Jodi Kozan

Jodi Kozan finalist in model search

Jodi Kozan, formerly Jodi Anderson of Thief River Falls, and currently from Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada, was chosen to represent Saskatchewan at the 1991 Black Velvet model search during the provincial competition.

Wendy Kaufmann of Regina won the title and Kozan became the first runner-up when 13 women from across Saskatchewan competed for the model position of model spokesperson.

Kozan will now continue on to compete in the national finals in Calgary on June 27.

Woodcrafters meet Monday, discuss fair

Northland Woodcrafters will discuss participation at the 90th annual Pennington county fair at the monthly meeting to be conducted Monday, June 24, at 7 p.m. at the Occupational Development Center in Thief River Falls.

The meeting is open to all men and women in the northwestern Minnesota area interested in making items from wood.

Discussion will be held on participation at the Pennington county fair to be held July 10-14 at the fairgrounds in Thief River Falls. Those interested in competition will note that woodworking has been expanded into a separate class this year with many opportunities to enter.

Members of the club are encouraged to bring woodworking magazines and catalogs to the meeting for other members and visitors to see. Some of the materials will be available for the taking.

Recently completed woodworking projects may also be brought to the meeting. All members of the chapter are urged to attend and visitors are always welcome. This will be the last monthly meeting of Northland Woodcrafters until September.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I said I was not going to write any more but my petitioners told me to write one more time, so I will.

We are getting the right amount of rain, which is great. A lot of places are receiving too much rain. Thief River Falls is in good spirits now because the sloughs and ditches are filling up with water so Thief River Falls will have a big supply.

I can not understand the state of Minnesota and the EPA passing this water for drinking. I know it is not for drinking when my dog won't drink it. I wonder if it's safe. I have a water filter which takes out the chlorine, odor and taste—then my dog will drink it.

Chlorine is bad for our health. I have heard that chlorine causes cancer. This is why our town is rated highest in the state of Minnesota for highest rate of cancer.

Petitioners, let's look out for our health. Do you realize that 70 per cent of the body is made of water. That's why we need good water to stay healthy. We have good underground water here, why not go for it? It is going to be a lot cheaper to drill wells. Let's look for the future, not from year to year.

Looking out the window I can see cars waiting for the train for blocks. We need an overpass bad. I would like to see an overpass, then remodel this water plant. My petitioners want to stay healthy, not get taxed to death. We also don't need the highway 32 project.

I am employed at Northern Pride. The people are great. Northern Pride has the best water money can buy—good coffee, good food. They have had their own well for years.

Sincerely,
Doyle Thompson

High percentage of participants at Lincoln High School...

Activities report issued

Annual activities summary issued recently by Thief River Falls Activities Director Lee Alger showed that 62.5 percent of the Lincoln High School student body took part in extra-curricular activities during the 1990-91 school year.

The report revealed 452 of the 723 Thief River Falls students in grades 9-12 took part in athletics, clubs/organizations and fine arts during the recently-completed school year.

Highest rate of participation came from the freshman with 78.6 percent of the ninth graders taking part in at least one extra-curricular activity. The participation figures also included 59.8 percent of the sophomores, 59.7 percent of the seniors and 49.7 percent of the juniors.

Participation figures by grades:

Freshmen – class of 192 had 151 involved in activities, including 110 in athletics, 101 in fine arts and 31 in clubs/organizations.

Sophomores - 113 of the 189 tenth graders took part in activities, including 85 in athletics, 73 in fine arts and 32 in clubs/organizations.

Juniors - a smaller group, the 161 students who make up the Class of 1992 featured 80 extra-curricular participants, including 60 in athletics, 42 in fine arts and 32 in clubs/organizations.

Seniors - this year's graduating class of 181 had 108 involved in school-related activities, including 75 in athletics, 60 in fine arts and 60 in clubs/organizations.

Alger also broke down grade point averages for each of the Lincoln athletic teams, which produced an overall 3.01 g.p.a. (on a 4.0 scale), including a 3.06 for the seven fall sports, a 2.96 for the nine winter sports and a 3.02 for the seven spring sports.

In addition to the annual recognition given to members of the National Athletic Honor Society (letter-winning seniors with a 3.5 or better g.p.a.), a new Lincoln program was instituted this year when academic letters were presented for the first time. The awards, based on maintaining at least a 3.7 g.p.a over a four-quarter marking period, went to:

Freshmen - Ryan Browning, Carleen Dee, Danae Dekkers, Maren Dyrud, Kelly Gould, Angelique Goulet, Jon Hendrickson, Jeremy Hulteen, David Johnson, Shanna Jorgenson, April Klinker, Kari Krankkala, Lydia Morken, Heather Shafland, Benjamin Sjoberg, Heather Thornton and Sara Tyler.

Juniors - Kari DeLap, Lisa Dicken, Linnea Dimich, Lars Dyrud, Jocelyn Goldesberry, Jolene Gonsorowski, Chris Hoglin, Derek Howard, Joel Johnson, Jason Kainz, Matt Kaushagen, Allen Mehrkens, Ellen Olson, Scott Panek, John Wallberg.

Triathlon set July 20

A kids triathlon and relay triathlon have been added to the seventh annual Thief River Falls Pepsi Cola Triathlon, scheduled for Saturday, July 20.

The triathlon and relay triathlon start at 8:30 a.m. at Franklin Middle School, with the kids triathlon planned for 10:30 a.m.

Both the triathlon and the relay triathlon will include a 500-yard swim, 12-mile bike ride and 3 mile run. The kids triathlon will feature a 50-yard swim, 2.4-mile bike and 1.2-mile run.

Swimming portion of the competition will take place in the Franklin pool. The 500 yards covers 20 lengths of the pool, with swimmers starting in waves to avoid congestion. From the pool, participants will ride bicycles on an out-and-back course via Nora and Pennington avenues. The run will also start and finish at the pool.

Swimming portion of the kids triathlon will be two lengths of the pool. The bike ride will involved two laps on Spruce Street, Gulf Street and Edgewood Drive. The run will involved one lap of the same route.

A new rule this year will require a hard shell bike or hockey helmet for all bikers.

Sponsors include the Pepsi Cola Bottling Co., Hugo's and the Falls Clinic division of Dakota Clinic Ltd. in Thief River Falls.

Official race shirts will be given to all finishers. Trophies will be awarded to the first place male and female finishers in different age categories.

Refreshments will be provided at the finish. Results, with split times, will be mailed to all finishers.

Those interested in participating are encouraged to sign up early since entries will be limited and there will be no registration allowed the morning of the race.

Entry forms are available at the Falls Clinic and the Franklin pool. Entries can able be obtained by writing Dr. Jim Langland, Falls Clinic div. of Dakota Clinic Ltd., 120 LaBree Avenue South, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Entry fee is $12 for the triathlon, $18 for each relay team and $5 for the kids triathlon.

TRF Bombers split

Red Lake Falls stopped the Thief River Falls Bombers 6-2 in the opener, but the visitors came back to win the nightcap 12-7 Wednesday in a Ninth District Tier II American Legion baseball doubleheader split.

"We didn't play well," said Thief River Falls coach Wayne Rahlf after the conference-counting first-game loss. The second game was a five-inning nonconference affair featuring mostly Bombers reserves. "Our second unit played well," noted Rahlf. "Our depth is starting to come around."

Red Lake Falls 6
TRF Bombers 2

Red Lake Falls pitcher Harry Hoselton scattered four hits, striking out nine, in a 6-2 doubleheader-opening win over the Bombers.

Nine base hits helped compensate for eight Red Lake Falls errors.

Rick Ostby went the distance on the mound for the Bombers, striking out five and walking two.

Scoring/Innings

TRF Lobos, EGF split

Thief River Falls Lobos and East Grand Forks Optimists split a pair of one-run games Tuesday in a Babe Ruth Prep baseball doubleheader for 13-year-olds at East Grand Forks.

The Lobos won the opener 12-11, but the Optimists took the second game 10-9.

Thief River Falls, 5-1-1 for the year, will visit Warroad Thursday for a 10 a.m. doubleheader.

TRF Lobos 12
EGF Optimists 11

Thief River Falls built an 8-2 lead through 3 1/2 innings, then held off East Grand Forks for a 12-11 first-game victory.

Chanc Keefe, Ryan Swanson and Paul Kopari had two hits apiece, with Keefe driving in a pair of runs. Swanson was the winning pitcher in relief of Keefe, who went the first 4 1/3 innings.

Northland Community College softball...

Pioneers program improves

There is still a long ways to go, admitted Northland Community College fast pitch softball coach Sue Barnd, but nevertheless, the Pioneers did show some improvement as they went from a 1-9 record in 1990 to 6-16 in 1991.

"It was about what I had expected," acknowledged Barnd. "We're improving. The gap is getting smaller."

Offensively, freshmen Kara Anderson (Marshall County Central), Heidi Billberg (Warroad) and Shirley Wilebski (Lancaster) led the Pioneers this spring with .459, .441 and .400 batting averages, respectively.

Irene Gamble, a freshman from Hillsdale, MI, handled nearly all of the Northland pitching this year, giving the Pioneers a pitcher with a fast pitch softball background – something missing in area products because of the lack of fast pitch programs in Minnesota high schools. But Northland had major problems throughout the year on defense.

"It's always a building process for us because of the few high school fast pitch teams," pointed out Barnd. "I think the kids enjoy the excitement of fast pitch softball, but the key to our improvement is the development of the high school programs."

Mudhens, Gamecocks...

TRF 13-year-olds split Babe Ruth ball games

A Wednesday night match-up of Thief River Falls Babe Ruth Prep baseball teams at Irv Wilson Field produced a doubleheader split for the 13-year-olds as the Gamecocks won the opener 4-3 while the Mudhens took the nightcap 14-3.

Results left the Mudhens, coached by Corey Poole, at 5-1 for the year, while the Gamecocks, coached by Chris Nelson, went to 3-2.

The Mudhens returns to action Monday with a 10 a.m. doubleheader against Crookston at Northland Community College. The Gamecocks will wait until Tuesday to host Roseau in an 11 a.m. twinbill at Irv Wilson Field.

Bemidji VFW tips Bombers 9-7, 5-3

Bemidji swept the Thief River Falls Bombers 9-7, 5-3 Thursday in a VFW baseball doubleheader for 16-year-olds at Irv Wilson Field.

It was the first District 9 VFW outing of the year for the Wayne Rahlf-coached Bombers, who also play a Ninth District American Legion Tier II schedule.

Thief River Falls, 12-4 overall, hosts Mahnomen tonight (Friday) in a 6 p.m. Legion twinbill at Irv Wilson Field and will take part in the Karlstad Invitational Legion tournament this weekend, meeting Fertile at 12-noon Saturday in the first round of the four-team, round-robin event. Host Karlstad meets Warroad in the 10 a.m. tournament opener.

The Bombers come back with a VFW doubleheader vs. Moorhead Monday at 5:30 p.m.

Bemidji VFW....9
TRF Bombers....7

Seven Thief River Falls errors erased the Bombers' edge in the base hit department as Bemidji won the doubleheader opener 9-7.

Marc Haugen was 3-for-4 at the plate for the Bombers, who scored four times in the bottom of the fourth inning to take a brief 5-4 lead. A pinch-hit sacrifice fly by Nathan Knutson tied the game and a pinch-hit RBI double by Josh Balmer put Thief River Falls on top.

But Bemidji came right back with a three-run fifth and led the rest of the way as Thief River Falls left runners at second and third in the bottom of the seventh.

Jeremy Olson was the Bombers' starting pitcher, giving way to Carter Rogalla in the fifth. They struck out four and walked five.

TRF Bombers....3

Nearly all of the Bemidji damage was done in the first two innings as the visitors netted a 5-3 second-game win and a twinbill sweep.

All five runs, five of the seven Bemidji hits and both walks issued by Thief River Falls pitcher Jeremy Tallum came in the first two innings.

Thief River Falls mustered just three hits, which included a 2-for-2 game by Robert Nelson.

After pulling within 5-3 in the fifth on a pair of walks and an error, Thief River Falls still had a second and third situation with no outs, but a mix-up on a safety squeeze bunt cost the Bombers a run at the plate, and moments later a line drive to third produced an inning-ending double play.

in-Boots)" by Charles Perrault, "The Fisherman and His Wife" by Jacob and Wilhelm Grimm; "The Ugly Duckling" by Hans Christian Andersen; "Carorushes" by Flora Annie Steel; "The Monster Who Grew Small" by Joan Grant, "The Brave Little Tailor" by Jacob and Wilhelm Grimm; "Ooka and the Honest Thief" by I. G. Edmonds, "The Green Man" by Gail E. Haley; "The Fire on the Mountain" by Harold Courlander and Wolf Leslau, "Beauty and the Beast" by Madame de Villeneuve; "Ellen's Lion" by Crockett Johnson; and "The Mousewife" by Rumer Godden.

"Shared inquiry is at the heart of the Junior Great Books program," Mrs. Ihle said. "This method of interpretive reading and discussion encourages children to raise and address genuine problems of meaning in a work. Students become readers who think for themselves and who have the persistence of mind ta reach for meaning."

"We hope the Junior Great Books program will be only one of many ways in which the alumni foundation can assist the local school district with enhancement of its educational mission," Tunberg said. "The greater the membership and participation in the foundation the more it will be able ta do for education in Thief River Falls."

The foundation was organized in March of 1990 and has been officially classified as a non-profit organization, making membership and donations deductible for income tax purposes. Some 7,000 letters were mailed out to Lincoln high school graduates in November of 1990 and January of 1991 to notify them of formation of the foundation and invite participation.

Memberships have been received from New York to California and south ta Texas. Contributions have included $10,000 from the Thief River Falls Educotion association with the provision that interest from investment of the funds is ta be used for scholarships. A foundation newsletter will be mailed in July.

Foundatico directors were somewhat surprised ta find that approximately 25 per cent of Lincoln graduates are living in the immediate Thief River Falls area.

Although the organization is formed as an alumni foundation, it is not necessary to be a graduate of Lincoln high school ta be a member, Tunberg emphasized. Anyone interested in public school education in Thief River Falls is welcome to join.

Only officers of the foundation are Tunberg, graduate of the Class of 1946, as president and Tom Kays, graduate of the Class of 1972, as secretary-treasurer. Other directors and their year of graduation from Lincoln include: Dick Bjorkman, Class of 1952; Dale Wennberg, Class of 1960, John Seaverson, Class of 1965; Jane Mattson, Class of 1967; Paul Ihle, Class of 1968; Mark Naplin, Class of 1972; and Denice Nelson, Class of 1984.

Directors whose terms expire this year are Tunberg, Wennberg, Kays and Nelson. Those elected this year will serve three-year terms.

The foundation will also study means for future growth and development when Pete Karobatsos of Educational Foundation Consultants from Englewood, CO, comes to Thief River Falls soon. Regular monthly meetings are held by the local foundation at the school district service center.

While the foundation has established a mailing list with information obtained from classes which have held reunions and from other sources, the list is partially outdated. Graduates are encouraged to advise the foundation of current addresses as it will serve as a resource to classes planning reunions in the future.

Membership in the foundation can be Donor ($25), Patron ($50), Sustaining ($100), Fellow ($250), Executive ($500) and Prowler Club ($1,000 or more). The foundation will also gratefully accept donations or memorials toward its educational assistance program. Mailing address for the foundation is: Thief River Falls Alumni Foundation, Zeh and LaBree, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Methodist churches and 11,307 United Methodists in the Minnesota area were 362 clergy, 439 lay members, 64 retired clergy and 121 visitors and/or staff. Commenting on the vision statement presented at the conference, Minnesota Bishop Sharon Brown Christopher called the conferene together with the challenge to "catch a vision of the new creation taward which God leads us."

The theme for the week was "Faithful Disciples: Sent to share God's Love." Throughout the week's business, times were planned to celebrate United Methodism in mission, through events demonstrating how God's love is shared in the ministry of the laity and clergy.

Combining elements of a business meeting, a large-scale worship service, a political convention and a family reunion, the assemblage is the most significant yearly event for the United Methodists in each conference of the church for both business matters and ceremonial observances.

On Thursday police in Thief River Falls received a report at about 12 noon of an accident at Sixth street and LaBree near downtown Thief River Falls. According to the police report, a car driven by Catherine Johnson, Kennedy, was going north on LaBree, and a Jeep Wagoneer driven by Angelle Jo Willey of Grand Forks was going east on Sixth street when the vehicles collided in the intersection of the streets. Upon impact the Jeep flipped and landed in the berm of a nearby residence. Elizabeth Jacobson, Grafton, 57, suffered an injury to her left arm and knees. Catherine Johnson suffered injury to her back and right arm. Angelle Willey suffered a injury to her head. All three were taken by Midwest Ambulance to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls where they were treated for their injuries and released. Willey was cited for failing to yield the right of way. Damage to the Johnson vehicle was estimated at $6,000. The vehicle driven by Willey was considered a total loss.

Senior citizen defensive driving

There will be a senior citizen defensive driving course offered for all Minnesota drivers over the age of 55. The course will be offered July 8 and July 15 from 6 to 10 p.m. at the Thief River Falls technical college.

Those who successfully complete this course are eligible for a 10 per cent reduction in car insurance premiums. The course is entirely classroom taught, with no actual driving involved.

Pre-registration is required by Wednesday, July 3, by contacting the Thief River Falls technical college, adult extension division, Hwy. one east, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. Phone (218) 681-5424 or 1-800-222-2884. The cost of the course is $20.

CPR course is offered at TRFTC

The Thief River Falls technical college is offering a cardiopulmonary resuscitation course Monday and Wednesday, July 15 and 17 from 6 to 10 p.m. The cost will be $20.

For more information and/or ta pre-register, contact the Thief River Falls technical college, customized training and services at (218) 681-5424 or 1-800-222-2884.

County board adopts sales tax resolution

Weighing an increase in sales tax collections of $449,000 against a loss in state aids and credits of $1,423,767, the Pennington county board of commissioners approved a resolution at its meeting Tuesday, June 25, to impose the one-half per cent sales tax option offered by the state.

The one-half per cent increase in the state sales tax, increasing the tax to six and one-half per cent, was offered to counties as an option by the Minnesota legislature at its 1991 session. Counties which opt not to increase the sales tax collected in the county would forfeit all state aids and credits.

"Information we have received indicate that the additional one-half per cent sale tax would raise $449,000 in Pennington county," states Kenneth Olson, county auditor. "Homestead and agricultural credits alone total $784,000 in the county and state aid to the cities amounts to another $1,639,767. The board really didn't have much choice but to enact the sales tax increase."

The official resolution adopted by the board points out that local governments in Minnesota provide many programs and services on behalf of state government. In recognition of the costs of these programs of service the state has been providing state aid under a system which helps to equalize disparities in property wealth.

The state requested that the counties enact the tax increase to help offset the state's cuts of hundreds of millions of dollars in state aid to local government.

Commissioners also approved participating in a recapitalization program for the Northwest Regional Development commission's enterprise loan fund. Leon Heath, executive director of the NWRDC,

Everett Flesche of rural St. Hilaire died in this plane accident about three miles east of St. Hilaire Thursday evening. The accident report was received at about 9:10 p.m. Thursday evening. According to the report, an eye witness to the accident went to a neighbor's residence and the law enforcement center was contacted by an individual who used the E911 system. Flesche was pronounced dead upon arrival of law enforcement and Midwest Ambulance personnel on the scene. The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) were expected in Thief River Falls at about noon Friday.

Eye witness reports plane accident

An eye witness reported the crash of a single engine plane to Pennington county law enforcement center Thursday evening.

At about 9:10 p.m. Thursday, the Pennington county law enforcement center in Thief River Falls received a report that a private airplane crashed in Pennington county, River Falls township, section 10, which is between three and four miles east of St. Hilaire. According to the report, an eye witness saw the crash and went to a neighbor's house, who called in on the E911 system.

The pilot and only occupant of the Bellanca single engine fixed wing plane was pronounced dead upon arrival of the Pennington County Sheriff's Department and Midwest Ambulance. Killed in the crash was 54-year-old Everett Thomas Flesche of rural St. Hilaire.

According to law enforcement officials Friday morning, the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) would arrive in Thief River Falls about noon on Friday to conduct their investigation of the cause of the accident.

No further details about the accident were available. It was not known whether Flesche was spraying, but the smell of some chemicals was evident at the crash scene.

Pennington county sheriff's department wished to recognize assistance given to them by the Minnesota State Patrol, Thief River Falls Police Department, Marshall County Sheriff's office, Thief River Falls fire department and St. Hilaire fire department.

Community ed summer classes will start soon

TRF city council approves request for building store

Thief River Falls city council has approved a request to locate a convenience store and gas station at the intersection of Pennington avenue and First street in Thief River Falls. The council considered changes that would allow the owner to build the store Tuesday night at its regularly scheduled council meeting.

Objections to a request for zoning changes and variances for the store revolved around traffic concerns at the intersection. With Hugo's and the turkey processing plant nearby and more students traveling to the airport to participate in the aviation program, some councilmen expressed concern that the proposed gas and convenience store would add too much traffic ta the busy intersection.

But a report from the Minnesota department of transportation seemed to dispel some of the concerns. Traffic counts in 1979 and 1987 were about 11,000 and 8,000. At the time the count was made in 1977 Arctic was at its peak and there was only a two lane bridge at the time.

More concerns were dispelled when it was suggested that the island at the location be expanded to prevent southbound traffic from making a left turn across two traffic lanes to get inta the station. Traffic will have ta enter the station from First street if they are traveling south.

Mike Wiebolt had to bring the project before the council because a zoning change and variance were required before he could build the station. Both requests were approved by the council.

Wiebolt said the station will consist of three gas pumpers (18 hoses), a convenience store with hot fast food and maybe bait. He said he hopes it will be open by Christmas.

The city council also approved a public safety recommendation to participate in the D.A.R.E. program.

As explained by Police Chief Ken Froschheiser and Alderwoman Jean Heinrichs, D.A.R.E. or Drug Abuse Resistance Education is the result of a cooperative effort between the Los Angeles Unified School District and the Los Angeles Police department. The program is now mandatory in all LA public schools and has been picked up by many school districts

Heinrichs, who is coordinating a local organizational group to support the program, said that she hopes Pennington county will also participate in the cost of the program. A grant that would pay for the training of one police officer and one sheriff's deputy has been applied for. If the grant is received and the training conducted, an officer will teach the course ta students for two hours a day during a 17-week period.

Oak Ridge church centennial this weekend

Located seven miles west and one mile north of Thief River Falls, Oak Ridge Lutheran church will observe its 100th anniversary this weekend with events Saturday and Sunday, June 29 and 30. A number of former pastors will be returning to join in the services.

Organized in 1891, Oak Ridge Lutheran church northwest of Thief River Falls will observe its 100th anniversary with special events this Saturday and Sunday, June 29 and 30. The church is located seven miles west and one mile north of Thief River Falls and is part of a joint parish with Zion Lutheran church of Viking.

An old-time Gospel get-together will take place at 4 p.m. Saturday with music provided by groups from the church. A light supper will be served at 5:30 p.m. following the service, which will include comments from returning pastors who have served the church.

At 10 a.m. Sunday a joint service with Zion will be held at Oak Ridge with Rev. Steve Hogberg of the synod office in Moorhead as the speaker. A Swiss steak dinner will be served at noon.

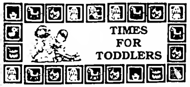
Closing assembly will be at 3 p.m. with returning pastors to again participate in the program. Souvenir items being offered for sale both days include a history book, cookbook, caps, cups, plates and bells. Rev. Mike Herschberger is present pastor of Oak Ridge and Zion.

Norval Johnson, 90, whose parents were charter members of the first church and who was baptized and confirmed there, plans to be in attendance. He is a resident of Valley Home in Thief River Falls.

Formed in 1891 as Immanuel Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran church, the congregation joined the synod on April 14, 1891. Rev. P. T. Hilmen was temporary pastor. Other pastors serving through 1917 are listed in church minutes as Rev. L. Brevig, Rev. Aastad, Rev. M. Flekke, Rev. T. L. Rosholt, Rev. S. T. Palm, Rev. A. K. Lockren, Rev. Grytting and Rev. A. H. Bergford.

Listed as early members of the congregation are Bertil Olsen, A. Aavik, Ole Arnesen, Andreas Johnson, Ole Pederson, Ole Ronning, O. Tandberg, J. Bugge, Andreas Maaresta (Mossestad), Hans Olson, Gulbran Pederson, Karl Vike, Albert Pederson, Peder Swanson, Lars Amundson, Hans Brateng and Oscar Pederson.

First pastor was paid on the basis of $3 per family annually and two festival offerings per year. In 1903 the offerings amounted to $30.



In May of 1892 a church yard was purchased and fenced and in 1906 it was decided to build a 24-32 foot building with 2x6 rafters. John Wasli was head carpenter with assistance from Lewis Aaseby, Julius Mossestad, Oscar Pederson and Andrew Johnson. All labor was donated.

Rev. Palm of Holt served the congregation at that time, arriving by horse and buggy Saturday evening, spending the night and returning to Holt Sunday night. Planks were used for lack of pews for many years. First confirmation service was held in the unfinished church in June of 1906 with confirmands including Amanda Brateng, Julius Olson, Julius Pederson, Sophie Ronning and George Mossestad.

In 1917 a special meeting was held to consider joining Immanuel and Landstad churches. The merger took place in 1918 and the merged congregation took the name Oak Ridge Evangelical Lutheran.

Nels K. Anderson, John Wasli and Olaus Ordal were elected to the first board of deacons with Peter Swanson, Andrew Johnson and Halvor Hanson as trustees. Other officers serving during those early years of Oak Ridge were Peter Voldness, Carl Brateng, Ed Sevre, Theodore Anderson, Elias Joringdal, C. E. Aas, A. Ordal, Nils Nora, Peder Bugge, Gordon Olson,

ACTIVITIES

Flags

The Fourth of July means flags and parades. Why not let the children have a neighborhood parade. They can make their own flags. Simply use a piece of paper and markers to create the flag. Then glue it to a popsicle stick and you're in business. The children can ride their tricycles or sidewalk bikes and pull wagons and wave flags in true freedom style.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

Help your child understand the meaning of Independence Day with this book from the Thief River Falls public library:

Graves, Charles Parlin. Fourth of July. This book describes the events of July 4, 1776, early celebrations of the day, and the symbols, patriotic music, fireworks, monuments and statues associated with this holiday.

VIDEO VARIETY

The Great Honey Pot Robbery. From the Winnie the Pooh cartoon television series, this video contains three stories: "The Great Honey Pot Robbery," "Stripes" and "Monkey See, Monkey Do Better."

PARENTING TIPS

July 4th Activities

The July 4th holiday seems to be a time when many of us try to take advantage of summer activities. You may be planning to watch a parade, to spend a day at the beach, to have a family gathering, to enjoy a picnic or to do some other outdoor activities. Whatever your plans are here are some tips to help you have a safe and enjoyable holiday.

- More sun is reflected from water, sand and cement than from glass and dirt. Therefore everyone is more susceptible to sunburn at those locations. No matter where you are, children's skin always burns more easily than adults. So consider where you will be and use sun screen or sun block accordingly, and remember to take a good sun hat, too.
- When at the beach, bring beach toys in a laundry basket or mesh bag. You can easily dunk them in the water at the end of the day to rinse off the sand.
- Remove diapers from babies before they go into the water. They absorb too much water and become so heavy that the baby can loose his/her balance and not be able to get up in the water.
- Plan ahead: try to anticipate what the day's activities will be like and even though you need to take lots of things: Go Prepared!

(Contributed by the Early Childhood Family Education department of School District 564.)

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Talk about your activities a day or two ahead of time to prepare your child. Children need to know what to expect and what you expect of them, especially in a new situation.

Treasure Hunt instant lottery being offered

Beginning July 2, Minnesota will be scratching for treasure with the Minnesota State Lottery's newest instant game Treasure Hunt. A special limited-edition game, Treasure Hunt offers players a top prize of $5,000 instantly.

The game features a treasure island theme with shovels, boats, birds, whales, swords, keys, anchors, skulls, and treasure chests as symbols. To play, players simply scratch the coated map on the ticket and match three like symbols in any order. Players matching three like symbols win the prize shown on the prize chart of each ticket. If a player matches three "treasure chests" they win $5,000. Other prizes include $1, $2, $4, $10, $20, $30, $100, $250.

Only 15 million tickets have been printed with almost $9 million in total prizes. Treasure Hunt has overall odds of winning at 1 in 4.66 and a 59 per cent prize fund. Tickets cost $1 and will be sold at approximately 4,100 lottery retailers statewide.

A toll-free player hotline offers pre-recorded hotline information 24 hours a day with how-to-play tips, game information, winning numbers information, and prize redemption rules. Call 297-7371 in the Twin Cities metro area and 1-800-657-3946 in greater Minnesota.

Weeds cause safety problem

Weeds in the river — a topic hotly discussed last year — is a topic at the city council again.

Tuesday the city council agreed to have law enforcement work in cooperation with Pennington county in setting up signs warning swimmers and water skiers of the hazards involved in swimming or skiing in the river. The weeds have become so thick in some places that it poses a dangerous hazard to anyone caught in them.

Tuesday night, Police Chief Ken Froschheiser requested that the signs be put up at the docks.

City councilmen were concerned that the city was taking on a responsibility for something over which it had no jurisdiction. The river is under the jurisdiction of Pennington county.

Chief Froschheiser said the city placed itself in jeopardy by cutting weeds last year.

The council advised Chief Froschheiser to work with Pennington county in putting up signs warning swimmers and skiers of the danger.

Mayor Bob Carlson also said he had received some complaints from residents about the taste and odor of the city's water supply. He said he was told that the amount of weeds, algae and water temperature were affecting the taste and smell of the water. He said water treatment plant employees were doing everything they could to correct the problem.

City officials met with the Red Lake Watershed district recently to discuss possibility of receiving assistance to cut the weeds and in the future, assistance in dredging the river.

The council has proposed a another meeting with the Red Lake Watershed district on July 11 to discuss the options available. Many members of the council would like to see the river dredged.

Don Stewart, community development director, pointed out that it would take about three years just to process all of the permits required to dredge the river.

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

Here are more of those recipes I promised you from "Food Editors' Favorites—Treasured Recipes," courtesy of MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving).

Marilyn Hagerty of the Grand Forks Herald contributed this recipe for an elegant, tasty appetizer:

Salmon Roll

1 can (16 ounces) red salmon
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1 package (8 ounces) softened creamed cheese
3 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
2 drops liquid smoke or Worcestershire sauce

Combine salmon, cream cheese and liquid smoke or Worcestershire sauce. Mix well.

Shape into ball or log and roll in mixture of pecans and parsley. Roll in plastic wrap or waxed paper and chill to blend flavors. Serve with crackers.

This recipe is also from Marilyn Hagerty. She says, "When summer melts into September, the days grow cooler and you have more zucchini than you know how to handle. Here's a simple, super zucchini soup. It's almost too easy to believe—and it is low in calories."

Zucchini Soup

2 cups sliced zucchini
2 cups water
3 chicken bouillon cubes
1 cup milk

Add sliced zucchini to combined water and bouillon cubes in saucepan. Heat until zucchini is tender.

Pour mixture into blender or food processor and puree. Return pureed mixture to pan and add milk. Heat to serving temperature.

This cold soup recipe is from Mary Hart Sorenson of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune. She says, "This recipe came from a reader more than 15 years ago and is the most filling and delicious gazpacho I have ever consumed."

Gazpacho

1 small clove garlic, chopped and mashed
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 can (46 ounces) tomato juice
1/4 cup vegetable oil
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
3 tomatoes, finely chopped
1 cucumber, peeled and diced
1 green pepper, finely diced
1 cup shredded carrots
1 cup thinly sliced celery
1/4 cup thinly sliced green onion

Combine garlic, sugar, salt, tomato juice, oil, lemon juice and Worcestershire in large bowl. Beat until well-blended.

Stir in tomatoes, cucumber, green pepper, carrots, celery and green onion. Cover and chill for several hours before serving.

Note: This keeps 3-4 days in the refrigerator. Calories can be cut by eliminating the vegetable oil. The texture will not be as thick, but the flavor will not be impaired.

Those of you who are bread bakers might like to try this recipe from Eleanor Ostman of the St. Paul Pioneer Press and Dispatch. It sounds delicious.

She says, "My, mother invented this bread by drawing on several Scandinavian recipes. It was an essential at our home during the holidays. After she died, I found a scrap of paper on which I'd written just the ingredients one day early in my marriage. I'd never made the bread while she was alive, but now I've reconstructed the recipe and it tastes just as good as my memories of it."

Mother's Molasses Raisin Rye Bread

2 packages active dry yeast
1/2 cup warm water
3 1/2 cups liquid (milk, water or a combination of both)
2 cups raisins
2 cups rye flour
1 cup rolled oats
1/4 cup honey
2 tablespoons caraway seeds
5 to 6 cups flour
1/2 to 3/4 cup molasses
1/2 cup vegetable oil
4 teaspoons salt

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Combine yeast mixture, liquid, raisins, rye flour, oats, honey and caraway seeds. Add enough flour, about 2 cups, to make batter of sponge consistency. Let rise until fluffy.

Stir in molasses, oil and salt. Add enough regular flour, 1 cup at a time, to make workable dough. Knead until soft and elastic.

Divide dough into 3 parts. Form into round loaves and place on greased baking sheets. Let rise, covered, in a warm place 1 hour or until doubled in bulk.

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Bake bread 10 minutes and then reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake for 35-40 minutes more. Cool on wire racks.

One more recipe from Eleanor Ostman of the St. Paul Press and Dispatch. She says, "You should enter these in the Minnesota State Fair,' I told a friend after tasting these sensational cookies. They're the best I'd ever had. Although she was quite ill at the time, she took some to the fair and won a ribbon."

Everyday Cookies

1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup light brown sugar
1 cup vegetable oil
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup crispy rice cereal
1 cup quick-cooking oats
1 cup coconut
1/2 cup chopped pecans

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Cream butter, sugars and oil. Add eggs and vanilla and beat well so oil doesn't separate.

Add flour mixed with cream of tartar, soda and salt. Stir in cereal, oats, coconut and nuts.

Drop by teaspoonfuls onto ungreased cookie sheets and flatten slightly. Bake on lower shelf of oven for 5-6 minutes.

Move to middle of oven and finish baking until lightly browned, about 5 minutes. Watch carefully so they don't become too brown. Remove from sheets and cool.

(If a pan of dough is ready to put on the lower shelf of the oven when the one already in the oven is moved to the middle shelf, baking will be speeded.)

DEATHS

Ellen Hasnedl, 80

St. Hilaire — Ellen Hasnedl, 80, died June 26 at Hillcrest Nursing Home in Red Lake Falls.

Funeral services will be held June 29 at 2 p.m. at the Calvary Lutheran church in St. Hilaire with Rev. Terri Skildum officiating. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery in Thief River Falls. The Green Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Visitation will be Friday from 1 to 9 p.m. at the Green Funeral Home and at the church Saturday for one hour before the services.

Warroad and Badger celebrate Fourth of July

Badger and Warroad have many things planned for the fourth of July celebration.

Badger—July 4, from 1 to 5 p.m. there will be a brush strokes art show at the community hall. At 1 p.m. there will also be a flea market at Gambles building. At 1:30 p.m. there will be a kiddie parade. 3 p.m. there will be a mini tractor pull at Roggenbuck field, and from 5 to 7 p.m. a remote control airplane show. From 7 to 9 p.m. will be the lip-sync contest and talent show at the school gym. For the dancers there will be an adult dance at the V.F.W. from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. and a teen dance at the community hall from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Warroad—July 4 at 8 a.m. the men's 12 team double elimination softball tournaments will begin.

The kiddie parade will begin at 9:30 a.m. and a baking contest will be held at 12 noon at the beach.

From 1 to 5 p.m. there will be an Army equipment demonstration at the beach. Beginning at 2 p.m. Dr. Steve McKenzie will be conducting a chainsaw sculpture demonstration on the front of Warroad Airways.

A volleyball tournament will begin at 3:30 p.m. at the beach. At 4 p.m. the Rustic Squares will show their stuff with a square dance demonstration.

A pizza eating contest will be held at 7 p.m. at Danny's Pizza.

Greg Grohn will perform airplane acrobatics beginning at 9 p.m. in the area of the beach. At 9:30 p.m., following the air show, the 40 North Sailing club will lead a torchlight parade on the river and a fireworks display will complete the day's activities.

Lampert Lumber operates under bankruptcy code

Lampert Lumber company in Thief River Falls, along with other home and building centers of the company, plans to continue normal operations while the company seeks investors to provide funding for a plan of reorganization.

Lampert announced in St. Paul this week that it had filed June 21 for reorganization under Chapter 11 of the U.S. bankruptcy code. The action was taken because the company was unable to reach an agreement with the bank, prior to filing for Chapter 11, which would provide the financing needed to continue to operate the business.

A post-petition financing agreement has now been reached with the lender.

Management of the local Lambert building center said that the center is now able to order plywood and lumber materials which had been on hold for about two months and that supplies will be arriving as they become available.

"THE ULTIMATE FINISHING TOUCH"

Harold Steffan is up on the roof of his home on Fourth street in Warren, surveying the damage from the wind storm that swept through the area Wednesday morning. The large tree pictured above was blown onto his home, crashing through the bedroom where he and his wife Flossie were asleep. (Warren Sheaf photo)

Cyclone-like winds whip through area

Cyclone like winds traveling an estimated 90 miles per hour caused considerable damage in Marshall County early Wednesday morning.

Officials at Marshall County Sheriff's department feel no one was injured because of the early hour of the storm. A Marshall County Sheriff's department spokesperson believes two cyclone like winds went through Warren at 2 a.m. and again at 2:15 a.m. They don't believe they were tornados.

The winds, which were believed to have been traveling at about 90 miles per hour uprooted and damaged trees. The spokesperson said they estimated 150 trees in the city of Warren were knocked down or uprooted. They had several reports of trees falling on houses, cars and garages. A large tree crashed on the Harold Steffen home on Fourth street ripping open the roof and awakening Harold and Flossie Steffen who were drenched with water but not injured.

The sheriff's department also estimated that about 50 per cent of the trees in the city park were damaged. Power was lost and had not been returned to normal in parts of the city as of Wednesday noon.

Not only were they thankful that nobody was injured but they were thankful that so many people were pitching in to help clean up the mess. The spokesperson said officers have been on duty all night. After a long night, it was encouraging to see everyone pitching in, the spokesperson said.

But Warren was not the only city reporting damage from the strong winds. The spokesperson said damage reports were coming in from Alvarado, Argyle, Middle River, and Newfolden.

They were also receiving reports from farmers. There were some reports of caved-in grain bins. In one instance a grain bin was said to have rolled a mile or so from its foundation.

New regulations of small boilers

Owners of small boilers should be aware of a federal law that affects facilities that in the past have not needed air quality permits, the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) warns. Boiler owners who fail to apply for permits risk violating federal law and the possibility of monetary penalties.

New federal regulations that went into effect on September 12, 1990, affect all boilers with a maximum heat input capacity of as little as 10 million Btu an hour. If construction began on the boilers have been or will be modified or reconstructed any time since June 9, 1989, the boilers are subject to this regulation. The MPCA says that the regulation applies to many boilers operated by schools, hospitals, nursing homes, apartment buildings and small industrial plants.

Sometimes boiler owners make changes and are not aware of the new federal requirements, the MPCA says. This is especially true in cases where in the past the boilers did not need to have air quality permits because of their small size.

Rosalind Lene of Lene's Woodworking of Twin Valley had the above display of items at the Women of Today crafts festival in Floyd B. Olson park in Thief River Falls Saturday, June 22.

Highway clean up project

In just 12 months, more than 4,000 groups in the state have volunteered to help keep Minnesota roads and highways free of litter. The Minnesota department of transportation's Adopt-A-Highway program is one year old, according to John H. Riley, commissioner of transportation.

"The outpouring of support from the citizens of Minnesota for this program has been tremendous," said Commissioner Riley, "the number of volunteers signed up since May 1990 have exceeded all of our expectations."

Volunteers include civic clubs, churches, businesses, families and individuals. Each has adopted at least two miles of state highway. The commitment includes a promise to clean up their "adopted" miles at least three times a year for two years. The Mn/DOT provides vests, bags, safety information, trash pick-up and a pair of highway signs to identify each group.

Because of the program's success, Mn/DOT warns motorists to be alert for the hundreds of Adopt-A-Highway crews picking up litter this summer along state highways. Drivers should watch for volunteers fanned out over the ditches and steer clear of filled trash bags along the roadside.

"We congratulate the Adopt-A-Highway volunteers on their first anniversary and wish them continued success," said Commissioner Riley. "The responsibility of keeping our environment clean belongs to each of us, and Adopt-A-Highway volunteers take their commitment seriously."

Pontoon parade set for July 4

Nay-Tah-Waush — The second annual parade of decorated pontoons will be held July 4 at 10 a.m. at South Twin lake, Nay-Tah-Waush. The parade on water starts near Kalgin's and proceeds past Pinehurst, Lynwood, Elkhorn and then returns. Admission is free. (Farmers Independent)

Pre-Harvest festival to be held July 20

Waubun — A pre-harvest festival at Waubun is set for Saturday, July 20 with plans underway for a parade, horseshoe and volleyball tournaments, a magic show and musical entertainment. There will also be a dunking tank, children's games and concession stands. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

McIntosh community center dedication planned

McIntosh — The formal dedication of the McIntosh Centennial community center will be held July 4 at 10 a.m. A program will be presented, followed by refreshments. Senator Roger Moe will give a brief address at the program and a door plaque will be presented to the city. (McIntosh Times)

Riverview hospital goes "smoke free"

Crookston — Effective July 1, Riverview hospital will become a smoke-free facility. The policy applies to patients, visitors, employees, volunteers and medical staff members. The current policy stated that hospital patients may smoke with a physician's order. (Crookston Daily Times)

Gonvick Bargain Center robbed Friday

Gonvick — The Gonvick Bargain center was robbed of over $100 last week by a young, blonde woman who brought a pair of jeans to the counter and then showed the clerk a knife and asked for money. She told the clerk she would lock her in the bathroom. Two boys then entered the store and the clerk began talking to them while the robber left the store. The clerk then sent the boys to call the police. The robber is described as being in her mid-20's, heavyset with blue eyes. The sheriff had the ONR bring in their bloodhound to try to track the woman since she had handled the jeans she brought to the counter, but had left them in the store. (Leader-Record)

Boat taken for joy ride from resort

Baudette — The second large boat this month was stolen from Gearharts resort June 19. The large resort launch was found intact in Four Mile Bay the following day with no apparent damage, according to Lake of the Woods Sheriff Bob Paulseth. A similar incident was reported June 4 with a privately-owned craft taken. Law enforcement officials are continuing the investigation. (Baudette Region)

Bejou church celebrates 75th year

Bejou — Members of the Immaculate Conception Catholic church in Bejou will celebrate the church's 75th anniversary June 30 with a Mass at 10:30 a.m. following by a potluck dinner. Father Joseph Kieselbach of Mahnomen will officiate. The church has approximately 43 families currently on its membership list with about 54 adult members. The church was organized in the fall of 1916. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

LakeWood and other hospitals form consortium

Williams — The LakeWood health center, with hospitals from Greenbush, Hallock, Karlstad, Roseau and Warren, are working to form the North Star Health Care consortium to develop joint programs in the areas of continuing education, quality assurance, medical staff support and joint employment or contracting. The consortium group has received a $25,000 grant from the Blandin foundation and a $30,000 grant from Northwest Minnesota Initiative fund for specific program development to be completed by the consortium during the next year. (Northern Light)

Crystal Sugar okays $31 million expansion

East Grand Forks — American Crystal Sugar company will invest $31 million next year at its East Grand Forks facility to significantly increase sugar production capacity at that plant. The investment is the second largest by the company since sugar-beet growers purchased the company for $86 million in 1973. The only larger project was the expansion of the East Grand Forks facility in 1976 which was more that doubled its original size. (Exponent)

Walsh county museum presents "Museum Alive"

Minto, ND — The Walsh county Historical society museum will bring history alive this weekend when a one-act play, "The Re-enactment of the Life of a Pioneer Woman," will be performed by Jean Walders, a Dickinson state university professor at the museum. Other features of the event will be dancing, a blue grass band and a petting zoo. (Record)

St. Paul's church of Euclid to note centennial

Euclid — St. Paul's Lutheran church of Euclid will celebrate its centennial this weekend with a service at the old church and cemetery site seven miles northwest of Euclid. A centennial tree will be planted and a potluck picnic served, followed by a softball game and vesper service, all on Saturday. On Sunday, the centennial festival worship will be held at the church at 10:30 a.m. with Rev. Gerald Goetz officiating. (Crookston Daily Times)

Lawbreakers Aren't Paying The Price

"Law and order," states criminologist and author L. Gordon Crovitz, "implies cause and effect. The United States is now discovering the corollary: A legal system that fails to protect order signals flaws in the law itself. We now have a legal system that creates chaos and disdains order. As a result, criminals rule our urban streets...."

Crime opens a flood of emotions from fear to helplessness, frustration, disgust, anger and even revenge. There is a common feeling that anyone who causes harm or loss to another person should pay o penalty to the person wronged and to society in general. And the feeling is spreading that the law and those who interpret it and make decisions under it are not making certain that penalties are being paid.

In an article in National Review, Crovitz refers to the "surrender of the courts" in cases like Papachristou vs. City of Jacksonville where Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas overturned the conviction of several defendants arrested on a local vagrancy ordinance, even though several of them had long criminal histories and one was carrying heroin. In his decision, Justice Douglas wrote: "Persons 'wandering or strolling' from place to place have been extolled by Walt Whitman and Vachel Lindsay."

"But most American streets are hardly poetic and today there is renewed interest in vagrancy laws as a deterrent to open-air drug markets," points out Philip C. Clarke of America's Future, Inc.

"As for the court system, if and when violent criminals are arrested and brought to trial, legal manipulation of the system, along with the sheer number of criminals being processed, can lead to absurdity."

Clarke points out that Steven Lopez, for example, the alleged ringleader in the now-famous Central Park jogger rape case, ended up in court plea bargaining to stealing a radio.

In Albany, NY, a child molester had his conviction overturned on a classic technicality: The judge decided that while it was permissible for the police to have searched the suspect's car, it was not OK for them to have looked at an obscene videotape they found there. The videotape showed the man molesting four young children.

While there are growing cries for capital punishment and/or other increasingly severe forms of punishment for those who commit violent crime, studies would indicate that severity of punishment is not as great a deterrent as certainty of punishment.

"For first time offenders," Clarke says, "many critics (of the present situation) propose such alternatives to prison as boot camps, drug treatment and release under supervision. Such alternatives, it is argued, at least would ensure that lawbreakers pay some price and don't just walk away. As things now stand, crime pays the criminal.

"Right now in New York City, where the murder rate rose 18 per cent in 1990, the chances of a crime leading to arrest, conviction and any kind of serious prison time is less than one in 100! And nationwide, only 53 per cent of those arrested for murder go to prison."

In a study titled "Crime and Poverty: Which Comes First," policy analyst Carl P. Horowitz of the conservative, Washington-based Heritage Foundation, maintains that "poverty does not cause crime; crime causes poverty."

In addition to the real costs in loss of life and property, Horowitz says, fear of crime depresses property values which only feeds the vicious cycle.

U.S. Attorney General Dick Thornburgh correctly states, "The debate over the root causes of crime will go on for decades. But the carnage in our own mean streets must be halted now."

That means tougher laws, tougher enforcement and especially tougher courts where those who value human life consistently prevail over those who don't.

"It may cost more money," Clarke says, "but the price of doing nothing will be a lot higher."

How Can We Understand Independence?

Who among us in the United States today is enough of a patriot to match the sacrifice of Robert Morris of Pennsylvania, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776?

Morris spent his entire fortune—more than a million dollars—to support the Revolutionary Army in its fight for freedom against the British. Never reimbursed for what he spent, he served three years in debtor's prison and, in failing health, died soon after his release.

Signers of that historic document which is the basis for our great and free nation today knew full well the probable consequences of their act. As representatives of the 13 colonies they weren't worrying about how their vote would sit with the folks back home at the next election.

John Adams, who with John Hancock, another signer, were already under sentence of death if captured by the British, wrote to his wife Abigail: "The Declaration was, in fact, an act of treason.... Those who signed it took a good chance to incur the penalty meted out to traitors."

William Ellery of Rhode Island, the 22nd signer, wrote that he stood where he could watch the others. "I was determined to see how they all looked as they signed what might be their death warrant," he wrote. "Undaunted resolution was displayed on every countenance."

Most of the signers suffered for their act. Francis Lewis of New York had his home burned by the British; his wife was put in prison for two years and died soon after her release. Lewis Morris' New York estate was ransacked and destroyed. He eluded capture by taking refuge in caves and forests.

Richard Stockton rushed home after signing the Declaration to rescue his family from advancing enemy troops. He was captured, thrown in prison, repeatedly beaten and nearly starved. He died an invalid in 1781. Thomas Heywood Jr. of South Carolina served in the Revolutionary Army and was taken prisoner. The British raided his plantation and burned his buildings and his grief-stricken wife became ill and died soon after his release at the end of the war.

We should give heed this and every Independence Day to the real sacrifices made by those brave men more than 200 years ago. As we honor those who more recently put their lives on the line to preserve our freedom through military action, we must not forget where it all began.

The 27th of 56 signers, Benjamin Franklin, was asked what kind of government had been created on July 4, 1776. "A republic," he replied, "if you can keep it."

Are we strong enough, and do we value our independence enough, to be able to keep our Republic? Let us all pray that we are.

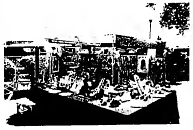
To The Editor:

Upbeat!

A few years ago Rev. E. V. Hill, a famous black pastor from Los Angeles, spoke at Founders Week at Moody Bible Institute. He referred to a time when he was preaching "at a juicy revival in St. Louis where there was a group of black people gathered together and just singing and shouting and praising the Lord."



Last Sunday evening I didn't hear any shouting, but I did witness a group of Scandinavians at the local Assemblies of God church singing and worshipping the Lord. There were worshippers from the Assemblies of God, First Baptist, Faith Lutheran Brethren, Our Saviour's Lutheran, Evangelical Covenant, United Methodist and Evangelical Free sharing in the service. Pastors, musical talent and congregational singing from participating churches of "like precious faith" joined in worship and testimony.

The Father has given all authority to the Son in the heavens and the earth and it is wise to honor and worship Him because the Day of the Lord is yet to come. The Father is seeking those who will worship Him in spirit and in truth. Aren't those His words? The event Sunday night was worthwhile and God-honoring. Worshipping in your own home and at your local church is most important, but an occasional joint worship service like last Sunday night is upbeat!

Woodworking items from cactus to cattails were exhibited by Bob Everson of Frazee at the Thief River Falls Women of Today annual crafts festival at Floyd B. Olson park.

Woman seeks relatives or information

A woman presently living in Arizona and who has early childhood memories of Thief River Falls is seeking to establish contact with any relatives who may still be remaining in the area or information regarding such relatives.

Geneva Johnson is the woman's maiden name and she believes her birth date to be April 30, 1933, although that date has not been verified. She is believed to have been orphaned and was moved from home to home in her early childhood years, eventually going to school in the Southwest.

Anyone who may have information that would be of assistance to her in finding out more about her background may contact her at (602) 384-3104 or a friend who is assisting her, Dorothy Horner, at Box 567, Willcox, AZ 85644.

Former area resident sets sights on Olympic goal

by David Hill
Times Associate Editor

Ruth Horton of Anchorage, AK set a record in the five mile race at the St. Hilaire Centennial Race Saturday. Horton, who was visiting her parents Harold and Ester Olson in Fertile, took it all in stride. After all, St. Hilaire was just a step on her way towards breaking through a time trial at the Twin Cities Olympic Marathon that will allow her to compete for one of the few choice spots on the U.S. Women's Olympic Marathon Team.

Many athletes only dream of competing at olympic calibre, especially athletes with three children and a blood sugar problem.

"Something happens when I start running. I think more clearly and become more focused," said Horton.

Horton said it all began rather innocently. She just used to run for fun and to keep her weight down. Early successes and her friends encouraged her to take running a little more seriously.

She entered her first marathon four years ago, she said. Her goal was to run the entire length of the all cross country marathon. After completing that goal she stopped running for awhile but was encouraged to participate in the Portland Marathon just for fun. She finished the race in 14th place with a time of 3 hours and 19 minutes. With a time like that friends really began to suggest that she take running more seriously.

She did and now she has two coaches and a trainer to give her the coaching she needs. Her recent success with a 2.49.00 marathon resulted in encouragement to set her sights on the Olympics.

It's not unusual for world class runners to be in their 30s as is Horton. It is more unusual, however, to have three children before competing seriously and no high school or college background in track and field.

It may be that watching after three boys, Calen 7, Ryan 5, and Andrew 3, helped prepare her for marathon training and racing.

Certainly having two coaches, a trainer and running an average of 70 miles per week helps prepare a person for the rigors of a marathon. (Eventually she will increase her mileage to about 85 miles per week.) Horton has also been running one race every two weeks. During the month of July she will run a race every weekend.

Running so many races, she said, helps her become mentally prepared. She also explained that she doesn't try to run her best race all the time. She sets goals only for certain races. The others are just training runs for her.

"You can't race your best all the time," said Horton. "You have to set target races."

"This was a perfect race for me," said Horton who was referring to the St. Hilaire race Saturday.

It wasn't one of her target races, but she said it will help her prepare for a race next weekend in Anchorage.

Horton is also bothered by a low blood sugar problem that on one occasion caused her to collapse and pass out at the end of a race.

Now she makes sure she has time to digest a liquid energy drink before she starts the race and has something at the end of the race. She said she has plans to visit a Sports Physician in order to get the problem under control.

Horton said that when things get tough — as happens during prolonged periods of training — she focuses on the fact that she knows she will feel twice as good once she completes her daily run.

"Something happens when I start running. I think more clearly and become more focused," said Horton.

One of the most unusual things to happen to her while she was running happened when she met two bull moose on a training run.

Horton said she was deep in thought when she looked up and saw two bull moose fighting. She stopped and stared, and so did the moose.

It was one of those awkward moments when you don't know what to do but know you should do something and quickly.

Horton said she decided to continue along her way when the moose decided to take their argument some place else.

Although she is one of the top three women's runners in Alaska, Horton doesn't focus on that aspect of her racing.

It's important to be competitive. But, it's important to remember, she said, that there is someone out there who is better than you. Horton suggested that runner's should race against their own times. That way you'll recognize your best effort, she said, even when you do not come in first.

Another goal for Horton is to become a racer sponsored by a major corporation such as Asics. Sponsored runners usually get assistance from their sponsoring company and, if they're good enough, benefits from race organizers bent on attracting top athletes to compete in their races.

Horton also has goals outside of running. Horton said she grew up in rural Fertile on a farm. She attended Bemidji State University for one year and then moved to Alaska. She recently decided to complete her education. She is attending the University of Alaska at Anchorage where she plans to major in English. She said she wants to teach junior high English.

For right now, Horton is focusing on a goal of running under a 2.45.00 marathon at the Twin Cities Marathon on October 13. Her greatest fear, she confided, is coming down the last stretch of the marathon and seeing the clock and a time of 2:44.53. She hopes that recurring nightmare will compel her to an even greater effort.

Bankers believe state's economy getting better

Bankers attending this year's annual meeting of the Minnesota Bankers Association (MBA) see marked improvement in the state's economy.

In a poll taken Tuesday during the three-day meeting which concluded Wednesday, more than half (56 per cent) of the bankers surveyed said their local economies were not experiencing a recession while 34 per cent believe their economy is still feeling recessionary effects. Nine per cent said they were unsure or had no opinion.

"Overall, Minnesota bankers are optimistic about the economy in their local area," said Truman L. Jeffers, MBA executive vice president and chief executive officer. "Even among those who feel they are still experiencing a recession, three out of four believe it will end no later than the first half of next year."

Despite national attention on the lack of available credit, a majority of Minnesota bankers said they are making more loans this year than last year. Fifty-five per cent of those responding said they had increased their loan-to-deposit ratio while 31 per cent said loans had remained nearly the same as last year. Only 15 per cent said their loan-to-deposit ratio had declined over the past 12 months.

When asked about general consumer confidence in the economy, 7 per cent of the bakers rated it high, while 74 per cent said it was average and only 19 per cent characterized it as low.

Of those banks making agricultural loans on a regular basis, more than half (59 per cent) predicted that 1991 would be more difficult for farmers than 1990. Thirteen per cent of the respondents predict an improved year for farmers in their area while 29 per cent see their local farm economy unchanged from 1990.

"The difficulties brought on by this year's heavy rains and the improvements in the agricultural economy in recent years make comparisons to last year discouraging," Jeffers said.

Eighty-nine bankers attending this year's MBA annual meeting responded to the written survey. Seventy-two per cent of those surveyed were bank presidents or chief executive officers.

Joe Johnson of Thief River Falls won a bronze medal for a third place finish Saturday, June 22, in the Sharpshooter division of high power rifle competition during the Star of the North Games at Blaine-Coon Rapids. The shooting took place at Harris and involved firing 80 rounds with 800 being a perfect score. Joel scored 707 for his bronze medal with the winning score being 730. He qualified for the competition on the basis of his average in league shooting at the Thief River Falls Rifle club and said he dedicates his medal to Everett Amundgaard, who encouraged him to start competitive shooting, and to the club. Joel's average moved him from Markaman into the Sharpshooter class the week before Star of the North competition. His score would have taken a gold medal in the Markaman class. The 80-shot series—all fired at 200 yards with iron sights—included 20 shots standing (offhand), two 10-shot strings of 60-second sitting rapid fire with one reloading, two 10-shot strings of 70-second prone rapid fire at reduced size targets and 20 shots of prone slow fire at a further reduced target. Johnson's rifle is an M-1 Garand that has been accurized.

Area residents in marathon

Under good running conditions, at least two area residents participated in Grandma's Marathon in Duluth last weekend.

This was the first year the race in Duluth held a half marathon, but two area residents participated in the full marathon or 26.2 miles. Tom Ronchetti of Thief River Falls completed the race in about 4-hours and 30-minutes. Linda Ronchetti ran in and completed the five mile race called Grandpa's the night before the marathon. Wayne Tieman of Hallock also ran in the race. Tieman said he completed the race in about 3-hours and 56-minutes. Tieman said it was the sixth time he ran in the race.

Production of milk declines in Minnesota

Milk production in Minnesota during May declined three per cent despite an increase in average production per cow from a year ago, according to the Minnesota Agricultural Statistics service.

Production of 891 million pounds was down from 922 million pounds in May of 1990. Production per cow averaged 1,300 pounds, an increase of 20 pounds from a year ago.

Number of milk cows on farms in Minnesota during May of 1991 was 685,000 head, down from 720,000 a year ago. Accumulated milk production for the first five months of 1991 was 4.33 billion pounds, down two per cent from a year ago.

Roseau sweeps Legion

Thief River Falls had a tough time of it offensively Wednesday in losing a 6-2, 8-0 American Legion baseball doubleheader to Roseau at Irv Wilson Field.

Second doubleheader loss in three days dropped Thief River Falls to 6-10 for the year. Roseau went to 7-2.

An appearance at the East Grand Forks Invitational beginning today (Friday) kicks off a three-week string of road games for Post 117. The Howard Dalager-coached squad is not scheduled to play another home game until a July 17 doubleheader here against Crookston. They will be at Karlstad Tuesday for a 6:30 p.m. twinbill.

Roseau 6
Thief River Falls 2

Fourteen innings worth of doubleheader at-bats produced just a pair of second inning Thief River Falls runs in Game 1, and that was not enough to avoid a 6-2 first-game defeat.

A one-out solo home run over the right-center field fence by Mike Swanson, followed by back-to-back ground ball singles into left field by Kyle Evenson and Barry Dowers gave Post 117 a 2-0 second inning lead.

But Roseau came right back with a four-run third on four base hits – including a two-run home run by Ben McDonald – three walks, an error and a pair of wild pitches.

The winners made it 6-2 in the fifth on a two-out, two-run ground-rule double to right by Bob Schwehr, the No. 8 hitter in the Roseau line-up.

Roseau righthander Mike Huglen limited Thief River Falls to just five hits – three of coming in the third. He struck out just three, but did not walk a batter and allowed only two base runners over the final five innings.

Swanson took the loss, leaving after three innings in favor of Jeremy Underdahl, a recent roster addition and the fourth member of the 1991 Region 8A champion Middle River/Marshall County Central high school baseball team to join the Post 117 line-up. Together, Swanson and Underdahl gave up nine hits, struck out seven and walked seven.

Dowers had two of the five Thief River Falls hits, while Schwehr and Huglen led Roseau with 2-for-4 games.

Nathan Vatnsdal pitched a three-hit shutout as Roseau completed the doubleheader sweep with an 8-0 second-game decision.

Vatnsdal struck out eight and walked four, giving up singles in the first and fourth innings and a lead-off double by David Blazek in the sixth.

Meanwhile, Roseau banged out 10 base hits, including a solo home runs by Dave McDonald in the fourth and fifth innings, along with a two run fence-clearing shot by Todd Wensloff in the first inning.

Darin Wald was the starting and losing Thief River Falls pitcher, with Blazek working in relief. They struck out nine and walked three.

Josh Stromlund joined McDonald in the multiple-hit department with three singles in four at-bats.

Strikers take doubleheader from Shockers

The Strikers swept the Shockers 12-1, 17-12 Tuesday in a match-up of Thief River Falls 14-15-year-old Babe Ruth baseball teams at Irv Wilson Field.

Crookston Blue will be at Irv Wilson Field Monday for a 10 a.m. doubleheader against the Steve Henke-coached Strikers, who followed their Shockers sweep with a Thursday twinbill against Red Lake Falls.

The Chris Mills-coached Shockers will be at Warroad Tuesday for a 10 a.m. doubleheader.

Women's Softball

Legion/Sather Law remained unbeaten in Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League play Wednesday with wins over VFW 13-9 and Middle River M&M 19-7.

Janelle Konickson hit two home runs and added a triple, while Nancy Zimpel came up with two triples and three RBI in the Legion/Sather Law victory over VFW. Konickson and Tammy Sparby homered in the second-game victory over Middle River M&M.

Mush-A-Rets won twice, beating Rainbow Nursery 17-2 and the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners 9-6.

Lesly Ronsen homered, tripled and drove in sis runs, Maureen Kayser hit a pair of doubles, while Colleen Rook and CoCo Kayser both finished with three RBI in the Mush-A-Rets' win over Rainbow Nursery. Ronsen came back with a 3-for-3, three-RBI effort that included a triple in the second-game decision over the Ridgerunners, while Rook was 2-for-2 with three RBI and Pam Schenkey doubled.

Stacy Mosher tripled against the Swingers and Cindy Scheie had a triple against Rainbow Nursery as St. Hilaire Elevator/Lynn's Refrigerating swept a 19-8 and 5-2 doubleheader.

Joe Fletcher pitched a five-inning shutout, Dorene Larson hit a grand slam home run, while Linda Rux and Angie sinn both tripled as VFW blanked the Swingers 16-0.

Best Western Inn was a 20-0 and 18-11 doubleheader winner over Middle River M&M and Pizza Hut, respectively, while the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners stopped Pizza Hut 10-3.

Winners were not reported for the weekly calendar drawing.

Roseau beats, ties TRF Babe Ruth Gamecocks

Roseau wound up with a win and a tie in a Babe Ruth baseball doubleheader against the Thief River Falls Gamecocks 14-15-year-olds Tuesday at Irv Wilson Field.

The seven-inning opener went to Roseau 8-5, and the five-inning second game was a 9-9 draw.

The 3-3-1 Gamecocks, coached by Chris Nelson, return to action Wednesday with a 10 a.m. doubleheader against Warroad at Irv Wilson Field.

Reivers win twice

Middle River Reivers amateur baseball team picked up back-to-back road wins at Bagley 4-3 and Ada 8-2 Wednesday and Thursday to improve their record to 3-5 for the year.

The Reivers' next scheduled start will be Saturday, July 6, vs. Karlstad in Middle River.

Middle River 4
Bagley 3

Chris Nelson struck out 14 batters and walked just three as Middle River beat Bagley 4-3 Wednesday.

Andy Larson plated the game-winning run with an RBI single in the top of the ninth inning. Joel Swanson was 2-for-4 to lead the Reivers' seven-hit attack. Bagley picked up five hits.

Mudhens, Lobos split

A Tuesday Thief River Falls Babe Ruth Prep baseball match-up for 13-year-olds produced a doubleheader split for the Lobos and Mudhens.

The Hunter Boldt-coached Lobos won the opener 14-7, with the Corey Poole-coached Mudhens winning the second game 14-2.

The 7-5-1 Lobos were back in action Thursday at Warroad. They will visit Roseau Wednesday for a 10 a.m. game. The 8-2 Mudhens will play Crookston Monday in a 10 a.m. doubleheader at Northland Community College.

TRF Lobos 14

Bombers beat Fergus Falls

Thief River Falls Bombers improved their District 9 VFW record for 16-year-olds to 4-2 Thursday with an 8-6, 7-6 doubleheader sweep over Fergus Falls at Irv Wilson Field.

The Bombers are 23-5 overall.

"We're playing pretty good baseball right now," noted Thief River Falls coach Wayne Rahlf. "We're getting some solid pitching, and against Fergus Falls, we took advantage of everything they gave us."

Thief River Falls will compete in the Lake Region Classic American Legion baseball tournament in Devils Lake this weekend, meeting Winnipeg in a 1 p.m. Saturday first round quarterfinal game. The Bombers return home to host Warroad Monday and the Grand Forks Reds Tuesday in 6 p.m. doubleheaders.

TRF Bombers 8
Fergus Falls 6

Thief River Falls overcame a 6-1 second Inning deficit to beat Fergus Falls 8-6 in the doubleheader opener.

Jeremy Olson came up with key plays both offensively and defensively to help the Bombers, producing a third inning bases-loaded double to slice the 6-1 Fergus Falls lead to 6-4, then making a diving seventh inning catch in the outfield to help preserve the two-run Thief River Falls lead.

Marc Haugen, Jeremy Tallum and Carter Rogalla all had two hits for the Bombers.

Tallum had a route-going performance on the mound, surrendering just two earned runs. He struck out two and walked two.

TRF Bombers 7
Fergus Falls 6

Fergus Falls came up with a game-tying run in the top of the seventh, but Thief River Falls came back to score the game-winner in the bottom of the inning as the Bombers completed the twinbill sweep with a 7-6 second-game decision.

Trevor Haugen led off the bottom of the seventh with a walk. An error on a ball hit by Jason Olson put runners at first and second with one out. A bunt attempt wound up producing the winning run, even though the pitch was too high for batter Shane Borg to get his bat on the ball. With the third baseman charging the plate on the play, Haugen broke for third. The catcher threw the ball to the shortstop who was racing Haugen to the bag, but the throw went into left field for an error, allowing the game-tying run to cross the plate.

Thief River Falls was out-hit 8-3, but took advantage of sis Fergus Falls errors and three walks.

Carter Rogalla, Wade Evenson and Rick Ostby shared the Bombers' pitching duties, with Ostby picking up the win by retiring the final four batters. They struck out five and walked two.

Bombers sweep pair from Fosston

Thief River Falls Bombers came out of a Tuesday night American Legion baseball marathon at Fosston with a pair of wins and a 12-1 Ninth District Tier II-counting record – 21-5 overall.

A three-hour twinbill opener netted the Bombers a 15-7 win, and the scheduled seven-inning nightcap went eight frames before Thief River Falls laid claim to a 12-6 decision.

"Basically, we played some pretty good baseball," reported Bombers coach Wayne Rahlf.

TRF Bombers 15
Fosston 7

Kevin Erickson pitched a complete-game five-hitter, striking out eight, as Thief River Falls beat Fosston 15-7 in Game 1.

Six Thief River Falls errors and eight walks kept Fosston in the game.

The Bombers wound up with a dozen hits, including a 4-for-5 effort by Erickson and 2-for-4 games from Carter Rogalla and Jeremy Olson. Jason Svir drove in four runs.

Thief River Falls came up with three runs in the top of the seventh to force extra Innings, then broke loose with a six-run eighth for a 12-6 Game 2 win and the doubleheader sweep.

First five Thief River Falls batters and six of the first seven Bombers coming to the plate in the eighth reached base and scored as the winners came up with five singles and a sacrifice fly to go along with a pair of errors and a walk.

Jason Svir, Josh Balmer, Carter Rogalla and Trevor Haugen all had two hits for the Bombers.

Jason Olson pitched the first four innings before giving way to Haugen in the fifth. Haugen followed with four innings of three-hit shutout relief, striking out seven and walking two for the win.

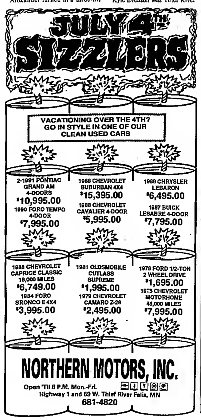
Detroit Lakes stops Post 117

Detroit Lakes improved its record to 7-2 by sweeping Thief River Falls 3-0 and 11-7 Monday in a late-reported Ninth District American Legion baseball doubleheader at the Lakers' Washington Park.

Thief River Falls fell below .500 at 6-8.

Detroit Lakes 3
Thief River Falls 0



Detroit Lakes pitcher Nik Alexander turned in a three-hit shout as the Lakers subdued Thief River Falls 3-0 in Game 1.

All of the scoring occurred in the bottom of the first inning on walks issued to Pat Sims and Corey Vogt, a triple by Mike Gunderson and an error.

Alexander struck out five and did not walk a batter. He gave up doubles to Kyle Evenson in the second inning and Mike Swanson in the seventh, along with a fifth inning single by Cory Offerdahl.

Kyle Evenson was Thief River Falls' starting and losing pitcher. Barry Dowers pitched in relief. They gave up only five hits – two of them to Wade Whitworth – while striking out six and walking three.

Detroit Lakes 11
Thief River Falls 7

Thief River Falls jumped out to a 6-B lead in the top of the first innings, but could not hold on, losing the doubleheader nightcap 11-7.

A hit batsman and a walk started the Thief River Falls first inning. Before it was done, Mike Rokke, Kyle Evenson and Pete Balmer had RBI singles, Mike Swanson and Barry Dowers drove in runs via the sacrifice fly and a sixth run came home on an error.

But despite putting runners in scoring position the rest of the night, Thief River Falls picked up just one more run as Rokke drew a walk to lead off the sixth and scored on a two-out single by Balmer.

Detroit Lakes had taken over the lead by the fourth inning, 8-6, and padded the edge with a three-run sixth.

Balmer was 3-for-4 in the 10-hit Thief River Falls attack. Pat Sims, Wade Whitworth, Corey Vogt and Marcus Rhode had two hits apiece in the Lakers' 12-hit effort. Mike Gunderson had a two-run first inning home run for the winners.

Thief River Falls pitchers Barry Dowers and Jeremy Underdahl struck out seven and walked three. Dowers was the starter and loser. Kent Heimark, who came on in relief for Greg Henderson in the first inning, was the winning pitcher. The two Detroit Lakes pitchers struck out six and walked six.

"IT IS A FACT!"

"IT IS A FACT" you can be saved and know it. I John 5:10-13 tells us that we can be saved and know it.

Many people I talk to today are not sure if they have eternal life. Eleven years ago I found out that Jesus is real by the witness of His Holy Spirit.

God sent his Holy Spirit to be a witness to His people that there wouldn't be a question about if there is salvation.

John 14:26 says "but the comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in My name, He shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you."

We, at Jesus Is King Ministries, want you to be sure of your salvation so we invite you to fellowship with us. Jesus Loves You.

Governor Carlson is criticized for his recent veto

League of Minnesota City officials have charged that a recent veto by Governor Arne Carlson was an attempt to divert most of the growth in the new local option sales tax to boost the state's general fund.

Under the portion of the law the governor signed, counties will have the option of raising local sales taxes by one-half cent. That money, plus one and one-half cents of the current sales tax will go into a local government trust fund. The money in the fund is designated to go to local governments — cities, counties, and townships — and to pay part of state-funded income maintenance costs.

Carlson vetoed the section of the tax bill which would have earmarked most of the growth in annual sales tax revenues in 1993 and 1994 for aids to cities, townships, and counties to keep property taxes down; and a smaller portion to relieve pressure on the state general fund by paying for income maintenance aids.

In his veto message, the governor said he wanted a much larger share of the growth, 67 per cent, to go for welfare aids. Bob Benke, president of the League of Minnesota Cities and mayor of New Brighton, said the veto defeats the intended purpose of the new local option sales tax and local government trust fund by killing the separation of state and local budgets. As Governor Carlson has frequently stated, the new mechanisms were expected to end reliance of local governments on state appropriations and give them an independent non-property tax revenue source.

Local governments would be expected to live with the ups and downs of revenues from the two cent sales tax. In good economic times, local government could expect some growth in sales tax revenues.

"With the governor's stated desire to use 67 per cent of the sales tax growth for welfare aid otherwise paid by the state, there would not even be enough money in the trust fund to pay for the new homestead-agricultural credit aid (HACA) required by the tax bill, and the money available for existing aid programs would actually drop in 1993 and 1994," Benke said. "It appears to us that the governor wants local option taxes implemented in order to pay for state programs."

Due to a technical error in the veto, the governor did not achieve his intended purpose; instead, the final law unintentionally provides for all of the trust fund money in 1993 and 1994 to be used for local government aid, primarily a city aid program. None of the trust fund money would go to income maintenance.

Since both the governor's stated intention and the actual result with the technical error in the veto are unsatisfactory, the League will work actively for re-enactment of the vetoed section in the 1992 session.

Nanette Greshowak of Fergus Falls created these ornate dolls which were on display Saturday, June 22, during the Thief River Falls Woman of Today annual crafts festival at Floyd B. Olson park in downtown Thief River Falls.

Scottish historian seeks information

Local historians and anyone with information about individuals who may have settled the area who had a Scottish background may want to write back to an individual who sent an open letter to residents of Thief River Falls.

The letter which was addressed to the Mayor of Thief River Falls came from Jim Hewitson, School Place, Papa Westray, Orkney, Scotland, United Kingdom.

Writes Hewitson: "I am writing in the hope that you and the people of Thief River Falls might be able to assist me with a book project on which I'm working hopefully to coincide with the anniversary in October, 1992, of Columbus's first landfall in the New World."

Hewitson explains that he is a writer and columnist producing historical and general articles for newspapers in Scotland and abroad. He lives with his family on a tiny (four square mile) island of Papa Westray, in the Orkney group off the north coast of Scotland.

"On this occasion I am looking for stories and anecdotes which illustrate the Scottish contribution, no matter how obscure, towards the foundation of later development of your community. It need not have been someone in the high office of mayor, judge or sheriff, but simply and immigrant Scot who might have preached, taught, run a grocery store, surveyed a railroad, dug a gold mine or whatever. I hope you get the picture.

"As much anecdotal, amusing or interesting, detail as possible would be very welcome. In fact, the more offbeat his or her link with the town the better.

"I would also propose to make mention of your community along with the stories of the Scots and on that basis any factsheets, maps or photographs of the town, or of celebrities and/or dignitaries who fit my general Scottish specification, would be invaluable"

Any responses can be sent to the address listed above.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering
Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used, and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew...saving on labor costs. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Oak Ridge centennial

Albert Olson and Lewis Aaseby.

Organists during the early years were Mrs. A. K. Lockrem, Miss Jenny Ordal, Mrs. Martin Aas and Alma Anderson Pederson.

A basement was dug in 1917 with Julius Mossestad using his horses and scraper and much of the digging done by hand.

Women were given the right to vote in church matters by a motion passed in 1928.

In 1943 at Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls, the St. Hilaire parish of which Oak Ridge was a part met and approved transfer of Oak Ridge church to the Viking parish. Members present at the meeting were Ludwig Ona, John Braieng, Norval Johnson, Oscar Mossestad and Selmer Olson.

Rev. Skibsrud was asked to resign from Oak Ridge and Rev. P. M. Brattlie of the four-point Viking parish became the pastor. Oak Ridge church was reimbursed for its share in cost of the St. Hilaire parish parsonage.

An altar and minister's room were added to the church in 1946 with Albert Olson as chief carpenter and Ludwig Ona and Lewis Aaseby assisting. Basement under the addition was used for kitchen and furnace room. Norval Johnson used his tractor to help dig the basement and many assisted with hand labor.

A 60th anniversary dinner and program was held Thanksgiving Day in 1951 with Rev. Thompson serving the parish at that time.

In 1960 the church became a member of the American Lutheran church and in 1987 was involved in the merger which created the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

New carpeting, painting and remodeling in the main area of the church were done in 1974 and a 24-foot addition to the front of the church was built in 1978. Myrna Nelson was the architect and the addition included two Sunday school rooms, inside stairs to the basement, storage under the steps and space for future restrooms.

In 1980 a 215-foot deep well was dug and the next year the restroom and a septic tank were installed. In 1990 walls were redone in the basement with paneling removed and walls sheetrocked and painted white.

Pastors since Oak Ridge church was formed include Rev. Grimsrud, 1918-23; Rev. Jacobson, 1923-27; Rev. Dahle, 1928-40; Rev. Skibsrud, 1941-43; Rev. Brattlie, 1943-44; Rev. Carl Thompson, 1944-51; Rev. Arthur Grorud, 1952-54; Student Pastor Victor Anderson, 1954-55; and Rev. T. J. Weltzin, 1955-66.

Also Rev. Staveness, 1966-67; Rev. Wesley Mathre, 1967-73; Rev. Ralph Hofrenning, 1973-76; Rev. K. David Gabrielson, 1976-81; Rev. Robert Moberg, 1981-85; Lay Pastor Jay Borchert, 1985; Rev. Richard Ewing, 1985-88; Lay Pastor Merton Roley, 1988-89; and Rev. Michael Herschberger, present pastor.

Present organist is Louise Solseng. Other organists in addition to those mentioned previously were Mrs. A. S. Olson, Clara Swanson, Adeline Olson, Joyce Olson, Wanda Pederson, Janice Johnson, Karen Olson and Charlotte Bjorgaard.

Irvin Aaseby served as president of the congregation from the mid 1950s to 1984 when Duane Vatsaas became president. LaVerne Hamre served for three years and current president is Marvin Moen.

A new parsonage was built in Viking and the mortgage burning ceremony was held in October of 1984.

In 1980 a new Constitution was adopted to replace the original which was written in Norwegian.

This is the interior of Oak Ridge Lutheran church northwest of Thief River Falls which will observe its centennial with a Gospel service Saturday, June 29, at 4 p.m., worship service Sunday, June 30, at 10 a.m. and closing assembly Sunday at 3 p.m.

County board approves sales tax resolution presented a program to the board whereby the fund would be recapitalized at $450,000 over a two-year period.

For 1991 the fund is seeking to raise $100,000 which would include $35,000 from the counties ($5,000 each from the seven counties in the region), $15,000 from the NWRDC and a $50,000 matching grant from the Northwest Minnesota Initiative fund.

For 1992 an additional $50,000 would be raised, including $20,000 from the counties, $10,000 from the NWRDC, $10,000 from the Northwest Minnesota Initiative fund and $10,000 from accumulated interest. The $150,000 total would permit the NWRDC to make application to the federal Economic Development administration for a two-for-one matching grant of $300,000 to complete the $450,000 recapitalization.

Pennington county's share in the total recapitalization will be $5,000 for 1991 and $2,994 for 1992—the latter amount being Pennington county's share of the $20,000 seven-county participation based on previous use of the enterprise loan fund. The enterprise loan fund is available on a multi-county pool basis to assist industries with start-up or development costs in the seven-county region.

The board agreed to pay for a certified survey of the former A&W property off highway 59 south in an effort to settle a question between Raymond Nelson of 627 1/2 North Martha avenue and Walter Raedel. Nelson purchased the A&W property on a tax forfeiture sale and Raedel owns the house and property adjoining the A&W property. In question is ownership of a well located in the area of the presently undetermined property line.

The board re-appointed Maryel Anderson to serve at the county's representative on the Northwest Private Industry council board. It was also voted to support the DARE drug abuse assistance program which was presented by Sheriff Bob Wold and Jean Heinrichs.

Bids on purchase of a skid-steer loader were opened but the purchase was deferred to the July 9 meeting.

Agreement has also been reached with Red Lake county on the joint hiring of a county highway engineer with the two counties sharing time and salary payment. Red Lake county will have the responsibility to find a person to fill the position.

The board also approved purchase of an air compressor for the solid waste facility.

Community ed program offers more courses

Ericksen will also instruct an explore art session for third through seventh graders (1990-91 school year) in the Franklin art room July 1, 2, 3 and 5. Fee is $8.

Junior art class will be conducted in two sessions July 1, 2, 3 and 5 and August 12, 13, 14 and 15 from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the Franklin art room. Fee is $8 for the kindergarten through second graders (1990-91 school year) eligible to attend. Ericksen will instruct.

Two Scavenger Hunt promotion finalists chosen

Two of the four finalists for the $200 grand prize in The Times/KTRF Savenger Hunt have been selected.

Desirae Alberg of Thief River Falls and Jeff Brouse of Thief River Falls have been named as two of the four semi-finalists. Each will receive $75 and are now eligible for a $200 grand prize.

The promotion, which involves 30 merchants in Thief River Falls, began June 17 and ended June 28. Contestants were asked to answer one question from each of the sponsoring stores and drop the completed form off at The Times or Chamber of Commerce office on Highway 59 South. A drawing was then held for the first two finalists and winners selected. A drawing for the final two finalists will be held. After the four finalists have been selected, a drawing will be held for the $200 Grand Prize winner. (Contest forms were in The Times and Northern Watch.)

Merchants participating in the scavenger hunt included: Twice But Nice, Ekeren Drug, Kordel, Wanda's Flower and Gift Shop, Erl's, Altra Power Battery Company, Dairy Queen, Corner Drug, Pizza Hut, Tunberg's, Bjorkman's Wilson Bros. Company, Paint & Glass Interiors, Hardware Hank, Annette's Pabrics, Northland Produce, Westside Motors, Hall's Floral, Ace, Kezar Music, Purdy's Shoes, Fountain of Jewels, Pamida, Radio Shack, Bethany Bookstore, Appliance and TV Showcase, JC Penney, Mr. Duane's, Medicine Shoppe, and the Computer Run.

Entry day Thursday for Pennington county fair

90th annual event opens Wednesday, runs through Sunday

Entries for competition at the 90th annual Pennington county fair in Thief River Falls will be received Thursday, July 11. Open class entries will be taken from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. (flower exhibits must be entered by 4:30 p.m.) and 4-H club entries will be received from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. with conference judging to be held in the 4-H club division.

Open class competition is open to all residents of northwestern Minnesota. Copies of premium lists are available at Thief River Falls grocery and convenience stores and a number of other locations as well as stores in area communities.

This year there are 172 4-H club members in Pennington county who have entered 122 animals and 488 other exhibits. This compares to 1990 when 182 4-H exhibitors registered 142 animals and 487 other exhibits.

Carnival for the fair this year will be the Murphy Bros. Exposition which features more than 30 rides including Giant Sky Wheel, Falling Star, Super Loop and many more. The carnival will be in operation beginning at 5 p.m. on Wednesday, July 10 through Sunday, July 14.

Advance sale ride tickets at $8 each will be available to July 9 at Erl's Market, Seven-Eleven, Hugo's, Hartz Market, Northland Foods, Amoco 24, Valley Dairy and the Arnold Avenue Store in Thief River Falls, Goodridge Hartz Store and Kruse In at St. Hilaire. The tickets permit unlimited rides during one afternoon (noon to 6 p.m.) or evening (6 p.m. to closing) session of the fair. After July 9 and at the fair the one-price armbands will be $10.

Highlighting the fair's entertainment schedule will be concerts by Patty Loveless on Friday, July 12, at 7 and 9 p.m. and by Travis Tritt on Saturday, July 13, at 7 and 9 p.m.

Persons who purchase a $12 ticket may attend either the 7 or 9 p.m. concert both nights (same seat, same time each night). The same ticket price will apply for either individual concert. Tickets may be purchased in person at Kezar Music Company, 217 LaBree Avenue No., or Hugo's Supermarket at First Street and Pennington Avenue in Thief River Falls or by mail to Country Concerts, P.O. Box 10, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. State whether you wish to attend the 7 or 9 p.m. concert and enclose check or money order for $12 for each ticket ordered.

Patty Loveless is established as one of country music's favorite female vocalists and Travis Tritt is one of the fast-rising young stars.

Other grandstand entertainment will be a teen dance Thursday, July 11, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. provided by "Tommy's Promotions" and the annual Jaycee demolition derby Sunday, July 14, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

In addition to the grandstand events, the bandshell on the fairgrounds will provide free entertain-

P. Tangquist on probation for two years

Judge Donald D. Alsop sentenced Paul Tangquist of Thief River Falls to two years on probation and 50 hours of community service work at federal court in St. Paul Wednesday.

Tangquist had been charged with embezzling $6,935 in funds from the U.S. Postal Service between May and September of 1990 and entered a plea of guilty to the one-count indictment May 2, 1991, in federal court in St. Paul.

The sentencing involved no fine and no restitution, according to information received from the United States courthouse.

Heather Westlund, 20, daughter of Armand and Donna Westlund of Strathcona and a 1989 graduate of Middle River high school, will be one of eight candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title August 3 in the Lincoln high school auditorium.

Westlund will compete for Miss TRF title

(This is the second in a series of articles introducing candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title. The Miss Thief River Falls scholarship pageant is scheduled for Saturday, August 3, in the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

"Traveling and having friends with 'funny accents' are the highlights of my life," states Heather Westlund of Strathcona, who also ranks "eating chocolate chip cookie dough on a Friday night" high on her list of hobbies.

The 20-year-old daughter of Armand and Donna Westlund and a 1989 honor graduate of Middle River high school, Heather has completed her second year in political science at the University of Evansville in Indiana. A former Miss Middle River, she is five feet eight inches tall, has brown eyes and dark brown hair. Her pageant talent number will be a dramatic presentation.

During the next school year Heather will attend school in Copenhagen, Denmark, participate in field trips and travel in that area of the world.

While in high school she was named to Who's Who Among American High School Students and to membership in the National Honor Society. She received the achievement award in 4-H club work three times, earned numerous trips to the state fair with her project work and received a number of other 4-H club awards.

"Although many people would not classify sewing as a talent," she

Health interest group formed

Pennington County Health Interest Group's primary goal is to encourage residents of Pennington county to take more interest in their health and then take action. The newly formed group includes individuals from several different backgrounds and careers, but they have one common interest — health.

The stated purpose of the organizations is to promote: "activities intended to reduce the prevalence of risk conditions or behaviors of individuals or communities for the purpose of preventing chronic disease and effecting other definable advances in health status; these activities include the coordination or provision of community organization, regulation, targeted screening, education, as well as informational interventions to foster health by affecting related conditions and behaviors."

Recently, Pennington County Health Promotion Interest Group visited public weight rooms in the community in an effort to encourage residents to take advantage of the exercise resources in the community. The group plans other activities in the near future to promote health and fitness.

"It's the best around," said Jeff Mumm of the Lincoln high school weight room. Mumm is the weight room supervisor at Lincoln high school.

Pennington County Health Interest Group recently visited the weight lifting room at Northland Community College. The interest group's primary goal is to encourage residents in the county to take an active role in improving their health. Helen Anderson, a member of the interest group, rides a stationary bike next to Chris McLean, work-study student at the college, and Rick Nelson, Northland Community College weight room supervisor.

A passenger train rolled down the Soo Line tracks in Thief River Falls for the first time in several decades this week as the "Heartland Explorer V" rail cruise, organized by High Iron Travel Corporation, stopped here Wednesday night and Thursday. The seven privately-owned rail cars were pulled by a new 2,000 horsepower Soo Line diesel. The trip originated in Chicago, IL, June 29 and ends in Kansas City, MO, July 6. More photos and information will be featured in the Tuesday, July 9, Times.

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

It's already July and too hot to cook. Here are some recipes that you can whip up in your microwave for quick lunch or dinner fixings on hot summer days.

This casserole can be served with a cool salad and it will hit the spot for summertime eating—fast and filling.

Calico Corn Casserole

2 teaspoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup cornbread stuffing mix
1 cup frozen whole kernel corn
1/2 of a small sweet red or green pepper, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped green onion
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 eggs
1/4 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
dash pepper
1/4 pound cooked Polish sausage, chopped
1/2 cup (2 ounces) shredded Swiss cheese

In a small bowl, micro cook 2 teaspoons butter or margarine, uncovered, on high for 30-40 seconds, until melted. Toss with stuffing mix and set aside.

In one-quart casserole, combine corn, peppers, green onion and butter or margarine. Micro cook, covered, on high about 3 minutes, until pepper is crisp-tender.

In a small bowl, beat eggs, milk, Worcestershire sauce and pepper slightly with fork. Stir this egg mixture, the sausage and cheese into the corn mixture.

Spoon mixture into two 15-ounce casseroles and sprinkle with some of the stuffing mix. Micro cook, uncovered, on high for 6-7 minutes, until almost set. Let stand 2 minutes before serving.

Here is a filling meal that you can micro cook in a few minutes. Make everything in the morning and refrigerate, then remove from refrigerator a half hour before cooking time. Cooking can be done right before dinner, because it only takes 8-10 minutes:

Cheese Manicotti

4 manicotti shells
1 cup cottage cheese
1 beaten egg
1/2 cup herb-seasoned stuffing mix
1 (2 ounce) can mushrooms, drained
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan
1 tablespoon parsley
1 1/2 teaspoons snipped chives
1/2 cup tomato sauce
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1/4 teaspoon Italian seasoning
2 teaspoons chives

Cook manicotti according to package directions. Rinse with cold water, drain and set aside.

Place cottage cheese in blender container. Cover and process until smooth.

In bowl, mix together egg, stuffing mix, mushrooms, green pepper, Parmesan, parsley and chives. Stir in cottage cheese.

Spoon 1/4 of the mixture into each shell and place in 10x6x2-inch glass baking dish.

Mix tomato sauce, garlic powder and seasonings. Pour over filled shells and sprinkle with chives. Cover dish with vented clear plastic wrap and micro cook on medium for 8-10 minutes, until manicotti are heated through.

Try this meal-in-a-minute—the kids will love it for lunch:

Twisty Macaroni and Cheese

1 cup corkscrew (or elbow) macaroni
1 (5 ounce) jar American cheese spread
1/4 cup milk

Cook macaroni and drain.

In 1 1/2 quart casserole, combine cheese spread and milk. Micro cook, covered, on high for 2-3 minutes, or until mixture is melted and smooth, stirring once.

Stir macaroni into cheese and micro cook, covered, on high for 3-4 minutes, till mixture is hot.

Quiche too fancy for you—try these:

Cheesy Quiches

butter or margarine
1 package refrigerated biscuits (6 in package)
3 beaten eggs
1 (8 ounce) package shredded cheddar cheese (2 cups)
paprika or chili powder, if desired

Grease 4 10-ounce glass or micro-proof custard cups with butter or margarine. Cut two biscuits into eight pie-shaped wedges each. Set wedges aside.

Roll remaining biscuits into 4 to 5-inch circles. Place one circle in each custard cup, pressing against bottom and up sides of cup.

Combine eggs and cheese. Spoon one-fourth of egg mixture (1/3 cup) into each custard cup.

Arrange four biscuit wedges on top of each custard cup. Sprinkle with paprika or chili powder, if desired.

Arrange cups in a circle in the microwave. Micro cook, uncovered, on high for 4-6 minutes, until edges are set, rearranging the cups once during cooking. (When finished cooking, cheese filling will be firm around edges but jiggle slightly in the center. This is fine.)

Let quiches stand for 5 minutes before serving.

Here's dessert to make in the microwave, too:

Dutch Apple Cake

1/4 cup chopped walnuts
1 cup flour
1 cup whole wheat flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup cooking oil
1 cup packed brown sugar
1/2 cup sugar
3 medium apples, chopped
3/4 cup chopped walnuts

Lightly grease a 10-inch micro-safe fluted tube pan. Sprinkle 1/4 cup of walnuts on sides and bottom of pan.

Mix together flours, baking powder, cinnamon, soda and salt. Set aside.

Mix together eggs and vanilla and beat on high speed of electric mixer for 2 minutes, until light.

Gradually add oil, beating for 2 minutes, or until thick.

Gradually beat in sugars.

Add dry ingredients alternately with apples and walnuts, beating well on low speed after each addition, then beat at medium speed for 3 minutes. Place batter in tube pan.

Micro cook, uncovered, at medium heat for 14-16 minutes, rotating the pan a quarter turn every 4 minutes. Rotate the pan again and micro cook, uncovered, on high for about 1 1/2 minutes, until surface appears nearly dry, rotating one-half turn once.

Cool 10 minutes, then invert onto serving plate. Cool and drizzle with Creamy Cheese Icing.

Creamy Cheese Icing

3 ounce package softened cream cheese
1 cup sifted powdered sugar
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon milk

Beat cream cheese and powdered sugar until fluffy. Beat in vanilla and milk, if necessary, to spreading consistency for drizzling. Drizzle over cool cake and garnish with nuts, if desired.

These recipes are from Better Homes and Gardens Easy Microwave Meals.

Bingo prizes were donated by Oscar and Varna Johnson for the 21st annual Family Friendship picnic at Johnson's Riverside Boarding Home, Inc. Area businesses also loaned picnic equipment for the day's events in addition to contributing several items for door prize drawings and gifts for people in attendance.

Bus tours of Thief Lake

Bus tours to Agassiz National Wildlife refuge and Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area will be offered each Thursday evening on a rotating basis. The program began June 20.

For more information regarding departure time and reservations call the Thief River Falls Convention and Visitors bureau of the chamber of commerce. The cost is $3 per person for the Agassiz tour and $4 per person for the Thief Lake tour.

ACTIVITIES

Going To The County Fair

Do you want to add a new dimension to your county fair experiences with young children?

Something that is interesting, involving, fun and very exciting for young children is to encourage, plan, assist (just a little bit) your child on a project to enter in the children's division at the county fair. There are many different areas children may enter. These include items such as baking, arts and crafts, sewing or gardening. Pick up a copy of the fair's exhibit and pick something that would interest your child.

Then, get busy. Something to keep in mind is that the work should be the child's but giving advice and encouragement is quite permissible. Every child will get a ribbon. This is a wonderful way to boost your child's self esteem as well as enjoying a project.

SCAVENGER HUNT

For next week's Activities feature, you will need an old broom handle, a sock, stuffing, an old glove, tape and markers.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

The Thief River Falls public library recommends the following new books for children:

Brimmer, Larry Dane. Country Bear's Surprise. Country Bear discovers a secret knock, a secret password and a secret hug are the nicest secrets of all.

Walsh, Ellen Stoll. Mouse Count. A hungry snake counts ten mice into a jar. Then while the snake's attention is elsewhere, the mice "uncount" themselves to freedom.

VIDEO VARIETY

Doctor Dolittle. The 1967 musical fantasy based on the Hugh Lofting classic of a doctor who talks to animals.

PARENTING TIPS

Learning From Life

It's easier to understand a new idea using real-life objects than using pictures or words. For example, the word "orange" stands for the fruit we eat as well as the color of certain things. But that idea may be hard for children to understand if we just tell them about it or show them in pictures.

If children touch, smell, peel and eat an orange and then look around for objects that match the color of the orange the idea will "come alive." Any time you can use the real object instead of a picture it is better and easier for your child to grasp the idea.

During the summer we have the opportunity to take part in many county fairs. A fair can be a time to give your child a look at some "real" things. For instance this is a great time to take a close look at farm animals. Seeing the real thing is so much more "educational" than looking at pictures in books.

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

When looking at farm animals, talk about how big they are, what color they are, what is the baby called, what does the animal say, etc.

The VFW Color Guard presented Johnson's Riverside Boarding Home, Inc. with a new flag during an impressive flag raising ceremony. In spite of the rainy weather, 304 people attended the picnic dinner and afternoon events during its 21st annual Family Friendship picnic Sunday, June 30.

A sawdust money scramble was one of the carnival events during the 21st annual Family Friendship picnic for Johnson's Riverside Boarding Home, Inc. in conjunction with River Oaks residence and Maple Wood residence on Sunday, June 30.

DARE program underway

Local residents have organized to bring the D.A.R.E. program to Thief River Falls.

D.A.R.E. or Drug Abuse Resistance Education program has gained a high degree of popularity and success in many schools across the country. Jean Heinrichs, city councilwoman coordinated efforts to create a committee to study the program and bring it to Thief River Falls schools if possible.

Thief River Falls police have provided instruction to Fifth grade students in the city using the Counteract program for the past two years. Counteract is based on D.A.R.E. and created by the Hazeldon Foundation. It was considered the first option two years ago because it wasn't as expensive and doesn't involve as much time for the officer providing the instruction.

Chief Froschheiser said he was convinced to go along with the change because of the community involvement and possible funding to train two officers — one police officer and one sheriff's deputy.

DARE has been around for several years. It was the result of a cooperative effort between the Los Angeles Unified School District and the Los Angeles Police Department. What was started in September 1983 as a pilot program in 30 Los Angeles schools is now mandatory in all LA public schools.

Success of that program has spread. Because of the demand that communities have for DARE, Minnesota has established its own training center from a $350,000 training-specific appropriation to the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension (BCA) by the 1989 State Legislature for the biennium.

Since 1987, the program has grown in size. The state has gone from one Minneapolis police officer being trained in the curriculum at the end of 1987 to 201 as of December 1990. Over 300 will be trained by the end of 1991.

The DARE program is in 79 of the 434 school districts within the state. Seventy-three police departments and 20 sheriff's office participate in DARE in Minnesota.

The rapid growth of the program in the state pointed to the need for a centralized and supportive organization for all the DARE programs operating in Minnesota, according to a background report from the office of attorney general. In late 1989 statewide implementation of DARE began to take place and Minnesota became a leader around the country by establishing the Minnesota DARE advisory board. Pursuant to 1990 legislation recommended by the attorney general's office, the DARE advisory board became the DARE advisory council.

The DARE advisory council is a statutorily authorized council. The advisory council is chaired by Attorney General Humphrey. Other members include the Commissioner of Education, the Commissioner of Public Safety, representatives from the MEA, PTA, MPPOA, Chiefs of Police, Sheriffs, the business community and citizen appointments.

The council is helping to establish DARE as a permanent fixture in the state. The curriculum used promotes self-respect, self-worth, and gives kids the ability to "just say no" to drugs and alcohol. The council provides advice and guidance in the implementation and promotion of DARE throughout the state and ensures that the standards and policies of Minnesota DARE are consistent with the educational policies of the state and DARE America.

Thief River Falls Police Chief Froschheiser said even if the funding is secured for the program he doesn't expect the program to begin next year. The police department and sheriff's department have to follow a specific list of requirements during the selection process. The candidates then have to take and pass a training course. As a result he doesn't expect the program to be implemented in Thief River Falls until the 1992-93 school year.

Police investigate credit card theft

Grand Forks police department is working on a case involving the use of the fraudulent use of a credit card, which belonged to a Thief River Falls resident.

On June 25 at 7:56 p.m. police received a report from Grand Forks police that a stolen credit card belonging to a Thief River Falls resident had been used in the amount of about $1,800 at Grand Forks and Fargo Sears stores.

Following an investigation by Thief River Falls police who were assisted by Bureau of Criminal Apprehension officer Stan Leach, it was discovered that a credit card belonging to Janet Roisland, Thief River Falls, had been taken from her purse. Roisland is an employee of a local super market.

Police department spokesperson said no charges will be placed against a suspect in the case in Thief River Falls because it is a minor theft and because of the severity of the charges the suspect faces in North Dakota.

Grand Forks police have not officially charged anyone with a crime in the incident yet and the name of the suspect has not been released.

Pennington county sheriff Bob Wold shows Gene Beito of the Hartz Foundation how the new E911 system works. The new system gives the dispatcher names, addresses and directions to the phone caller. It is a significant improvement over the old system.

E911 system shown at fair

Area residents will have an opportunity to see the new E911 system being used at the Pennington county Law Enforcement Center when they visit the Pennington county fair July 10-14.

Pennington County Sheriff Bob Wold said the sheriff's department will set up a booth at the fair and display a computer with the new E911 system on it. The new system went on line May 11.

Having an immediate address and location is the major advantage the new system has over the old system. Under the previous 911 system if the person making the call couldn't give their name or address for some reason, an officer would have to contact the phone company and put a trace on the line. That could take as much as a half hour during the week and several hours on weekends. Under the E911 system as soon as a person calls 911 their name, address, fire department, township and directions to their residence appear on the computer screen at the law enforcement center. In case the caller is not calling from the site of the emergency, the dispatcher can access the information with a phone number or name.

Sheriff Wold explained that the E911 system was developed by Lowell Johnson, a former resident, who now has Software Applications in Ada. Wold said the system was purchased with an $18,000 grant from the Hartz Foundation in Thief River Falls.

Wold said he couldn't be happier with the system. It is real time saver, he said. And it was all made possible by the Hartz Foundation.

It took time and effort to log in all of the information into the program. Wendy Mattson, the sheriff's secretary, said information was gathered from Dave Bjorkman, Thief River Falls fire chief, Dave Balzum, Warren's fire chief, Donovan Foss, St. Hilaire's fire chief, Dale Hanson, Goodridge's fire chief, and township clerks. The information loaded into the computer, Mattson had to check and double check all of the addresses, phone numbers and directions.

Mattson said the fire departments had already compiled lists of residents living in their districts along with directions to their residences. Much of the information from their directories were used because the county includes several fire districts.

The fire departments still maintain their directories because their directions to a residence will be different than directions issued to an officer traveling from Thief River Falls.

Sheriff Wold encourages residents of Pennington county to stop by the booth at the fair July 10-14 to see how the new system works. He also encourages residents to check the information on the computer. Sheriff Wold said they are missing some information from residents with unlisted telephone numbers. For those individuals worried about the confidentiality of the listing, the sheriff's office is ruled by the same rules set out in the Data Privacy act that prohibits disclosure of confidential information.

Federal Government Is Simply Out of Control

There are several titles we considered using for this editorial, one of which was "Five Reasons Not To Trust Your Congressman." But the more we thought about it, the more we came to realize that members of Congress, for all their presumed importance, are only one element of a federal government which is at least financially out of control.

Part of what leads us to that conclusion are the five reasons not to trust your Congressman. They are pointed out by an organization called Citizens Against Government Waste" which reports these circumstances in the past year:

(1) Congress enacted the second largest tax increase in history;

(2) Congress increased spending by $111 billion;

(3) Congress enlarged the deficit by $100 billion to an all-time record of $320 billion for Fiscal Year 1991 alone;

(4) Congress pushed the national debt to a new record and increased the annual interest payment on the debt to a staggering $254 billion; and

(5) Congress destroyed the Gramm-Rudman Deficit Reduction Act and all other effective controls on future congressional wasteful spending.

The fact that Congressmen did all of these things is bad enough, but what is worse is that they did it after selling a "deficit reduction package" which included tax increases for nearly every American because "we have to get the federal deficit under control.

To effect that budget "control" the Congress passed the second largest tax increase in the history of our country. Taxpayers reluctantly accepted the hike in the belief that it would enable the federal government to begin to reduce the unconscionable national debt which saps the nation's strength like some insidious disease.

Well, forget about that idea of personal financial sacrifice for the national good. For every new dollar that Congress raised this year in new taxes it has increased spending by a dollar and seventy-eight cents. New taxes to help solve the budget deficit are a sham.

"It was the clearest case ever of false advertising," notes a Citizens Against Government Waste report. "And, as they demonstrated when they destroyed Gramm-Rudman and the other controls on spending, Congress never intended to reduce the deficit or control wasteful spending."

Government appears to be beyond the control of Congress and the President and everyone else. We read President George Bush's lips when he said "no new taxes" during his campaign, but we couldn't read his mind. We can remember, however, and once deceived, we can take appropriate action in the next election.

We're not sure any Congress has a chance of controlling government spending any more. Certainly the present and previous Congresses have demonstrated their inability to do so or to even make a conscientious attempt. The wheels of the bureaucracy keep turning, cranking out more programs and give-aways, with the confidence that the money flow is perpetual and inexhaustible. And Congress keeps priming the pump with nothing but lip service to accountability and a false show of concern.

There is only one way we can be convinced that control is possible, and that is if Congress proves it by making good on its promises to curb spending and reduce debt. And we're not holding our breath waiting for that to happen.

Does The System Still Work?

Once upon a time there were three branches of the federal government—the administrative, the legislative and the judicial. This was the system envisioned by the early founders of our country who understood that there needed to be checks and balances on authority for a Republic to endure. Some two hundred years of existence of the United States of America have shown the wisdom of that group of people.

What a pity that persons in positions of authority don't seem satisfied with the basics of that premise and seek to impose other factors into the process.

Having succeeded in bringing discredit and public embarrassment upon themselves by their words and actions, the administrative and legislative branches have sought for some time to play political games with the judicial branch. As a result our highest court is not a collection of the nation's finest unbiased, interpretive legal minds but a hodge-podge of advocates of special causes and personal persuasions that more frequently add heat than light to judicial decisions.

When President Bush said in appointing Federal Appeals Court Judge Clarence Thomas to the U.S. Supreme Court that he was appointing "the best man" to the court, he undoubtedly meant the best man for him to appoint rather than the best man for the court. This is not to diminish Judge Thomas' abilities as a jurist, only to point out that the President obviously did not search out the best qualified person in the nation for the job.

Our conservative tendencies lead us to appreciate the stated attitude of Judge Thomas. What liberals refer to as "affirmative action" is called "social engineering" by the judge. Referring to himself and others of the black race, he said, "We don't get smarter just because we sit next to white people in class, and we don't progress just because society is ready with handouts."

One of his friends told the New York Times, "He made it strictly on the merits and he resents the notion that he's ever gotten anywhere because he's black."

Quotas or no quotas, it was logical for President Bush to appoint a person of minority race to the court. Given the appointment of liberal-oriented judges by predecessor Presidents, it was also logical for him to appoint someone with a conservative background. Judge Thomas may well have been the "best man" within those parameters.

But we believe the people of the nation are not being best served by these kinds of appointments made with political instead of Constitutional consideration. The Supreme Court, after all, is to determine whether any and all areas of the Constitution apply to questions of law. Those interpretations should be on the basis of the intent of the framers of the Constitution, not the biases of personal views.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters to the editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by the newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I am absolutely stunned that the city would permit a gas station and fast food service so near the river (Northern Watch, June 28, Page 1).

What will we do when petroleum seeps into the river water, which we drink? Who will pay to clean it up?

Who will keep the litter from blowing into the river? Will the owner keep the lot clean, or will he wait for the wind to blow it all "away"?

City councilmen, reconsider this permit, before it is too late. Our health is at stake when we drink contaminated surface water. The health of our citizens should take precedence over any amount of money for someone.

Keep gas stations far away from the rivers!

Sincerely,
Loraine Olson

Experiment station field day postponed

The Crops and Soils Day at the Northwest experiment station in Crookston has been rescheduled due to severe hail damage to the research plots.

The field day, which was to be on Wednesday, July 17, will now be on Tuesday, August 20. It will be held in conjunction with a tillage clinic, which will run from 9 a.m. until 12:30 p.m.

For more information about the rescheduled field day or tillage clinic, contact the Northwest experiment station, Crookston, MN 56716 or call (218) 281-6510 extension 462.

Drains Run Slow?
You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.
Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.
Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.
In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooter your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.
Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!
Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.
Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors. In some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course, all plumbing.
So, if your drains are giving you a SIGNAL, act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today!

Fosston sets visit for Norway Sister City

Fosston — Final plans have been made for ten visitors from Fosston's sister city, Flesberg, Norway. The visit will begin July 14 and will include the mayor of the city. A potluck supper will be held July 14 at the Heritage House, followed by a tour of the museum and, on Monday a tour of the city of Fosston and Landsverk Farms. A supper will also be hosted by the Sons of Norway. (Thirteen Towns)

Casino hearing held Monday

Mahnomen — A public hearing was held Monday evening on the city of Mahnomen's application for a grant for infrastructure money needed for the development of the White Earth tribal casino. The city plans to apply to the Minnesota department of trade and economic development for the funds. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

Long Lake park has ice cream social

Bagley — An old-fashioned ice cream social and band concert on July 6 from 7 to 8 p.m. at Long Lake park and campground, located 20 miles south of Bagley. Music will be provided by Lonesome Pine Bluegrass band of Bagley. The ice cream social are held every Saturday as a fund-raiser for children's playground equipment. (Leader-Record)

Jim Klitzke is new Stephen postmaster

Stephen — Jim Klitzke was given the office of Stephen postmaster June 28 with June 29 being his first official day in the post office. He presently lives in Hawley with his wife and three children. He comes to Stephen with 16 years experience in the Moorhead post office, where he was a window and distribution clerk. (Messenger)

Corps of Engineers recommends flood control

Norman County — The Army of Engineers has released a draft report recommending a flood control project that would involve clearing and snagging dead and dying trees along the Wild Rice river In Hendrum and Lee townships in Norman county. The report notes that the purpose of the study is to address flooding problems on the river associated with excessive amounts of trees and undergrowth on the riverbanks, falling and accumulating within the river channel and hanging up at bridges, river bends and other constrictions. (Norman County Index)

Rare plant field trip planned

Polk County — The Minnesota County Biological survey is planning a field trip to Polk county prairies July 6, with an opportunity for local residents and other prairie enthusiasts to see the federally threatened Western prairie fringed orchid and to become acquainted with some examples of tallgrass prairie. The trip is co-sponsored by the Minnesota Native Plant society and will be led by Nancy Sather. (Oklee Herald)

Polk county museum acquires EGF newspaper microfilm

East Grand Forks — The Polk county museum in Crookston has recently acquired microfilm rolls of the East Grand Forks newspapers: the Courier (from Sept. 26, 1890 to Feb. 12, 1904); the Valley View (from Feb. 24, 1900 to Feb. 14, 1913); the Record (Feb. 21, 1913 to May 13, 1983); and the Exponent (July 11, 1979 to Dec. 30, 1982). The Fisher Bulletin (May 21, 1881 to June 21, 1884 and from Dec. 24, 1892 to Dec. 31, 1905) is also available. The museum also has a microfilm reader and duplicator on hand. (Exponent)

County says yes to statue, no to funding

Bemidji — Replacement of the lakeside statue of the "so-called Chief Bemidji" in Bemidji's Library park, was discussed recently by the Beltrami county board. The sculpture is consided by some as an unsuitable representation of the American Indian community. The Bemidji community arts council has proposed a research and information study to pave the way for replacement of the statue and suggested that the county and city each allocate $1,000 to pay a researcher. Reaction was lukewarm because commissioners question the need for a project director. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Arts Council sponsored young artist workshop

Fertile — Over 50 young artists, ages seven to 12, participated in an art workshop held during the past two weeks in the Fertile/Beltrami high school. Claudia Barton taught three one-hour sessions a day for the groups. Students were introduced to elements of design including line, shape, color, texture, pattern and balance. (Fertile Journal)

Kelliher's Citizens state bank notes anniversary

Kelliher — Next week, the Citizen's state bank of Kelliher will observe 75 years of service to the community. The bank was originally organized in 1916 by F. C. Langemo and later consolidated with the First state bank, begun in 1903. The anniversary celebration will be held July 12 at the bank from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. (American)

Sisters reign as Karlstad royalty

Karlstad — It hasn't happened before and it may not ever happen again, but this year sisters captured both the Miss Teen Karlstad title and the Miss Teen Princess title at the Karlstad pageant Friday evening. A panel of judges from Grand Forks named Tisa Schwalbe Miss Teen Karlstad and chose as her princess her sister Keira Schwalbe. They are daughters of Lowell and Janet Schwalba. Tisa was sponsored by State Farm Insurance and Keira by Monte's Super Valu. (North Star News)

Utility study confirms boast of TRF utility dept.

Recent survey of electric utilities by the Minnesota Municipal Utilities Association confirmed what electric department officials have been saying for years — Thief River Falls has one of the lowest electric utility rates in the state.

The information provided in the survey also indicates that Thief River Falls has one of the lowest rates nationally. If Minnesota has the eighth lowest average rate, then Thief River Falls would even rank higher. In fact, when the utility rate for Thief River Falls is compared with averages from the 50 states, it has the lowest rate.

Illinois has the most expensive rate at $64.26 per 500 kwh. For the same amount of kwh, the rate in Thief River Falls is $23.89. The average rate in Minnesota is $33.04 per 500 kwh.

For the purposes of comparison, the average rate per 500 kwh in North Dakota is $35.25. South Dakota has an average rate of $41.29 per 500 kwh. Wisconsin has an average rate of $34.67. Iowa has an average rate of $49.89 per 500 kwh.

In Minnesota the electric rate system is divided into zones. The assignment of the members of the Minnesota Municipal Utilities Association is an attempt to provide valid comparisons. Rates between municipalities reflect geographic and other local values which in most circumstances are unavoidable or reflect reasonable local decisions.

Thief River Falls is in zone 2. Zone two, which tends to have the lowest overall rates of the three zones, includes those municipalities which have Federal Hydro Power available to them (Thief River Fall has WAPA). The amount of available hydro power varies from community to community. Other nearby communities in zone 2 include Warren and Warroad.

According to Arlo Rude, Utilities department director, the city has a contract with WAPA until the year 2000. They don't know what will happen after that. Recent rate increases have been explained as a result of a loss of WAPA, but Rude explained that Thief River Falls really hasn't been losing its WAPA power. It isn't getting any less than it did before either. The city, however, has been gradually blending in its other agency costs.

If Thief River Falls did not have WAPA power, Rude said it would most likely be in zone 1.

Zone 1 are those municipalities in the northern one-third of the state. They are generally winter peaking and with the exception of Roseau, Warroad and Baudette, either generate or are supplied by Minnesota Power. Those three are members of the Northern Municipal Power Agency, however, unlike the other members of that agency do not have Federal Hydro Power available.

Zone three constitutes the remaining municipalities in the state. The members of what used to be the United Minnesota Municipal Power Agency have been moved to zone 3 to reflect that their power resource has changed.

When residential rates are compared, Thief River Falls has one of the lowest rates. The 1990 rate survey indicated that Thief River Falls has a rate of $14.94 per 250 kwh, $26.89 per 500 kwh, $38.20 per 750 kwh, and $72.16 per 1,500 kwh. By comparison, Warren has a rate of $20 per 250 kwh, $35 per 500 kwh, $50 per 750 kwh, $95 per 1,500 kwh. Warroad has a rate of $19.28 per 250 kwh, $31.95 per 500 kwh, $44.63 per 750 kwh, and $82.65 per 1,500 kwh.

Thief River Falls recently increased its residential electric utility rate, but it is a small increase. Its rate structure is now $15 per 250 kwh, $27 per 500 kwh, $39 per 750 kwh and $75 per 1,500 kwh.

Breckenridge has the lowest residential rates in the 1990 survey. Its rate structure was $9.75 per 250 kwh, $17.50 per 500 kwh, $25.25 per 750 kwh, and $51.50 per $1,500 kwh.

Commercial electric utility rates in Thief River Falls are relatively close to many other communities in zone 2. Thief River Falls has a electric utility rate of $38.89 for 500 kwh, $67.77 for 1,000 kwh, $139.43 for 2,500 kwh, and $256.35 for 5,000 kwh.

(Thief River Falls recently increased its rates to $39 for 500 kwh, $68 for 1,000 kwh, $139.25 for 2,500 kwh, and $258 for 5,000 kwh.)

By comparison, Warren has a rate of $42.50 for 500 kwh, $75 for 1,000 kwh, $172.50 for 2,500 kwh, and $335 for 5,000 kwh. Warroad has a rate of $31.95 for 500 kwh, $57.30 for 1,000 kwh, $133.35 for 2,500 kwh, and $260.10 for 5,000 kwh.

For large commercial users, Thief River Falls has a competitive rate in zone two. The rate for users of 6,800 kwh is $337.84, and for 12,000 kwh it's $740.34.

Warroad is the only other zone two community in the area that offers rates for large commercial users. Its rates are $563.40 for users of 6,800 kwh, and $975.60 for 12,000 kwh.

(The recent rate increase changed the rates for Thief River Falls to $343.50 for 6,800 kwh, and $590.50 for 12,000 kwh.)

While Thief River Falls is not alone in offering low electric utility rates, it does offer rates that rank favorably with providers of the lowest electric utility rates.

Daniel C. Lavalier, son of Peter and Marjorie Lavalier, Thief River Falls, has attained the rank of Eagle Scout. An Eagle Court of Honor was held for Lavalier June 1 at Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. His Eagle project was to make a promotional video for the Thief River Falls public library.

Thief River Falls Public Library received a promotional video compiled by Dan Lavalier. Lavalier did the video for his Eagle project. An Eagle Court of Honor was held for Lavalier June 1 at Zion Lutheran Church. His Eagle project was to make a promotional video for the library. He worked on the writing of the script, organized other scouts to help him, and worked with a Thief River Falls Technical College student, Tom Solomenson, who helped tape and splice it together. There was a total of 116 hours involved in the project. He has saved the library thousands of dollars by volunteering to do this project. Library board members accepted the project from Lavalier: (from left) Mary Morken, Jean Larson, Heidi Hoka, Ken Murphy, Dan Lavalier, Kevin Tebeest, and Jan Uphom.

Dan Lavalier attains Eagle Scout

Dan Lavalier, son of Marjorie and Peter Lavalier, was awarded the rank of Eagle Scout recently.

Eagle Court of Honor for Daniel Lavalier was held June 1 at Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. His Eagle project was to make a promotional video for the Thief River Falls public library. He worked on the writing of the script, organized other scouts to help him, and worked with a Thief River Falls Technical College student, Tom Solomenson, who helped tape and splice it together. There was a total of 116 hours involved in the project. He saved the library thousands of dollars by volunteering to do the project.

Lavalier began his involvement in Scouting when he became a Cub Scout on October 17, 1983, with Pack 59 of Zion Lutheran church. He earned his Bobcat badge in October of 1983, Wolf badge in 1983-84, a Bear in 1984-85, and Webelo in 1985-86. In May of 1986 he earned Cub Scout's highest award, "The Arrow of Light" and crossed the bridge to Boy Scout Troop 59. He has attended Boy Scout Summer Camp two years. In 1989 he was a Counselor in Training at camp, and in 1990 he was a member of the staff. In 1989 he attended the National Boy Scout Jamboree in Washington, D.C. He is a member of the Order of the Arrow and has attended several other conclaves. He has also participated in winter camp, spring and fall camporees. He has earned 24 merit badges on his trail to Eagle, Paul Bunyan Award, Milo Swim (1988).

Lavalier became a Boy Scout in May of 1986, and achieved the rank of Tenderfoot on July 19, 1986, Second Class on October 27, 1986, First Class on February 23, 1987, Star on October 12, 1987, and Life on April 25, 1988.

He has held the following positions in the troop: assistant patrol leader, patrol leader, and senior patrol leader for a year. He was also assistant patrol leader for his National Jamboree troop 628. He is a member of the Leadership Corps and has helped run Leadership Corps workshops twice.

He is active in school as well as scouts. Lavalier is a member of the marching band, pep band, and wrestling team.

During the Eagle Court of Honor, Wendy Swanson was the soloist, Pastor Roger Hanson gave the invocation, Chad Lavalier the welcome, Assistant Scout Master Howard Seim the Candle Lighting Ceremony, LuAnn Oiles an Eagle Portrait, Bob Peterson the Eagle Oath, Peter and Marjorie Lavalier the presentation of the Eagle Award, Jim Koehler "It's Only A Pin", Scout Master Gary Schoon the Scout Master presentation, and Phyllis Dalager the postlude. Masters of Ceremonies were Tom Swantek and Eric Woolcock.

Lyle Swanson herd tops in county DHIA

Lyle Swanson dairy herd was the top herd in the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement association (DHIA) for the month of May, according to records kept by Mel and Randy Rasmussen, supervisors.

Eighty-six per cent of the 43 cows in the Swanson herd were in milk and the herd averaged 66.8 pounds of milk and 2.23 pounds of butterfat for the month.

Second place herd was owned by Mylo Carlson where 92 per cent of the 62-cow herd was in milk and averaged 65.5 pounds of milk and 2.47 pounds of butterfat.

Kelly and Gary Lundeen had the first place herd as 95 per cent of the 44-cow herd was in milk and averaged 61.1 pounds of milk and 2.07 pounds of butterfat.

Other herds in the top 10 include the following with number of cows, percentage in milk, average pounds of milk and pounds of butterfat listed respectively:

Orlan and Joel Stolaas, 40, 95%, 58.2 and 2.01; Mark Hanson, 52, 81%, 56.6 and 1.96; Tony and Sheila Salentine, 47, 87%, 56.6 and 1.76; Walter Bros. Farm, 98, 81%, 54.9 and 1.93; Doug and Gloria Barth, 77, 97%, 54.3 and 1.77; Gene Nelson, 35, 100%, 52.3 and 1.88; and Andy and Karen Peterson, 34, 91%, 51.8 and 1.78.

(Hanson and Peterson herds are on three times per day milking.)

Number of dry cows in the herd affects the totals since production is averaged over all cows, not only those in milk. This method gives the dairyman a record of the herd's earning power for the month.

During May there were 22 official DHIA and four owner-sampler herds on test in the Pennington county association.

Water plan meet at Ada

Meeting of users of the Geographic Information system (GIS) will be held July 26 at 10 a.m. in the courthouse meeting room in Ada to explain software needed to use the Comprehensive Local Water Plan in electronic format.

The International Coalition for Land and Water Stewardship in the Red River Basin has transferred information collected for the local water plan for use with the electronic Geographic Information System and it is now available in EPPL-7 format. This is the software used by the Minnesota Land Management and Information center.

The meeting had been tentatively scheduled for June 19 but was rescheduled for July 26.

Women of Today sponsor beautiful baby contest

Thief River Falls Women of Today chapter is sponsoring a Most Beautiful Baby Contest.

Three winning "Beautiful Babies" will receive $25, $15, and $10 cash awards.

To enter this contest simply send in a recent picture of your baby, age 0-3 years old, along with a registration form and a $2 entry fee.

Pictures of the babies will be on display at Best Western Saturday July 20 during Western Week and at area banks from July 22 through August 16.

People will vote for the beautiful baby of their choice by placing money in the voting boxes, 10 cents per vote.

Pictures will also be judged by three judges after being displayed at the area banks. Judges will award points which will be added to the public vote.

Judges for the contest include: Jane Mattson, Community Education Director for Thief River Falls Public Schools and president elect for the Chamber of Commerce; Jean Heinrichs, chairperson of Little brother, Little sister program, alderman at large and chairperson of the Education Committee for the Chamber of Commerce; and James Haviland, interim provost at Northland Community College.

In addition to the Beautiful Baby awards, the judges will also recognize the baby with the most personality.

Money raised from this contest will be donated to the Chemical Awareness Task Force and Pregnancy and Infant Loss Center.

Registration forms can be picked up at Erl's Market, Hartz Market, Hugo's, and Northland Foods.

The deadline for sending in pictures is July 16. For more information contact Bronda Eckstein at 681-5497.

Local artists at Roseau art in the park

Two local artists will participate in the Roseau Art in the Park on July 21.

Edward Bjorgaard of Thief River Falls, who specializes in woodburning will be demonstrating for those who wish to watch, and LaVonne Forsberg of Thief River Falls, who specializes in watercolor landscapes and florals will also be there.

All exhibitors have been invited to create a piece expressing the 1991 theme "Happy Birthday, Minnesota State Parks". One work of art will be selected as winner of the theme contest.

A pregnant woman needs her doctor's advice. Not the government's opinion.

Abortion is still safe and legal.
But unless Congress acts within 60 days, talking about it in federally funded family planning clinics won't be.

If the Bush Administration prevails, a woman who goes to a federally funded family planning clinic and asks a question about abortion won't get a straight answer.

Even if her health depends on it.

A shocking new federal rule upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court at the Bush Administration's insistence, the Gag Rule censors what health professionals can say in answer to a woman's questions about abortion.

They can't tell her abortion is one of her options. They can't tell her abortion is a private decision for a woman and her doctor. They can't tell her abortion is safe. They can't even tell her abortion is legal.

All they can say is what the government dictates: "The project does not consider abortion an appropriate method of family planning." This is political opinion, not medical advice.

The Gag Rule is unfair. It violates free speech, medical ethics, and doctor-patient confidentiality.

Women who can afford private doctors would still get the information they need. Only poor women at federally funded clinics would be denied the right to make a fully informed decision about their choices.

Millions of women depend on federally funded clinics for their birth control care. You can make sure they continue to get the answers they need. The same answers you expect from your doctor.

Congress must vote to reverse the Gag Rule. It must protect women's health and restore the integrity of America's Title X family planning program, which has never funded abortions. In fact, this program helps women to avert hundreds of thousands of unintended pregnancies each year.

To send letters in your name to your representatives on Capitol Hill and to receive more information, simply call 1-900-726-STOP. (Callers will be charged $5 for this service.)

Please call now. The American people can overturn the Gag Rule.

Rain stops baseball teams

Rain that felt across northwestern Minnesota this week washed out the baseball schedules Tuesday and Wednesday for the Thief River Falls American Legion and Babe Ruth teams.

Included among the weather-related postponements/cancellations were Wednesday tournament outings for the two Legion teams.

Howard Dalager-coached Thief River Falls Post 117 squad was scheduled to play either East Grand Forks or Bemidji in the third place game of the East Grand Forks Invitational that night. The eight-team, two-division tournament was plagued by rain from the start when its Friday-Saturday-Sunday round-robin schedule was reduced to just Saturday play.

Games that were completed allowed tournament officials to arrange a set of Wednesday finals, including a championship game berth for Roseau and a third place game appearance for Thief River Falls. East Grand Forks and Bemidji were to meet earlier that afternoon, with the winner playing Roseau for the title and the loser taking on Thief River Falls – a 10-3 winner over Groton, SD, but an 11-6 loser to Roseau in the round-robin format – in the third place game.

But yet another day of rain forced officials to cancel any plans of completing the abbreviated event.

Meanwhile, the Wayne Rahlf-coached Thief River Falls Bombers were planning to host Park River, ND Wednesday in the finals of the Lake Region Classic at Devils Lake that completed its quarterfinals and championship round semifinals Saturday before running into wet weather Sunday.

Tournament officials allowed Thief River Falls and Park River to arrange their own championship game meeting. They agreed on the Wednesday match-up at Irv Wilson Field. But rain forced yet another delay that night. Thief River Falls reached the finals with wins over Winnipeg 4-3 and Devils Lake 7-6, while Park River advanced with wins over Rolette 8-3 and Grafton/St. Thomas 2-1.

Rain also knocked out regular season Tuesday night games that had Post 117 heading to Karlstad and the Bombers hosting the Grand Forks Reds.

Post 117 drew another tournament assignment this weekend, competing in the Friday-Saturday-Sunday Williston Invitational. Next regularly-scheduled outing for the 7-11 Thief River Falls squad will be a Wednesday Ninth District Tier I doubleheader at East Grand Forks beginning at 5:30 p.m.

The 26-6 Bombers were headed to Fergus Falls today (Friday) for a 5 p.m. VFW doubleheader. They will host East Grand Forks Monday in a 6 p.m. twinbill before returning to Ninth District Tier II play with a 6 p.m. Wednesday doubleheader against Red Lake Falls at Irv Wilson Field.

Thief River Falls Babe Ruth teams will be wrapping up regular season play shortly.

The Lake Agassiz South Sub-District playoffs for 14-15-year-olds will be held July 13-15 in Crookston, with the top two qualifiers advancing to the Lake Agassiz District tournament July 19-20 in Roseau.

Lake Agassiz District Prep tournament for 13-year-olds will be played July 18-20 in Crookston.

Thief River Falls 14-15-year-olds include the Strikers, Shockers and Gophers. They are scheduled to get together tonight (Friday) at Irv Wilson Field for a Strikers/Gophers game at 5 p.m. and a Shockers/Gophers match-up at 7.

Tuesday, the Gophers host Crookston Blue in a 10 a.m. twinbill and Wednesday the Shockers visit Red Lake Falls for a pair of games starting at 10 a.m.

Thief River Falls Prep teams include the Mudhens, Lobos and Gamecocks. The Mudhens and Lobos are scheduled to meet in a 10 a.m. doubleheader Saturday at Irv Wilson Field, with the Gamecocks heading to East Grand Forks Tuesday for a 10 a.m. game against the Optimists and a 12-noon contest against the Reds.

Latest reported Thief River Falls Babe Ruth results showed the Chris Mills-coached Shockers splitting a doubleheader in Crookston, where they lost to the Gold squad 13-1, but beat the Blue team 7-1 as Casey Holmgren struck out six batters in a three-inning affair that included two hits apiece for Nick Chiodo and Brian Howe.

DNR News

It's called "fizzing" and it is the latest wave in catch-and-release fishing to wash into Minnesota.

The technique is used by some fisheries professionals to relieve a distended air bladder when fish are caught in deep water.

Specifically, fizzing involves inserting a hypodermic needle into the air bladder of a fish being held underwater, thereby releasing excessive pressure capable of killing it. The technique has long been used by fisheries professionals in Ohio. Now, fizzing is being promoted in Minnesota by some sectors of the angling community. This effort is raising eyebrows at the Department of Natural Resources.

"We support catch-and-release fishing and efforts which protect and enhance the state's sport fishery," said Jack Skrypek, DNR fisheries chief. "However, we're hesitant to embrace fizzing. To our knowledge, this technique has never been promoted for use by the general public, not even in Ohio where fisheries professionals have used it since the 1930s."

An awareness of fizzing came to Minnesota this summer via the professional fishing tournament circuit. During a recent walleye tournament on Lake Erie, personnel from the Ohio DNR "fizzed" fish whose air bladders were distended after being hooked in deep water and raised quickly to the surface. The technique saved fish that otherwise would have died in the live-release tournament.

But this doesn't mean fizzing should be perceived as a cure-all for stressed fish. Dave Insley, the Ohio DNR specialist who "fizzed" many walleyes caught in the Lake Erie tournament, said many dead fish could result if people without training go sticking needles in fish.

"It usually takes four or five fish to learn the process," said Insley. "Also, our fizzing is done primarily on Lake Erie, where water temperatures are generally colder than you'd find in Minnesota walleye lakes in summer. We have fizzed very few fish at water temperatures from 70 to 75 degrees. Fizzing can be highly successful, but it should not be portrayed in the media as a cure-all. It isn't."

In Minnesota, the DNR's position is that fizzing may be appropriate under certain conditions, such as when water temperatures are cool, the fish has not been severely stressed, and trained people are inserting the needle. The DNR does not recommend the technique for the untrained recreational angler.

"Catch-and-release studies in Minnesota have shown that up to 90 percent of walleyes survive after being hooked if treated carefully and immediately released," said Skrypek. "That's a very acceptable figure. I don't think that adding a hypodermic needle to the average anglers' tackle box would have much benefit."

When anticipating the release of a fish, the DNR encourages anglers to:

- Play the fish quickly.
- Keep the fish in water as much as possible.
- Decide immediately whether to keep or release the fish.
- Remove the hook quickly with pliers or cut the line if deeply hooked.

Intoxicated Boaters

At least 60 boaters have been arrested so far this year for violating Minnesota's 5-year-old Boating While Intoxicated (BWI) law, state boating officials reported.

A total of 222 were arrested last year for violating the BWI law, up from 142 in 1989, according to the DNR. More than three-fourths of those arrested for drunken boating in 1990 had prior arrests for driving an automobile or other motor vehicle while intoxicated.

The 1986 law allows a DNR conservation officer, a count sheriff or other peace officer to require a suspected intoxicated boater to take an alcohol test. DNR boating safety specialist Tim Smalley said the law covers only motorboats that are not moored, beached or anchored, and does not apply to passengers.

"The law requires suspected intoxicated operators to take a test or face a $500 civil penalty and loss of operating privileges for one year," Smalley said.

"If the test is taken and the operator is found to be over the legal limit of .10 alcohol concentration, the operator is subject to criminal penalties as well as loss of operating privileges for 90 days," Smalley said. "We recently sent suspension notices to a number of boat operators previously convicted of BWI violations."

Smalley said 50 percent of all boating deaths may be attributed to alcohol.

"Alcohol has been traced as one of the primary causes of boating accidents and deaths," Smalley said, "and the BWI law gives officers the tools they need to get drunk boaters off Minnesota's waterways."

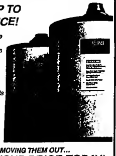
CRP Tree Planting

Next sign-up period begins July 8 for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP), which retires highly erodible farmland by offering landowners annual payments for 10 years in exchange for planting conharvestable cover crops.

CRP, which originated with the 1985 Farm Bill, was modified in the 1990 Farm Bill to include two changes to promote tree planting, according to Thomas Kroll, private forest management supervisor for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

These changes give priority to acres planted to trees and also provide an additional five years of payments when trees are chosen as the cover crop, for a total of 15 years.

Next sign-up for CRP will be held July 8 through July 19 at county Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Service (ASCS) offices. This will be the only sign-up for landowners wishing to enroll lands for the 1992 planting season. a national cap on acres has been established. All bids will be ranked and accepted in order until the cap is reached.



All bids in the nation will be evaluated based on the environmental benefits gained per dollar expended when compared to all other bids, and the reasonableness of the bid.

Results of the March sign-up appear to indicate that environmental factors are quite important in the ranking system, Kroll said. "Bidders who agree to plant trees or establish other environmentally beneficial practices will be given priority."

Of the environmental benefit options available to landowners, Kroll said tree planting and wildlife habitat establishment seemed to be the most popular in Minnesota during the March sign-up period. Additionally, no property easement is required as a condition of enroll-

Grouse numbers down

Minnesota's ruffed grouse population is on the wane ...and that comes as no surprise to the Department of Natural Resources.

Ruffed grouse numbers rise and fall over an approximate 10-year cycle. Grouse numbers have been at peak levels the past two years. This year, the overall population is down 25 percent from last year. The ruffed grouse is Minnesota's number one game bird, with hunters harvesting more of this species than any other.

"It was time for grouse numbers to fall and that's what happened," said Bill Berg, DNR wildlife research biologist at Grand Rapids. "Normally, peaks occur at the end of a decade and then the decline begins."

DNR roadside drumming counts indicate grouse numbers are down 32 percent in the main grouse range of north-central Minnesota, from 2.5 drums per stop in 1990 to 1.7 this year. Elsewhere, grouse numbers are down 11 percent (to 0.8 drum per stop) in the northeast; up 25 percent (to 1.0 drum per stop) in the northwest; down 36 percent (to 0.7 drum per stop) in the central hardwoods; and down 42 percent (to 0.7 drum per stop) in the southeast.

Berg said the 25 percent increase in northwestern Minnesota is deceiving. "Grouse numbers declined by 64 percent in the Northwest last year," said Berg. "A 25 percent increase this year still represents a decrease from two years ago, when the statewide population peaked."

For grouse hunters, the survey suggests fewer flushes this fall. In 1989, hunters harvested 1.2 million ruffed grouse. This represents one of the top five harvests in state history. Statistics haven't been compiled for the 1990 hunting season, but Berg suspects the harvest will be down slightly from 1989.

"I don't know of a single hunter who flushed more birds in 1990 than he did in 1989," said Berg. "This means the two peak population years were 1989 and 1990. The next peak will come about the year 2000."

Berg said last year's ruffed grouse population would have been higher had not extremely cold weather struck during mid-December of 1989. During that time the one-two punch of extended sub-zero temperatures and very little snow on the ground knocked birds out cold. "That was the first time in Minnesota history that we found grouse in the woods that had died from exposure," said Berg. "Normally, grouse can burrow into snow and survive. Many didn't have that opportunity during 1989. It was a snowless December for much of the state."

DNR Section of Wildlife and employees of national forests, county forests, federal wildlife refuges and Indian reservations conduct a grouse population survey each spring. This is done by monitoring about 100 grouse routes, stretches of road along which drumming grouse are listened for at 10 sites at least one mile apart from one another. Each site is monitored for four minutes. This year, drumming counts declined along 65 routs and increased on 32.

"Though the ruffed grouse population will decline for the next few years, it's possible that the bottom won't be as low as it has been in the past," said Berg. "I say this for two reasons. First, an increase in the harvest of aspen is creating more good grouse habitat, which is young-to medium-age aspen. And second, the Reinvest in Minnesota (RIM) program is improving habitat for a variety of wildlife."

Berg said RIM is proving particularly beneficial to sharp-tailed grouse. This year's survey indicates sharptail numbers are stable in east-central Minnesota. The birds are holding their own or are down slightly in northwest Minnesota.

"RIM shines when it comes to sharptails," said Berg. "The combination of prescribed burning, mechanical brush removal and assistance to private land owners is helping bring back these birds. Just six years ago, the sharptail population was still declining."

Sharp-tailed grouse were abundant in Minnesota back in the 1930s and '40s, but their numbers declined as row corps consumed more acres and brushlands grew into forests. In recent years, however, sharptails have made a slight comeback, Berg said.

ment when planting trees.

In order to be eligible, landowners must indicate at the time of bidding that trees will be planted, according to Greg Anderson of the ASCS. In fact, Anderson suggests that interested landowners have potential fields prescreened before July 8 by the ASCS and Soil Conservation Service (SCS).

Another change in the 1990 farm bill allows landowners to receive 15 years of payments if they agree to establish hardwood trees, field windbreaks, shelterbelts and wildlife corridors. Hardwoods include species such as oak, walnut, ash or hybrid poplar. Kroll said these hardwoods may be mixed with conifer species like spruce or pine, or mixed with shrubs, as long as 51 percent of the field is planted to hardwoods. Landowners may choose any contract length between 10 and 15 years under this provision.

MSHSL accepts orders for new hockey tickets

Minnesota State High School League will be conducting a Tier II State Hockey tournament beginning March of 1992. This tournament will be held at the Civic Center in St. Paul Wednesday, March 11, and resume at the Target Center in Minneapolis Friday - Saturday, March 13-14.

Effective immediately the Minnesota State High School League is accepting written requests only for the Tier II season hockey tournament ticket priorities. Telephone requests will not be accepted. These priorities will be established in the order that they are received. There is not a limit at this time to the number of adult or student season tickets that may be requested for the Tier II hockey tournament.

Priorities established for the Tier II tournament will be used as a waiting list for the Tier I tournament should tickets become available.

Anyone interested in becoming a priority holder for the Tier II hockey tournament may do so by doing the following:

1. Send a letter stating the desire to become a Tier II Hockey Priority Holder and the number of adult and/or student tickets that you desire.
2. Include your address, city, state, zip and a daytime phone number.
3. Cost for an adult season ticket will be $38.50 and the cost for a student season ticket will be $19.50. Do not send a check. On approximately November 1, the League will send to each person an order form for the Tier II tournament that must be returned to the MSHSL office by December 1, 1991. Orders received after that date will not be accepted. Payment will be requested with the order form.
4. Letters requesting a priority must be sent to the MSHSL ticket office no later than July 31, 1991.
5. Mail the request to become a Tier II hockey priority holder with the number of tickets desired to:

Hearing Impaired Information

Hearing impaired Minnesotans can get information about recreation opportunities from the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) through the Telecommunications Device for the Deaf (TDD) system.

Hearing impaired individuals who have questions about DNR programs or services may call the TDD phone at (612) 296-5484 weekdays between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The Ebbe Orchestra and folk dancers from the area of Asker, a southwest suburb of Oslo, Norway, will present a concert at Newfolden high school Wednesday, July 10, at 8 p.m. Admission for the concert is $2.50 for adults and $1 for children under 12. A dance will follow the concert and everyone is welcome to attend.

Leadership award from the AMPERS organization was presented to Rep. Wally Sparby of Thief River Falls at the recent dedication of upgraded radio and television training and broadcast facilities at the Thief River Falls technical college. AMPERS is an organization of public educational broadcast facilities in Minnesota. Making the award presentation to Rep. Sparby is Don Jorstad of the Thief River Falls technical college station KSRQ and an officer of the AMPERS group.

Charities Review urges caution

"This one almost got me." This response from a man in St. Paul summarizes the feelings of many Minnesotans about a cancer fundraising appeal that is making its way to homes throughout the state. The Pacific West Cancer Fund (PWCF), based in Seattle, is sending letters under the name Cancer Center for Detection and Prevention to Minnesotans under the heading "1991 Minneapolis (or Bemidji, Marshall, Owatonna, St. Cloud, etc) Area Fund Campaign."

The agency uses a technique — asking people to collect money door-to-door volunteer . . . to visit up to five neighbors and friends in a specific area to ask for their contribution to fight cancer." The letter asks for a $10 contribution if the person is unable to be a door-to-door volunteer.

"We've had a number of calls from people across the state who have received this solicitation," said Gary Wolfe, executive director of the Charities Review Council of Minnesota. The Council is a non-profit organization that monitors charitable appeals in Minnesota. "Some people ask about the local nature of the appeal, others wonder if it is connected with the American Cancer Society, and some want to know more about the agency and its programs. Many people are mislead by the letter."

Pacific West Cancer Fund was founded in 1987. In 1988, it raised more than $1.3 million, almost all through a sweepstakes approach. PWCF dropped the sweepstakes after it ran into problems with state officials across the country. The agency's funding has dropped dramatically since then: in 1989 it raised $985,000; in 1990 only $441,000 came in. Very little of the funds have gone for program expenses; most of the money is paid to the professional fundraising firm working for the organization. The high costs of fundraising have left the agency with a deficit of $1.8 million.

Wolfe explained that this is a fundraising approach designed to make people think there's a local connection with the charity. "Charities have become much more sophisticated in their fundraising by using mailing lists and computers," he said. "Letters can be personalized and targeted to make people more inclined to send a check to the charity."

In this case, the agency also uses a different name — Cancer Center for Detection and Prevention — to attract contributions and imply that the agency is more than it is. Wolfe said that most people see through this approach; one woman told the Council that "it's a sneaky way to do business."

PWCF does not meet the Charities Review Council's standard for spending at least 70 per cent of its funds on its programs. The Council also questions the contract PWCF has with an administrator who is related to two members of the PWCF's board of directors.

Minnesotans with questions about charities can contact the Charities Review Council. Those outside the Twin Cities can call 1-800-733-GIVE. The council can provide information on more than 2,700 charities soliciting in Minnesota.

Grant funds available

Federal Older American Act funds of $20,000 are available to communities which develop a project addressing a specific need of senior citizens in the community, according to Faith Rud, director of the Northwest Regional Development commission's Area Agency on Aging.

"The project selected must provide $10,000 in matching cash or in-kind funds," Rud said, "and the application must be submitted to the Minnesota Board on Aging by Sept. 1, 1991."

Funds available also include $10,000 to allow the Area Agency on Aging to be involved in implementation of the project.

Interested communities should contact the Northwest Area Agency on Aging, 525 Brooks Avenue So., Thief River Falls, MN 56701 as soon as possible.

NEW! NEW! NEW!
Extra Protein
Extra Calcium
Extra-Ordinary Flavor!
New! 1% Protein Fortified Milk From Cass-Clay.
Now you can have your lowfat milk and enjoy it too! Cass-Clay's new 1% Protein Fortified Milk is a happy marriage between nutrition and taste. Besides being low in fat it has extra protein, extra calcium and vitamins A & D added.
These elements all act together to restore much of the full, rich flavor that some people find missing in other lowfat milks. In fact, many say this product tastes more like 2% milk.
So pick up a carton of Cass-Clay's new Protein Fortified 1% Milk today and taste how good, great nutrition can be!

HELP YOURSELF TO BETTER HEALTH

Northwest Medical Center and the Falls Clinic, div. of Dakota Clinic Ltd., again offer you and your family two more opportunities to improve your health.

CHOLESTEROL TESTING

Cholesterol screening examinations will be offered at the following two locations during July:

Pennington County Fair - July 11 - 14 at the Pennington County Sports Arena.

Red Lake County Fair - July 19 - 21 at the Oklee High School gym

The National Cholesterol Education program, a combined effort of 30 government agencies and private health groups, has recommended that all adults have their cholesterol level determined. The screening tests offered in cooperation with Northwest Medical Center and the Falls/Dakota Clinic are an excellent way to have your cholesterol level determined.

SUMMER TRACK MEET

Thursday, July 18 and Thursday, August 15 at 6:30 p.m. at the Lincoln High School Track. Children and Adults of all ages are welcome to participate. Children will participate with their own age group. Ribbons given to all participants. Free Pepsi Cola to participants. One dollar entry fee covers all events. Entry fees go to the TRF Track and Cross Country Teams. Co-sponsored by Pepsi-Cola Bottling of TRF.

Questions regarding these two programs may be directed to Gail Holland, Public Relations Coordinator, 681-4240

Seamless Aluminum Guttering Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585

Our seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre painted aluminum; the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used, and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.

Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew, saving on labor costs. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

system far beyond what many other schools in the region can provide. It also has a good variety of weight lifting machines that provide a good test for strength training.

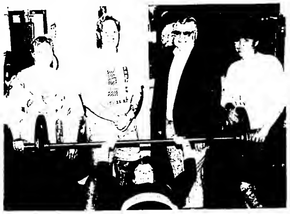
Anyone visiting the gym will also receive supervision and assistance in developing a weight training program for them. Mumm explained that the weight room has a computer that has 12 different programs. It tells you what you need to do and it's easy to follow, said Mumm.

The kids seem to like it, so I would say that it's a success, Mumm said. Because of the variety of programs available it can tailor a weight lifting program to fit the athletes desired goals and sport.

Mumm said the gym sees a lot of activity. Most of the people using the gym are students, but it isn't open to just students. It's open to anyone who has an interest in weight lifting.

The gym is open during the summer from 6:30 to 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Students pay a fee of $20. The general public pays a fee of $30.

Community education department of school district 564 also offers a weight training course for ladies three nights a week. The gym is open for the class from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. For more information about the course contact the community education department at 681-8740.



The Pennington county health interest group also visited the weight lifting gym at Northland Community College. The new gym offers free weights and a complete system of weight lifting machines, including the popular stair steppers and stationary bikes.

Rick Nelson, weight lifting room supervisor at Northland Community College, said the weight lifting room is not in competition with other businesses, there will be a fee to use the gym eventually.

Hours the gym is open during the summer are limited. The gym is open from 6:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday. The summer hours began June 3. During the school year, the gym is usually open 8 to 10 hours a day for the general public.

During the times the weight room is open, a work study student is on duty. The work study student on duty this summer is Chris McLean.

Nelson said the college is interested in promoting health. In the future he plans to implement a health and wellness program. The details of the program haven't been worked out yet, but it seems to be a good idea that has support.

Is Jean Heinrichs pumping up for the next city council meeting? Heinrichs, a member of the city council in Thief River Falls, is also a member of the Pennington County Health Interest Group. The group's primary goal is to encourage residents to take an active roll in improving their health. Members of the group recently visited the weight room at Lincoln high school. Pictured with Jean are Anita Cardinal, committee member, Jeff Mumm, Lincoln high school weight room supervisor, Bob Borgan, committee member, and Helen Anderson, committee member.

says. "I refer to it as my greatest talent and the one I am most proud of. I was a 4-H club member for 11 years, taking the sewing project every year. I attempted to sew everything from dresses to formals with success. I also had the opportunity to take painting lessons from my grandmother."

Although she had never seen a soccer match before she became involved in it at college, she joined the Lady Aces soccer club with the encouragement of a friend. She is also an active swimmer at school and at home, working as a lifeguard and swimming instructor at the Greenbush pool.

As a freshman in college she worked for the Minnesota Senate as a page. "Even in that low-level job I felt that I had found my calling," she said, "although my calling included working late nights and dealing with scores of lobbyists all at one time. Political science is a subject that I found easy to comprehend and getting good grades is also important."

After holding nearly every office in the junior program of the American Legion auxiliary at the unit and district level, she was elected department (state) president of the junior auxiliary and attended the national convention in Baltimore, MD.

In addition to her lifeguard and swimming instructor experience, Heather has been an office worker in the alumni office at the University of Evansville and has done sewing and tailoring for the UND costume shop.

"Now that my 4-H member years are over," she noted, "I have gone on to be an adult leader in the program like my grandmother and mother.

"My short-term plans are to continue working at the Greenbush pool so that I can afford Europe. Long-term plans include finishing my schooling in the next two years, although I have seriously considered law school for many years."

She is uncertain what she would do with a law degree, but "I can't picture myself having a plush job and doing nothing to make my country a better place for people to live.

"I see nothing right about 250 to 300 homeless people on the streets. Why would ooo of the richest countries in the world allow this to happen....or even the thousands of families living in desperate poverty, so poor that they cannot afford preventive medical care."

Heather has an older brother, Nathan, 22 and a younger sister, Nicolette, 11.

ment with shows starting at 3:30 p.m. Thursday and 1:30 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Shows will begin each hour with the last show at 9:30 p.m.

Performing Thursday at 3:30, 4:30, 5:30 and 6:30 will be "The Radicals" with a Country Hoedown featuring local bands from 7:30 to 10:30.

Schedule for Friday, Saturday and Sunday will feature The Radicals at 1:30, 4:30 and 7:30 p.m., comedian Kenny Byrd at 2:30, 5:30 and 8:30 p.m. and the Bear Creek Band at 3:30, 6:30 and 9:30 p.m.

A special senior citizen program recognizing Pennington county's outstanding senior citizens will take place Friday, July 12, at 2 p.m. in the curling club building.

On Saturday a sanctioned American Dairy Goat association (ADGA) goat show will be held beginning at 9 a.m. The 4-H club horse show will also start at 9 a.m., followed by an open horse show. An open class dog show will begin at 11 a.m. , followed by the 4-H dog show.

Registration for an open horse show Sunday, July 14, will begin at 9 a.m. with the show to start at 10 a.m. At 1 p.m. Sunday the 4-H club fashion revue will begin in the curling club building, followed by a 4-H awards program and share-the-fun performances.

A new event for the fair this year, a 4-H market livestock auction, will take place at 3:30 p.m. in the area between the two livestock barns. Public participation in the auction is encouraged.

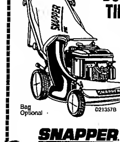
Admission to the fairgrounds is free but there is a charge of $1 daily or $2 for the five-day fair for auto parking. Thief River Falls Boy Scouts and adult volunteers will handle the parking and the public is asked to use only the east or west entrance to the fairgrounds.

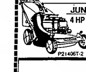
"Directors and superintendents of the county fair put in a tremendous amount of planning and work during the year as well as during the fair in an effort to make it better each year," states Richard W. Anderson, president of the Pennington County Fair association, Inc.

"The best payment these volunteers can receive for their efforts is to have people turn out and enjoy themselves by viewing the exhibits, attending the entertainment programs and having fun on the midway," he added. "The county fair is for and about people and we think it is one of the biggest entertainment values around."

Weather will play a key role again this year in the success of the fair which has been blessed with good weather for several years, Anderson said. He said response has been excellent from commercial exhibitors both inside and outside the sports arena.

Other officers of the association are Floyd Erickson and Mike Sorteberg, vice presidents; Norris Thune, secretary; Terry Nelson, treasurer; and Bernie Huot, past president.





Other directors are Bill Ulrich, Kermit Finstad, Loraine Steiger, Donna Harder, Janice Noreen, Linda Homme, LaVerne Hamre, Norma Hanson, Oliver (Skip) Swanson, Leon Iverson and Beattie Mickelson.

Directors-at-large are Silas Hanson, Barb Sorenson, Deb Quesnell, Marcella Hanson, A. Clifford Larson, Harland Lee, Nancy Harbott, Sherry Sorenson, Sande Drevlow, Nancy Geske, Polly Dehnert, Pat Swanson Larry Rohlf and Deb Engen;

Also Howard Person, Jon Praska, Paul Johnson, Anita Cardinal, Crystal Sorteberg, Cecil Anderson, Curt Quesnell, Alberta Johnson, David Lee, Van Swanson, Tawnya Morkrid, David Ulrich, Larry Rahn and Carla Sorenson.

TRF Council changes mayor's term of office

Mayor Bob Carlson decides not to fight

Tuesday, Thief River Falls city council changed the term of office for mayor from four years to two years.

Nearly a month ago the topic came up at a meeting of the city council in Thief River Falls. Mayor Bob Carlson, who has been the mayor of Thief River Falls for 18 years, said he took the request as a personal and political attack against him.

Alderman Don Barron who introduced the proposal, said that it came about because Mayor Carlson had said in his last election that it would be the last time he would run for re-election.

Barron also listed a number of reasons why the city should change from a four year term of office for mayor to a two year term: that the city has had a two year term for all but eight years; under Minnesota law, the city is permitted to change the term of office; Mayor Carlson promised in his last election not to run for another term, which made consideration of a change convenient at this time; of the 106 charter cities in Minnesota only 25 have four-year terms; that a change satisfies a political philosophy that opportunities for major changes should be frequent; the two year term will bring the position closer to the people; the two year term will make the office hold more accountable to the people; it would increase citizen participation in local government; it would encourage additional filings for the position; it would result in an election with five positions in one year and four positions in the succeeding election; the needs of the community would dictate whether or not a two year term for mayor was desirable.

City Forester John Johnson informed the city council that he had visited with state representatives working with the construction project on Highway 32 through Thief River Falls next summer. One of the items discussed was removal and replanting of trees along the highway. Johnson said removal of smaller trees along the highway will begin this fall. If the trees are on city property they will either end up on boulevards or in city parks. If they are on private property, the property owner has the right to suggest where it should be planted.

City Finance Officer Roger DeLap informed the council that he had requests from three individuals to return funds donated to the outdoor swimming pool fund. DeLap requested instructions on how to proceed.

City Attorney Paul Ihle said individuals could request that their money be returned, but he was not sure whether the city could give the money back which has been put into a special fund.

The balance in the fund as of June 30, 1991, was $104,849.21. The issue of whether funds can be returned will be studied by legal counsel.

Following a recommendation from the finance committee, the council approved the transfer of a liquor license from Lon's to Curt and James Efteland. The city ordinance permitting one individual to have only one liquor license was recently changed to allow an individual to have two.

Watershed board to study TRF reservoir

Board of commissioners for the Red Lake Watershed district has agreed to conduct a study to determine the extent of the sedimentation problem in the Red Lake river and Thief Lake river reservoir in Thief River Falls and list the options. According to Lowell Enerson, executive director of the Red Lake Watershed district, this study should be completed by August 22.

Members of Thief River Falls city council and Pennington county board of commissioners attended a meeting of the Red Lake Watershed district Thursday morning to entertain a request to study the problem of sedimentation in the Red Lake river and Thief Lake reservoir in Thief River Falls and find a solution.

Thief River Falls officially requested that the board of commissioners of the Red Lake Watershed district take action to implement a project to remove sedimentation from the reservoir. In addition to the official request from Thief River Falls was a letter of support from the Pennington county board of commissioners.

Don Stewart, community development director for Thief River Falls, explained there were a number of reasons for the request. Stewart outlined problems including flood control, less water in the reservoir, the difficulty in treating the water at the water treatment plant, the limitations on the use of the river for recreation by the public, the danger of weeds to swimmers and waterskiers, the declining wildlife habitat, especially for fish, the adverse affects on tourism, and the adverse affects on power generation.

Pennington county commissioner Ken Murphy explained to the board that the river is not only important to Thief River Falls but it is also important to the county. Murphy pointed out that the reservoir provides water for the residents of Thief River Falls, businesses in the community one of which markets a product nationally, and it provides an opportunity for recreation to many people outside of Thief River Falls and Pennington county.

Enerson thanked those who attended the meeting for getting everyone organized. He said an organized group forms an important function in getting the funds needed for such projects. Enerson said it was his opinion that the board will commit funds to conduct a study of the options in a preliminary Engineer's report. That report should be Stephanie Perreault checks out the stereopticon by the school house at Pennington Pioneer Village. Daughter of Francis and Ann Perreault of Red Lake Falls, Stephanie will sing "Getting Sentimental Over You" from the 1930s for her talent number.

Perreault is candidate for Miss TR Falls

(This is the fourth in a series of articles introducing candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls pageant to be conducted Saturday, August 3, in the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

"One wise woman once said, 'Don't forgive and forget, forgive and remember because that's how you learn,'" states Stephanie Perreault of Red Lake Falls. "I think my Mom makes a lot of sense."

Stephanie's father and mother are Francis and Ann Perreault of Red Lake Falls. Stephanie is a 1990 graduate of Lafayette high school and a student at Northland Community college in Thief River Falls, studying for a major in special education with an emphasis in music.

Nineteen-year-old Stephanie is five feet seven inches tall, has brown hair and blue eyes. Her pageant talent number will be a vocal solo from the 1930s entitled "Getting Sentimental Over You."

Music has been a major part of

Cota studies at National Science Foundation camp

Cristi Cota, daughter of Roger and Bonnie Cota of St. Hilaire and a freshman at Lincoln high school this fall, attended the National Science Foundation's Young Scholars program June 16-29 at St. Olaf college in Northfield.

Thousands of application blanks for the program were sent to schools in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota and Kansas. Art Welter, Cristi's science teacher, and John Wallberg, her math teacher, gave her one of the two application forms received at Franklin middle school in Thief River Falls.

In addition to individual information, the application required a two-paragraph essay on her best school experience and why she wanted to participate in the program.

Cristi was one of 30 students selected from about 200 applications received for the program at St. Olaf college. Since there is considered to be a shortage of females and minorities in science in the United States, 18 female and eight minority students were among the 30 selected for participation in the St. Olaf program. Gene Bakko served as head of the program.

"I was very excited to be able to take part in the program," Cristi said. Her summary of the experience is stated as follows:

"The first week we explored five disciplines including biology, physics, chemistry, math and psychology. Light and vision was the theme of the program so all our classes had something to do with the theme.

"Saturday we went to the Science Museum of Minnesota and the Minnesota Zoo at Apple Valley. At the Science Museum we went to the omnitheater and saw "The Ring

Program planned for Western Week events

Western Week in Thief River Falls Monday through Sunday, July 15-21, has been expanded to include the entire community, according to Lois Steiger, who chairs the planning committee for the Thief River Falls chamber of commerce.

Collection of canned goods for the area food shelf, special events for children, flea market, chili cook-off, horse and wagon rides, lip sync contest, games and contests for horses and riders, picnic, snake dance and square dance are all included among the special events.

Retailers will join in the collection of canned goods by offering discounts to customers who bring an item of canned goods for donation to the food shelf. Canned goods will be collected each day and displayed in the window of the Main Line at 205 LaBree Avenue North. Store employees are being asked to wear western attire during the week-long promotion.

Opening events Monday, July 15, at the Best Western Inn lounge will include a Tacos and Trivia night beginning at 6 p.m. and Gong Show auditions at 9 p.m. Events in the lounge are limited to people 21 years of age and older.

On Tuesday, July 16, guests can sing along with the Karaoke at 9 p.m. in the Best Western lounge.

Wednesday, July 17, will be Hawaiian Night at the Best Western with contests for best-dressed, limbo, hula hoop and adult lip sync. "Saddle Tramp" will provide music from 9 p.m. to closing.

Special community events begin Thursday, July 18, with "Kids Day." Early Childhood Family Education activities for pre-school children and their parents will include sessions for one to three-year-olds from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. and three to five-year-olds from 11 a.m. to 12 noon. Cost will be $1 per family and location will be at the ECFE center in the school district service center, Zeh street and LaBree avenue.

Northwest Regional library summer program the same day will have a pre-school storytime (age one to kindergarten) from 1 to 1:30 p.m. and for school age children and those entering kindergarten from 2 to 2:45 p.m.

Turtle, hare and frog races will take place at 7 p.m. at Floyd B. Olson park in downtown Thief River Falls under sponsorship of the Smiley 4-H club. Cash prizes will be provided. Entry fee for the turtle and hare races will be 25 cents for those who bring their own entries and 50 cents for those who "rent to race." Frog race entry fee is 10 cents or a "rent to race" fee of 25 cents.

Cowboy games will be sponsored by Cub Scout Pack 59 with Kathi Carlson as Cubmaster. Refreshments will be provided.

Square dancing hosted by the Falls Squares will take place at 8 p.m. in the park. There is no admission charge and spectators are welcome.

It will be "Desert Storm" night at the Best Western with prizes for the best dressed in military uniform and Arabian dress and look-alike contests simulating Gen. Norman Schwarzkopf and Saddam Hussein. Adult lip-sync and music by Saddle Tramp will also be featured.

Snake dance from Floyd B. Olson park to the Best Western Inn will begin at 6 p.m. Friday, July 19. The event is open to people of all ages, prizes will be awarded and refreshments served at the end of the dance and transportation back to

Hobby Stick Horse

Do you remember that broom or mop you used to ride around? Making a simple hobby horse for your child to ride will be fun for both of you. Try to involve your child as much as possible. Take an old broom handle about one yard long. Be sure it does not have any splinters on it. Fill an old sock with stuffing. Put it on the end of the handle and tie it on. You many want to tack or glue it to secure it. The foot of the sock forms the horse's head. Make ears by stuffing two fingers of an old glove and sewing or gluing them on. Use markers to put in eyes and mouth and mane. Use tape and put a bridle on your horse and you are ready to go.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

Celebrate Western Week with these books at the Thief River Falls public library:

Bright, Robert. Georgie Goes West. On a trip West, Georgie the ghost and his friends foil horse thieves.

Quakenbush, Robert. Pete Pack Rat. When the villainous Gizzard Coyote comes to Pebble Junction, he strikes terror into the hearts of the animal inhabitants, but Pete Pack Rat works out a plan.

VIDEO VARIETY

The Wishing Bear. From the Winnie the Pooh cartoon television series, this video contains these two stories: "The Wishing Bear" and "The Piglet Who Would Be King."

PARENTING TIPS

When Siblings Fight

Sometimes it seems that brothers and sisters are always fighting. You can't stop it all, but you can help children learn to settle their disputes in constructive ways.

Try to get the whole story before blaming anyone (even if you think you know what happened). For example say: "You must have really been mad at the baby to hit him," and then let the older child explain. Let her know the angry feelings are acceptable but you can't let her hurt the baby.

In an argument between two children who can both talk, give each a chance to tell his or her own point of view. You can help by describing the situation rather than judging it. "It looks like you two can't agree on a television program. You both seem upset. Want to tell me about it? Laurie, you go first. Then, Joey, I want to hear your side of the story."

This approach can save a lot of hurt feelings and resentment between kids and it will help them learn to settle disputes themselves without fighting.

(Contributed by the Early Childhood Family Education department of School District 564.)

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Talk about feelings. Give your children words or vocabulary to describe how they feel. Let them know it's acceptable to have angry feelings, but it is not acceptable to hurt another person.

(From Dunn & Hargitt, 1991, Contributed by the Early Childhood Family Education department of School District 564.)

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

Salads and sandwiches are just the thing for these hot summer days. These salads will make hearty meals all by themselves, and dieters will love them too. Hearty sandwiches will tempt anyone to dig right in, too hot or not.

This is a tasty main dish salad combination of crisp tart and sweet, just right for a summer supper:

Spinach Nut Salad

About one-half pound fresh spinach (or use head lettuce for a different taste)
1 cup chopped parsley
1 cup thinly sliced fresh mushrooms
2 medium tomatoes, diced
1 cup chopped celery
1 (16 ounce) can bean sprouts, drained
1 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
1 cup roasted sunflower seeds
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt

Dressing
1/3 cup vinegar
1/3 cup olive oil
1 1/2 teaspoons honey
1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt
1 clove garlic, halved

Mix salad ingredients in large salad bowl, then mix dressing ingredients and pour over salad. Refrigerate until ready to serve. Toss well before serving.

Here is another, crisp, cool, tasty main dish meal salad for a summer treat:

Sesame Seed Salad

1/2 pound Bibb lettuce
1/2 pound spinach or other lettuce
1/2 stick margarine
3 tablespoons sesame seeds
3 slices dry bread, cubed garlic powder
2 tablespoons salad oil red scallions

Dressing
1 1/2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1 teaspoon Beau Mondo seasoning
1/2 teaspoon summer savory
1 teaspoon parsley
3/4 teaspoon salt

Mix vinegar, pepper, monosodium glutamate, Beau Monde, savory, parsley and salt and refrigerate overnight.

Wash lettuce and spinach, pat dry and refrigerate.

Melt margarine and saute sesame seeds. Add bread cubes and fry until brown and toasty. Put in paper bag and sprinkle with garlic powder.

Two hours before serving, mix salad oil with lettuce and spinach.

At serving time, mix lettuce, salad dressing, croutons and top with thinly sliced scallions.

A little pasta perks up this pretty salad, and it tastes as good as it looks:

Dressing
1/2 cup almond or olive oil
3 tablespoons red wine vinegar
2 cloves garlic, crushed
1 teaspoon sweet basil
pepper
1/2 cup grated Parmesan or Romano cheese

Spread almonds in single layer in shallow pan. Toast at 350 degrees for 10-12 minutes until golden. Cool.

Cook pasta in boiling water until just tender (about 10 minutes). Cook green beans in lightly salted water until tender-crisp.

Blend dressing of almond oil, vinegar, garlic, sweet basil, pepper and Parmesan in large bowl.

Drain pasta and beans. Toss immediately with cheese mixture and allow to cool to room temperature.

Add ham, olives, red peppers, onions and almonds. Toss lightly to coat with dressing.

If refrigerated, allow to return to room temperature before serving.

Toastmasters welcome two new members

Jim Gobell and Al Walseth were installed as new members at recent meetings of Northwest Toastmasters club. Gobell is manager at Lon's Restaurant and Walseth is employed by Hartz Wholesale as regional meat representative. Both look forward to the challenges of the club.

Ten speeches are given in order to receive the competent Toastmaster certificate. Each meeting involves two-minute impromptu speeches as well as performing the duty of Toastmaster. Learning how to evaluate speeches and meetings are also part of the program.

Northwest Toastmasters meets at 7 a.m. the second and fourth Tuesday in the North Conference meeting room at Northwest Medical Center. Guests are invited to attend.

For more information about Toastmasters call the club president, Diane Freeman, 681-7129.

Church holds auction July 21

United Methodist church in Thief River Falls has items ranging from swing sets to motorcycles for its community auction to be conducted Sunday, July 21, beginning at 1 p.m. in the curling club building on the fairgrounds in Thief River Falls.

"Churches function on faith but operate with cold, hard cash," states Steve Anderson, auction chairman. "As communities continue to struggle against economic odds that also take a toll on volunteer efforts, churches like United Methodist are looking for ways to expand rather than cut back services. The auction is one way to address growing needs in a shrinking community."

Anderson pointed out several of the outreach programs of the church, including a "Bikes for Kids" program headed by Les Geber. Church members repair and renew used bicycles to be distributed community-wide to children who need them.

Other efforts are "Beginning Experience," a support group for divorced men and women which has served more than 230 people in its six-year history, the "Grief Support Group" begun in 1978 which has included people from Gatzke, Oklee, Warren and Roseau as well as Thief River Falls; a Grief Support library; and the UMC youth ministry.

ENDependence Day observes federal act

In celebration of the first anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act on July 26, 1990, an ENDependence day observance will be held Friday, July 19, at River's Edge park in East Grand Forks.

There will be boat rides, carnival games, prizes, food, fishing and entertainment from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

These kids are all lined up and ready to march in the Discovery Place parade. The parade was escorted by the Thief River Falls police, fire department and ambulance. Several people were in attendance to watch the children as they paraded to a very American theme.

Thief River Falls animal control officer Tim Miller is looking for homes for several Labrador and Norwegian Elkhound-cross puppies. Anyone interested may call the law enforcement center at 681-6161.

Linnea Dimich of Thief River Falls was informed last week that she could attend all-state band in St. Cloud. Dimich was an alternate but because a player could not attend she was accepted. She is the only Lincoln high school band student selected to perform in all-state band this year. All-State band will be held July 29 through August 3 in St. Cloud.

City directory canvassers need reports

Canvassers for the publishers of the 1991 Thief River Falls city directory began collecting information last week. All residence and business areas will be covered by the canvass which is expected to take from four to six weeks.

Residents are asked to provide information requested to assure accurate listings for the directory. All enumerators carry identification cards supplied by R. L. Polk & Company.

For the convenience of working residents who may not be at home when the enumerator calls, the company can be contacted by calling 681-5930 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Disabilities act to be discussed

Free public seminar to discuss the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) will be offered from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the East Grand Forks senior citizens center on Monday, July 15.

The ADA is a recently passed federal law which gives individuals with disabilities rights and legal remedies in transportation, employment and public accommodation.

Speakers will include Michael Ehrlichmann, chairman of the regional transit board; Karla Wahl and David Singer, Twin Cities employment law attorneys; and Catharine Stiney, representative from the Minnesota Department of Human Rights.

For reservations at the forum, which is open to everyone, call 773-6100.

Parent advisory council meets at LHS July 16

Lincoln high school's parent advisory council will meet Tuesday, July 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lincoln high school cafeteria. Parents of students in ninth through 12th grades are especially invited to attend.

Watershed board to study TRF reservoir

completed by August 22. After the study is completed everyone (representatives from the city, county, Minnesota department of natural resources and Pollution Control Agency and Red Lake Watershed district) can sit down and agree on an option.

Stewart asked if that would include determining the extent of the problem by conducting a cross section study of the river.

Kevin Adolphs, watershed engineer, said he has the equipment necessary to determine the extent of the problem.

According to information provided by Stewart to the Red Lake Watershed board, a report prepared by the district's engineer in 1987, Charles Anderson, states that a large quantity of sediment has accumulated in the reservoir and that the rate of deposition may have increased since a study in 1967. In a 1967 engineering report by Walter Butler company, it was estimated that in order to restore the original reservoir capacity, 374,300 cubic yards of sediment needed to be removed. It was estimated that in 1966-69 the city removed 279,000 cubic yards during the dredging operation. Since Anderson's field investigation did not include a detailed river corss section which is necessary to determine the amount of dredging required, he used a "rough" estimate of 200,000 cubic yards to arrive at the total estimated cost of $699,000, which includes acquisition of land for a retention pond-disposal site.

Stewart said that since the cost figure was arrived at in 1967, that estimate would have to be altered to reflect inflation and other changes. Stewart also said they have begun looking for funds to help pay for the project.

The letter from the Pennington county board also seemed to suggest that since steps had been taken to prevent wind and water erosion, future problems with sedimentation from erosion would be limited. "The Pennington County Board of Commissioners has adopted a Comprehensive Local Water plan. One of the goals in the plan is to reduce wind and water erosion of soils into ditches and rivers. Pennington county is working with the Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation to promote measure to reduce erosion into our ditches and rivers. Some of the measures being implemented on an ongoing basis are: promoting RIM and CRP programs; promoting conservation minimum tillage techniques; planting field wind breaks; promoting grass waterways and installing erosion control structures where needed. These measures are expected to limit soil erosion in the future."

Representatives from the various groups involved are expected to meet in August or September to look at the outcome of the Red Lake Watershed preliminary engineer's report.

Ultralight plane crash in Smiley township

Gerald Johnson of Thief River Falls was injured Wednesday evening east of Thief River Falls when the ultra-light airplane he was flying collided with high-line wires.

According to a Pennington county sheriff's department spokesperson, the department received a report of an ultra-light plane crash at about 8:13 p.m. Wednesday, July 10. Officers arrived at the same time ambulance personnel arrived. According to a witness who was flying an ultra-light with Johnson at the time of the accident, Johnson's Challenger brand ultra-light collided with power lines and flipped. The plane then landed right side up in the middle of County road 6 in Smiley township of Pennington county. Johnson complained of hip pain and was taken to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls by Midwest Ambulance. Damage loss according to the accident report was estimated at $3,000. The power lines were not severed. However, the lines were tangled up and a pole broken.

According to the nursing supervisor at Northwest Medical Center on Thursday afternoon, Johnson was in stable condition in their intensive care unit.

Shortened Mayor's Term; The Right Move Stopped Short

The only thing wrong with the Thief River Falls city council's 6-2 decision Tuesday evening to reduce the term of mayor from four to two years is the motive. Whatever the stated reasons for the change, they only thinly veil the apparent differences between the council and Mayor Bob Carlson.

It would not be unfair to say that Carlson has been a controversial mayor. He certainly has not been reluctant to make his opinions known or to take issue with those who disagree with him. We are among those who admit to having disagreements on occasion, but we do not view the mayor's candor and openness as a fault, although we sometimes view his fervor as overly theatrical.

And we do understand the views of some people that the mayor used a "one last term" theme in his last mayoral campaign that may have attracted voter sympathy and contributed to his re-election. If that contention is a legitimate concern, it is more properly a campaign issue than a reason to make a change in term of office. We frankly doubt the change would have been proposed if there had been an expected vacancy in the mayoral race this year.

Motivation aside, however, we agree with the two-year term adopted by the council. Some of the reasons for the change submitted by Alderman Don Barron earlier this year are valid (see the city council story in today's issue of the Northern Watch). In general, from local to state and national government, the relative security of longer terms leads to impunity by the office holders. Six-year terms for U.S. Senators, for instance, are far too long.

For that matter, the council stopped short of taking fully appropriate action by not reducing terms of aldermen from four years to two years as well. Certainly the valid reasons presented for a shortened mayoral term are equally valid for the council. Can we expect that action to be taken soon?

The Constitution..... It Ensures Our Freedom

"Today most Americans take for granted the system of government created by those inspired delegates to the Constitutional Convention in the long, hot summer of 1787," writes Warren C. Burger, Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court from 1969 to 1986 and presently serving as chairman of the Commission on the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution.

"In some respects this affirms the success of their efforts—the system has worked," he continues. "Our Constitution leaves us free to speak, to write, to read, to work, to worship, to live our lives in peace, without really having to analyze why this is so. No other country has operated under a written constitution for as long as we have.

"It could have been different, and it was different in other countries that experienced revolutions. It is worth repeating that after the American Revolution there was no reign of terror, no bloodshed like that following the French Revolution of 1789 or the Russian Revolution of 1917. After the Constitution gave us a new system of government, there were no tumbrels and guillotines, no gallows, no firing squads.

"The American experience was unique," he adds, "because the American leaders knew not only how to make a revolution but how to govern. Years before the Declaration of Independence was signed, Americans had learned to govern themselves, solving many of their problems by discussion, debate and compromise in town meetings. The power of British monarchs could not reach the daily lives of most Americans.

"The significant difference between the American experience and others, however, is the Constitution itself. The Constitution, together with the Bill of Rights and subsequent Amendments, will safeguard the freedoms of Americans living in the years ahead just as it has since 1789.

"Our freedoms place a responsibility on each of us to become involved," Burger says. "That is why what happened in Philadelphia is so important to our lives today. It is the system of government the delegates created—the system established by the Constitution—that sets the United States of America apart."

Former Chief Justice Burger wrote the preceding comments as an introduction to a supplement to the "Publishers' Auxiliary," a tabloid newspaper published by the National Newspaper association. The supplement contains a number of articles regarding the various amendments to the original Constitution, including the first 10 amendments known as the Bill of Rights.

(There were actually 12 amendments submitted to the states for ratification, but the states rejected the first two dealing with apportionment in the House and Congressional pay. Amendments three through 12 became the Bill of Rights.)

The idea of including a Bill of Rights in the Constitution first surfaced only five days before the Constitution itself was signed on September 17, 1787, by 39 delegates to the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia. The idea received little discussion, however, and it was not until the First Federal Congress met in New York City in 1789 that the House and Senate agreed on 12 proposed amendments and submitted them to the states for ratification. That process lasted until Dec. 15, 1791, when Virginia became the 11th and final necessary state to ratify the amendments.

"In its 200 years, the Bill of Rights, together with the subsequent amendments and the efforts of government officials and private citizens, has helped to move the nation closer to the aspiration of securing liberty, justice and equality to all Americans," an article in the supplement states.

We should remember that the Constitution and its amendments are intended to protect the citizenry from an oppressive government. This is a basic fundamental of freedom in America.

From time to time during the next few weeks we will be including articles from the supplement in these editorial columns. We hope you will read them and spend a little time considering what they mean to you, your family, your neighbors and this republic we call the United States of America.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters to the editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by the newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Thief River Falls' Career Family Teacher Program held a picnic June 18 for families of children 4-years-old through first grade. The purpose of the program is to help families and children with any educational concerns they may have, according to Marlo Hvidsten, program director. The program is similar to the concept of a family doctor, she said. About 150 people attended the picnic. The program is sponsored by School District 564. At the picnic, Bubbles the Clown entertained the children. Bubbles the Clown is Robin Goboll. For more information about the program contact Marle Hvidsten at 681-8677.

Young fiddlers to perform at events in TRF

The Fiddlers' Three, a talented violin and vocal trio from Fergus Falls will be performing in Thief River Falls Tuesday, July 16.

The girls will be playing old time fiddling and Scandinavian music at the Heritage Community Center at noon, July 16, and then singing and playing a variety of old-time Scandinavian and religious and classical music at Trinity Church for the 2 p.m. meeting of the Golden Years Group.

Members of the group are Joddi Johnson, Sonja Larson, and Erin McCallum. Joddi is the granddaughter of Martha Helgeland of Thief River Falls. The girls will be in the Sixth and Seventh grade and have performed for numerous community church and senior citizen events throughout West Central Minnesota.

Deadlines set for MN Chamber Keystone program

Applications to the Keystone program sponsored by the Greater Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce are now available. The deadline for applications is July 22.

The Minnesota Keystone Program identifies, encourages and recognizes Minnesota companies that help produce healthier communities for the people of Minnesota by contributing two per cent or more of pre-tax earnings to address community needs, or by promoting innovative corporate volunteerism programs.

To recognize the various ways businesses can contribute to community betterment, the Keystone program offers two different awards: program awards and contributions awards. Contribution awards include a two per cent award for companies that contribute the equivalent of two per cent to 4.9 per cent of net domestic earnings, and a five per cent award for companies that contribute five per cent or more.

The application deadline for program awards, a competitive process, is due by July 22. The deadline for acceptance of contributions awards is July 31.

For more information contact the local Chamber of Commerce or Bette Anderson at the Greater Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce at (612) 370-9151.

Thiet River Fells Bombers second basemen Nathan Knutson made the double play pivot egainst Red Lako Falls' Mark St. Marie in the third inning ot Wednesday's American Legion baseball doubleheader opener in Thiat River Falls. Shortstop Marc Heugen wetched tho action. The Bombers won the game 4-3 by turning another double pley on a one-out, beses-loedad eituation in the top of the seventh inning.

Bombers eye No. 1 seed

Red Lake Falls suffered its first 1991 North Sub-District 9 Tier II-counting American Legion baseball loss Wednesday – a 4-3 defeat at the hands of the Thief River Falls Bombers that ieft the two tesms heading into the final week of regular season play battling for the No. 1 post-season seed.

A 6-1 Red Lake Falls win in the second half of the twinbill was a five-inning nonconference affair.

Red Lake Falls beat Thief River Falls 6-2 in an earlier North Sub-District 9 match-up. The conference-counting split represent the ione North Sub-District 9 Tier II loss for either side this summer. The Bombers head to Warroad Saturday for a 2 p.m. doubleheader, and will elose out regular season play with three doubleheaders next week – 5:30 p.m. VFW twinbills at East Grand Forks and Moorhead Monday and Friday, respectively, along with a 7 p.m. Legion outing at Ada Wednesday.

Thief River Falls built a 4-1 lead, then held off Red Lake Falls 4-3 in Gamo 1, finishing it off with a game-ending bases-loaded doublo play in the top of the seventh inning.

"We did what we had to do to win the baseball game," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Wayne Rahlf. "It was a big win for our kids. You have to play good baseball to beat a good baseball team, and Red Lake Falls has a very good, experienced team. It was a big win for our 16-year-olds."

Carter Rogalla was 2-for-3 while the Bombers were being out-hit 8-5. Glenn Marcotte had a 3-for-3 game with three doubles as the Red Lake Falls clean-up hitter.

Trevor Haugen was the starting and winning pitcher, with Marc Haugen picking up a save in the seventh inning. They did not strike out a batter, but walked just two.

American Legion baseball doubleheader...

TRF, EGF split games

Thief River Falls won the opener 4-0, but host East Grand Forks came back with a 6-1 second-game victory Wednesday in a Ninth District Tier I American Legion baseball doubleheader.

The split left Thief River Falis at .500 for the year with a 12-12 record. The Howard Daiager-coached Post 117 squad will compete in the Bemidji Invitational this weekend before hosting Crookston Wednesday in a 6 p.m. doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field.

Thief River Falls....4
East Grand Forks....0

Kyie Evenson turned in a three-hit shutont performance on the mound to lead Thief River Falls past East Grand Forks 4-0 in Game 1.

Evenson struck out five and did not walk a batter. Singies in the second, fourth and seventh innings produced the only East Grand Forks runners of the game.

The six Thief River Falis hits came from six different players.

Post 117 came up with a three-run fourth laning to break opcn a scoreless game as Mike Rokke drew a lesd-off walk, Mike Swanson reached base on an error and Evenson singled to load the bases. Barry Dowers drew a walk to force in the first round, and back-to-back infield ground-outs produced RBI for Pete Balmer and Chris Aune.

Dowers' second bases-loaded walk of the game made it 4-0 in the top of the seventh. A two-out walk for Rokke started it, with Swanson picking up a single and Evenson drawing a walk to load the bases for Dowers.

Sub-District Babe Ruth pairings...

TRF teams begin baseball playoffs

Eight teams start play Saturday in the 1991 Lake Agassiz South Sub-District Babe Ruth baseball tournament for 14-15-year-olds at Crookston.

The double-elimination event will advance its two finalists to the Lake Agassiz District tournament July 19-20 in Roseau, where they will be joined by the two qualifiers from the Lake Agassiz North Sub-District.

South games will be played at two Crookston sites. In 9:30 a.m. Upper Bracket first round play, the No. 1-seeded Crookston Gold will meet the No. 8 East Grand Forks Bluo Jays, while the No. 4-seeded Thief River Falis Strikers take on No. 5 Red Lake Falls. In 12-noon Lower Bracket first round games, the No. 3-seeded Thief River Falls Gophers go against the No. 6 Thief River Falls Shockers and the No. 2-seeded East Grand Forks A's play the No. 7 Crookston Blues.

Second round games for both winners and losers will be played later that day, with the Upper Bracket match-ups taking place at 2:30 p.m. and the Lower Bracket contests starting at 5.

Play resumes Sunday, with tho finals planned Monday at 1 p.m., and if needed in the double-elimination format, Tuesday at 9 a.m.

Three Thief River Falls Prep teams will begin post-season play at the Lake Agassiz District Babe Ruth tournament for 13-year-olds July 18-20 in Crookston.

Middle River Reivers lose game to Ada

Ada scored five times in the third inning en route to a 9-7 amateur baseball win over the Middle River Reivers Wednesday.

The loss dropped the Reivers to 4-6 for tho year. They will meet Warroad Saturday in a 1 p.m. doubleheader at Middlo River and will take on East Grand Forks Sunday in a single nine-inning game beginning at 2 p.m. at Irv Wilson Field in Thief River Falls.

Andy Larson was 3-for-4 and Dan Cvikla went 2-for-4 as the Reivers out-hit Ada 11-6.

Outdoor News

Canvasback, considered by many to be the most highly regarded of all waterfowl, is finding fewer and fewer nesting marshes in its traditional prairie pothole breeding habitat in western Minnesota.

Female canvasback prefer to conceal her overwater nest in the cattail and bullrush areas of small prairie wetlands measuring only one-half to one acre in size. This dependence on such tiny wetlands made the canvasback, more than any other species, the victim of Minnesota's recent decades of accelerated drainage and habitat destruction.

Preservation and enhancement of these vital small wetlands is a priority of the Operation Canvasback program by the Minnesota Waterfowl Association.

By increasing the public awareness of the plight of the canvasback and its threatened habitats, tho program focuses attention on these diminishing resources and works to reverse the devastation.

Launched by by MWA in 1986, an important thrust of Operation Canvasback has been the identification of critical canvasback habitat throughout Minnesota. This ongoing effort features signs bearing the dynamic flying canvasback drake created by noted Edina wildlife artist James A Meger.

Since 1986, over 500 signs have been placed by MWA volunteers, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources. The signs identify hundreds of important canvasback breeding, staging and migration areas.

Persons wanting to help support this non-profit program with a $25 or more tax-deductible donation to MWA/Operation Canvasback will receive an attractive 20x32-inch silk screened replica of the habitat sign, along with a matching 4-inch window decal.

Minnesota Waterfowl Association is a non-profit conservation organization concerning its efforts on the wetland and waterfowl resources within the state.

Red Lako Falls third baseman Glenn Marcotto hed to leap in the air to pull down a high throw as Thief River Falls Bombers runner Jason Svir moved up from second base on a passed ball in the fifth inning of Wednesday's American Legion baseball doubleheader opener at Irv Wilson Field. The Bombers won 4-3.

of wildlife and Jack Skrypek chief of its Fisheries Section.

An avid salmon ond panfish ongler, Skrypek, who is 52, has worked for the DNR Division of Fish ond Wildlife for 30 years. A life-long resident of St. Paul, he is a graduate of the University of Minnesota with a degree in fish and wildlife management. Skrypek had been chief of the DNR's Ecological Services Section for 12 years until becoming acting Fisheries chief in February, 1991, when former Fisheries chief Dick Hassinger became assistant to the director of the Division of Fish and Wildlife.

"Jack is on aqratic ecologist," said Division of Fish and Wildlife Director Roger Holmes. "He's well-equipped to address the state's wide range of fish management issues."

Bremicker, 43, is an avid waterfowler who also hails from St. Paul. He had been the Wildlife Section's program manager before being appointed acting chief in 1990, when Holmes left the spot to become division director. Bremicker, who has o degree in fish and wildlife management from the University of Minnesoto, has also worked as o field researcher and wildlife manager at Cold Spring.

"Tim has a statewide perspective of wildlife management with extensive knowledge of wetlands, the federal farm programs, and forest wildlife," said Holmes.

Skrypek and Bremicker, well respected by conservation groups throughout the state, are both strong believers in protecting woter and land resources for the good of fish and wildlife and, as o result, hunting, fishing, trapping and wildlife watching.

"I'm real pleased they've both accepted these important positions," said Holmes. "They are very good at what they do and will help us in our mission of wisely managing our fish, wildlife, and native plant resources."

Lightning causes fire at Stephen home

Stephen — Lightning struck at the Clarence Kostrzowski farm home east of Stephen on July 6. It is believed that the electrical charge traveled through the telephone line. Damage from the resulting fire was confined to the attic, bedroom and living room. Smoke damage was also reported. No injuries occured. (Messenger)

Youth golf league to be organized

Greenbush — A Youth League golf organization is being organized for students fourth grade and older. The league will play Tuesday and Thursdays at 1 p.m. during the month of July. The league is sponsored by the Summer Rec department at no charge. (Greenbush Tribune)

Fosston fire number disconnected

Fosston — After years of service, telephone number 435-1234, the Fosston Fire department, has been disconnected. Fire Chief Dave Larson explained that the number is obsolete, since all fire calls should be made to 911. For the next few months, the old number will have a recording attached to it directing the caller to call 911. (Thirteen Towns)

Hallock says no to second Redi-Mix plant

Hallock — Hallock cast's voto against business competition July 8 in a special meeting of the city council, making a decision not to allow Strata Concrete corporation to buy or lease land in the city's industrial park. After hearing local contractors state that the present concrete plant is not too busy, the council felt that the competition would have been too much. (Kittson County Enterprise)

Name the new school!

Kittson County — School District 2359 (Hallock and Humboldt-St. Vincent) still doesn't have a name. In order to give the class of 1992 more than just a number to graduate from, and to help the school board gain public input on this issue, the Kittson County Enterprise has announced a contest to name the school. Entries should by typed or written clearly with the name idea and the name and address of the person submitting it to the Kittson County Enterprise, P.O. Box 730, Hallock, MN 56728 by August 9. A complete list of all entries will be presented to the school board August 13. (Kittson County Enterprise)

New banners welcome visitors to Greenbush

Greenbush — Fifteen new banners line Main street and the Highway 11 corrider from the hospital to the "Y" in Greenbush. A project of the Beautification committee, the welcome banners feature the showy ladyslipper, Minnesota's state flower. The design is the same screen print of the ladyslipper that is found on the highway signs designating the Highway 11 Wildflower route from Greenbush to Baudette. (Greenbush Tribune)

Prehistoric artifacts unearthed in Clearwater county

Clearwater County — Lesley LaRoque, a second-grader from Bagley, recently was digging in the lake bank near his grandparents' home at Long Lost Lake when he found some unusual looking rocks. He showed them to his grandmother, Almire Bellecourt, who recognized arrow and spearheads. State Archaeologist Tamara Edevoid estimates the pieces as being up to 4,000 years old. (Farmers Independent)

Lyme disease widespread in Red Lake county

Red Lake County — Lyme disease is becoming very prevalent in the Red Lake county area, according to Dr. Owen Nelson, a family physician there. Four individuals are presently being treated for the second stage of symptoms with multiple sclerosis-like characteristics. The doctor is also seeing a number of cases every week of people with the first sympton of the disease, a bull's eye rash around a bite or a rash the size of a 50-cent piece. Ticks are the main carriers of the disease. (Gazette)

Red Lake students write book about elders

Red Lake — For the second time Red Lake high school students have been the catalyst for a published book about life on the Red Lake reservation. "We Choose To Remember: More Memories of the Red Lake Ojibwe People" is now in print as a 100-page paperback, based on the words of reservation elders recalling their past, together with historic photographs. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Bergland donates 55 acres for golf course

Roseau — Roseau native Bob Bergland has donated 55 acres south of the Roseau golf course to be developed as an additional nine holes, to make the course an 18-hole golf course. The $300,000 gift was made to the city on the condition that the council would provide water, sewer and roads to the course and another 50 to 60 acres around the fairways could be used as a residential area. (Roseau Times-Region)

Perrault is Miss TRF candidate

Stephanie's life for a number of years. She received the R. J. Poirier Senior Music award in high school and was a member of the honor jazz and concert bands selected through Northland college.

As a sophomore in high school she attended a music camp for jazz musicians which she says "motivated me in many avenues to pursue my future in music." She was also selected for the art mentorship program and studied with a voice instructor in Red Lake Falls during the summer between her junior and senior years in high school.

Music was not her only interest in high school, however. She took part in volleyball as a player and statistician, played softball in high school and on an intra-mural basis in college.

"I selected my college major because it emphasizes two areas I like to work in and keep learning more about," Stephanie said. "I believe in progressing in a career, not only in earnings but in knowledge."

Winner of the Miss Red Lake Falls title in 1990, she has been singing since September of last year with a country band called "Night Watch" which performs nearly every weekend for various events.

Stephanie has two older brothers, Timothy and Anthony, ages 26 and 21, and an older sister, Rita Schonviller, 24. She says she loves the openness and honesty in her family and that late night talks are a big plus for her.

"My ambition for life is to keep looking ahead at goals and striving for what will be right for me," she said. "It would make me feel good and that I was getting ahead in life if I could help people such as those in special education classes."

of Fire."

"Sunday we had a picnic at a state park which contains one of the last remnants of the big woods.

"The second week we spent researching math in a group of six. In the evenings we had a twilight field trip at Carleton college, an astronomy lecture, a lecture on ecology and the earth, a science and ethics lecture and a science bowl.

"We worked very hard, but it wasn't all work. There were movies, volleyball, bowling, swimming and a dance.

"I would like to thank Mr. Welter, Mr. Wallberg, Mrs. Olson and Mr. Blankenfeld for their encouragement and support."

Western Week events planned next week

Floyd B. Olson park will be provided.

It will be "Country Night" at the Best Western Friday night with adult lip-sync and music by "Saddle Tramp" also on the program of events.

The park will also be the site of the monthly flea market Saturday, July 20.

From 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. Saturday KTRF/KSNR radio and participating business places will host a free chuckwagon breakfast at the Norwest Bank parking lot on Main avenue.

At the Best Western Inn beginning at 11 a.m. will be a volleyball tournament, followed by the Little Brother/Little Sister chili cook-off contest.

Games sponsored by the Thief River Falls chapter of the Women of Today will take place from 1 to 6 p.m. A family picnic is set for 4 p.m. with a price of $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children. Competition for Li'l Miss and Li'l Mr. Best Western will take place at 4:30 p.m.

Junior lip-sync contest for children through 10 years of age will begin at 5:30 p.m. with trophies and people's choice awards for the chili cook-off to be awarded at 6:15 p.m. Junior lip-sync contest for persons ages 11-20 will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Adult lip-sync finals will begin at 7 p.m. with "Saddle Tramp" playing for a dance on the parking lot on the south side of the Best Western beginning at 8 p.m.

Horse and wagon rides from Lon's restaurant parking lot to the Pennington Pioneer Village on Oakland Park road will be provided Sunday, July 21, from 1 to 6 p.m. Cost of $2 for adults and $1 for children will include admission to the Pioneer Village. Return rides on the horse-drawn wagon will be available when the visit to the village is completed.

Also on Sunday, games and contests for horses and riders will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. at the horse arena on the west end of the Pennington county fairgrounds. Fleet Supply and St. Hilaire Co-op Elevator will provide door prizes for which all participants are eligible. Everyone is welcome to participate and pre-registration is requested by calling 681-1240 (days) or 681-7058 after 4 p.m.

Candidates for Ninth District position chosen

Finalists for an opening in the Ninth Judicial District, vacated by Judge J.A. Harren of Red Lake Falls who retired May 31, have been selected.

Governor Arne Carlson's Commission on Judicial Selection has announced three finalists for the opening in Minnesota's Ninth Judicial District. The opening occurred upon the retirement of the Honorable Judge J.A. Harren on May 31, 1991.

Harren who is from Red Lake Falls, was first elected to the position in 1964. He was subsequently elected to the position in 1970, 1976, 1982, and 1988.

According to a news release from the Office of Governor Carlson, after looking at the initial needs of the district, the Minnesota Supreme Court decided to relocate the chambers from Red Lake Falls in Red Lake county to the city of Walker in Cass County.

Names as finalists by the commission are Douglas Wayne Cann, Bemidji; John Randolph Leitner, McGregor; and John Paul Smith of Nevis.

Cann received his law degree from the University of Minnesota Law School and practices with the Bemidji firm of Cann, Schmidt, Haskell and D'Albani. He is a panel attorney for Northwest Minnesota Legal Services, a judicare program providing legal services to low income and indigent individuals. Before entering private practice, Cann served as the Beltrami County Attorney from 1963 to 1978, and has concentrated on the areas of corporate-partnership, real estate, and consumer law.

Leitner is a graduate of the William Mitchell College of Law and was in private practice before becoming the Aitkin County Attorney in 1979, a position he continues to hold. He is a member of the Minnesota State Bar, Aitkin-Crow Wing County and Minnesota County Attorney's Associations and is also involved in the Minnesota DWI Task Force. His areas of interest include family law, real estate, contract and criminal law.

Smith is a partner with the Park Rapids firm of Smith, Hunter and Vallen practicing primarily in the area of civil litigation with extensive practice in criminal defense and family law. Smith received a Bush Mid-Career Leadership Fellowship in 1986 and has been on the Nevis School board since 1987. He is a member of the Minnesota, Hubbard county, Fifteenth district, and Georgia State Bar Associations; and the Minnesota Trial Lawyers Association. Smith also serves on the Minnesota Small Business Development Advisory Board and is certified as a Civil Trial Specialist by the Minnesota State Bar Association.

Executive director chosen for AURI

Richard Nelson of Lakeland, FL, has been chosen from a large file of candidates to serve as Executive Director of the Agricultural Utilization Research Institute (AURI).

Nelson will be responsible for organizing and directing all aspects of the institute's operations. He will be in charge of coordinating research initiatives on projects with entrepreneurs, small to medium-sized businesses and educational institutions for applied research, product development and technology transfer activities.

He previously served as New Technology manager for the FMC Corporation, Citrus Machinery and Services Division. He was responsible for expanding the division's expertise beyond citrus, and for the identification and development of technology-based business opportunities in food processing.

Nelson has also served as director of research, development and technical services for the Canandaigua Wine Company, a leading wine and fruit product company. He was responsible for the Valley Home takes no more rug orders

Valley Home will no longer accept orders for woven rugs, but will have rugs for sale to the public as they become available, according to the craft department at the home.

Persons who have rug materials and orders at the home at this time are asked to please notify the craft department as to whether the materials are to be picked up or donated. Materials not picked up by September 1 will be considered donated.

Mature aspen harvest helps woodlots

Cutting of trees past their prime generates regrowth and improves wildlife value

This sheerer unit makes selective cutting of trees a less destructive method in farm woodlots. It grasps trees up to 18 inches in diameter by the base, shears them off and transports them in an upright position. Parker Anderson demonstrates how the unit can raise a large aspen tree to clear fences, stumps or other obstacles. The shear unit tips to lay the tree down with others in a pile to be picked up later by the skidder unit.

Aspen past its normal maturity deteriorates quite rapidly. Those logs harvested in southeastern Pennington county show the way the core of the tree has begun to rot. Many of the aspen woodlots in the area contain trees past their maturity.

Harvest of mature aspen (most commonly referred to as "popple" in this area) in farm woodlots can provide farmers with extra income, regenerate growth, improve habitat for wildlife and make use of a product which would otherwise be wasted.

"Farmers used to take care of their wood lots like they did back in the old country," recalls Harry Hanson of rural Trail, whose father homesteaded in southeastern Pennington county. Hanson recently contracted with P & E Logging of Clearbrook to select cut aspen on one of his woodlots.

"The woods used to be important for settlers," Hanson said. "They used the larger, straight trees for lumber and they harvested them while they were still sound. Straight trees were never cut for firewood. That came from the stunted or crooked trees or those that were damaged in some way. Trees were looked on as a renewable crop."

As society changed, however, and the need for local trees for building and even for firewood decreased, woodlots were either cleared away to create cropland or were allowed to remain with little if any attention paid to them. It was easier, and probably no more expensive, to purchase dried and planed lumber. It was certainly more convenient to burn petroleum fuels than to feed a wood fire for winter heat.

Hanson, like others, has become concerned about the conservation aspect of allowing old woodlots to deteriorate. The over-mature trees stop growing and begin to decompose. Their leafy overstory, however, shades the ground and prevents the sunlight needed for regeneration from reaching the new saplings. As the old growth aspen succumbs to decay and disease, its place is taken by other hardwoods or by less desirable brush and stunted trees.

Parker Anderson, who with his wife Elaine owns P & E Logging, has been selective cutting mature aspen for a number of years in the area. Trees cut for Hanson and for John Nelson on adjoining land has been sold to Northwood Panelboard company at Solway. That company will accept aspen logs that are up to 50 per cent unsound.

"Most of the popple in this country—from here to Thief River Falls—is like this," Anderson said, pointing to a partially loaded truck where most of the logs were rotten in the center. "Some of it is pretty good in spots, but most of it is past maturity and is going downhill."

Anderson said there is a lot of aspen available in farm woodlots in the area and that it is going to waste every year. He said is may be feasible from an economic standpoint to cut mature trees on woodlots which will yield about 100 single cords (4x4x8 feet)—about 10 acres in most areas. He and his wife harvest trees year-around with the exception of the spring break-up period.

For about the past month the Andersons have been cutting trees on the Hanson and Nelson farms with about 50 acres being cut. The Andersons leave the oak and ash and the aspen that is less than six inches at the base. They maintain that removal of the mature trees allows plenty of sunlight to reach the ground and stimulate aspen regrowth.

"Why cut the smaller trees and waste that growth?" Anderson asked. "We're looking at about 35 years for a popple tree to reach maturity, and it takes a sapling a long time to reach that six-inch stage. Selective cutting can be done periodically as growth matures, rather than waiting 35 to 40 years for a full stand to mature."

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources foresters have a different view of aspen forestry. They generally recommend clear-cutting of aspen stands to permit maximum sunlight to reach the forest floor and regenerate the saplings. Selective cutting on a five or 10-year basis would destroy much of the smaller regrowth, they say.

Tim Schneider, forestry technician at the DNR forestry office in

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

Appetites can disappear in hot weather. Here are some tasty treats that can pep up summertime eating.

This hot, spicy dip can be just the thing to tempt your family into eating something substantial.

Nacho Dip

2 (15 ounce) cans chili-style beans
1 (4 ounce) can diced green chilies, drained
1 cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese
1 teaspoon oregano
1 teaspoon garlic salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 cup sour cream
1/2 cup sliced stuffed green olives
1 large tomato, diced
1 small onion, diced chopped lettuce
tortilla chips

Place beans, chilies, cheese, oregano, garlic and sugar in 12x8 baking dish and heat at 400 degrees for 10 minutes.

Remove from oven and spread sour cream in a stripe down center of mixture. Top with sliced olives, then a row of tomatoes on each side of sour cream.

Add a row of onions on each side of tomatoes and then garnish with lettuce.

Serve on a hot plate with tortilla chips for "scoopers."

Here's a recipe for another spicy, tempting treat.

Pizza Appetizers

1 egg
3/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon onion
1 tablespoon green pepper
1 cup shredded mozzarella cheese
1/2 cup tomato sauce
1/2 teaspoon oregano
3 ounces meat (pepperoni, cooked hamburger, sausage, whatever)

In small mixing bowl, combine egg, flour, salt, pepper and half of milk. Beat well with mixer until smooth.

Add remaining milk, beating well. Stir in onion, green pepper and half of cheese.

Pour into greased 9" pie pan. Bake at 425 degrees for 25 minutes.

Remove from oven and pour tomato sauce on top, sprinkling with oregano.

Add meat and sprinkle with remaining cheese.

Return to oven and bake for about 7 minutes. Cool slightly before cutting into wedges.

Here's a cool dip that dieters will love:

Yogurt Cucumber Dip

1 large cucumber
salt
3 cloves garlic, peeled and minced
2 cups plain low-fat or non-fat yogurt
Fresh mint leaves

Peel, seed and chop cucumber. Place in colander, lightly sprinkle with salt, and let drain for 10 minutes. Pat dry.

Mix cucumber, garlic, yogurt and mint leaves. Place in serving bowl and garnish with more mint leaves.

One more tasty treat made with — would you believe — that all-time favorite, zucchini:

Zucchini Rounds

1 medium zucchini or other summer squash
1 (3 ounce) package cream cheese
1 tablespoon chopped green onions, tops included more
2 teaspoons fresh green parsley, chopped
1 teaspoon sour cream
1/2 teaspoon white vinegar

Peel zucchini with potato peeler. Use end of peeler to core zucchini and remove center seed section.

In small mixing bowl, combine all other ingredients and then stuff zucchini with mixture. Chill thoroughly and slice in rounds to serve.

Something cool and tasty to drink with that would make a perfect snack. This one is made with those fresh peaches that are available in the stores now.

Peach Sunrisers

2 cups orange juice
2 fresh peaches, sliced
1 cup plain, low-fat yogurt
6 ice cubes
2-3 tablespoons cranberry juice concentrate

Combine orange juice, peaches, yogurt and ice cubes in blender. Whirl until thick and smooth.

Pour over ice cubes in tall glasses and pour cranberry juice concentrate over to make a swirl effect.

Rather have a salty drink on a hot day? This one is good for you, too:

Sloe 8 Fizz

5 3/4 cups "V8" vegetable juice
1 (10 ounce) bottle club soda
2 tablespoons lemon juice
lemon slices for garnish

Chill all ingredients. In 2-quart pitcher, mix V8, soda and lemon juice. Serve over ice cubes in tall glasses and garnish with lemon slices. (40 calories per serving.)

Fresh strawberries make this drink special. Make one for each of you.

Strawberry Cooler

1/4 cup halved strawberries
1/4 cup orange juice
1/2 cup low calorie lemon-lime soda pop

Place berries and orange juice in blender and puree smooth. Pour mixture over ice in a tall glass and add lemon soda to fill.

One more icy drink, this made with melon. Try other melons for different taste treats.

Honeydew Shake

1/2 cup low-fat yogurt more
2 teaspoons sugar
1 cup melon chunks

In blender or food processor, blend all ingredients thoroughly. Pour over ice and serve two. (Makes 2 glasses.)

Deviled Eggs

Picnics are fun, but have you ever heard "Can't we go yet?" or something similar. A way to help with the problem of children's impatience is to let them help with the food preparation. A nice picnic food to let them help with is deviled eggs. Boil the eggs and let them cool completely. Then let your child help "peel" the eggs. After they are all shelled, cut each egg in half and put the yolks in a bowl and set the whites aside. Blend a little salad dressing into the yolks then put the yellow yolks back in the whites. The children can help here, too. Be sure they use a teaspoon.

Be sure to store the eggs on ice before you eat them, because the salad dressing needs to be kept cool.

Have fun and happy picnicking!

(Contributed by Discovery Place child care center)

SCAVENGER HUNT

For next week's Activities feature, you will need heavy paper plate, sand, rocks, shells, driftwood, plaster of paris and a paper clip.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

There are many ups and downs to friendships as is evident in these two new children's books at the Thief River Falls public library:

Schwartz, Roslyn. Rose and Dorothy. Rose, a kind mouse, invited her friend Dorothy, a singing elephant, to live with her. While their differences first attracted them to each other, those same diffences soon cause friction between the two. Can true friendship survive? Read and see.

Chorao, Kay. Ida and Betty and the Secret Eggs. Ida and Betty are best friends planning to spend a wonderful summer together until Lucinda comes along. The four perfect eggs they found together, however, bring them together once again.

PARENTING TIPS

Picnics

Going on a picnic is a wonderful way to enjoy the outdoors and summer. Whether you picnic in your backyard or miles from home, the change of pace can be fun for children and adults alike. It is important for parents to remember that any new environment will be exciting for children but it can also present some unsafe conditions. Children must be watched carefully.

Eating outside can create interest and a real appetite for the picky eater or there may be so much to do and look at that children don't want to eat at all. Be flexible! Prepare nutritious snacks so that children who want to snack or eat "on the go" will get a well balanced meal, too.

Take along lots of boxes, jars or pails to hold collections. As children explore this environment allow them to bring some of their precious collections home. You might even give them some "assignments," such as finding three leaves or five rocks or two pinecones.

(Contributed by the Early Childhood Family Education department of School District 564.)

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Talk about and describe what you see around you. Don't forget the little things. The ants crawling across your picnic blanket can be just as fascinating as the play ground equipment.

Euclid plans for event July 21

Euclid Days will be held in Euclid Sunday, July 21. A number of activities have been planned for the day including a potluck dinner, bake sale, children's games and a dance.

Throughout the day cars/vehicles from the past will be shown in the school yards. Pictures from the past will be on display in the Euclid Legion Hall.

At 12:30 entertainment begins with drawings, grocery raffles by the Women of Today, a bake sale by St. Mary's Ladies Aid, and a pie/ice cream sale by St. Paul's Ladies Aid.

At 1:15 p.m. bingo will be held by the Legion auxiliary. Children's games begin at 1:45 p.m. in the school yard. At 2 p.m. the 4-H ice cream stand will open.

Adult events begin at 3:30 p.m. Events include a dunking stand, and volleyball games. At 6 p.m. supper of Barbecues and hot dog baskets. At 8 p.m. a dance with "One-n-only" will be held.

Euclid Days is an event held annually by the Euclid Women of Today. It is for all members of the community, friends and neighbors around the area.

Senior Federation plans meetings

Minnesota Senior Federation, Northwest Region, has scheduled the following meetings: an executive board meeting for August 8 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; delegate assembly September 5 from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; the executive board meeting October 18 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

At the meeting held July 8, Jan Casey of the Northwest Ombudsman told the group about her program for nursing homes. Anyone with problems should call her at 1-800-657-3591 or 218-751-9201. The need for this program to be extended to hospitals and alternative care was discussed.

The placing of information at county fairs was also discussed. Information should be available at the Pennington county and Marshall county fairs. It is hoped that information will be available at more fairs in the future.

The group is looking forward to hiring a field coordinator.

Aaron Enge accepted to MSU

Aaron Enge of Thief River Falls has been accepted as a student at the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) and will begin studies fall quarter.

Opinions

Marvin Lundin
Editor

Editorial opinion published on this page, whether locally written or re-printed from other sources is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Opinions expressed by the editor are his own and not necessarily those of other staff members. Opinions expressed in items from other publications may be contradictory to the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

Council Can't Do What It Can't Do

In our editorial in Friday's edition of the Northern Watch regarding Thief River Falls city council action on shortening the term of mayor from four years to two years, we were critical of the council for not applying the same reasons to the four-year terms of council members.

"...the council stopped short of taking fully appropriate action by not reducing terms of aldermen from four years to two years as well," we wrote in that editorial. "Certainly the valid reasons presented for a shortened mayoral term are equally valid for the council. Can we expect that action to be taken soon?"

We were guilty of being uninformed in stating our opinion. Even if the council wanted to do so, it could not reduce the length of council member terms without a substantial change in governmental operations. State law provides that terms of office for city council members shall be four years in length, while an accompanying statute permits councils to establish the length of mayoral term at either two or four years.

Given the constraints of the law, we were unfair in our criticism of the council for seemingly being unduly arbitrary in its actions. We can't fault the council for not doing what the law will not permit it to do and we apologize for being improperly critical as well as uninformed.

The "Revolutionary" First Amendment

(Following commentary on the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution is from the National Newspaper Association's special supplement on the Constitution in "Publisher's Auxiliary.")

THE "REVOLUTIONARY" FIRST AMENDMENT
Freedom of religion, speech, the press, assembly and petition

The First Amendment was revolutionary. It abolished the Old World concept of an "official" church supported by the state. It prohibited Congress from interfering with freedom of speech and of the press. And it protected the right to protest and petition the government for a redress of grievances.

In 1663 Rhode Island became the first colony to provide for religious liberty. More than a century later, George Mason drafted the Virginia Declaration of Rights, in 1776, calling for the "fullest toleration" of nonmembers of the established Anglican Church in Virginia.

James Madison, also a Virginian and a colleague of Mason's, and later the major force in the passage of the Bill of Rights through Congress, said that the Declaration should read: "....all men are equally entitled to enjoy the free exercise of religion." Madison believed in the freedom of religion, not simply in toleration.

The "establishment clause" of the amendment ensured that the federal government would neither favor nor discriminate against any religious entity. In 1802, Thomas Jefferson wrote that the intention of the First Amendment was to build a "wall of separation between church and state."

The First Amendment guarantees of freedom of speech and of the press resulted from a long struggle in British and American history. It had been a crime to criticize the king or his government, and censors could seize unapproved books, and unlicensed printing presses were "melted, sawed in pieces, broken or battered" and scrap was returned to the print shop owner.

Under a law of seditious libel, writers and publishers were accountable for any publication critical of the government even if the criticism was true. This law was a muzzle that stifled freedom of expression.

The seditious libel law also applied in the American colonies. But with independence, eight of the 13 state constitutions expanded press freedoms.

Three main areas have evolved in which absolute freedom of speech is not permitted. The first is where speech inflicts injury on individuals (libel and slander). The second is where speech endangers public safety or the security of the government itself. The last has to do with obscenity, an area in which the courts have found it difficult to draw a line that protects moral values while avoiding censorship of freedom of expression.

Almost 200 years ago, John Marshall, "the Great Chief Justice," said: "That this [press] liberty is often carried to excess; that it has sometimes degenerated into licentiousness, is seen and lamented, but the remedy has not yet been discovered."

He added that perhaps licentiousness "is an evil inseparable from the good with which it is allied; perhaps it is a shoot which cannot be stripped from the stalk without wounding vitally the plant from which it is torn."

One of the chief grievances that the American colonies had against Great Britain was the lack of an avenue to protest the abuses that royal governors heaped on the colonists.

When the colonies declared their independence on July 4, 1776, they noted that their petitions had fallen on deaf ears and were, ".....answered only by repeated injury."

Originally, the right to assemble peaceably was considered less important than the right of petition. But the right of assembly has now acquired a fundamental importance of its own. These two rights have afforded protection for many reform movements, from American labor unions to the abolitionist movement and the civil rights struggle of recent years.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. believed that a cornerstone of the civil rights movement was the right of all Americans peaceably to assemble in all public places.

During a trying period in Selma, Alabama, when marchers were physically abused, Dr. King said, "We march in the name of the Constitution, knowing that the Constitution is on our side. The right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances shall not be abridged. That's the First Amendment."

From the beginning, the guarantees of the First Amendment have assured an informed and engaged citizenry on which the success of the Founders' experiment in republican government would depend.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters to the editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by the newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

The Times Around The Region

by Donna Myhrer

Date for Grygla Diamond Jubilee in question

Grygla — Setting a definite date for the 1992 Grygla 75-year celebration was the main topic for discussion at a recent meeting of the Diamond Jubilee committee. The weekend of August 28-30 had been tentatively set, because the last weekend before Labor Day is the normal time for the Harvest festival. However a number of people have suggested that the Fourth of July would be more appropriate. After some discussion the committee has tentatively set the weekend of August 6-9 for the jubilee. The final decision will be made July 23. (Grygla Eagle)

Waubun Pre-Harvest festival July 20-21

Waubun — The Waubun Pre-Harvest festival will be held July 20 and 21. A parade starts off the days' activities at noon on Saturday with other features to take place at the park, such as carnival games and face painting, horseshoe and volleyball tournaments, an auction and a magic show. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

AURI director named

Crookston — Richard Nelson of Lakeland, FL has been selected from a large field of candidates to serve as executive director of the Agricultural Utilization Research Institute (AURI). He will be responsible for organizing and directing all aspects of the institute's operations and will coordinate research initiatives and projects with entrepreneurs. He previously served as new technology manager for the FMC corporation, Citrus Machinery and Services division. (Crookston Daily Times)

Gonvick center being planned

Gonvick — The Gonvick city council at their regular monthly meeting recently decided to go ahead with the building of a new community center for the city with an estimated cost of $150,000. Approximately $100,000 has already been raised. The land acquired is the corner lot just to the south of the present city hall. No tax money will be used for the building project. (Leader-Record)

Bemidji water tower gets new face

Bemidji — A new Paul Bunyan and Babe are being added to the Bemidji skyline. Painting crews from H & H Watertower of Sleepy Eye have used 80 gallons of "clear sky" blue paint to repaint the water tower at 15th street. The tower painting will be the logo with a 10-foot Paul Bunyan, an eight-foot Babe and the name Bemidji. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Stephen Lutheran church to celebrate centennial

Stephen — The congregation of First Lutheran church of Stephen will celebrate its centennial with various activities on July 27-28. An open house at the church will begin Saturday at 3 p.m. with coffee served by the women of the First Presbyterian church of Stephen. There will be several displays and a centennial worship service will be held Sunday at 10 a.m. at the church with Bishop Harold Lohr officiating. (Messenger)

Chautauqua theatre performs at Bagley

Bagley — A Chautauqua theatre production of "The Trouble Begins at Eight" will be held July 29 at 7 p.m. at the Bagley high school Little Theatre. Admission is free. The event is sponsored by Clearwater County Friends of the Library. (Farmers Independent)

Woodcarvers' festival set for August 3-4

Lake Bronson — The seventh annual Woodcarvers' festival will be held August 3-4 to Lake Bronson state park. The hours of the show are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. About 20 to 30 carvers are expected to participate with the Red River Valley's Fiddlers performing Sunday. For more information, call 754-2200. (Kittson County Enterprise)

RSVP banquet planned

Crookston — Over 600 Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) volunteers will be honored at the annual RSVP recognition banquet July 30 and 31 in the conference center, Brown Dining room at University of Minnesota, Crookston campus. Registration begins at 10 a.m. daily. Volunteers will be recognized for over 93,000 hours of community service in five counties, at 100 stations such as nursing homes, senior nutrition sites and other service organizations. (Crookston Daily Times)

Kittson hospital has visiting ophthalmologist

Hallock — Beginning this month, Kittson county patients in need of acute eye care or surgery will be able to get it at Kittson Memorial hospital. Dr. Thomas Gast, MD, PhD, will visit the hospital once a month to perform eye surgeries for cataracts, glaucomas and possibly even plastic surgery. He also "satellites" for three other hospitals. (Kittson County Enterprise)

Northern Riders horse show at Baudette Sat.

Northern Riders Saddle club will sponser a no-point show Saturday, July 20, at 10 a.m. on the Lake of the Woods county fairgrounds in Baudette. The show will follow the regular NRSC show agenda except that there will be no trail class.

On August 3 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. an all game show will be held in conjunction with the Warroad Eagles rodeo. All the regular NRSC game events will be run and grand and reserve champion trophies awarded in pee wee, junior and senior divisions. In compliance with rodeo rules, all riders are required to wear western hats, boots and long-sleeved shirts.

All Northern Riders events are open to the public and all riders and spectators are welcome. Persons with questions may call 386-2315, 386-2094, 386-2258 or 634-2818.

At the club's June 23 show in Baudette the games champions were: Pee wee, Tina Holte, Gatzke with Kristi O'Donnell, Warroad, reserve; Junior, Rod Holte, Gatzke with Katie Johnson, Roosevelt, reserve; and Senior, Becky Buegler, Baudette with Jim Taggart, Newfolden, reserve.

High point trophy winners were the following with chapion and reserve champion listed respectively:

Junior performance—Katie Johnson, Roosevelt and Traci Johnson, Roosevelt;

Senior performance—Shelly Swenson, Thief River Falls and Sandra Johnson, Warroad; Pleasure pony—Martin Holte, Gatzke.

Upper Midwest survives national recession so far

Having weathered the national recession with relative ease, the Upper Midwest non-farm economy will experience some slight declines this year before gradually recovering to a moderate rate of growth in 1992, according to forecasting models at the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

Although the Upper Midwest has weathered the national recession, its effects may still be felt. Partly due to the lagged effects of the national slowdown, the models predict small reductions in employment in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Montana for the second quarter of 1991 and rising unemployment rates for much of the Upper Midwest through the end of 1991.

As for the recession, from the third quarter of 1990 to the first quarter of 1991, when most of the nation was suffering from the third quarter of 1990 to the first quarter of 1991, when most the nation was suffering from a slowdown, the Upper Midwest was expanding. While national non-farm employment fell by a two per cent rate during that period, Upper Midwest non-farm employment grew at a one per cent rate. This expansion was largely anchored by growth in the service sector. On the other hand, cyclically sensitive sectors, such as manufacturing and construction were weak in Minnesota and Wisconsin, but contributed to growth in the Dakotas.

Also with the exception of Wisconsin, the unemployment rate increased less in the Upper Midwest than in the nation from the third quarter of 1990 to the first quarter 1991. Unemployment rates fell (North Dakota), changed little (South Dakota and Minnesota) or rose by less than the nation (Montana).

As the national economic situation chilled over the winter, Minnesota's cyclically sensitive economy went dormant. The models predict it won't revive until after midyear.

The model's forecast is based on a statistical interpretation of the historical patterns of expansion and contraction in the Upper Midwest non-farm economy. The forecast is published every six months in the fedgazette, a business and economics newspaper published by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

As the nation's central bank, the Federal Reserve is responsible for making and carrying out our nation's monetary policy. It also regulates banks and bank holding companies, provides wholesale financial services and serves as fiscal agent for the U.S. Treasury.

Retired senior volunteers honored

Over 600 Retired Senior Volunteer Program volunteers will be honored at the annual RSVP recognition Banquet Tuesday and Wednesday, July 30 and 31, in the Conference Center — Brown Dining room at the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC). Registration begins at 10 a.m.

"The banquet is held to recognize senior citizens for the volunteer work they have done throughout the year," said Harl Gamber, RSVP director.

Volunteers will be recognized for their community service. They have logged over 93,000 hours in five counties, at 100 stations such as nursing homes, senior nutrition sites, social services and transportation.

The banquet is free to all registered RSVP volunteers who have volunteered at least 30 hours throughout the year, according to Gamber. For more information, call RSVP office at UMC at (218) 281-6510, extension 339.

Gustafson to perform July 27

Washington, D.C. pianist Eric Gustafson will perform in a concert of familiar works by composer Frederic Chopin on Saturday, July 27, at 7:30 p.m. at Good Shepherd in Clearbrook.

Gustafson has studied with Alberto Rafols at the University of Illinois and with Hans Swaroswky on a Fulbright Fellowship at the University of Vienna and the Academy for Performing Arts in Austria. He received his Master's degree in symphony conducting at the University of Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. He has performed as soloist with the Washington Sinfonia and the 20th Century Consort and has presented recitals in Florida, Minnesota, New Jersey, Vermont, and Washington, D.C.

There is no charge for the concert.

Fosston Single's potluck, meeting

Fosston and Area Singles' Christian Fellowship will be held on Sunday, July 21, in the form of a pot luck picnic in the Berge/Stafford park located in Fosston, beginning at 3 p.m. Coffee, lemonade, plates, napkins, and tables will be furnished. In case of rain, the picnic will be moved to the Robert and Florence Clark residence at 216 Mark avenue.

Members are urged to bring guests. Single parents may also bring their children as they wish. A time of planning for the coming months activities will be held so all ideas will be appreciated.

For anymore information, contact the Singles' Christian Fellowship in care of the Embassy Community Center at Third and North Eaton avenue, Fosston, MN 56542.

Rick Moe in concert at Grygla Tues.

Contemporary musician Rick Moe, with the RLS Band and Emergency Crew, will present a concert Tuesday, July 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the Grygla city park. In event of rain the concert will be moved to the Grygla school.

Director of Teen Rescue, Moe toured area schools earlier this year with a program dealing with self-esteem, peer pressure, drugs and alcohol. He is returning at this time to perform numerous concerts and visit with area teens.

There is no admission to the concert and people of all ages are invited to attend.

Bombers lose to Ada

Ada surprised the Thief River Falls Bombers 5-0 and 3-2 Wednesday in Ninth District American Legion Tier II baseball at Ada.

The 33-11 Bombers wound up 15-3 in Tier II play. They were scheduled to visit Moorhead today (Friday) for a 5:30 p.m. VFW District 9 doubleheader and will wrap up regular season play Saturday with a trip to Park River, ND to play the twice-postponed championship game of the Devils Lake Invitational.

Seeding meeting for the 1991 American Legion Ninth District Tier II tournament will be held Saturday in Thief River Falls, with the playoffs getting underway Monday.

Crookston second baseman Jeff Olson tagged out Thief River Falls runner Cory Offerdahl to end a second inning rundown during the first game of Wednesday's American Legion baseball doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field. Crookston pitcher Chris Cymbaluk (left) picked Offerdahl off first base to start the play.

Crookston tops Legion

Thief River Falls' stock in Ninth District American Legion Tier I baseball dropped a notch or two Wednesday when Post 117 lost 5-4 and 8-0 doubleheader decisions to Crookston at Irv Wilson Field.

The losses dropped Thief River Falls to 14-15 for the year. Post 117 is scheduled to host West Fargo Friday in a 6 p.m. doubleheader before finishing the 1991 regular season against Ninth District foes, including three doubleheaders in a six-day span – Monday vs. Detroit Lakes (6/8 p.m.), Thursday vs. Moorhead (5:30/7:30 p.m.) and Saturday vs. Karlstad (1/3 p.m.). The schedule ends with a single game at Roseau Monday, July 29.

Thief River Falls hosts the eight-team, double-elimination Ninth District Tier I tournament Aug. 1-4.

Crookston improved to 13-4 for the year with the sweep.

Crookston............5
Thief River Falls............4

Back-to-back home runs by Brian Boll and Alec Charais highlighted a four-run Crookston fifth inning as the visitors edged Thief River Falls 5-4 in the doubleheader opener.

Only scoring through the first four innings crossed the plate in the Crookston third when Tad Vandermay reached base on a one-out error, advanced on a Wade Demarais sacrifice bunt and scored on a single to left by Shane Demarais.

An inning-opening walk issued to Wade Demarais started the Crookston fifth. He moved to third on a single up the middle by Shane Demarais and scored on a wild pitch. Boll then hit a two-out, two-run home run over the left-center field fence and Charais followed suit with a fence-clearing shot to left field.

Thief River Falls got into the home run derby in the bottom of the fifth when left handed-hitting David Blazek pulled a two-out line drive down the right field line.

Post 117 responded to the wake-up call by coming back with a pair of runs in the sixth to cut the Crookston lead to 5-3. Mike Swanson reached base on a one-out error to start it and advanced on a wild pitch. He scored when Jeff Lutovsky sent an opposite-field double to left. Another wild pitch and a single through the right side by Darin Wald made it a two-run game.

Thief River Falls had a chance to win it in the bottom of the seventh when Blazek caromed a single off the bag at first. A one-out single to right by Mitch Bernstein put runners at the corners, and Swanson came close to ending it with a drive off the center field fence that went for an RBI double instead of a game-winning home run. Lutovsky drew an intentional walk to load the bases, and the strategy paid off for Crookston coach Jim Simon when with a made-to-order pitcher-to-home-to-first double play to end the game.

Blazek, Bernstein and Wald all had two hits to lead the Thief River Falls attack, while Wade Demarais and Charais matched that output for Crookston.

Starting pitcher Kyle Evenson took the loss, leaving after giving up those fifth inning home runs. Lutovsky and Wald pitched in relief. The three Thief River Falls pitchers struck out four and walked five. Chris Cymbaluk was the winner on the mound, although he gave way to Shane Demarais in the sixth. They struck out six and walked four.

All of the scoring was done in the fourth inning as Crookston completed with twinbill sweep with an 8-0 five-inning second-game victory.

Twelve Crookston batters went to the plate in the fourth inning outburst that included five base hits, five Thief River Falls errors, a hit-batsman, wild pitch, passed ball and two stolen bases.

Tad Vandermay and Doug Johnson had two hits apiece for the winners. Ted Hasz threw a four-hit shutout, with Kyle Evenson getting two of them.

Darin Wald took the loss on the mound, with Barry Dowers working an inning in relief. They struck out four and walked one.

TRF Gamecocks Babe Ruth team splits with EGF

A Tuesday split against a pair of East Grand Forks teams wrapped up the 1991 regular season Babe Ruth baseball schedule for the Thief River Falls Gamecocks 13-year-olds, who edged the Optimists 9-8 but lost to the Reds 15-7.

The Chris Nelson-coached Gamecocks took a 9-5-1 record into the Lake Agassiz District Babe Ruth Prep tournament in Crookston that got underway Thursday.

TRF Gamecocks............9
EGF Optimists............8

Kyle Miller came up with the game-winning RBI as the Gamecocks scored twice in the bottom of the seventh inning to secure a 9-8 first-game win over the Optimists.

Derrick McFarland was 3-for-4 to lead the Gamecocks' 11-hit attack. Billy Simpson, Ryan Swanson and Craig Huot all had two hits and Ryan Bendickson scored three runs.

Simpson pitched the first four innings, with Josh Melby working the fifth and Huot taking over the the final two innings to get the win.

Babe Ruth season extended

A season-lengthening series of pick-up games will be played July 22-26 for Thief River Falls Babe Ruth baseball players ages 13-15.

Games will be played from 9 a.m. to 12-noon Monday, Wednesday and Friday, July 22, 24 and 26. The 13-year-olds will be at Irv Wilson Field and the 14-15-year-olds will be at Northland Community College.

During the regular Babe Ruth program, the Thief River Falls 13-year-olds were divided among the Mudhens, Gamecocks and Lobos, while the 14-15-year-olds competed for the Gophers, Shockers or Strikers. The 14-15-year-olds wrapped up their official 1991 seasons at the July 13-15 Lake Agassiz South Sub-District tournament in Crookston, where the 13-year-olds' Lake Agassiz District Prep tournament is being played this weekend.

Players are urged, but not required, to attend next week's extra sessions when new captains will be selected each day to pick the line-

Hunting, trapping dates selected

Minnesota's 1991 hunting seasons have been announced, and the overall out look for hunters taking to the woods, fields, and marshes this fall is good, according to Department of Natural Resources (DNR) officials.

"Deer and geese should be plentiful in most areas, and wa are cautiously optimistic about pheasants, but hunters in pursuit of grouse or ducks may find the esperience more challenging this fall," said DNR Commissioner, Rod Sando. Definite predictions cannot bo made for some species until later this summer or fall, but the following is a species by species account of the general outlook and planned regulation changes:

Deer

Fifth record deer harvest in the past nine years is likely this fall, as antlerless permits have been increased by 40 percent over 1990. This year's total of 193,880 antlerless permits easily tops the previous record of 167,725 offered in 1951 "Our biologists and managers report high deer numbers and productivity in most areas, particularly in transition habitats that provide deer with an ideal mix of woods and fields. A substantial increase in antlerless permits in these areas will help to address problems of deer damage, as well as providing more opportunity to hunters," Sando said.

Deer hunters should be aware of several important deadlines and changes for the 1991 seasons:

- Application deadlino for andesless permits and most special hunts is Sept. 5.
- Separate youth drawing for anderless permits is being discontinued and youth applicants will now be allowed to enter the regular perference drawing.
- Baiting of deer is prohibited as a hunting technique. Liquid scents, salt or minerals are allowed, as is hunting near standing crops or foods resulting from normal agricultural or other land management practices.
- Bowhunters may purchase a bonus deer license that will be valid for taking a second antlerless deer in either the existing Metro Bonus Bow Area or in antlerless permit areas that are predicted to be undessubscribed and listed in tho deer hunting regulations. This will permit bowhunters to take two deer in areas when there is a need to take additional deer and where firearms hunters are also given a similar opportunity.
- A special sub-permit area will be open in the primary orchard area of Permit Area 346. Zone 3A firearms license holders will be eligible to apply for a permit to take s second, antierless deer in this 43-square mile sub-area. This experimental hunt is an attempt to reduce deer damago by concentrating antierless deer harvest in a small area where the damage is occurring. Because this area is all private land, hunters should be sure to secure permission before applying.
- The 1991 Legislaturo estoblished an experimontal two-deer area (one by bow and ono by gun) in three northwestern counties-Kittson, Marshall and Roseau. Hunters desiring to participate must take and register both deer in the area, and will bo required to obtain a free permit before attempting to take a second deer. This experimental hunt will be held for two seasons and then an evaluation and report to the legislature will be prepared.
- Area of the state open for bowhunting for the entire month of December will be increased to include a large area of east-central Minnesota. Tho area open will now include all of Zone 3, plus those portions of Zones 1 and 2 south of and including registration blocks 246, 172, 173, 174, 156 and 159.
- Some anterless permit area boundarles have been changed along the Minnesota River that create a corridor of river management units to improve management of deer populations in that area.
- Muzzleloader hunters participating in tho southwest muzzleloader hunt will no longer be required to obtain a permit and will be able to hunt the entire 16-day season. Several additional areas in the state have also been added for the late muzzleloader hunt.

Grouse

"Ruffed grouse populations now appear to be definitely on the downswing phase of their 10-year cycle, which peaked in 1989," Sando said. "However, hunters who are willing to work a little harder should still find good numbers of birds."

Ruffed grouse spring breeding population index, based on counts of drumming males was down 25 percent statewide.

"Sharp-tailed grouse continue to benefit from habitat improvements resulting from prescribed burning of brushlands and the retirement of marginal croplands under the Reinvest in Minnesota (RIM) and Conservation Reserve Program (CRP)," Sando said. Populations of sharptails, which have been increasing in recent years, remained generally stable in 1991. Sharp-tailed grouse harvests are now about four times what they were in the mid-1980's.

Olber Small Game

"There was a high carryover of pheasants after the mild winter, providing excellent breeding populations in most areas," Sando said. "Although heavy rains may have hurt reproduction in somo areas, there is optimism that tho August roadside counts will reveal some of the highest counts in years."

Pheasant possession limit is being raised from four to six, but the allowable daily bag will remain at two. This means that hunters will now be able to possess three daily limits rather than two. This is a major departure from Minnesota's long-standing practice of having a small game possession limit double the daily limit, but it was the option most strongly favored by the public at u series of meetings last March.

Snowshoe hare counts are declining, and no high peak in numbers has been recorded in this 10-year cycle. Additional information on cottontail rabbits will be provided following completion of the August roadside counts.

Furbearers

Fox and raccoon seasons will be espanded significantly, in response to high populations, reduced trapping and hunting pressure, and increasing pressure to remove protection from these species. The fox season will be Sept. 14 through March 15. The raccoon season will be from Oct. 12 through Dec. 31, the maximum alldwed under current law. "These espanded seasons will provide increased recreational opportunity and will not have an adverse effect on fox or raccoon populations," Sando said. "It is also important to recognizo that the expanded seasons on these predators will have no measurable effect on the nesting success of ducks or other ground-nesting birds. Recent research and management projects have shown that to effect a significant change in nest success, s very intensive and thorough program of controlling all predators is required throughout the nesting season. Because such programs are very expensive, controversial, and limited in scope, habitat-based approaches such as wetland protection and retirement of marginal lands are still viewed as the best long-term techniques to address predation issues," he added.

Mink, muskrat, beaver and otter seasons will be split into north and south zones, with the north zone opening Dec. 26 and the south zone Nov. 2.

Fisher, pine marten and bobcat seasons will open Nov. 30. An apparent lack of survival of juvenile marten in 1990 was attributed to a scarcity of small mammals. Red-backed voles, in particular, are a mainstay of the marten diet and they undergo periodic population cycles similar to those of grouse and snowshoe hares. The marten limit is being reduced from two to one to provide additional protection to breeding animals until small mammal populations recover.

Waterfowl

As usual, the specifics of waterfowl season dates and bag limits will not be set until the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service announces the federal framework within which states must set their regulations. That won't occur until August, after waterfowl populations can be evaluated.

However, Minnesota is still considering implementing some type of split and/or zone option for ducks this fall. "With the concern about lower duck populations and the need to reduce harvests the past few years, we have had short seasons that have taken away a traditional late-season waterfowling experience," Sando said. "This late-season hunting provide unique espenences that are valuable to many hunters, and we will be carefully considering the potential zone and split options available to us to provide additional hunting opportunities without increasing total duck harvests. We continue to be very concerned about ducks," Sando added.

Total duck breeding populations in Minnesoto in 1991 were essentially unchanged from 1990, but were still well above the long-term average. Despite some improved water conditions, the rains came too iste in many areas to do waterfowl much good this year. Also, if water conditions remain good into this fall, waterfowl will be moro dispersed during the season. Wetlands in the Dakotas and tho Canadian provinces are still far from being fully recovered from tho drought. Sando cautioned hunters against especting any liberalization in total season length or bag limits this falls.

"On a more positive note, Canada goose populations continue to do very well and goose hunting opportunity has never been better," Sando said. Early September goose hunts are being held in the Twin Cities metro area, the Fergus Falls/Alexandria area, and the southwest border area in Jackson and Martin counties. Persons desiring to hunt in those areas must apply for a permit by August 1. Details of other special goose hunting regulations will be announced later.

Five now migratory waterfowl feeding and resting areas are proposed for estoblishment this fall, including Wagonga Lake in Kandiyohi County; Oakleaf Lake in Nicollet County (Oshawa Township); Prairie and Sovanna Rivers Flowage in Aitkin County (Turner Township); Southwest half of Flowage Lake, and the Sandy River Flowage in Aitkin County (Jevno and Workman Townships); and the west half of Sandy River Lake in Aitkin County (Workman Township). The use of all motorized watercraft will be prohibited in these waters dunng the waterfowl season, except for watercraft propelled by electric trolling motors of less than 30 pounds thrust. In addition to these new lakes, a number of other lakes have been provlously designated as waterfowl feeding and resting areas. Hunters should check the waterfowl regulations for a complete listing.

Detoils on tho bear season, moose season and the fall turkey hunt wera announced earlies.

More information on the fall seasons will be available in the hunting regulations pamphlets. Deer regulations and licenses will be availablo in early August; small game and trapping regulations in mid-August; and waterfowl regulations in mid-September. Hunters should check the actual regulations before going afield.

TRF Mudhens win pair

Thief Rives Falls Mudhens closed out their 1991 regular season Tuesday with a 10-0, 12-2 Babe Ruth Prep baseball doubleheader sweep over visiting Crookston.

The Corey Poole-coached Thief River Falls 13-year-olds started post-season play with a 14-3 overall record.

TRF Mudhens 10
Crookston 0

Brian Cleven threw a four-inning no-hitter as the Mudhens rolled to a 10-0 ten-run rule Game 1 win.

Chad Hanson, Peter Johnson, Kaine Martell and Aaron Ehrenstrom had two hits apiece for the winners. Ehrenstrom, Billy Fogarty and Adam Fulton drove in two runs apiece.

Mature aspen harvest helps area woodlots

Grygla, says that there is an abundance of aspen in the area. In the Grygla district—which includes northern Beltrami, eastern Marshall and all of Pennington counties—there are 73,345 acres of aspen on public lands alone. Some of this acreage has been cut, and it is being cut at the rate of about 2,000 acres per year. At this rate the regrowth sustains the total acreage in aspen forest and would provide mature trees for harvest 30 to 40 years from now.

In addition to the aspen on public lands there are many acres in private ownership. Those are the trees that Hanson and others are concerned about.

Schneider said that the DNR forestry provides a service to private land owners by appraising timber stands to determine value, putting the parcels out on bids and providing suggestions on how to improve the land for wildlife. A fee of seven and one-half per cent of the appraised value is charged for this service—whether the trees are cut or not.

Anderson defends the conservation and wildlife value of his selective cutting methods, saying that the branches and tops are frequently used for firewood and the piles of tops and branches are used by various species of wildlife, including ruffed grouse and rabbits, for shelter. Newly cut tops in the winter also provide browse for deer and the trails made by logging are ideal for use by deer and hunters alike.

Persons with questions about the harvest of mature or past mature aspen may call the DNR forestry office at Grygla at 294-6115 or talk to Parker Anderson at 776-3506.

Parker and Elaine Anderson operate P & E Logging of Clearbrook which has been selective cutting aspen trees in the area for a number of years. They were recently working on woodlots owned by John Nelson and Harry Hanson in southeastern Pennington county. Parker operates the shearer and the saw and loader. Elaine trims the tops and branches with a 20-inch chain saw and operates the skidder which brings logs to the saw.

Skidding aspen logs to the saw rig is a one-person operation for P & E Logging of Clearbrook. Elaine Anderson operates the skidder which simply grabs the logs and pulls them along, eliminating the need for chains or cables which were used previously.

facility and for assuring enhanced profitability through technical superiority.

"While he was with Canandaigua, Richard and his colleagues turned a California winery that was on the downhill slide into the largest supplier of grape products to the food industry," said Gordon Sonstelie, AURI board chairperson. "We look for him to perform that same kind of handiwork here in Minnesota."

Nelson also served as national research coordinator for Andrews Wines Ltd. where he led the transition to a centralized system of coordinated research.

"AURI is a valuable tool for Minnesota as it works to expand existing and create new markets for the agricultural commodities grown here," said Nelson. "I look forward to the challenge of developing new processes and products for the marketplace."

Nelson received his bachelors degree from the University of California, Davis. He holds a masters and doctorate degree from Cornell University. His technical experience is in the areas of food and industrial ingredients and fermentation.

4-H livestock sale at fair aids members

First 4-H market livestock auction at the Pennington county fair in many years resulted in a number of members receiving a premium over market price for their animals, waterfowl or poultry.

To be eligible for the sale, entries had to receive a blue ribbon in competition. A list of club members, their market entry and the buyer is as follows:

Nancy Geske, grand champion dairy steer, sold to Ev Ault; Jarod Reierson, reserve champion beef steer, Dan Drevlow; Beth Natvik, reserve champion wether, Norris Thune; and Kelly Natvik, wether, Thune-Upham; eyes. Her pageant talent number will be a dance routine that she choreographed herself.

Working in a nursing home for three years was a motivation for Laura to look at the health field as a career. She plans to work in the nursing area for a few years and to attend a medical school later to become an anesthesiologist.

"I love working with people," she said, "and if I can help to make someone feel better, it makes me feel better about myself. Knowing that I can make a difference in someone's life is a great feeling."

Laura has had eight years of piano lessons and eight years of saxophone lessons. She played saxophone in band and jazz band and received state awards for saxophone solos and ensembles. A cheerleader several years for both football and basketball, she attended cheerleading camp and was captain of the cheerleading squad.

Editor of the school annual, she also attended annual staff camp to study page layout and production. She was an honor roll student throughout high school, received the Minnesota Award of Excellence for being in the top 20 per cent of her graduating class, was an alternate for American Legion auxiliary Girls State and received a scholarship from the Warroad Women of Today for involvement in community activities.

Laura was also a member of the Students Against Drunk Driving chapter, taught Sunday school, was a dance instructor through the community education program of the Warroad school district and was in the Air Force ROTC at the University of Minnesota—Duluth. She also tutored high school students in Spanish and Algebra.

She was a member of the high school homecoming court, a Potato Day queen candidate, Minnesota Junior Miss contestant, Frosty Festival Queen and voted by her class to have the most school spirit and prettiest smile.

Laura has one sister, Beth Tallio, 21 and one brother, Kenny, 14. Her hobbies include dancing, choreographing dance numbers, biking, hunting, fishing, traveling, playing volleyball and softball and getting to know different types of people.

"I would like to help start a Big Brother/Big Sister program in Warroad," she said, "because I like to see local communities create programs to help needy children."

Doug Dallmann (left) and Bob Huot (right) are printing t-shirts on the six-color printer at Universal Screenprint in Thief River Falls. Doug bought the business on June 1, from Tom Goddard and is located at 322 North Horace, the former TG Screen Printing.

New addition to TRF business community

By Amy [illegible]
Times Reporter

Doug Dallmann was attending classes at college when he spotted a man doing something called screen printing. That was more than ten years ago and now that thing we call screen printing is something we see every day.

T-Shirts, jackets, caps, banners and sweatshirts are some examples of things that can be adorned by screen printing.

Doug didn't know it at the time, but what he saw this man doing was going to be a very large business in years to come.

Doug took the idea back to his father's store, Dallmann Athletics, and tried out some small-scale screen printing of his own. He did everything he could to learn about the new innovative process.

Soon thereafter, Doug's father sold the business to Tom Goddard, and Doug was hired to do full-time screen printing for him. Within one month Doug needed another assistant to help him with screen printing because business was booming.

Now, several years later, the screen printing business has grown to the point that Doug could open up his own business, and on June 1, Doug bought TG Screen Printing, formerly TG Sporting Goods, from Tom Goddard. The new name is Universal Screenprint and is located in the same place as the old TG Screen Printing on 322 North Horace.

Equipment has changed and become more modern. During the time that Doug has been screen printing, he's gone from a small space heater to a 14-foot long dryer. He also has a six and a four color printer and a four and six color cap printer. But screen printing is not an easy process, each color on a shirt or cap requires its own process, and each process is a timely one.

Doug and his staff not only specialize in screen printing, but embroidery, trophies, plaques and engraving.

If a customer has an idea, his/her idea could, with a little work, be made into reality. Universal Screenprint has its own artist to sketch up ideas and come up with plans for customers. Doug also has six others who work for him, including two printers, one sewer and a full-time road salesman.

Universal Screenprint deals with schools, private businesses and large corporations to handle their screen printing and trophy needs. The machines that they have can do up to 150 shirts per hour, so jobs like these don't take an enormous amount of time. The part that takes time is the designing of the product and making the screens before the whole process begins.

"I've always wanted to be my own boss and I had the opportunity to do it," Doug said. "In the last two to three years the advancement in computerization is just phenomenal." This helps the business tremendously. Not only does it save on time, but it gives options that wouldn't be available without it.

Doug and his wife Pam have two children, Adam, eight years old and Allison, four.

"GODLY OR UNGODLY VIEWS"
Psalms 12:1 says, "Help Lord, for the godly are no more, the faithful have vanished from among men." There are views that we must choose. Godly or ungodly. Such views are: abortion, prayer in public schools, gay rights, and evolution. These are just a few.
Let us not allow the faithful to vanish from among men. Read the Bible and get God's view.

378-4641 378-4585
Our seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum; the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used, and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew... saving on labor costs. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Public Notices

THANKS
On behalf of our Mother, Mae Kulseth, we wish to thank Pastors Nelson, Calvert, and Dahlen for their visits and prayers. Also thanks to all for visits, cards, and flowers.
Special thank you to Drs. Heinrichs, Scheuneman, Johnson, Langland and Patel and all the nurses of Northwest Medical Center and CNC Unit, for the wonderful care given mother.
May God Bless All
Family of Mae Kulseth

WINNER OF World Book Globe, was Cindy Vennes of TRF. For Back to School World Book needs, contact Jan Kramer, 681-2346. 1t58c

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank all of our friends and relatives for attending our special day-50th anniversary. A special thanks to our family that put on the party, and also presented us with a trip to Norway, and to relatives and friends that drove or flew long distance to attend. A special thank you to the band for the great program, and special music for the evening. It will always be remembered.
Lenora and Orville Harstad

MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Sean Dargus who would have been 25 years old July 10th.
Take me along so that I can learn about the presence of the wind against the skin and the brisk and fragrant coolness that the mountain air will bring.
Let me think for awhile of feathered wings that move as graceful as a springtime melody and let me please see through eyes that pierce the snow, the leaves, the storms.
Let me then fly with thee, and take me home. High above the valley, just below the sun. Home where the mornings shine and the evenings glow- where my dreams have no frontiers, where my hopes will know no fear, where I finally will be as free as the wind.
Sadly missed by mother, father, grandparents, family and friends. 1t58p

CARD OF THANKS
We would like to take this time to thank Msgr. Stanley Bourassa for his message of faith, and the organist, and choir of St. Bernard's church, and a special thank you to Judy Dupree and Kathy Kinoz for their contribution to the service. Thanks to the ladies of St. Bernard's Guild for serving lunch for everyone. Also, the Green and Helgeson funeral homes for their assistance and anyone else that helped in anyway. God's Blessing on all of you. The Family of Clara Stein

HYDRAULIC MUD-JACKING
Mud-Jack solves the problems of:
• sunken concrete slab
• reduces hazard and liability potential
• economical means of accomplishing repair as opposed to complete slab replacement
• quicker, less inconvenient than replacing
• time saving-reestablishes a firm and solid base
MUD-JACKS raise concrete slabs on:
· bridge approaches · curbs · gutters · driveways · streets · sidewalks · pool decks · patios · garage and basement floors · highway slabs · machine bases · building foundations · storage tanks · airport runways · concrete box culverts · underfloor void filling · highway and underground pipe casing grouting
Petroleum Impacted Soil Disposal and Leaking U.S.T.
TANKS
Notice to owners of fuel oil, gas or underground diesel tanks that need removal. We are a Minnesota certified and licensed contractor for the removal of these tanks (License number "78")
We also handle and process soils the have been contaminated by leaking storage tanks, and can assist you in preparation required by State and Federal regulations.
We can do the job from start to finish.

Special group award was presented by judges in the Crazy Days costume contest Thursday to Mr. Duane's owners and employees. The store had the general theme of "Women in History." Pictured (left to right) are, kneeling, Jany Stumpf, Eileen Ralerson, Bonnie Poissant, Kim Adolphson and Paula Wilkens; standing, Kim Hicks, Maggie Leach, Carol Johnson, Mary Johnson, Bill Hogan, Jean Hogan, Diane Freeman and Ruth Klostarman. Freeman and Klostarman won first and second place, respectively, in individual costume competition among retail employees at the annual event.

City Council clears way for new motel

Thief River Falls city council cleared the way for a proposal to build a new motel on Highway 59 south of Thief River Falls. Tuesday night during the city council meeting, the council also gave Community Development Director Don Stewart authority to continue his work with the Housing and Redevelopment Authority (HRA) and student housing committee in negotiating a contract that would help solve the student housing problem in Thief River Falls.

Thief River Falls may have a new motel soon. Ken Berg was before the council to explain that in order to build a motel at the site the frontage road past the First Federal bank on Highway 59 south needed to be extended.

Berg, who asked the council to consider extending a frontage road past the bank property on Highway 59 south, was willing to pay an assessment on the project. He said that he and his partners were planning to build a 44-unit motel called the C'mon Inn at the location. The facility would include a swimming pool, game room and meeting facilities, as well. If all goes as planned, Berg hopes the motel will be completed in 120 days.

A similar facility has been operating in Park Rapids for the last 11 months.

Ron Lindberg, city engineering and technical services director, said extending the road could cost as much as $37,000. The city's share could be about $7,000 in in-kind services.

Mayor Bob Carlson said the council was criticized at one time for building that road because it just seems to end. He said he was glad to see there was a rainbow at the end now.

The council instructed Lindberg to draw up a feasibility study along with plans and specifications for the frontage road extension.

In another surprise, Stewart announced that the Student Housing and HRA committee were close to negotiating a deal for an apartment complex near Northland Community College and the Technical College. Stewart said if all goes well, the footings could be in at the location on Highway 1 across from the Chaparral apartments this fall. Apartments could be ready to rent by mid August 1992.

Stewart said, following instructions to proceed from the council, the committee and HRA sent out requests for proposals to the four firms that expressed interest in building an apartment complex. There was one local firm. All four returned proposals. The committee interviewed two of the firms.

Stewart said the committee was ready to enter into negotiations with one of the firms and needed permission to continue.

Mayor Carlson asked what the city's stake in the project would be.

Stewart said basically, and without getting into specifics, the only expense to the city would incur was that of his time and the city attorney's time.

Stewart said they are prepared to enter into negotiations with Frauenshuh Companies, which would be the developer, BRW Inc., the architect and Krause-Anderson Construction Company, the prime contractor. If all goes as planned the footing could be in late this fall.

Stewart said he didn't know how many units or the type units to be built. Negotiations could begin as early as Friday.

In other business, the council: approved adoption of a supplement to the Community Development Revolving Loan Fund guidelines; approved a recommendation to advertise for loan requests to the Revolving Loan Fund; approved a progression raise for Steve Hams, water distribution/maintenance worker; approved a resolution calling for the sale of $550,000 improvement bonds with bids to be opened August 13 at 2 p.m.; approved an airport maintenance and operation agreement between MN/DOT and the city; approved a progression raise for police officer Jeff Nelson; approved a dance permit for the library ball on October 5; approved an agreement to extend an easement in block 3 of Noper's 2nd addition; approved a request for beer in Oakland Park by the Sno-Drifters on August 25 from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m.; approved a request by the Jaycees for fireworks during Summerfest and a $1,000 contribution; approved a permit for a watercross snowmobile race Saturday and Sunday during Summerfest; approved a permit for consumption of alcohol during the Summerfest at Red Robe, Bill LaFave and Centennial parks.

Prize winners listed for Crazy Days costumes

Judges selected a number of prize winners Thursday during the annual Crazy Days retail promotion in Thief River Falls. Winners involved customers as well as retail workers.

Crowds of customers were again on hand early in the day and participation was good throughout the day and evening.

First prize of $20 in the commercial division went to Diane Freeman of Mr. Duane's and her Cleopatra costume. Ruth Klosterman, also of Mr. Duane's, claimed the second prize of $15 as Betsy Ross.

Third prize of $10 went to Tiny Jorstad of Hardee's as Mrs. Hardee; fourth prize of $5 to Aaron Bruzek of McDonald's with his "flirt skirt;" and fifth prize of $5 to Shelly Vedbraaten of Co-Op Oil with her Harlequin costume.

A special group award was presented to Mr. Duane's for costuming by all its employees under a "Women in History" theme.

In the group for customers in the 0-12 years age group, first place was won by Matthew Wold of route 5, Thief River Falls, with a bee costume. He receives a $30 prize.

Second prize of $20 in that category went to Danny Christensen of route 4, Thief River Falls, with a chick costume, and third prize of $20 to Jamie Tesch of Thief River Falls with a mouse costume.

Costume contest winners among Thief River Falls Crazy Days shoppers Thursday were these youngsters in the 1-12 year age category. Left to right are Danny Christensen, second place; Jamie Tesch, third place; and Matthew Wold, first place. Other photos from the costume contests will be in the Tuesday edition of the Thief River Falls Times.

In the 13-17 age group first prize of $30 was won by Arica Braaten, pulling her brother Kelly in a wagon. Second prize of $20 was awarded to Bette Olson of route 1, Thief River Falls, dressed as a Crazy Days clown.

Among customers 18 years of age and older the first prize of $20 went to Rhonda Amundson of Thief River Falls with a "Let's Dance" theme and second prize of $10 to Viola Dirks of Thief River Falls as a "bag lady."

County board discusses compost unit

At its July 23 meeting the Pennington county board discussed with Rick Nordhagen a compost screener that he and Dale Wennberg contemplated having made for an estimated $3,000 to $5,000. The screener would not include any conveyors.

The board decided to see if Lake of the Woods county officials would allow Pennington county to run some of its compost through their screener to allow the county a chance to decide if purchasing a screener is necessary.

Title Atlas Company met with the board to discuss compiling a new atlas. The company asked the board how many copies the county would like to order and the board approved an order for 75 copies. The atlas will be available over the counter.

County Sheriff Bob Wold announced that he had sold two used squad cars for a combined total of $1,542. The board approved his request for a new radar unit. Wold requested a resolution from the board to approve a grant request of $9,800 to run the Sentence to Serve program. Wold also asked approval of a peace officer reimbursement training grant under which the county would pay about $400 to send deputies through the training program and the state would reimburse the county for the amount. The board approved of the requests.

Ken Murphy requested that all vehicles that have been impounded for quite some time be removed from the pound. The board approved giving owners a 30 day notice to pick up their cars, and effective August 1, there will be a three dollar charge made to the owner for each calendar day that each car has been impounded.

Acting County Engineer George Broadwell attended the meeting to discuss the extension of the concrete Island on the corner of Pennington Avenue and First Street. The county agreed to pay half of the amount or up to $1,500. Broadwell also brought up a petition that was made to clean county ditch 14 and the board approved to have it cleaned.

Doni Loeslie of rural Warren has a strong background in dance and will present a lyrical jazz number as her talent presentation at the Miss Thief River Falls pageant Saturday, August 3.

Doni Loeslie in T.R.F. pageant

(This is the last in a series of eight articles introducing candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title. The official Miss America preliminary scholarship pageant will be held Saturday, August 3, in the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

"Dance is the vent for my happiness and for my frustrations and the discipline for my psyche, second only to God and the love of my family," states Doni Loeslie. Evidence of her deep interest in dance is contained in her background in that field.

Daughter of Donavon and Glorianne Loeslie of Warren, 20-year-old Doni is a 1989 graduate of Warren high school and will be a junior at Concordia college in Moorhead this fall. She is five feet, nine and one-half inches tall, has dark brown hair and dark blue eyes.

For her pageant talent number Doni will perform a lyrical jazz dance entitled "Soft On Me" from the movie "The Fabulous Baker

Child support non-payment in credit record

Adding another tool in its overall effort to help children receive financial support from absent parents, Minnesota is adding information on non-payment of support to individuals' credit records.

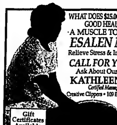
Beginning September 1, the names of non-custodial parents in Minnesota who owe more than $1,000 in past-due child support will be turned over to three national credit reporting agencies, according to Bonnie L. Becker, director of the Office of Child Support Enforcement at the Minnesota Department of Human Services.

"The reporting system creates serious consequences for non-payment," Becker says. "Non-custodial parents who fall behind in child support payments could find their credit rating has been tarnished and may find it is more difficult to borrow money."

The action is required by federal law. Under the law, states must notify non-supporting parents before their debts are reported to the credit agency. If the facts are not disputed or the past due support is not paid in full within 21 days, the case will be reported to the credit agencies the following month. Balance amounts and other pertinent information will be reported monthly.

"Children deserve the financial support of both their parents, not just the parent they live with," states Natalie Haas Steffen, state Human Services commissioner. "Too often, that's not the case. We need to protect children whose parents divorce, separate or never marry."

Statewide credit reporting was made possible by a computer system that became operational May 1 in all 87 counties. Counties administer the state-supervised child support enforcement system.



More than 60,000 of the approximately 150,000 cases currently in the system have past due support of more than $1,000—making them potential cases for credit reporting.

"Other states that have implemented credit reporting have experienced positive results," Becker said. "Realizing their credit worthiness is at risk may help make non-custodial parents start viewing child support as a top priority."

"Credit granting agencies are becoming increasingly aware of the impact of child support debts," Becker added, "which may alter the way they view an applicant's credit history. Past-due child support takes precedence over other debts and can be collected in a variety of ways, including income withholding and property liens."

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

Potato chips and other crispy snack foods are great for dipping, but they can be used in many other dishes. Today's recipes all utilize snack chips in one form or another in one way or another. Use your leftover chips for these, too.

Make your own meatball sandwiches for easy entertaining this weekend. Just serve them with a crispy salad and a cool drink:

Meatball Hero

2 (12-inch long) French bread loaves
1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup potato chips
1 clove minced garlic
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 tablespoons basil, crumbled
1 egg, lightly beaten
1/4 tablespoon pepper
2 tablespoons cooking oil
4 cups tomato sauce
1/2 pound grated Parmesan cheese
1 bag cheese snacks

Combine beef, potato chips, spices and egg. Mix thoroughly and shape into one and one-half inch balls.

Brown meatballs in saucepan, turning to brown all sides. Drain well, add tomato sauce and simmer about 40 minutes.

Preheat oven to 350.

Split French breads lengthwise and spoon tomato sauce over bottom half. Cut meatballs in half and place on sauce.

Cover with more sauce and a sprinkling of Parmesan cheese. Top with crushed cheese snacks.

Cover with top half of bread, wrap in t. 1 and heat in oven for about 20 minutes.

How about this tasty dish for Sunday brunch or Saturday supper:

Scrambled Eggs Creole

2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 cup tomatoes, peeled, seeded and finely chopped
1 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon pepper
5 eggs, beaten
4 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 pound bag tortilla chips

Melt butter in skillet and cook onion until soft. Add tomatoes, sugar and pepper and cook for 5 minutes.

Stir in eggs and cook over low heat, stirring as they set and until they are creamy.

Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and serve with warm tortilla chips.

This cold soup would be perfect for a hot summer day, and cucumbers are in season right now:

Cucumber Soup

3 to 4 small cucumbers
1/2 clove garlic
1 cup chicken broth
1 1/2 cups low fat yogurt
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper (or black)
3/4 cup mint leaves
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
handful of pretzel twists

Cut cucumbers into small pieces and place in food processor with garlic. Blend until smooth.

Add chicken broth, yogurt, spices, one-half cup of the mint leaves and lemon juice. Process smooth.

Pass through a strainer and then fold in remaining mint. Chill for at least 3 hours.

Serve with a garnish of a mint leaf and pretzel twist in the center of each bowl. (This recipe serves 2 - adjust for more, making one "batch" at a time.)

This hearty chip dip can serve as a meal, and it's quick-to-fix, too:

Fighting Man Beef Dip

1/2 pound lean ground beef
3/4 cup milk sausage chipped
4 1/2 teaspoons chili powder
1 1/2 cups grated cheddar cheese
1/2 cup chopped green onion
1/2 yellow onion, chopped
3/4 cup ketchup
1 (24 ounce) can kidney beans with liquid
1 cup sliced black olives

Brown meats and yellow onion. Drain well.

Add ketchup, chili powder and kidney beans. Place in baking dish and heat at 350 degrees for 10-15 minutes, until dip is piping hot.

Garnish with cheese, olives and green onions and serve with some sturdy chips (tortilla or ridged potato, maybe).

And to top it off, a sweet treat made with chips:

Kringle Krunch

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
3/4 cup dark corn syrup
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon margarine
2 teaspoons vinegar
1 teaspoon black walnut flavoring, if desired
4 cups crushed potato chips
1 cup chopped pecans.

Combine sugars, syrup, water, margarine and vinegar. Cover and cook to soft ball stage over medium heat. Cool slightly.

Mix potato chips and pecans in medium-sized bowl. Pour syrup mixture over and mix well. Pour into buttered pan. Cool before cutting.

Dvergsten is director

Ron Dvergsten, vocational agriculture instructor at the Thief River Falls technical college, assumed the office of District 1 director of the Minnesota Vo Ag Instructors association at the state conference held recently in Minneapolis.

He will be part of an officer team and board of directors representing about 400 ag teachers in Minnesota.

Purposes of the organization are to promote ag education and update members in technological advances in agriculture. It also strives to keep vo ag as a vital part of schools and communities through high school ag education and the FFA, post-secondary ag education at area technical colleges and adult farm management programs throughout the state.

Forstad and Kiesow attend BSU workshop

Dan Forstad, manager of KSRQ radio at the Thief River Falls technical college, and Charlie Kiesow, automotive technology instructor at the school, recently attended a two-day education workshop at Bemidji State university.

Titled "Vocational Tests and Measurements," the course focused on how tests and other measurement devices contribute to a comprehensive and continuous program of evaluation.

Forstad said the group discussions were particularly informative. "I gained new insights," he said. "This was my first exposure to some testing techniques."

The course was one of more than 100 workshops and short courses offered at BSU this summer.

Foot care clinic at Newfolden

Foot care clinic for Newfolden area residents has been scheduled for Tuesday, August 6, at 9:30 a.m. in the Newfolden senior citizen center. Nurses from Marshall county nursing service will soak feet and trim nails at a charge of $4 per person.

ACTIVITIES

Sand Casting Plaque

Do you remember all those pretty rocks and shells or pieces of driftwood your child picks up whenever you go to the lake? What do you do with it? They think it is great and get very upset when it gets "lost." Now you can save it in a sand casting plaque. Use a heavy paper plate with a rim. Spread a layer of damp sand in the bottom, press shells, pretty rocks, driftwood and other "finds" into the sand. Measure one cup plaster of paris and 3/4 cup water into a good ziplock bag. Let the child mix it thoroughly by squeezing the bag. Open the bag and pour it over the top of the damp sand. Make a hanger by pressing a paper clip into the sand. Allow the mixture to dry over night then gently remove the plate and brush the excess sand off to reveal the lake treasures.

Hang it up and remember your trip to the lake.

SCAVENGER HUNT

For next week's Activities feature, you will need large paint brushes, water and food coloring.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

Relatives are wonderful to children and the Thief River Falls public library recommends these new books:

Hines, Gary. A Ride in the Crummy. Grandpa tells Toby of a special rail trip Grandpa took in his youth. An engrossing glimpse into the past.

TIMES FOR TODDLERS

Di Salvo-Ryan, DyAnne. Uncle Willie and the Soup Kitchen. A sensitive portrait of a soup kitchen as a place where workers try hard to make a difference in the lives of others.

Stevenson, James. That's Exactly the Way It Wasn't. Grandpa and Uncle Wainey disagree on how everything was in their childhood except for one thing.

VIDEO VARIETY

A new video recommendation from the Thief River Falls public library:

One Fish, Two Fish, Red Fish, Blue Fish. Dr. Seuss' delightful story (plus two more of the Dr. Seuss classics: Oh, the Thinks You Can Think and The Foot Book come to life in this video.

PARENTING TIPS

At the Beach

Swimming is an activity that most families can enjoy together. Remember that children, even responsible preschoolers, must be watched constantly when near the water. Accidents happen VERY QUICKLY! With proper adult supervision a day at the beach can be fun and even "educational."

Sand and water provide interesting play materials for children in which there are opportunities for real learning. Pouring, patting, shoveling, carrying, transferring from one container to another, all these are stimulating pastimes from which a child learns important concepts: hard, soft, heavy, light, wet, dry, full, empty and more.

As children play with sand and water by filling, pouring and repouring, they are practicing eye and hand coordination as well as learning about some of the properties of natural elements.

Truly play is learning and as children play with sand and water they build a valuable background of experiences from which they will later develop important concepts about quantities. These concepts will be basic to their success in math.

(Contributed by the Early Childhood Family Education department of School District 564.)

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Talk about what your child is doing. Use terms to describe the concepts that he is using, empty, full, float, sink, dry, wet, etc.

Impressions . . .

by Beth Johnson

The word "NO" is a very powerful word in our vocabulary. We use it daily. It expresses our opinions on the mundane and the serious. We teach it to our children at an early age. We expect our young adults to be able to say no to a variety of evils. Yet, I've come to the conclusion that it is a word which we do not allow ourselves to use often enough. It is a word which we expect our children and young people to heed, yet it is a word which we adults tend to ignore.

From an early age our children hear their parents admonishing them with the word "no". We tell them "no—don't cross the street". We tell them "no—don't fight with your brother". We tell them "no—you've had enough cookies for one day". We tell them "no—you may not stay the night at a friend's house." We tell them "no— you may not go to that movie, or listen to that music, or read that kind of books". We expect that our offspring will listen to our words of warning and learn from the "no" we give to a particular situation.

As our children age and become young adults, they begin to hear the "no" message from sources other than their parents. We have ingrained in their education the phrase "just say no". We tell them it's the better thing to do to say no to drugs, alcohol, and sex. We sign cards promising to pick up our children who find themselves at the mercy of a drinking driver—or who find themselves drinking. We educate them about the evils of drug abuse. We beg them to please say no when the pressure is applied to them by peers.

In spite of the many times we expect our children to heed our "No", when the roles are reversed, and we adults need to be heeding a "no", we find that often it's just easier to ignore the "no's" that present themselves to us.

We adults make it difficult for ourselves. We don't follow the same guidelines we expect our children to follow. We expect our children to say no and actually mean it when they say it. We expect otherwise of adults. We may say no to a situation, but then not follow the no with appropriate actions. We tell our children that drugs and alcohol and promiscuous sex are to be avoided. We tell them that drinking and driving are not OK. We tell them that drugs can ruin their lives. Yet, how many of us indulge in the same things that we tell our children can hurt them? Do we think that simply because we are adults we are immune to the complications which result from the abuses we want our children to be strong enough to say no to??? Aren't we succumbing to peer pressure, just as we tell our young people not to give in to their peers???

Have you ever been asked to do something and have found that you must say no? Most of us have most likely been in that kind of situation at one time or another in our lives. Once again, adults make it hard for themselves. We train our children to say no and we applaud them when they have the courage to say no to something. We applaud them for knowing their own limits. We tell them it's a sign of maturity to know one's limits. But, when adults say no to an activity, we don't applaud them. We instead make them feel like there must be something wrong with them for saying no. We don't give them the benefit of knowing their limits—mentally, physically, emotionally. We don't give them the benefit of knowing their own limits of talents. Instead we plead with them to reconsider. We plead with them to change their minds. We plead with them to do other than what they know they can do. We don't accept their no as meaning no. We cause them to lose respect for their own ability to reason. We cause them to lose respect perhaps even for us who don't acknowledge their ability to know their own limits.

The word no is just two letters. Yet within those letters are the limits we set for ourselves, our children, and others. We need the limits of "no"—both adults and children need to be able to say no. We need to respect the limits of others. We need to respect our own limits. By saying no, we are many times actually saying yes to a better life. Let's respect each other's struggles to achieve a better life when we each find ourselves saying no.

Norwegian painter to teach china painting

Clearbrook — Egil Dahle of Telemark, Norway, will teach china painting July 29-August 2 at Clearbrook in the Good Shepherd church. He has previously taught rosemaling there. For more details, contact Norma Olson at 776-3999 or Ardella Lindberg at 968-2255. (Farmers Independent)

It's dress-up time!

Hallock — Anyone who enjoys dressing up is invited to sign up at the Kittson county library for a part in "Pieces From the Prop shop" to be presented August 29. This will be a style show using the clothing, props and other items which have been given to the community theatre and will be presented at the city hall theatre. (Kittson County Enterprise)

Samuel Memorial church rededicated Sunday

Naytahwaush — On Sunday, July 28 at 3 p.m. a service will be held to consecrate and rededicate the new Samuel Memorial Episcopal church building at Naytahwaush. The event will mark the completion of a four-year building process for the 70-family congregation. A buffet will follow the service. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

Goose festival to include "ugly contest"

Middle River — Do you have a tractor that is so ugly the plow refuses to hook up to it? Or a dog that hydrants run away from? It could be worth a year's subscription to the Record in the Ugly contest in conjunction with the Goose festival. There will be two catagories in the contest, living and non-living. (Pictures of mothers-in-law are not allowed.) To enter simply submit a picture of the ugly item to the Record office by September 15. (New River Record)

Tickets on sale for "Annie, Get Your Gun"

Fosston — Tickets, all reserved, for the Fosston community theater presentation of Irving Berlin's "Annie, Get Your Gun," will go on sale this weekend at the Library and Arts center ticket office. The two-act musical will be presented August 15-18 at the art center theatre. Some 37 local actors are included in the cast, ages 6 to 60. Tickets are $5 for adults and $4 for senior citizens and students. (Thirteen Towns)

Update on the new casino

Mahnomen — Work is continuing on the Shooting Star casino on the White Earth reservation. According to the construction superintendent, John Beaulieu, footings have been poured and road work around the casino will soon be complete. The parking lot will be left as just gravel until the storm sewer and sanitary sewer systems are done. The street itself will be paved and blacktopped. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

Pop & watermelon day to be held August 2

Stephen — The staff at the Stephen swimming pool is busy making plans for the annual Pop and Watermelon day, to be held August 2. All area swimmers are invited to participate in a trianthlon which will include a run of one mile, hiking one mile and swimming half a mile. A scavenger hunt will also be held with lists of 50 items for each team to find. Various other games and contests will also be held. (Messenger)

Eldon Sparby hired as principal

Middle River — The board of the Middle River school district has announced the hiring of Eldon Sparby as elementary/secondary principal. He shouldn't have a hard time finding his new office, having 20 years of experience traveling the halls of the school in a teaching capacity and graduating from the high school in Middle River prior to that. He began teaching health and physical education and coaching football and basketball in 1971 and also serves as community education director. (New River Record)

Archeological projects may delay bridge construction

Koochiching County — Two bridge replacement projects on Highway 11 over the Big Fork and Little Fork rivers in Koochiching county could begin in 1992, but archeological findings might delay the start of both projects. The Minnesota department of transportation indicates that a partial archeological recovery will be undertaken this fall to determine the size and value of the site. The Big Fork replacement project has an estimated cost of $2,090,000 and DOT officials estimate that it will take two years to complete, if the results of the archeological study favors bridge construction. (Baudette Region)

Holy Trinity considers Christian preschool

Blackduck — The Holy Trinity Lutheran church is seeking public response to the possibility of starting a Christian preschool in the fall. At least 15 students would be needed, aged three to five. Classes, which will be taught by a certified teacher, will be held in the church basement with costs at $35 to $45. It is hoped that the project will lead to a Christian day school for elementary students." (American)

Warning issued on picking chokecherries

East Polk County — According to Rosebud township chairman Dan LaVoi and Polk County Agricultural inspector Bill Hadler, ditches are not the place to go to pick chokecherries. LaVoi warns that the ditches in the area have been sprayed to kill weeds. Eating berries that have been sprayed could be hazardous and the county and township officers join to asking people to check with the township before picking any berries in ditches. (Thirteen Towns)

Rindal parish installs new pastor

Fertile — Pastor Bill and Almina Boyer started July 1 serving Paaberg, Ness, Norman and Sundal congregations. The couple comes from International Falls, where Rev. Boyer has served two congregations for the past 11 years. An installation service will be held July 28 at 2:30 p.m. at the Paaberg church. (Fertile Journal)

Foreign travel writers inspect Bemidji

Bemidji — Two Swedish and two French journalists, travel writers all, hosted through the Bemidji area recently, as they explored Minnesota as part of a promotion by KLM Royal Dutch Airlines and the Minnesota Office of Tourism. The group visited Itasca state park and made a quick tour of Bemidji, as well as seeing the Leech Lake Bingo Palace. They also stopped in Park Rapids to see a logging camp. The visit was part of a concerted effort to get more international tourists to discover Minnesota. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Grafton board votes down smoke free plan

Grafton, ND — A motion to make Grafton school buildings smoke free failed at a recent meeting of the board in a 4-3 vote. Each building will now retain its room set aside for smoking. Concerns had been expressed about teachers and other adults smoking outside the building, even if the smoke-free measure had passed. (Record)

"LOOKING UNTO JESUS"

Many people are looking for peace and joy in all sorts of places and things. Some in drugs, some in drunkeness, some in earthly things. But the Bible says you need to look unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith, Heb. 12:2.

Oh the beauty of God and His Son have been shown to us by the Holy Spirit.

So, let Jesus shine in your hearts this week. Looking unto Jesus.

Handwashing can cut spread of enterovirus

"The importance of good handwashing, especially in schools and day care centers, cannot be emphasized enough," states Dr. Jim McCord, pediatrician at a St. Paul hospital.

"The incidence of enterovirus and other viral illnesses could be reduced significantly if people who work with children washed their hands better and more frequently."

Enterovirus is not a word used commonly by most families but it can attack children any time between late June and September. Most attacks of enterovirus cause diarrhea, rashes, mouth or canker sores, hand or foot blisters, cold symptoms and fever.

"However," Dr. McCord said, "the symptoms in extreme cases are those of meningitis or encephalitis. These include fever, severe headache, neck stiffness, paralysis, coma or seizures."

The virus is seen most frequently in young children and infants, but cases do occur among school-age children as well. According to Dr. McCord, cases in younger children are more concerning because of the high fever the virus can cause. Mouth sores and general irritability may lead a child to refuse to drink, which can quickly cause dehydration in infants.

Symptoms of dehydration include sunken eyes, a dry pasty mouth, irritability, decreased urination and loss of tears. This is worsened if the child also has diarrhea. Dehydration can usually be treated at home after consultation with the doctor.

Many children become ill from the virus each summer but do not become sick enough to seek the help of a physician. Enterovirus causes some children to become so ill they must be hospitalized. A small percentage of these patients may even need the support of a pediatric intensive care unit.

Since a cure has not yet been discovered for most viral infections, including enterovirus, the hospital staff is able to offer medical support only through the crisis stage of the illness. Most children are discharged from the hospital to recover at home when their crisis period is over.

"At that point it is simply a matter of allowing the illness to run its course," Dr. McCord explained. "The acute enterovirus-caused illness often runs between three and six days."

One of the reasons there is no cure for enterovirus is the common problem with all viruses: the agents which are effective in killing or inactivating the virus are also extremely toxic for humans. It is hoped that effective anti-viral treatments for this and other viral infections will be developed in the next five to 10 years.

More than 70 serotypes or strains of enterovirus have been identified, and immunity to one variety of enterovirus does not guarantee immunity to another. Polio is the only enterovirus for which researchers have developed a vaccine.

"The best way to prevent an enterovirus infection," Dr. McCord said, "is through good hygiene practices, most importantly, through handwashing. The virus leaves the infected child through stool and saliva and exposes the next child through contact with infected surfaces."

This is why he recommends greater attention to good handwashing practices at schools and day care centers.

Sjoberg participates in Aerospace camp

by Lisa Jacobson
for UND

Flying an aerobatic plane, riding in a hot air balloon and touring an international airport are activities most people can only dream about, but Ben Sjoberg did it all.

The 15-year-old son of Dick and Holly Sjoberg of Thief River Falls recently attended Aerospace Camp at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks. The 10-day camp, which covers all aspects of the aerospace industry teaches students about general aviation, helicopter aviation, ballooning and commercial and military aviation.

Sjoberg said he has flown several times, but at the camp it was the first time he actually flew the aircraft himself. "The helicopter was very sensitive, but the planes were pretty easy," Sjoberg said. "On an airplane, you can let go of the controls and it pretty well stays the same, but if you let go of the helicopter controls it goes everywhere."

The students have the opportunity to fly in many different aircraft. Sjoberg said two of his favorite were a Cap 10 aerobatic plane and a Beachcraft 1900 commuter passenger plane. "We did weightlessness in the passenger plane. You can stay in one place and float around," Sjoberg said. "You can do somersaults, but it was a little crowded and I got half way around then got stuck between the seats."

Along with the flight experience, the participants toured the Grand Forks Air Force Base, the North Dakota Air National Guard in Fargo and the Winnipeg International Airpot. In Winnipeg, they attended a crash, fire and rescue demonstration.

When he's not flying planes and touring facilities, Sjoberg has been building a model rocket, which he'll enter in a model plane or rocket contest at the end of the camp.

Ben Sjoberg, son of Dick and Holly Sjoberg of Thief River Falls, was a pilot for a day at the University of North Dakota's Aerospace camp. Sjoberg had an opportunity to fly an airplane, helicopter and participate in weightlessness training while attending the camp. Photo was taken by Cindy Houson, UND.

Stephanie Brekke, 8, Warroad, was among the finalists in the Miss American Minnesota Princess contest.

South Ridge Dairy leads

South Ridge Dairy had the top two cows in value of production which completed their lactation in June in the Red Lake County Dairy Herd improvement association.

First place cow had production of 26,597 pounds of milk, 1,172 pounds of butterfat (4.4 test) and 858 pounds of protein. Second place cow produced 26,668 pounds of milk, 884 pounds of butterfat and 807 pounds of protein.

Third place cow in the association for June came from the Conrad Zak and Sons herd and produced 26,237 pounds of milk, 875 pounds of butterfat and 799 pounds of protein.

There were 24 cows in the association which completed their 305-day lactation records in June with minimum production of 22,000 pounds of milk, 750 pounds of butterfat or 700 pounds of protein.

Other cows in the top 10 came from the following herds with pounds of milk, butterfat and protein listed respectively:

John and Warren Malwitz, 26,148, 763 and 815; Don and Karen Konickson, 23,855, 871 and 791; William Harstad, 24,307; 894 and 724; South Ridge Dairy, 24,594, 839 and 752; Wawrzyniak Dairy, 24,474, 792 and 768; Johnston Farms, 23,657, 827 and 741; and Wawrzyniak Dairy, 23,820, 669 and 818.

Herds with cattle among the remaining 14 animals were Don and Karen Konickson (3), Wawrzyniak Dairy, Gary and Grant Gullekson, John and Warren Malwitz, John Weiland, Wayne Nelson (2), Northwest Ag Experiment station (2), Johnston Farms (2) and Conrad Zak and Sons.

Union/Lake Sarah ass'n. sets picnic

17th annual conference on aging Aug. 21

"Don't Count the Years, Make the Years Count", the northwest region's 17th annual fall conference on aging will provide education designed to "make the years count" at the University of Minnesota, Crookston on August 21. Eleven topics of concern to seniors and service providers will be presented in a total of 24 sessions throughout the day.

Workshop topics include: solving the Medicare mystery, information on Medicare changes and patient's rights; Too few men — too many women, a tongue-in-cheek discussion of the imbalance and how to make the best of it; practical self-help aids that make life easier and safer, a demonstration of adaptive devices; advance and emergency planning to protect assets, legal information on financial issues; and sex: do they really do it — now?, a discussion of myths and realities.

Also Savvy Seniors Are Smart Consumers, tips on recognizing scams; "And Ole Says to Lena. . ." the use of humor for stress management; Using art therapy to enhance your self-image; computers make recounting memoirs easier, a hands-on introduction; and make meals more interesting, a demonstration of unusual fresh produce items. Presenters are from northwest Minnesota, Grand Forks, Fargo and St. Paul.

"The Age Wave" a 60-minute videotape featuring Dr. Ken Dychtwald, will present a glimpse of the future of an aging nation. Dr. Dychtwald is a gerontologist and futurist and recognized as a national authority.

Concurrent workshop sessions are scheduled at 11 a.m. and 1:50 and 2:50 p.m. Eight workshops will be presented in each time slot and will be 50 minutes in length. A one-hour break following the morning keynote address will allow those in attendance to register for door prizes in the resource display area and Senior Craft Display and Sale.

Northwest Area Agency on Aging coordinates the conference annually with funds provided by Title III of the federal Older Americans Act through the Minnesota board on aging and sponsored locally by the Northwest Regional Development Commission, Thief River Falls. Additional local support is provided by UMC and Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks Technical Colleges, Customized Training and Services Division.

Registration information can be obtained at the NWRDC, Senior Centers and LSS Senior Dining sites throughout the seven county region.

Stephanie Brekke is finalist in Miss American Minn.

Stephanie Brekke, 8, daughter of Jay and Pam Brekke of Warroad, was chosen as one of the top 10 finalists in the Miss American Minnesota Princess Pageant.

Sixty girls competed in the two-day event held in St. Paul July 6-7. The pageant competition consisted of poise and appearance in interview and formal wear.

A special thank you to all the businesses who sponsored Stephanie: Wahlberg's Pharmacy and Gift, Warroad Chiropractic, Fish Electric, Town and Country Fashion, M & K Takeout, Johnson Chevrolet, Rustic Planter all of Warroad; and Scott Pahlen Realty, Knutson Hartz, Nite Hawk Supper Club, all of Roosevelt.

Stephanie is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Swanson of Thief River Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brekke of Plummer.

Opinions

Marvin Lundin
Editor

Editorial opinion published on this page, whether locally written or re-printed from other sources is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Opinions expressed by the editor are his own and not necessarily those of other staff members. Opinions expressed in items from other publications may be contradictory to the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

We Can't Blame The Water

Even as work is underway on the multi-million dollar expansion and remodeling of the water treatment plant in Thief River Falls, opinion continues to be expressed about the source of water being used and its questionable quality. And certainly informed discussion is of benefit in making proper decisions and wise investments.

We are satisfied that city officials have given full and serious consideration to all aspects of providing for Thief River Falls' water supply needs and that they have decided to proceed in what is the most logical and cost effective manner. Studies have shown the only adequate nearby water supply to be the river. And if a supply of well water were available—which it apparently is not—the cost of upgrading the plant to properly treat that water would be much greater than the cost of the present project.

With that conviction stated, we would like to address another concern expressed by at least two writers of public opinion letters recently published in the Times. These writers referred to Thief River Falls having the highest rate of cancer in Minnesota. Several of our readers questioned that claim, and we agreed that it warranted further investigation.

We called the Minnesota Department of Health with our question and held a lengthy phone conversation with Al Williams, an epidemiologist in the Chronic Disease and Environmental Epidemiology section. That section of the department deals with the Minnesota cancer surveillance system established and funded by the state legislature a few years ago. The system now has information compiled for 1988 and 1989.

Williams said that a review of the statistics shows the rate of new cases of cancer in Pennington county during those two years to be "nothing but normal." In fact, he said, the Pennington county rate is slightly below expectations based on population and age of population. Statistics are not available on a city by city basis.

The statistics show that Pennington county had an average of 30 new cases of cancer in men and another 30 new cases in women each year for 1988 and 1989. Based on the 1987 demographer's estimate of Pennington county population and age of that population, the county could have expected 38 new cases in men and 34 new cases in women per year during that period.

Numbers of cases on a year-by-year basis may be deceiving, Williams pointed out. He believes that was the situation in a 1968 study involving multiple myeloma cancer cases in Pennington county.

In that circumstance, there was alarm when six residents of Thief River Falls were diagnosed with the relatively uncommon cancer in a single year. Incidence could normally have been expected to be about one case every four years.

Studies were conducted by the Mayo Clinic in Rochester and the findings published in at least two medical journals. The studies revealed there had been no other local cases of multiple myeloma diagnosed at least back to 1960. Hundreds of blood tests were done to check for possible additional cases and individual case studies found that there was nothing in common among the six cases diagnosed in 1968. Conclusion was that the relatively large number of relatively rare cancer cases was simply a circumstance which occurs from time to time.

"Disease statistics are rarely right on average," Williams explained. "Numbers significantly higher or lower than the average are not uncommon, particularly in areas of low population where a small number of cases can have a great affect on percentages."

(As a follow-up to the 1968 study, Pennington county had no cases of multiple myeloma recorded among men in 1988 or 1989 and only one case among women during that time. Normal expectation would have been about one case for men and one for women during the two-year period.)

Williams said the health department receives literally hundreds of calls each year from all around the state with questions about the incidence of cancer in a particular area and its possible connection to environmental circumstances.

Regarding water contamination and cancer rates, Williams said he knows of no study that has found any measurable increase in cancer rates due to use of water at typical contamination levels.

"While water contamination may be unacceptable by a number of different standards," he said, "it has been found in numerous studies as not sufficient to produce a measurable increase in cancer risk. In fact, at typical contamination levels, the contamination is thousands of times lower than what would be required to produce a measurable increase in cancer rates."

It would thus appear that not only is the incidence of cancer in this area well within its expected bounds, but that the water likely should not be blamed for the cancer cases which do occur.

Fire caused extensive damage to a home at 612 North State last Thursday evening. Thief River Falls fire department received a report of a fire at the residence from a neighbor. No one was at home at the time. The house is owned by Audrey Breiland but was being rented by David Johnson. The cause of the fire is still being investigated, according to Fire Chief Dave Bjorkman.

Tillage clinic August 20

A tillage clinic will be held on Tuesday, August 20 beginning at 9 a.m. at the Northwest Experiment Station in Crookston.

The clinic will feature working demonstrations of the latest in tillage equipment, including an experimental tillage implement.

Extension and soil conversation service specialists will also be on hand to discuss production implications of increased residue. Topics will range from residue measurement to tillage and weed control and nutrient transfer.

Warroad Summer Theatre presents The Music Man

Warroad Summer Theatre will present The Music Man, written by Meredith Willson and Franklin Lacy.

The Music Man is the story of a fast-talking Harold Hill, who tries to con the citizens of River City, IA, into buying musical instruments by promising to create a boys band. Not knowing a clarinet from a saxophone, Harold expects to skip town with the cash in hand, only to be caught by the beautiful Marian, the librarian who tries to reform him into a respectable citizen.

Cast of the Music Man include: Perry Pord as Charlie Cowell, Aaron Pratt as the conductor; Robert Johnson as Professor Harold Hill; Jim Strandlio as Mayor Shinn; Ross Lindberg as Ewart Dunlop; Ray Green as Oliver Hix; David Landby as Jacoy Squires; Steve Wymore as Olin Britt; Joe Olson as Marcellus Washburn; Mitch Czeh as Tommy Djilas; Jenee Provance as Marian Paroo; Janine Peterson as Mrs. Paroo; Ben Yanok as Winthrop Paroo; Lisa Pry as Amaryliss; Lynda Myers as Eulalie Mackecknie Shinn; Patty Schmitz as Zaneeta Shinn; Mary Lofstedt as Gracie Shinn; Bonnie Nordvall as Alma Hix; Julie Jones as Maude Dunlop; Joan Olafson as Ethel Toffelmier; Isaac Unruh as the boy; Barbara Larson as Mrs. Squires; Aaron Pratt as the driver; Aaron Pratt as the man; Scott Elliot as Constable Locke; and Nathan Adams and Daniel Geddo as the drummers; Boys band members include Jared Olafson, Jared Powell, Travis Amiot, Derek Pederson and Aaron Pederson; Traveling salesmen include Ross Lindberg, Ray Green, David Landby and Steve Wymore.

The townspeople of River City include: Arlene Olson, Toni Berhow, Nancy Pratt, Laura Bergerson, Debbie Olson, Christina Myers, Rachel Landby, Anna Landby and Avis Reaundeau.

Support staff include: Lee Barnum as the director, Mitch Czeh as the music director, Mary Deets as the accompanist, Mikki VanEmmerik as the technical director, Kris Wickersham as the assistant director, Mark Hagen as the stage manager, Kris Wickersham and Julie Jones as project co-ordinators, Avis Reandeau and Kim Smith in charge of costumes, Julaine Muller, Ruthann Erickson and Pam Rachuy in charge of props, Cyd Amiot, Beth Biskup, Janelle Streiff in charge of make-up, Janet Landby as the assistant, and Steve Reaundeau in charge of lights and sound.

Thief River Falls runner Mitch Bernstein was able to reach the bag before being tagged by Moorhead first baseman Jeremy Kovash on this first inning pick-off play during Thursday's American Legion baseball doubleheader opener at Irv Wilson Field. Moorhead won the game 6-4 and completed the sweep with a 14-1 second-game decision.

Moorhead sweeps TRF Legion

Moorhead played long ball Thursday and in the process swept Thief River Falls 6-4, 14-1 in a Ninth District American Legion baseball doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field.

The defending Ninth District tournament champion Blues hit two home runs in the opener and added three fence-clearing shots in the nightcap to improve their record to 23-18 for the year. Thief River Falls fell to 16-19.

Post 117 is scheduled to host Karlstad tonight (Friday) in a 6 p.m. doubleheader that was rescheduled from an original Saturday afternoon time slot, and will wrap up regular season play Monday at Roseau at 6 p.m.

Ninth District Tier I tournament, an eight-team, double-elimination affair, will get underway Thursday, August 1, at Irv Wilson Field.

Neither shot seemed to have that much power, but home runs by Steve Wagner and Mike Ulness provided the first four Moorhead runs, sparking the Blues to a 6-4 Game 1 win.

Wagner's fly ball just cleared the left field fence for a 1-0 first inning lead and Ulness followed suit in the fifth with a three-run job that sailed down the line and over the 315-foot sign in the left field corner.

Thief River Falls, after scoring on a two-out, full-count RBI single to left by Barry Dowers in the fourth inning, got back in the game with a three-run fifth when No. 9 hitter Darin Wald was hit by a pitch, David Blazek bounced a double into right field and Mitch Bernstein sent a single up the middle for a run. A ground-out by Mike Rokke made it 4-3 and an error on a ball hit by Mike Swanson tied it.

But Moorhead came right back with a pair of runs in the sixth for the win as Jon Hegre, who had a single and two walks as the Blues' No. 9 hitter, drew a two-out walk, stole second and scored on a single to right by Matt Overby. A stolen base, followed by a hit-and-run single to right by Wagner, made it 6-4.

Wagner was 3-for-4 as the Blues out-hit Thief River Falls 7-5. Bernstein went 2-for-3 at the plate for Post 117.

Rokke, who took over for Bernstein on the mound in the sixth, was tagged with the pitching loss. They struck out five and walked four. Scott Kohler went the distance for the win, striking out seven and walking five.

Thief River Falls....1

The Blues wasted little time taking charge in Game 2 as the first five Moorhead batters in the top of the first inning collected four hits and scored four runs, leading to a 14-1 five-inning 10-run rule decision for the sweep.

Two of those early base hits were home runs – a three-run shot by Mike Ulness and a solo effort by Jeremy Kovash.

It became 5-0 in the second inning when Matt Overby singled, then made his way around the bases on a stolen base, passed ball and wild pitch.

Overby hit a two-run home run in the third as the score climbed to 7-0.

Doubles by Darin Wald and Mitch Bernstein put Thief River Falls on the board in the bottom of the third, but Moorhead drew five walks in scoring four fourth inning runs before wrapping it up with a three-run fifth.

Overby was 4-for-4, Kovash went 2-for-2 and Ulness was 2-for-3 in the 12-hit Moorhead attack. Thief River Falls picked up just three base hits off Ulness, who struck out four and walked two.

Barry Dowers was the starting and losing pitcher, although he wound up with just one-third of an inning to his credit. Pete Balmer and Jeff Lutovsky pitched in relief. They walked 10 and struck out three.

TRF Bombers win playoff opener 7-5

Thief River Falls Bombers spotted Fertile a 3-0 head start Thursday before coming back to claim a 7-5 win in the first full day of the Tony Sipe League American Legion baseball playoffs at Ada.

Red Lake Falls, Warroad and Ada were also winners in the double-elimination event that continues through the weekend. The top four finishers will move on to the Ninth District Tier II tournament in Ada the following week.

Thief River Falls is 36-12-1 heading into an 8 o'cock match-up with host Ada tonight.

No. 7-seeded Fertile threw an early scare into the No. 2-seeded Bombers by scoring three times with two out in the bottom of the third inning.

But Thief River Falls tied it in the fourth on an RBI sacrifice fly by Rick Ostby and a two-run home run by Carter Rogalla.

The Bombers took their first lead in the fifth when Jason Svir singled, stole second and scored on an error on a ball hit by Nathan Knutson. Ostby made it 5-3 with a single.

Fertile pulled within 5-4 in the sixth, but Thief River Falls reopened a 7-4 spread in the top of the seventh when Marc Hagon and Rogalla both singled and both came up with two stolen bases. Haugen scored on a passed ball and Rogalla came home on a single by Jeremy Olson.

"The kids worked hard," said Thief River Falls coach Wayne Rahlf. "They played well."

Haugen was 3-for-4, Rogalla went 2-for-3 and Svir was 2-for-5 for the winners.

Trevor Haugen was the starting and winning pitcher for the Bombers, with Marc Haugen picking up a save by retiring four of the five batters he faced at the end. They struck out five and walked five.

Preseason practice schedules...

Pioneers select dates for football, volleyball teams

Opening dates have been set for the start of preseason practice drills for the 1991 Northland Community College football and volleyball teams, it was announced recently by Northland Athletic Director Rick Nelson.

The football team will report at 8:30 a.m. Friday, Aug. 23. Football practice will actually start at 8 a.m. the next day. The two-a-day drills will continue until the start of school Tuesday, Sept. 3.

The Pioneers open the 1991 football season Thursday, Sept. 5, with a 7 p.m. Pepsi Bowl match-up against the Moorhead State University junior varsity at Prowler Field.

Northland volleyball practice will start Monday, Aug. 26. The Pioneers host Rainy River in a 6 p.m. season-opening match Friday, Sept. 13.

All football and volleyball players are reminded to have their physicals and insurance forms completed prior to the start of practice drills.

Nelson is the Pioneers' football coach. Deb Jacobson will return to head the volleyball program after a one-year sabbatical.

Northland's intercollegiate athletic programs are open to students at both Northland and the Thief River Falls Technical College, pointed out Nelson. For additional information about the programs, contact Nelson at 681-2181, or stop at Northland and visit Nelson or one of the other school officials.

Women's Softball

Regular season play ended Wednesday and the playoffs get underway Monday in the Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League.

Legion/Sather Law and Best Western Inn were the regular season pennant winners in Division I and Division II, respectively.

Kelly Storhaug came up with a game-winning base hit in the bottom of the seventh inning to score Tammy Sparby from first base as Legion/Sather Law edged Pizza Hut 3-2, while Janelle Konickson hit a two-run home run and Karen Ranum tripled as Legion/Sather Law handled Middle River M&M 24-3.

Lori Braaten was 4-for-4 as Best Western Inn hammered Middle River M&M 34-10, with the Division II champions adding an 11-4 victory over the Swingers for a doubleheader sweep.

Mush-A-Rets won a pair of games as Pam Schenkey went 4-for-5, Colleen Rook was 3-for-4 with a triple and two RBI, Lesley Ronsen homered and drove in five runs, Deanne Thompson wound up with three RBI and Suzanne Kaiser came up with a double and two RBI in a 14-10 decision over St. Hilaire Elevator/Lynn's Refrigerating. Ronsen was 3-for-4 with a home run and two doubles, Gina Pederson had a triple and two RBI and Rook was 3-for-4 with a triple in a 13-4 Mush-A-Rets win over VFW.

Steve Bergland of Thief River Falls caught this 28 3/4-pound, 39-inch long channel catfish Monday night while fishing the Red River near Drayton, ND. The fish hit a frog and fought Bergland for 10 minutes before being landed. Bergland entered the fish in the Whopper Club contest in Drayton, and reportedly became the instant leader in the state-wide contest

Former TRF coach named to Hall of Fame

Former Thief River Falls head high school hockey coach John Matchefts will be one of three 1991 inductees into the United States Hockey Hall of Fame in Eveleth, it was announced this week.

Matchefts, Bob Johnson and Robbie Ftorek will be inducted during October 12 ceremonies in Eveleth.

An Eveleth native, Matchefts was an all-state selection in leading the Golden Bears to state titles in 1947, '48 and '49 and twice earned All-America honors at the University of Michigan, where he played on NCAA championship teams in 1951, '52 and '53.

Matchefts also played on the 1955 U.S. National team and was a member of the 1956 Silver Medal U.S. Olympic team in Sapporo, Japan. He had been invited to Boston to try out for the 1949 U.S. Olympic team at the age of 16, but while at the camp was notified that state high school league rules prevented him from playing in the Olympics.

A 10-year high school coaching career began in Eveleth. Matchefts headed the Thief River Falls program for the 1956-57, 1957-58 and 1958-59 seasons, with the Prowlers winning the 1959 state tournament consolation title.

Matchefts coached college hockey for 20 years – five years at Colorado College and 15 years at the United States Air Force Academy, where he is currently serving in the Eagles' athletic department.

Johnson is a Minneapolis native and a University of Minnesota graduate who coached high school hockey in Warroad (1956) and Minneapolis Roosevelt before a college coaching career took him to Colorado College and the University of Wisconsin, where his Badgers won three NCAA titles.

A U.S. Olympic team coach in 1976 and and U.S. National team coach in 1973, '74, '75 and '81, Johnson served as Executive Director of USA Hockey for three years before joining the Pittsburgh Penguins, where he coached a 1991 Stanley Cup championship team.

Ftorek is a Massachusetts product, who played on the Silver Medal-winning 1972 U.S. Olympic team before joining the Detroit Red Wings. He played five years in the WHA with Phoenix and Cincinnati, where he became the first American-developed player to earn league MVP honors in any professional hockey league in 1976-77.

Ftorek returned to the NHL with Quebec and the New York Rangers, wrapping up his playing career in 1984. He served as head coach of the Los Angeles Kings in 1987-88 and is currently an assistant coach with the New Jersey Devils.

The United States Hockey Hall of Fame was chartered in Eveleth in 1968, with the endorsement and cooperation of the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States (AHAUS).

First induction ceremony was held in 1973 when 25 American hockey greats were named to the Hall. The list will total 78 names with the addition of Matchefts, Johnson and Ftorek. The day-long ceremonies will be capped by the annual Hall of Fame game that night featuring NCAA champion Northern Michigan and the University of Minnesota.

Swimmers compete in meets

Thief River Falls USS Swim Club completed its 1991 summer competition Tuesday at the Fast Water Conference meet in Grand Forks, ND.

The Ryan Lokken-coached Thief River Falls squad, Fosston, Crookston, Grand Forks, Bemidji and Park Rapids are members of the conference.

Thief River Falls' 1991 summer schedule included earlier meets at Fosston June 25, in Thief River Falls July 9 and at Bemidji July 16.

Approximately 60 participants, ranging in age from 6-to-50, are involved in the Thief River Falls USS program. The competitive meets are usually geared toward swimmers ages 6-18.

TRF Prep teams lose in district play

All three Thief River Falls teams – the Mudhens, Lobos and Gamecocks – were eliminated in the 1991 Lake Agassiz District Babe Ruth Prep baseball tournament for 13-year-olds played recently in Crookston.

No. 4-seeded East Grand Forks Reds won the eight-team, double-elimination tournament, coming out of the losers bracket to knock off No. 2-seeded Roseau 7-3, 6-5 in the finals.

Coached by Corey Poole, the Mudhens were the No. 1 seed going into the tournament. They beat No. the 8-seeded East Grand Forks Optimists 25-8 and stopped the Reds 17-9 before losing to Roseau 21-20 in the final match-up of tournament unbeatens. A rematch with the Reds in the final losers bracket game went in East Grand Forks' favor, 8-2.

No. 3-seeded Gamecocks, coached by Chris Nelson, defeated the No. 6-seeded Lobos 12-9, but then lost to Roseau 17-10 and were eliminated by Warroad 14-8.

Hunter Boldt-coached Lobos, after losing to the Gamecocks, fell out of the tournament with a 19-9 loss at the hands of Crookston.

Bury A Little Residue Or A Lot

New model 445 Conservation Chisel Plow leaves as little or as much residue as you want based on your residue plans.
• Choose one of nine models from 7' to 23' working width. (19, 21' and 23' models fold flat)
• Rigid coulters and chisel points at 15" spacing leave more residue
• Disc coulters and twisted shovels at 12" spacing leave less residue.
• Optional deep-till shanks till an extra 4-6" deeper than chisel shanks to reduce compaction problems and rip hardpan
• Optional soil leveling bar provides a smoother secondary tillage pass

Swans Raise 24 Cygnets

Seven pairs of trumpeter swans, released by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR), Nongame Wildlife Program, have nested and hatched a total of 31 cygnets (young swans) this summer. So far, 24 of the cygnets are still alive.

Six of the pairs nested in northwest Minnesota, raising 23 cygnets. One female nested in Wisconsin with a male from the Hennepin County Parks swan project and produced one cygnet.

From 1988 through 1990, DNR project swans made 15 nesting attempts, 11 of which were successful, with a total of 19 cygnets surviving to their first fall migration. Trumpeter swans generally do not begin nesting until they are four-years-old.

Trumpeter swan restoration project is an attempt to restore a free-flying, self-sustaining population of these birds to northwestern Minnesota. In addition to the 11 nesting pairs this year, there are 10 non-nesting, bonded pairs that will be old enough to nest next year. The DNR is very close to meeting its goal of 15 breeding pairs within the next two years.

Trumpeter swans are the largest waterfowl in North America, weighing from 20 to 30 pounds, with wingspans of six- to seven-feet. The trumpeter swan was once native to Minnesota until market hunting and habitat loss resulted in their disappearance from the state by 1900.

Since 1987, the DNR has released a total of 152 swans, including 19 swans in May of this year. Most were pen-raised and released at two-year-olds. Fifty of the 152 swans were raised from eggs collected in the remote Minto Flats region of central Alaska. The rest were obtained through cooperative agreements with the Minnesota Zoo, the Brookfield Zoo in Chicago, the Delta Waterfowl and Wetlands Research Station in Manitoba, the Alaska Zoo, Hennepin County Parks and private propagators.

Most of the swans were released in central Becker County, in and around the Tamarac National Wildlife Refuge. Additional release sites have included Itasca State park in Clearwater County, Maplewood State Park in Otter Tail County and Swan Lake in Nicollet County. The Minnesota DNR will continue to release small numbers of additional trumpeters each spring for the next three years.

Released birds are tagged with numbered, orange plastic wing tags affixed to the leading edge of one wing (right wing on males, left wing on females). The cygnets are not marked so it is difficult to track their progress once they separate from their parents the following spring.

Task of documenting the whereabouts of DNR swans belongs to Peggy Hines, a technician with the Nongame Program stationed at Detroit Lakes. Hines monitors the swans on a regular basis by means of both ground and aerial surveys, and reports of sightings from cooperating agencies and private citizens.

Hines reports that all 19 of the swans released this year are still alive and healthy. Of the 133 swans released in previous years, 42 are known to be alive, 41 are dead, and 50 are missing. Missing swans include those that were sighted only once in the last year or those that have not been sighted recently. There are also a number of unmarked trumpeters (most likely cygnets from past nesting years) that have begun to establish themselves in the area - another sign of the project's success.

Mortality among project swans has been due to a number of factors. Lead poisoning, from ingesting lead shot from lake bottoms, was a major cause of death for many swans in 1988 because of low water levels, but has been less of a problem in recent years. Collisions with power lines on foggy days are still a common cause of death.

As the project has progressed, it has become more and more difficult to monitor the swans. They have begun to range statewide, both in summer and during the winter migration. Although some swans have chosen to winter in Minnesota, most have migrated to Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Kansas or Missouri.

Trumpeter swan project is funded by donations to the Nongame Wildlife Checkoff on Minnesota tax forms.

RIM sign-up slated

Reinvest in Minnesota (RIM) sign-up for 1991 will be conducted August 5-16 at local soil and water conservation district (SWCD) offices. The RIM reserve program pays landowners to retire certain sensitive lands from agricultural production and return them to their natural state.

"Farming these fragile lands degrades water quality and leads to increased erosion and reduced fish and wildlife habitat," states Ron Harnack, executive director of the Minnesota Board of Water and Soil Resources (BWSR), which administers the program.

"Generally the lands are only marginally productive," Harnack added. "Enrolling land in RIM reserve is an excellent way for a landowner to help protect and improve Minnesota's natural resources."

Land eligible for this August's sign-up includes previously drained or altered wetlands to be restored and certain adjacent lands; cropland in sensitive ground water areas; and cropland and pastured hillsides adjacent to protected waters. Only permanent easements will be accepted.

The 1991 legislature reversed a trend of decreasing funding for the program and awarded it about $8 million. During the August 1991 sign-up, about $2 million of that money will be available for other eligible lands. "For more specific information on eligibility, landowners should contact their local SWCD office," Harnack said.

The RIM reserve program has enrolled about 36,000 acres (about 57 square miles) since it began in 1986.

Plumber license exam given in Detroit Lakes

Examinations for state journeyman and master plumber's licenses, and water conditioning installer and contractor licenses, will be conducted in September at the Detroit Lakes area technical institute.

Applications may be obtained by calling (612) 627-5115 or by writing to the Plumbing Unit, Minnesota Department of Health, 925 Delaware St. SE, Box 59040, Minneapolis, MN 55459-0040.

Applications must be returned by August 15 to be eligible for the September examinations. Next scheduled examinations will be given in March of 1992.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build up was to rooter your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes ... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course, all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a SIGNAL, act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today!

TRF National Guard unit gets training

Behind 55,000 pounds of steel, thundering forward at up to 40 miles per hours, Spec. Brian Johnson, 19, of Thief River Falls, controls the massive force of the Bradley Fighting Vehicle.

Johnson, who has been with this unit, Company B, Thief River Falls, 2nd Battalion of the 136th Infantry Regiment for just over two years is currently performing three weeks of annual training at Camp Ripley.

As a Bradley driver, Johnson will take his "track" through a succession of tasks designed to help the unit qualify as Bradley crew members. These tasks include live firing, the run and shoot — a battle simulation, and for the first time ever at Ripley, a Bradley swim.

In the swim, a water barrier is applied to the exterior of the vehicle enabling it to float safely across a body of water.

Johnson's unit is expected to train in a field environment for about 17 days to complete these tasks.

In civilian life, Johnson, son of Ron and Tina Johnson, also of Thief River Falls, is a student of aviation mechanics at Thief River Falls Technical College.

Board discusses compost

The board appointed Howard Person to the position of Solid Waste Recycling Coordinator and project manager for compost operation.

The county agreed that if no private party or group would find use for compost that the county would use it.

The board reviewed three quotes for a re-roofing project on the Job Service side of the welfare department building. The board gave the contract to Hjello Roofing of Newfolden. The cost will be $6,377.

The board set December 20 at 5 p.m. as the date and time for the truth and taxation public hearing.

Boys." It was choreographed by MeriBeth Kisner of the Conservatory of American Dance/Chi-Town Jazz.

Among her dance accomplishments are principal dancer with the North Dakota Ballet company, soloist in the Nancy Pasley School of Dance and company member of Judy Roe School of Dance. She danced in Los Angeles under instruction from Joel Lanteri and Joe Truman and Jamie Rogers and in Chicago under MeriBeth Kisner, Stella Appleboum and Bruce Steggman. She is continuing her dance training with the Red River Dance and Performing company.

Doni received a dance scholarship to the Conservatory of American Dance/Chi-Town Jazz in Chicago. She has choreographed and taught dance for high school musicals in Thief River Falls and Warren, taught dance under Nancy Pasley and Judy Smith in Grand Forks, ND, and been a lecture-demonstrator of dance for elementary students. She toured with the North Dakota Ballet company through North Dakota and has entertained in Grand Forks, Grafton and Warren.

Winner of the Miss Warren title in 1987, Doni was a first runner-up in the Miss Potato Bowl USA pageant in Grand Forks where she won evening gown and talent divisions and second runner-up in the Miss Northwest pageant in Detroit Lakes.

At Warren high school Doni was a varsity cheerleader and won the most improved cheerleader award. She was a member of the yearbook staff and Spanish club, played first chair saxophone in the concert and pep bands and sang in the concert choir. At Concordia she was co-chair of the 1991 Family Weekend Showcase.

Doni's family includes brothers Dale and Kipp and sisters Lynn and Drue. She enjoys rollerblading, walking her three dogs, watching her roommates perform in sports, talking with friends, watching old musicals with her mom and spending time at the lake. She is also involved in horsemanship and college intramural volleyball.

After earning her bachelor's degree from Concordia she plans to study for her master's degree with a "Big Dream" of studying international law at the University of Notre Dame.

State traffic fatalities at all time low

Minnesota's traffic fatality rate in 1990 was the lowest ever, according to statistics released by the Minnesota Department of Public Safety.

The fatality rate in 1990 was 1.47 for each 100 million miles traveled. Over the past 25 years, the highest rate was 5.3 deaths per 100 million miles in 1968.

"The increased use of seat belts and child car seats in recent years has greatly reduced the chance of death or injury in traffic crashes," says Ralph Church, commissioner of the Minnesota Department of Public Safety. Seat belt use has increased from 20 per cent when the first seat belt law was passed to 47 per cent in 1990.

During the same 1984-1990 period the number of vehicles on the road and number of miles traveled both increased steadily and traffic was moving at faster speeds in 1990 than in 1984, but the number of serious crashes decreased.

During 1990, fatalities decreased three per cent from the average of the prior five years. Serious and moderate injuries declined by 11 and eight per cent, respectively, but minor injuries increased by 12 per cent. Of the 431 people killed in vehicles, at least 66 per cent were not using seat belts or child car seats.

"These numbers underscore the need for increased enforcement and education on the importance of buckling up," Church said.

Fine for non-compliance with the state's seat belt law was increased from $10 to $25 by the 1991 legislature. Citations for failure to use the restraints may be issued only if a motorist is first stopped for another traffic violation.

"Many people believe even more lives would be saved by legislation allowing law enforcement to stop and cite motorists who refuse to buckle up," Church added.

Frontage road plans ordered by TRF Council

The prime and sub-contractors for the 1991 street project have agreed to include the extension of the frontage road adjacent to Highway 59 in Thief River Falls so that a motel could be built on property just past the First Bank building.

Ron Lindberg, Thief River Falls technical services and engineering department director, told members of the city council who were at an adjourned meeting of the council Tuesday afternoon, that the prime and sub contractors on the city's 1991 street project have agreed to include the frontage road extension in the project. Lindberg presented a feasibility study to the council Tuesday night and asked that the council order plans and specifications.

City crews will do much of the extension of the project. Their work will replace the city's contribution of $7,000 to the project. Ron Lindberg assured the council that regardless of whether the motel project goes forward someone will be assessed for the remaining cost of the project, which is expected to be about $30,000.

Don Stewart, community development director, reported on another project. Stewart said he and members of the local HUD and Student Housing Committee met with contractors last Friday to discuss the building of student housing near the colleges. Stewart said he had hoped that footings could be poured this fall so that when it gets too cold to work outside they would have something to work on. Stewart said he now believes that won't take place. He said the contractors believe they can begin next spring and complete the project during the summer.

Street department employees will be allowed to paint and or stripe private parking lots within the city using city equipment. The city council was informed of a new change in policy Tuesday night. The street committee has approved a policy which: "allows street department employees to paint/stripe private parking lots within the city using city owned equipment and supplies. The work will be accomplished after normal working hours (evenings and/or weekends) the employees will be compensated and their normal overtime rates, and their payroll costs along with materials and equipment costs will be billed through the city."

Hartz Foundation has donated an additional $10,000 to the Swimming pool fund and $10,000 for the proposed Riverwalk bridge across Hartz Park. City Finance Officer Roger DeLap made the announcements Tuesday afternoon during the council meeting.

Jobless rate in region at 6.8 per cent

Unemployment rate of 6.8 per cent in June for the seven northwest Minnesota counties of Region 1 is the second highest in Minnesota and the 13.1 per cent rate in Red Lake county is tied with Clearwater county of Region 2 for the highest individual county jobless rate in the state.

Only Region 3, which includes the counties of Aitkin, Carlton, Cook, Itasca, Koochiching, Lake and St. Louis, has a higher unemployment rate than Region 1 at 7.0 per cent.

Next in line behind Clearwater and Red Lake counties is Marshall county, also in Region 1, with an unemployment rate of 10.2 per cent. Itasca county in Region 3 had a 9.1 per cent jobless rate in June.

Roseau county has the lowest unemployment rate in Region 1 with 3.1 per cent, down from 4.2 per cent in May but up from 2.8 per cent in June of 1990. Next lowest rate in the region for June is 5.6 per cent in Kittson county, followed by 6.4 per cent in Norman county, 7.1 per cent in Polk county, 7.8 per cent in Pennington, 10.2 per cent in Marshall and 13.1 per cent in Red Lake.

Pennington county rate of 7.8 per cent was down from 9.3 per cent in May but up from 6.3 per cent in June a year ago.

In Region 2, Lake of the Woods county had an unemployment rate of only 2.2 per cent in June, down from four per cent in May and 2.7 per cent in June of 1990. Beltrami county rate was 5.9 per cent, up from 5.5 per cent a year ago.

Rundell Electric won the water fight contest for the 14th year in a row. The water fight contest was one of the Summerfest activities in Thief River Falls Thursday night. Other activities are planned this week including a parade on Saturday. The Rundell Electric team includes, from left, Rick Semrud, Steve Rundell, Mike Gilbertson and Steve Hegan. When asked what the secret to their success was, Gilbertson said the team practiced with garden hoses all year and ate only fish.

TRF Swimming pool fund controversy sparks interest

Two years ago donations to the swimming pool fund were coming in strong and fast. But loss of someone in a strong leadership role to guide the fund-raising activities has brought fund-raising activities to a virtual standstill.

So few donations have been received in the past year that some residents decided to question whether they can get their donations back.

Recently, the Thief River Falls city council was made aware of three requests to return donated funds. At the time, City Attorney Paul Ihle was unsure of whether funds could be returned. Ihle said they can make the request, but he didn't know whether the city can return the funds which have been placed in a separate fund account managed by the city and donated for a specific purpose.

All this talk about a stalled fund-raising effort has renewed some interest in the project. A letter to The Times, which appeared in the July 23 issue of The Times encouraged continued support for the swimming pool.

Bob Wold, who is a member of the swimming pool committee, said this week that the committee does not plan to give up on the effort to raise money for the swimming pool.

Last Tuesday, City Finance Officer Roger DeLap, announced that the Hartz Foundation had donated another $10,000 to the swimming pool fund.

About three or four years ago, an effort to raise money for a proposed outdoor swimming pool began in earnest. Charlie Oakes, who has since left the community, took a leadership role in that effort. Under his direction and that of a strong but small group of directors, the fund grew to a size of about $100,000. Included in the total was about $17,000 from a previous attempt to raise money for a small wading pool. The funds were then turned over to the city and placed in a special fund account.

Since Oakes left the community, little fund-raising has taken place. However, some of the funds were used to pay for the cost of a feasibility study. Study of the proposed outdoor pool began when several individuals travelled to different communities to see how their outdoor pools were being operated and how much it cost to operate an outdoor pool.

A feasibility study was by the city of Thief River Falls and an ad-hoc group, which included individuals from city, county, swimming pool committee, park and recreation department, school district 564 and others. The report completed and presented to the city and ad-hoc group in July of 1990 by Bonestroo, Rosene, Anderlik & Associates, had some surprising estimates.

Hailstorms hit many areas in Minnesota

Hail larger than golf balls damaged crops and property in northwest Minnesota Tuesday night.

Bob Sorvig reported hail damaged crops and property near his farm 10 miles west of St. Hilaire. He reported the Brooks area was also hit by hail. A Plummer resident reported pea-sized hail. Red Lake county sheriff's department reported receiving reports of hail throughout the county. Hail reportedly began small and got larger as it moved through the county. No reports of significant property damage were received by the Red Lake County Sheriff's Department, however. Strong winds swept through Thief River Falls but no hail.

The National Weather Service issued a tornado watch for much of northwestern Minnesota Tuesday night. Strong winds and hail accompanied the intense storm

Hail of a storm...

About 10 miles west of St. Hilaire large hail damaged crops and property Tuesday night. Bob Sorvig brought those samples in to the Times Wednesday morning. Pictured in the center is a 50-cent piece to give readers an idea of the size of the hail. Sorvig said a nearby bean crop looked like salad after the hail went through.

Jaycee Summerfest ends this weekend

Annual Thief River Falls Jaycees Summerfest celebration draws to a close this weekend with a number of activities on the calendar for Saturday and Sunday, including the Summerfest parade Saturday morning, Miss Thief River Falls pageant Saturday evening and summer snowmobile races on the Red Lake River Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

As the Northern Watch goes to press Friday afternoon, no one has found the Summerfest treasure, worth $100 in cash to the finder. Ten clues have been given through today and are listed at the end of this story.

Summerfest parade Saturday begins at 11 a.m. at the sports arena on the Pennington county fairgrounds, makes its way up Third street to Horace avenue, turns north for a block on Horace and returns to the fairgrounds on Fourth street. Prizes are being offered in several areas of parade competition.

Following the parade, from 1 to 5:30 p.m., an outdoor car show will be held at Floyd B. Olson park, sponsored by the Prairie Schooners Street Rod club. An admission will be charged and awards presented to owners of winning vehicles.

From noon to 5 p.m. the International Watercross association will conduct summer snowmobile races on the Red Lake river. Sprint races across the river and oval races on the river are scheduled with viewing from Chief Red Robe park off Eighth street (highway 1 east).

Admission of $5 for adults and $1 for children 12 and younger will admit viewers to the Saturday races and the Sunday racing session also scheduled from noon to 5 p.m. Approximately 60 races are expected to be conducted over the two-day period.

Duck races will take place at 6 p.m. on the river at Chief Red Robe park. Numbered plastic ducks with numbers corresponding to tickets being sold will be released on the river. First duck to cross the finish line will qualify the "owner" for a $500 cash prize. Second place winner will receive a television set, third place winner a boom box and fourth place winner will get 50 $1 Minnesota lottery tickets.

At 7 p.m. Saturday the Miss Thief River Falls pageant will be held at the Lincoln high school auditorium. Candidates for the title currently held by Tami Waht of Greenbush will be Michelle Bergeron, Argyle; Lynnae Broten, Thief River Falls; Tammy Johanning, Thief River Falls; Doni Loeslie, Warren; Heather Olson, Thief River Falls; Stephanie Perreault, Red Lake Falls; Heather Westlund, Strathcona; and Laura Wygant, Warroad.

Sunday events will begin with the Rotary Club fly-in breakfast from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Thief River Falls regional airport. Aircraft will be on display and tickets for the breakfast cost $3 per person or $10 per family. Proceeds will go to the Rotary International Polio Plus program.

Snowmobile races will take place in the afternoon and a free fireworks display will take place at dusk at LaFave park. Fireworks will be fired from Chief Red Robe park and there will be no admission to that area for spectators.

Treasure hunt clues provided by treasure hunt chairman Kermit Genereux include the following:

(1) It's on public ground and there's no need to fret, it's hidden in plain sight, you bet.

(2) My second clue, it's good, if you stay west of Robin Hood.

(3) North, south, east or west, the first direction is the best.

(4) As you get nearer the treasure, I am where many take pleasure.

(5) Stop, look up and down, and all around.

(6) No need to climb or bring a plow, the clues are getting better now.

(7) Landmarks, landmarks, they are near; they've been here for many a year.

(8) Jaycees work hard you see, working for their community.

Genereux did not reveal what the treasure hunt treasure looked like, but said it is identified as the treasure and can be exchanged for the $100 cash prize.

Matt Lawrence, 13, Thief River Falls, was on the winning team during the Pizza Eating contest held during 1991 Summerfest in Thief River Falls Thursday night in Floyd B. Olson Park. Lawrence and team members Kyle Miller, 13, Thief River Falls, and Nick Dee, 13, Thief River Falls, finished their large pizza from Danny's Pizza in Thief River Falls in 4-minutes and 25-seconds. Their team name was the Pizza Eaters — of course. The award for first place was $50.

TRF boy comes to the rescue with fishing pole

Police in Thief River Falls routinely respond to over 1,000 calls to open car doors each year. Wednesday, a young Thief River Falls Boy Scout answered the call with a fishing pole and made the catch of the day.

Wednesday police received a call from Sue Frazer who had dropped her car keys through a storm sewer grate. When Thief River Falls Police Officer Scott Maslowski learned of the dilemma, he called his son.

Maslowski told his son to ride his bike and bring his fishing pole to Lion's park on South Crocker avenue where a woman had dropped her keys through a storm sewer grate. Shawn Maslowski, 12-year-old Boy Scout was quick to respond and true to the Boy Scout motto — Be Prepared — came with his fishing pole.

Father and son are both veteran anglers, but it was Shawn who reeled in the keys. Officer Maslowski said he thought of the idea because he and his son had just returned from a fishing trip at Long Lake where the boy made a couple of good catches. And, he said, fishing for the keys seemed easier than trying to lift the heavy storm sewer grate.

It shouldn't be said that Shawn was fishing for compliments, but he reeled in the keys on his second cast. For all you fishermen out there, Shawn made his catch of the day with a Mepps Minnow with a treble hook.

ACTIVITIES

Painting

Children and painting go hand in hand but many times we think of painting as an "indoor" activity only. Let's move it outside!

There are a couple of different things you may want to try. The brushes could be large. You may even want to try the brushes that are used sometimes to paint walls. The paint can change a little, too. Just water is fun and clean-up is extremely easy then. If you put a little food coloring in the water, the result is a nice pastel color that washes away easily in the rain. Of course, you can still get the paint and paper out on the picnic table as well.

The surface can be a wide variety of things, such as walls (just use water then), side walks, large rocks, grocery bags, cardboard boxes, trees and fences.

Sounds like fun and a different twist to painting also. Have lots of fun!

SCAVENGER HUNT

For next week's Activities feature, you will need blankets, a clothes line or two chairs, play dishes, dolls and lawn chairs.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

Bad habits are hard to break, even for children. The Thief River Falls public library notes that books can help and it recommends the following new books for that:

Cummings, Pat. Clean Your Room, Harvey Moon! Harvey's mother won't let him watch television until his room is clean, so Harvey whips into action.

Cummings, Pat. Tyrone the Double Dirty Rotten Cheater. Tyrone gets his well-deserved, and funny, comeuppance in this delightful tale.

PARENTING TIPS

Respect for Property

Occasionally we hear complaints about young people's lack of respect for property, their own as well as others. Keep in mind that parents play a significant role in how children treat property.

According to Ron Pitzer, extension family life specialist for the University of Minnesota, the first step in helping children develop regard for property is to serve as a model ourselves. Parents who show little respect for their own possessions or for the property, rights and feelings of others should not be surprised at similar attitudes and behavior in their children.

Here are some ways in which parents can help their children develop attitudes and values of respect:

- Show that you respect property of your own and others.
- Start early to encourage children to take care of their own property, toys, etc.
- Point out to children the consequences of good and poor stewardship of property and the environment.

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

Talk about your values in a variety of situations. When you see your child being careless with his own or others' belongings, inform him of your disappointment. Talk about the correct way. On the other hand, be sure to talk about when they are protecting or being careful with their own or others' property. Let them know you appreciate their efforts.

Recipes needed

Grygla/Gatzke — The Grygla/Gatzke Women of Today are planning to make a 75th anniversary cookbook and are now in the process of gathering recipes from people in the area. They are especially looking for old family recipes, old world recipes (Norwegian, German, etc.) or new recipes. Each should contain the signature of the person submitting it. Recipes may be sent to Debbie Haugan, Grygla; or Lynette Jelle, Grygla. (Grygla Eagle)

Volunteers sought to paint Clearbrook depot

Clearbrook — The Clearwater County Historical society is looking for volunteers with paint brushes to paint the Clearbrook depot. The building dates back to the earliest years of the city of Clearbrook, about 1900. Anyone who would like to help may call Tamara at 694-6574 or 785-2152. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Red Lake Falls continues mosquito battle on ground

Red Lake Falls — The Red Lake Falls city council has decided to continue to battle mosquitoes by fogging them with malathion from the ground rather than hiring aerial spraying. Parents are asked to keep their children from following the fogger machine on their bicycles since this might cause an accident. (Gazette)

Fall festival set in Strathcona

Strathcona — The annual Strathcona fall festival and musical variety show has been scheduled for August 11. All events will take place at the Strathcona park, beginning with non-denominational church services at 9 a.m. A parade and musical variety show will also be held, as well as games and a flea market. (Greenbush Tribune)

Former Gonvick plant may re-open

Gonvick — The suitability of the former Northern Sun Products plant in Gonivck for new investment and a re-opening has been the subject of a study performed by the Region Development corporation and a team of technical consultants. Preliminary results of the study are promising and at least three types of products are being considered. (Leader-Record)

Old-time farming featured at Roosevelt

Roosevelt — The annual Lake of the Woods Steam and Gas Engine association's threshing bee and show is scheduled for this weekend, August 3-4. Among the highlights of the show are an old Comstock sawmill, a blacksmith shop, a pioneer home and a one-room school. A large number of antique tractors, miniature steam tractors and other farm implements will also be featured. The event will take place at Grove Farms, nine miles north of Roosevelt. (Baudette Region)

Auditions set for Argyle play

Argyle — Auditions for Prairie Fire Children's Theatre's original musical production of the exotic classic "Aladdin and His Magic Lamp" will be held August 12 at 2 p.m. at the Argyle school auditorium. Sixty young people and adults are needed to play the roles. Assistants are also needed to run sound and lights as well as assist in directing. Singers and non-singers are encouraged to audition as well as those interested in dance. Rehearsals will be held from noon to 4 p.m. for the rest of the week with performances set for August 16 at 7 p.m. and August 17 at 2 p.m. (Messenger)

Trailer sinks into pavement

Mahnomen — Luck was not with Richard Guenther of Mahnomen recently when he was driving a truck load of grain through town in a trailer belonging to JC&J, Bejou elevator, when he stopped in front of his house to go get some fuel. He dollied off on the east side of Main street, but while he was gone the weight of the trailer proved too much for the pavement. The support on the front right side, closest to the curb, began to sink into the pavement first. Then the front of the trailer was too low to reattach it to the truck. A house jack was used to prop up the front corner and a grain evacuator was borrowed from the Mahnomen Farmers elevator to remove some of the grain. No one was injured. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

Red Lake county discussing building removal

Red Lake Falls — After discussing tearing down the old Eckstein building in downtown Red Lake Falls, the county board formed a committee to investigate who will pay for the removal of the building. The county can only spend money collected from the sale or lease of property within the same taxing district as the building in question. The county board, however, is hoping that the school district and city will assist in this expense, since they will also benefit. (Gazette)

Egyptians visit Clearwater county

Clearwater County — Clearwater county played host recently to several guests from the Middle East when a group of Egyptian farmers and an extension agent toured farming sites in the county. The group visited as participants in the United Nations Farmer-to-Farmer program. They were at a potato farm, a greenhouse and some vegetable farms. (Farmers Independent)

Larmoe family donation realizes a dream

Thief Lake — A generous gift from the Larmoe family estate has helped turn a dream into reality for the congregation of the Our Savior's Lutheran church at Thief Lake. The church council has decided to use the funds to build a new church building with the old church to be left where it is. The new church will stand to the north of the old one, which was organized in 1895. The budget for the project has been set at $100,000. (New River Record).

Seniors make Comfort Critters for children

Mahnomen — Members of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program in Mahnomen are making Comfort Critters, soft huggable home-made teddy bears which the local hospital and law enforcement agencies will use to give to young children in situations where they might feel uneasy. The children may then keep the toys. So far, 52 bears have been made by the group. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

When disaster strikes, neighbors pull together

Bagley — On July 24, after an accident and brain surgery for David Kortan of rural Bagley, many of his neighbors gathered at his farm and cut and baled 100 acres of hay. The Bagley Co-op Oil company also donated 100 gallons of fuel and Marty Brothers gave the family baling twine. Kortan is still in intensive care, but can walk and read some things. Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

The following recipes are from a little cookbook called, "Eat This...It'll Make You Feel Better," by Dom DeLuise put out by ZipLoc bags. If you like Italian food, you'll love these recipes.

What would an Italian cookbook be without a great spaghetti sauce:

Mamma's Spaghetti Sauce with Italian Sausage

"You can serve this with or without pasta. But whatever your pleasure, just don't come to dinner without a loaf of bread under each arm."

1 1/2 pounds Italian sausage, hot or sweet
1/4 cup hot water
10-12 fresh mushrooms, sliced
1 carrot, cut in half (this adds sweetness)
1 onion, minced
2 tablespoons olive oil
2 (28 ounce) cans ready-cut, peeled tomatoes
1 (6 ounce) can tamato paste
1 cup dry red wine
3 tablespoons fresh parsley, chopped
1 teaspoon basil
1/2 teaspoon oregano
freshly ground black pepper to taste

Place sausage in a skillet. Add hot water, cover and cook for 10 minutes. Remove sausages and separate links.

Discard sausage drippings. In large Dutch oven, saute mushrooms, carrot and onion just until al dente.

Add tomatoes, tomato paste, wine, parsley, basil, oregano and pepper. Cover and simmer 1 hour or until thickened, stirring occasionally.

Great with 1 to 1 1/2 pounds of ziti, rigatona, ravioli, or angel hair (Serves 6-8.)

Another Italian favorite... lasagna. At the end of this recipe, Dom tells how to make this dish easily, without cooking the noodles, and what a great idea that is:

Lasagna

1 pound lasagna noodles
2 quarts marinara sauce or sauce of your choice
2 pounds ricotta cheese
1 pound mozzarella cheese
1 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cook lasagna noodles al dente. Drain. Preheat oven to 325 degrees.

Using a baking dish about 2 1/2 inches deep, cover the bottom with sauce of your choice and line the dish with a layer of lasagna.

Dot with spoonfuls of ricotta, slices of mozzarella and some grated parmesan. Cover with sauce. Repeat with another layer of lasagna, sauce and cheeses, until dish is almost filled.

Bake about 45 minutes. Cool 20 minutes before serving and serve with additional sauce as a side dish. (Serves 8-10.)

Optional: You can add slices of cooked sausage or small meatballs to each layer.

Dom's Note: When you just don't have time to prepare this dish and you want it yesterday, do what I do: I simply start with a deep lasagna pan and all cold ingredients. Start with 1/2 cup of the sauce and use raw, uncooked lasagna noodles, one layer of ricotta, mozzarella, and grated cheese, then sauce...another layer of raw, uncooked lasagna noodles at right angles to the first, and so on, and so on. You finish with the sauce.

Cover with aluminum foil very snug around the top. place in a 350 degree oven and bake for 1 1/2 hours. Let stand 20 minutes. This can be done ahead. It cuts beautifully and you can reheat and serve pieces in individual baking dishes with additional sauce.

Try it, you'll like it!

Serve this bread with your Italian specialties:

Cheese and Onion Bread

"After I had the first taste of my friend Sadie Ratliff's bread, I told her that I would keep her children (whom I love) if she didn't give me the recipe!"

1 1/2 cups chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter
1 egg
1/2 cup sour cream
pepper
2 cups flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/4 cup butter
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
2/3 cup milk
3 tablespoons fresh parsley, minced

Saute onion in 2 tablespoons butter until tender. In a bowl, combine onions with egg, sour cream and pepper. Mix well. Set aside.

Add flour and baking powder to another bowl. Cut in 1/4 cup butter until crumbly and fine. Stir in half the cheese. Add milk to make a soft dough. Pat dough into a buttered 9-inch square pan. Spread sour cream mixture on top.

Sprinkle with remaining cheese and parsley. Bake in oven at 425 degrees for 25 minutes. Cut into squares. Serve warm. (Serves 8.)

Gov. Carlson signs law

Governor Arne Carlson and Minnesota Department of Transportation Commissioner John H. Riley visited four Minnesota cities recently to announce a major program to improve safety at Minnesota railroad crossings.

The railroad crossing safety program is part of the transportation study board bill, signed into law by Governor Carlson. Beginning August 1, all driver education courses will include instruction on rail crossing safety. In addition, passing the Minnesota driver license exam will require rail crossing safety knowledge.

The new law also gives police more power to arrest drivers who fail to stop no fewer than 10 feet from a railroad track when a warning device or gates have been activated. Under the new law, a police officer can arrest a driver for an alleged violation witnessed by someone other than the police officer. Under the former law, the police officer was required to witness the violation.

The new railroad crossing safety program also provides a state-wide sight-distance law. The purpose of this law is to keep approaches to rail-highway crossings free of any obstruction that might prevent a motorist from seeing an approaching train. Under this law, Mn/DOT will establish minimum visibility standards for public and private crossings. Towns and municipalities will then be empowered to order removal of any visual obstructions.

Governor Carlson and Commissioner Riley also pledged their support for the railroad signing and pavement markings, and cross bucks, part of a $9.2 million program to install state-of-the-art reflectorized signing at all 5,400 railroad crossings throughout the state.

"I am proud to serve the state with the nation's safest highways and I want to help Minnesota to make its grade crossings just as commendable," said Governor Carlson. "If this program communicates one message it is that it's not worth risking a life to try and beat a train."

Coulter attends BSU workshop

Mark Coulter, principal at Oklee high school, recently attended a two day education workshop titled "Teaching Children Research Skills" at Bemidji State university.

Coulter lives in Bemidji and said he was interested in learning ideas for getting students more involved in the research process.

Hoard gains list

John Hoard of Thief River Falls has been named to the President's list for the summer quarter at Moorhead Technical college. Hoard is enrolled in electrical design drafting and earned a grade point average of 3.5 or higher to qualify for the list.

"JESUS' BAPTISM"
John the Bapist said in Matt. 3:11, "As for me, I baptize you in water for repentance; but He who is coming after me is mightier than I, and I am not even fit to remove His sandals; He himself will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire."

Our seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used, and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew...saving on labor costs. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Gambling On Gambling In Minnesota

With all the concern about Minnesota's lagging economy, agricultural woes, families living at or below official "poverty" levels and moaning and groaning about excessive taxation, it boggles the mind to consider the millions and millions and millions of dollars spent on the various forms of legalized gambling available in Minnesota.

Little by little this state has dropped its previous barriers to legalized gambling, yielding to the notion that an endless fountain of revenue will flow from some mysterious source. Within the borders of Minnesota people can now buy a variety of state lottery tickets and pull-tabs, bet on horse racing, play Bingo or go to a number of casinos on indian reservations.

It almost seems that there is an endless supply of money to support these various gambling operations. The state lottery is claimed to have helped rather than hindered the charitable gaming which previously existed, and the state lottery took in more than $321.5 million during its second fiscal year. Casinos are sprouting like mushrooms on Indian reservations around the state and people are flocking to all of them. Stories of people waiting in line to stuff their money into slot machines are commonplace.

Canterbury Downs has a history of troubled financial conditions but thousands of people play the ponies there each season. More than a few Minnesotans also slip across the border to put their money down at the dog track. Bingo parlors attract more than their fair-share of gamblers at all times of the day and the lure of pull-tabs is still strong throughout the state.

George Andersen, director of the state lottery, said that second fiscal year sales of more than $321.5 million slightly surpassed mid-year projections. The sales included 12 months of instant game sales, 10.5 months of Daily 3 and Lotto Minnesota sales and 1.5 months of Gopher 5 sales.

"We're very pleased that sales have remained strong, especially with the impact of the Gulf War and recessionary trends," Andersen said. "This is good news for the Environment and Natural Resources Trust Fund and General Fund state services which are funded by lottery dollars."

In the fiscal year lottery players won a total of $179.4 million in prizes, or 56 per cent of sales.

The biggest gamble Minnesotans take is in how the legislature will choose to use gambling revenues from session to session. When initially sold to the state's voters, the state lottery was to benefit rural Minnesota through the Greater Minnesota Corporation and the state's wildlife and natural resources. The lawmakers reneged on that agreement weeks after it went into effect and have further altered the original intent in recent sessions.

The state general fund received $28.1 million from the past fiscal year's operations—about one and one-half million dollars more than the Environment and Natural Resources Trust Fund and nearly four times the $7.7 million which went to the Greater Minnesota Corporation. The general fund also received an additional $19.3 million—six per cent of sales—in lieu of sales taxes.

For the coming fiscal year the Infrastructure Development Fund (which received $4.3 million in the past fiscal year) and the Greater Minnesota Corporation have been cut off completely as lottery beneficiaries. Sixty per cent of the next fiscal year's lottery proceeds will go into the general fund!

Fortunately the legislature is bound by a constitutional mandate which preserves 40 per cent of the proceeds for the Environment and Natural Resources Trust Fund (we love that word Trust) until the year 2001. Unfortunately, that 10-year protection isn't nearly long enough and we can fully expect greater raids on lottery proceeds when that protection expires.

Taxation changes clamped on charitable gaming to exact more tribute for the state also are threatening to strangle such operations. After meeting charitable distribution and taxation requirements, clubs and other operators are finding themselves coming up short of operational funds. A number of them have given up their gaming licenses.

No one really knows how many families in Minnesota have suffered from the availability of gambling here. Every community likely has its well-known examples. One has to wonder if anyone—even the legislature—gets enough benefit from legalized gambling to make it worth the misery it causes.

There is big money to be made by gambling, but most of it isn't made by the gamblers themselves. The money goes to those who control the games—and that's a fact.

Federal Paperwork Avalanche Slowed

Believe it or not, a regulatory agency created by the Congress to reduce paperwork is actually doing its job. The agency is the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs (OIRA), created by the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980. It requires every federal agency to obtain OIRA approval for each of its recording or reporting requirements.

On the surface, it would seem that the office might create more paperwork than it would eliminate, but such is apparently not the case. OIRA keeps track of which agency has what data and, when an agency seeks information which has already been collected by another agency, it can save the time, inconvenience and expense of doing the same work over again.

Sometimes OIRA simply decides that the information being sought isn't really needed, or the need does not justify the cost of collecting it.

How do we know the agency is needed? Because in 1990 the federal government required individuals and businesses to spend 5.4 billion hours filling out forms. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) alone imposes 4.3 billion hours of paperwork on taxpayers, including 1.2 billion hours for small businesses.

How do we know OIRA is working? Because the bureaucrats are complaining about OIRA's "interference" and are using a Supreme Court decision to skirt the intention of the law.

The court ruled that OIRA has authority only to curb paperwork involved in rules that require business and individuals to report to the federal government, but not rules requiring disclosure to third parties. Federal agencies can thus escape about a third of OIRA's jurisdiction by requiring third parties, such as consultants or government contractors, to collect the information for them.... and the agencies are doing it.

Now it's back to the drawing board for Congress to out-flank the bureaucrats again. Ten Senators have introduced the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1991 to strengthen OIRA, increase opportunities for public comment on paperwork requirements, increase agency responsibility to manage paperwork reduction and set a goal of reducing the overall paperwork burden on the public by five per cent each year.

It sounds like a good deal to us. Go for it, Congress!

Northern Watch Policies

Letters to the editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by the newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

1991 Ninth District American Legion baseball tournament at Irv Wilson Field...

TRF drops 2-1 first round contest

Moorhead, Roseau, Detroit Lakes and Fergus Falls were first round winners Thursday as the 1991 Ninth District American Legion Tier I baseball tournament got underway at Irv Wilson Field in Thief River Falls.

The eight-team, double-elimination state tournament-qualifying event continues through Sunday.

Moorhead and Roseau were easy winners in the opening round Upper Bracket games as the five-time defending champion Blue stopped East Grand Forks 12-3 and pre-tournament favorite Roseau handled Perham 11-1. First round Lower Bracket match-ups produced a pair of one-run decisions as Detroit Lakes edged Crookston 6-5 and Fergus Falls got by host Thief River Falls 2-1.

East Grand Forks eliminated Perham 7-6 in a loser's bracket game in complete the first-day draw.

Moorhead 12
East Grand Forks 3

Moorhead packed all of its offense into the third and fourth innings as the Blues beat East Grand Forks 12-3 in the tournament opener.

The Blues' 12-run, eight-hit attack featured bookend six-run, four-hit innings in the third and fourth frames, highlighted by a third inning Mike Ulness grand slam dowo the third base line that erased a 2-0 East Grand Forks lead.

Four Moorhead players had two hits apiece to account for the Blues' eight hits - 2-for-3 games by Unless and Matt Shaefer; 2-for-4 efforts by Matt Overby and Steve Wagner.

East Grand Forks also had eight hits, and grabbed the early edge on a first-inning RBI single by Josh Beck and a second-inning RBI double by Jeremy Beck.

Winning pitcher Kevin Miller worked four innings before giving way to Scott Kohler, who struck out four and did oot walk a batter down the stretch. Matt Meyer took the loss, with Beo Brickson pitebing half the game in relief.

Moorhead improved to 26-19 for the year; East Grand Forks fell to 18-21.

Roseau 11
Perham 1

Roseau upped its record to 22-5 with the only 10-run rule game of the day, an 11-1 five-inning decision over an 8-10 Perham squad.

Todd Wensloff threw a three-hitter for the win, striking out seven and walking one.

Nine Roseau hits, including a 2-for-2 effort by Nathan Vatnsdal and a 2-for-4 game for Dave McDonald, were aided by 10 Perham errors.

Andy Bjelland went 2 1/3 inning in taking the loss on the mound for Perham. Mike Kuzna pitched in relief.

Roseau	003 50 –	11	6	10
Perham	000 10 –	1	3	1

Detroit Lakes 6
Crookston 5

A four-run first inning staked Detroit Lakes to a 6-5 win over Crookston.

Two walks and an error put the first three batters of the game on base for the Lakers, with singles by Marcus Rhode, Greg Henderson and Jasoo Soyring driving in the runs.

Four consecutive inning-opening walks in the fourth led to a pair of Crookston runs, but winning pitcher Mike Gunderson helped his own cause with a fourth inning solo home run, and a sacrifice fly by Aaron Dretsch in the fifth made it 6-2.

A three-run Crookston rally lo the sixth made it close, but Gunderson, who struck out six and walked six, hung on for the win. Doug Johnson took the loss as he failed to get out of the first inning. Ted Hasz and Bryan Boll worked in relief.

Hendersan and Crookstan's Shane Demarais were both 2-for-4.

Crookston fell in 15-13 with the loss.

Fergus Falls 2
Thief River Falls 1

Fergus Falls scored a tie-breaking run in the bottoro of the seventh inning to knock off Thief River Falls 2-1 in the final first-round game of the day.

Solid pitching and strong defensive play on both sides kept the scoring to a minimum, but a couple of lapses in both departments wound up costing Thief River Falls.

It was scoreless until the bottom of the faurth when Fergus Falls' Kevin Pearson came up with a lead-off dauble and Barrett Prody followed with a single to right. Pearson would have been an out trying to score on the play, but a short-hop throw from the outfield caromed off estcher Jamie Lorenson for an error and the run.

Thief River Falls tied it in the top of the fifth when Lorenson drew a lead-off walk, moved up on a wild pitch and scored on a one-out single by David Blazek.

But Fergus Falls broke the tie in the seventh when No. 9 hitter Brady Fredrickson was issued a lead-off walk on four pitches and Ben Schierer placed a sacrifice boot dawn the first base line that wound up putting runners on second and third with nobody out when Rokke's throw to first glanced off the runner for an error.

Scott DeBrito was given an intentional walk and Thief River Falls prepared to cut the runner down at the plate by converting centerfielder Mike Swanson into an eatra infielder in the middle while playing Darin Wald and Blazek extra shallow in left and right field, respectively.

A short fly ball to Wald produced an out and kept the game going, but Prody follawed with a single to the fence in right for the game-winning RBI.

Both sides finished with six base hits and two errors. Rokke struck out five and walked five, whila Fergus Falls lefthander Joel Hopper struck out two and walked one.

Pearson and Prody were both 2-for-4, while the six Thief River Falls hits were scattered throughout the line-up.

Fergus Falls took an 18-11 record into the winner's bracket, while Thief River Falls, last year's Ninth District runner-up, dropped to 19-20.

"You should win your first game; it's important," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Howard Dalager. "Last year we won our first game, lost our second, went 5-2 and finished second. We'll just have to try to improve upon that. We'll have to go out and win two games per day the rest of the way. But I think we've gat the pitching staff to do it. We've just got to go out and score some runs."

East Grand Forks 7
Perham 6

East Grand Forks held off a Perham rolly in the bottom of the seventh to claim o 7-6 win in the final opening day game.

A three-run output in the top of the seventh gave East Grand Forks a 7-0 cushion, but Perham combined three base hits with four East Grand Forks errors in the finol at-bat to make it close at the end.

Winning pitcher was Jon Hendrickson. Karrie Hermann took the loss.

Hendrickson was 2-for-2 with a poir of RBI for the winners, and teammate Josh Beck went 2-for-4. Seth Stohs and Andy Bjelland were both 2-for-3 for Perham.

Ninth District Tier II at Ada...

Bombers win first tournament game

Thief River Falls Bombers overcame a 4-0 deficit to out-score the Moorhead Vets 13-9 Thursday in the opening game of the 1991 Ninth District American Legion Tier II baseball tournament at Ada.

New York Mills, Warroad and Red Lake Falls were also first-round winners in the eight-team, double-elimination event that will continue through Sunday.

The winner will advance to a regional playoff game next week that will determine a Tier II state tournament entry.

Thief River Falls, 38-16-1, was scheduled to face New York Mills at 12:30 p.m. today (Friday) in Round 2.
